The Milk Supplied to Cheese Factories.

How Shall we get our Patrons to Improve the Quality of It.

The following paper was read before the recent meeting of the Dairymen's Association and is well worth of careful perusal:—

This seems to have been a question for some time:—How shall we get our patrons to improve the quality of the milk?

In looking at this subject there seems to open up before me, no one way, but many ways. I suppose each cheesemaker has his own plans and if he has succeeded by such plans, in accomplishing his object I don's see what more is needed.

But since I have been asked by our president to write some on this question, it would appear to me that some had not succeeded as they would like to: if this means opens up a course which would benefit such, I shall be quite rewarded for my pains.

I feel quite incompetent for this work not having yet succeeded in working out all I would consider needed: therefore I will simply give some of my own plans a experience.

In the first place we must know enough about our business to know when we have such milk as we can manufacture into just such cheese as our demands call for. Let us one and all ask ourselves the question:—"Do I know what kind of milk can be made into just such quality of cheese as is needed?"

If we know this we know considerable a d are on the way to getting the quality required. I find no better opportunity of reaching our patrons than is presented in the delivery of their milk although there are other ways and all are needed.

At our factory I generally weigh in the milk myself examining it as I deem wise. This inspection should be every day until the maker is thoroughly aquainted with each patron's supply, and even then frequently, and always when weather or other circumstances would be apt to render the milk defective. I have found that at times a patron's milk would be a little tainted or defective in some way for a few days in succession and knew if this was continued many favorable weather came there would be sour milk found in that patron's cans, which would necessarily be returned in order to maintain the quality desired. If I were a patron I would not like the loss of my milk in such a way; and I know the patron feels just about as I would in a like circumstance; therefore would gladly accept notice from the cheesemaker or any instruction he would give as a preventive; providing it were given in any friendly way, such as:—J. Jones, Esq., Dear Sir.—I find your milk not quite right this last few days, and if any bad weather come, it would sour. I think it is not cooled sufficiently; or perhaps you would know what is best could. Yours truly, etc. Not, as is sometimes given:—J. Jones, Sir:—Your milk was almost sour every day lately, and I will have to return it if you do not attend to it as you should. Yours (in such a way implied) etc. You will generally find such notice as the former accepted, and the milk righted as soon as the patron finds out how to have it so, while the latter will be with contempt put into the stove and remembered for the purpose of hurling back again, at the earliest opportunity, or about the time the first can of sour milk is returned. If you handle your patrons as you would be handled, they will almost invariably try and supply you with milk such as you need. I know some will not, as you must work them differently, and I don't know of any better way to deal with such than by rejecting their milk when it is not up to the standard you require. The only way to oppose the succeeding when kindness is expended, is to stand firm, and if the foundation on which you stand be a good one, you can remain standing. I have found it necessary sometimes to make inquiry as to how the milk was kept before we could find out just what was wrong, and learned that too much had been kept in one can, or it had been set on the ground during the night, or foul water had been used by the cows, and so on. A party who has not sent milk before should have a committee on given them at once so as to avoid any trouble.

When it has been found necessary to return milk the cause of the defect should be looked for, as by this means, the cheesemaker becomes skilled in this branch of his business. It is, of course, a good thing to distribute any information you can get; such as Prof. Robertson's from the understanding any point you want paid attention to. Another way would be, when going among the patrons just remember your subject; instead of saying a great deal about nothing.

A quality of milk that would have suited some years ago will not suit now, any more than the quality of cheese called first class a few years ago would suit a buyer who wants first class goods now; and, as I see it, we must get more particular as the buyers do the same, endeavouring by every means to educate our patrons and to keep them and ourselves abreast with the times.

Perhaps a word on some relative points would be acceptable. Milk is sent in at times tainted with weeds. If such milk be heated to 120 Fahrenheit the taint will be expelled, Most on which the skin has shone has a very offensive odor, and will give cheese made of it a rotten flavour; therefore can not be used safely. Many of the common taints will pass off in the curing process and will have very little effect on the cheese.

Milk only a little sour may be used safely, providing only such quantities of it be used as will mature the amount into which it is put. I presume no greater loss is sustained by any cheesemaker from the above defects than by the immature quality of milk sent during part of September and October. Nearly every season some factories in our county suffer from it. The cheesemaker has to use every means available to mature the milk, and even then finds himself doing work at 12 o'clock at night that he could have done at 5 o'clock in the evening much better, because the curd gets cold, and does not press well, and there is a lack of light to work in as in day, and many other ills which cheesemakers are subjected to about this time of the season, all because the milk comes to the factory more fit for holding over for winter use than for making into cheese just then. We must insist on our patrons keeping their milk warmer in the cold weather, and thereby helping to evade the difficulty so often experienced with the fall cheese. October cheese should be as fine grade as September's is, and yet last fall we got from 1c. to 2c. per lb less, which meant a loss of about $1200 to this county.

We need to have more the genuineness in curing for the milk, not giving it the same treatment under varied circumstances, but according to the weather and the purpose for which it is needed. The patrons would not expect the cheesebuyers to take any kind of cheese from us, and should not expect us to take any kind of milk from them, nor will they if they are made to understand what we need.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

A very interesting and instructive lecture was given in the Methodist church on Tuesday night by the Rev. C. O. Johnston on "Influence." This is the second visit of this popular lecturer.

The Methodist basket social at the residence of Mr. James Andrews, Asphodel, was similar to the preceding ones, successful beyond the expectation of all. We hope to see these entertainments repeated next winter.

The Ladies' Mission Circle of the Baptist church held an open meeting in the church on Wednesday night, March 25th. An interesting programme was presented, and a favorable report of the work done in this district was submitted.

Mr. Jas. Jury, a Trinity medical student, having completed writing on his first year exam., has returned for his holidays.

Our village is now in possession of a first-class photographic establishment. Messrs. Little and Lawrence, recently from Campbellford, have out in a new building on Peterborough street and are prepared to turn out good work.

A branch of the Persian Steam Laundry has been opened here, and clothes are now attended to on shortest notice. Mr. Ellis, Peterborough street, has the agency.

The tin shops are doing a good business in sap buckets.

Anæsthetics.

The use of the vapor of sulphuric ether for the purpose of inducing insensibility to pain of surgical operations was first adopted by Dr. Morton, of Boston, in 1846.

Chloroform was first used by Dr. Simpson, of Edinburgh, in 1847.

For the last forty years science and skill have been laboriously working with the great object of lessening the suffering and pain often endured by mankind. The greatest success of all these varied and noble researches has been the discovery of that life giving remedy and strengthener, Paine's Celery Compound. Pain and suffering was, and always will be, more common and intense in what are termed the ordinary ills of life than those resulting from the knife of the surgeon. Paine's Celery Compound permanently releases the sufferer, while the anæsthetics of the surgeon are only temporary and their after effects often injurious. The victim suffering from nervousness, overworked brain, sleeplessness, melancholia, a used up feeling, morbidness, and hardened with the pangs of dyspepsia and indigestion, is quickly made to experience new vigor, new strength, strong appetite, fresh looks, and a vitality never before possessed, if this great compound is faithfully used. It has restored so life, health and happiness thousands who once were languishing and almost helpless; it has the same power to-day.

Aspasia of Athens.

This woman, fair as the morning with the free imperial step of the forest deer, was noted for her extreme beauty; and to-day thousands of our women might have the same pleasing notoriety, if they would but take proper care of their gentle selves. The bilious and nervous disorders that make such sad havoc of female beauty can be cured in almost every case by Beecham's Pills if taken as directed. w1d1

A Good Practice.

If the children suffer from pimples, irritated skin, headache, etc., Burdock Blood Bitters is by far the best remedy. Mr. McConnell, 28 Henderson Avenue, Toronto, says, "Since I have made a practice of using B.B.B. my children have got strong and well." 2w11d

The Safest

AND most powerful alterative is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Young and old are alike benefited by its use. For the eruptive diseases peculiar to children nothing else is so effective as this medicine, while its agreeable flavor makes it easy to administer.

"My little boy had large scrofulous ulcers on his neck and throat from which he suffered terribly. Two physicians attended him, but he grew continually worse under their care, and everybody expected he would die. I had heard of the remarkable cures effected by Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and decided to have my boy try it. Shortly after he began to take this medicine, the ulcers commenced healing, and, after using several bottles, he was entirely cured. He is now as healthy and strong as any boy of his age."—William F. Dougherty, Hampton, Va.

"In May last, my youngest child, fourteen months old, began to have sores gather on its head and body. We applied various simple remedies without avail. The sores increased in number and discharged copiously. A physician was called, but the sores continued to multiply until in a few months they nearly covered the child's head and body. At last we began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. In a few days a marked change for the better was manifest. The sores assumed a more healthy condition, the discharges were gradually diminished, and finally ceased altogether. The child is livelier, its skin is fresher, and its appetite better than we have observed for months."—Frank M. Griffin, Long Point, Texas.

"The formula of Ayer's Sarsaparilla presents, for chronic diseases of almost every kind, the best remedy known to the medical world."—D. M. Wilson, M. D., Wiggs, Arkansas.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

For some time past we have thought a strictly cash business in Flour, Feed and Provisions could be successfully carried on in Peterborough, and to test this question, we have purchased the above business from Mr. C. In order to be successful we intend to make it the interest of everyone to pay cash with order by selling at wholesale prices.

We will positively give no credits and cash customers will not have to keep up the losses made by others on the credit system.

We will keep a full supply of the very best quality of Flour, Feed, Chop, etc., and our customers need not fear that the quality of the goods will be lowered to make up for the reduction in prices. SKETCH OF THE EDITOR OF HARPER'S AS A JOURNALIST

A Comparison Between Newspapers and Colleges as Feeders of the Literary Class—Mr. Curtis Claimed as a Trophy of the Former.

The constantly increasing activity of journalism elicits occasional comparisons between the newspapers and the colleges as feeders of the literary class. It is needless to say that in these comparisons since the lions are here the painters the colleges are apt to get the worst of the encounter. The list of trophies of pure journalism is usually headed by the name of Mr. George William Curtis, but his would hardly seem, at first thought, a case in point. At eighteen, it must be remembered, he left home to enter that unincorporated college commonly called Brook Farm, where he studied under George Ripley and William Henry Channing, and he passed thence to what might be called the university of Concord, where he took honors under Emerson, Hawthorne, and Thoreau. He moreover travelled in Germany with Hedge and Hilliard—whose society was a liberal education and was for a time a student, if I mistake not, at the university of Berlin. All the men above named were college grads and he may thus be said to have been at a stepchild of the American college for years before he became a Tribune correspondent. Yet it is doubtless true that in his case as in that of many others, the daily or weekly forcing material the journals has taught him a strength of form and a pliancy of wrist such as only the actual contest could have secured, and certainly no college could have given.

To those who recall George Curtis in his picturesque youth at Brook Farm, where he and his yet handsomer brother Burrill might be seen driving oxen at working hours, and in leisure time arrayed in the fanciful blouses and dainty caps in which the aesthetic youth of that day delighted, there is almost a sense of pain, as in the sterner contests of which his maturer life has seen so much. Yet he has retained through life the charm of presence the modesty of youth and the softness of tempor which marked that earlier period. He has made himself respected by his fellow opponents and feared by scoundrels, and for many years his weekly or monthly utterances have been a tower of strength to all friends of good government. Never fearing to identify himself with unpopular causes as for instance, with the women's suffrage movement—he has taken the virtual leadership of several, and in every case has come to victory. He has especially won the gratitude of Mr. Cleveland by the acknowledged best of the civil service reform, and has done more than any one man to bring it, in spite of party and politicians, to its present favorable condition. In all this his regular connection with journalism has given him an immense additional advantage. It has secured to him a certain and that cumulative weight which experience has through reiteration and from holding the ear of a special audience, as the clergyman has the ear of his congregation. On the other hand, it has involved him in occasional disadvantage that he would not, like the unattached thinker, take his time and choose his moment before committing himself; for the editor must define his position as each week comes round, even when a day's delay might disentangle some seemingly hopeless knot, and put everything in a wholly different aspect.

During all this period Mr. Curtis has been able to do what Wendell Phillips always held to be impossible namely, to be at once effective with tongue and pen. At the head of the latter period he assumed the duties of the lecture special favorite of the platform and he has been requested to reflect upon to address the public at times of especial interest and importance. On these occasions he has been always attractive, sometimes eloquent, sometimes profound. It has been thought by critics that if he had detached himself from his duties on these occasions he would have held his audiences and even his subsequent readers more completely. It is not given to the Anglo Saxon, as it was to the Frenchman to lead to a written discourse by mere fire and gesticulation, all the effect of off-hand speech. But some of Mr. Curtis's greatest successes have been in connection with extemporaneous speeches at national political conventions, where he has once or twice, by mere courage and persuasiveness, carried his point against heavy odds. This fact makes it probable that had he been a member of either House of Congress he would have risen to oratory. He would at least have been pronounced, as he is said to have been called by a country member of the New York Constitutional Convention, "a very intelligent man for a literary man."

In the same way it may be safely assumed that if he had accepted the diplomatic appointments more than once offered him, he would have taken a rank with Irving and Motley and Lowell in the success of his career. But all this has been sacrificed deliberately, as it would seem to the chosen pursuit of journalism. After all, it is the merit of that vocation that it subordinates a man's outward and visible ambitions to the finer desire for an unseen and often anonymous usefulness, so that the journalist accepts, even during his lifetime, George Eliot's question, "O may I join the choir invisible!" There is something formidable to an observer inside the charmed circle in the disproportion of labor and influence there manifested as compared with the trivial fame that follows. The real power of a great newspaper, as in the London Times, may be vested in some man whose name is unknown in life, and at death mentioned only to be straightway forgotten. Mr. Adams says in his life of Dana that the great lawyer's name is written in water; and Theodore Tilton, at the height of his own success, said precisely the same thing of the editor. This makes it a pity that Mr. Curtis should not, either before or during his editorial career, have bloomed his name with some permanent literary work distinct from journalism. For such work can never be made out of the several fragments of journalism collected and rebound. Charles T. Congdon, probably the most brilliant writer of editorials ever known to the American press, has lately gone to his rest with hardly a line of notice even from his fellow-professionals. There never was a book in the English language more crammed with wit and wisdom than Fonblanque's England under Seven Administrations; yet nobody ever reads or quotes it now.

The turning-point of Mr. Curtis's life in this respect was probably when he abandoned the purpose, understood to have been held by him up to a period a little before the civil war, of writing a life of Mehemet Ali—"a subject," wrote Duyckinck in 1855, "which will test his diligence and powers in a new department of composition." No one knew better than Mr. Curtis himself that the style of Nile Notes, or even that of the more chastened Howadji in Syria was too exuberant and impulsive to be the basis of a permanent fame; that the manner of the Potiphar Papers was caught from Thackeray, and that of Prue and I now from Lamb, now from Hawthorne. What he needed as a writer of books was an absolutely new departure, and this the story of the brilliant Viceroy of Egypt might have given. Whether this result would have actually followed, we shall never know. What we know is that journalism, here as elsewhere, claimed and held Mr. Curtis; that the early profusion of his style has long since been tamed and pruned in the Easy Chair into a mellow and inexhaustible grace which it is a mere commonplace to call Addisonian; or, in Harper Weekly, into a direct and manly vigor that wastes no words, yet never misses a mark. Since all literature is itself so perishable, and no literary fame short of Shakespeare's seems worth wasting a sigh upon, why is not this as satisfactory an outcome of a brilliant career as to have become the biographer of Mehemet Ali?—T. W. H., in Harper's Bazar.

Traced by a Picture He Gave His Sweetheart.

CORNWALL, March 27.—A young man named Honore Gauvreau was arrested at the Canada Cotton Mill at the request of the chief of police at Valleyfield. The constable received a portrait (which, by the way, the young man had presented to his sweetheart), and had no difficulty in locating their man. He is charged with seduction.

Plead Guilty to the Charge.

KINGARDINE, March 27.—Bailiff Alex Campbell, of this town, who was shot by George Oustrum while seizing stock on the latter's farm near Bervie, was only slightly injured. Oustrum pleaded guilty at the assizes and sentence was reserved. Oustrum is a bachelor and is looked upon as a crank.

Lost His Forearm

ALMONTE, March 27.—While holding a piece of wood in his hand and whittling it with an ax to form a wedge James Lowe accidentally inflicted a gash in his thumb Deeming it nothing but a bad cut he had it bandaged, but it seems that the bone was so injured as to prevent the flesh from healing. On a consultation of doctors it was found necessary to amputate the arm above the elbow.

Some Foolish People

Allow a cough to run until it gets beyond the reach of medicine. They often say, "Oh, it will wear away," but in most cases it wears them away. Could they be induced to try the successful medicine called Kemp's Balsam, which is sold on a positive guarantee to cure, they would immediately see the error they were in. Trial size free. Price 50c. and $1. Trial size free. At all druggists. dw

It Does Its Work.

Mrs. James Dix, Brock street, Kingston, Ont., says: I suffered with an inflamed throat and bad cough for seven months. Was treated by physicians without success, when six doses of Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil cured me. It's as palatable as cream. For sale by all druggists. dw

Weather Probabilities.

Lower temperature and sudden change often give rise to coughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis, and lead through them to consumption. A little care and the use of Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam will effectually cure any cough and give pleasant relief even in confirmed consumption. 2w11d

It Pays Best.

It pays best to keep a good medicine like Hagyard's Yellow Oil always on hand in case of accident or of emergency. It cures colds, croup, sore throat, rheumatism, wounds, bruises, burns, etc. Price, 25 cents per bottle. 2w11d

One Distinct Point.

One distinct point about Hagyard's Yellow Oil is that it is just as good internally as for internal use. It is a cleanly, prompt and pleasant cure for rheumatism, colds, croups, sore throat, wounds, bruises, sprains and chapped hands, etc. No household should be without it. 2w11d

Easter Day Observed in the Different City Churches.

Oh, be of cheer, no darkness o'er
Doth linger round for evermore,
Look up from shadows of despair,
For God hath hope and life in store.
His Easter sunshine far and nigh,
Tells of the grace that ne'er can die.

This expressive little "greeting" is typical of the beautiful Easter day of 1891. The sun never shone brighter, and never did more thoroughly charming weather grace the brightest morn of all the year" than on Sunday last. It was an ideal Easter day, and the hearts of many must have been touched by its fitting application to the joyous memories of the occasion. As a consequence of the fine weather, the congregations in all the churches were very large. In the Roman Catholic and Anglican sanctuaries the observation of Lent was marked by extraordinary doings.

ST. PETER'S CATHEDRAL.

At St. Peter's Cathedral there were three masses during the day: at 6 30, 8 and 10 30 a.m. At the 8 o'clock mass the choir of the Sodality sang under the leadership of Sister St. Aubert, Miss I. Mahoney presiding at the organ. The choir rendered excellent music. "O Salutaris" was sung by Miss Dowling. There were a large number of communicants at this mass. The mass at 10 30 was a grand high mass, at which the Bishop pontificated, assisted by the Cathedral clergy. The choir gave Millard's Mass, Miss Eslaud, the efficient organist, presiding at the organ. Father Whittle preached a touching sermon, and at the close of the mass the Bishop thanked the congregation for the manner in which they observed Lent, and performed their Easter duty, and also for generous Easter donations. He further thanked the choir and orchestra (which rendered a number of sacred pieces during the service) for their excellent music. He also gave the congregation the Papal benediction. At Vespers the Bishop preached an eloquent sermon, having direct reference to Easter. The music by the choir was charming, consisting of "Regina Coeli," and "Magnificat" by Lambillotte. Miss Annie Dunn sang an "O Salutaris." The altar was decorated in elaborate style, ornamented with flowers and other decorations in profusion, presenting an imposing appearance, particularly at Vespers.

EASTER AT ST JOHN'S.

Easter Sunday was a red letter day in St. John's calendar, the successful nature of the services of the day being of a character to be not only most cheering and encouraging to the clergy, who have reason to humbly rejoice at the evidences thus presented that their labor has not been in vain in the Lord, but also to the congregation and to all Christian people besides. At the beginning of Lent Rev. Mr. Davidson set this aim before the congregation—"that God's work within this parish may be supported, not by money dragged from unwilling pockets, but by the regular offerings which His children freely and gladly bring up for the purpose to their Father's House. If this is to be the case, our mortgage debt must be reduced by (it is estimated) $5,050 00. The balance ($6 000) can then be gradually paid off from the ordinary revenue of the church without further effort." To make a beginning of carrying out this policy, Mr. Davidson asked from his congregation an Easter offering of $1,050, and was met with the splendid response of $1,700, the free will offerings of the people. Another important feature of this affair is that it was a direct issue between the support of God's work by undesirable means, such as bazaars, suppers, etc., and the voluntary offerings of Christians to the support of the work of the church.

The services during the day were quite in keeping with the gladness and rejoicing that is a character to the festival that commemorates the resurrection of our blessed Lord—bright and cheerful, yet withal permeated with a solemnity, inseparable to a devout mind, from the unutterable importance of the occasion. The day began with a celebration of the Holy Communion at 8 30. The service was quietly and solemnly impressive, and a hundred and seventy persons communicated, of whom nearly fifty were composed of the two Bible classes who came to the table of the Lord in a body. Eleven o'clock found the church filled to its utmost capacity with a glad throng of joyous worshippers. The special music which had been carefully prepared by Dr. Davies comprised an anthem, and bright festival settings to the Te deum and other chants, and the soul-elevating Easter hymns. The sermon was preached by Rev. C. B. Kenrick. At the conclusion of the service Dr. Davies rendered the Hallelujah chorus with magnificent effect. The afternoon service had a peculiar brightness and significance of its own. It was entirely devoted to the children of both Sunday schools, who filled the central seating space of the church—the Bible classes and friends filling up the remainder. The service was short, a feature being the hearty jubilant singing led by the St. Andrew's Brotherhood choir. Mr. Kenrick spoke briefly of the first Easter day. The most interesting part of the service was the offertory. Since Lent began the children have been denying themselves, so as to have as large an offering as possible for this occasion, and with glad faces did they lay their offerings on the plates carried by eight senior boys. The total offerings, principally in coppers, was $110 66. The glorious finale to the Easter anthem of the day was the evening service, when the church was filled in every part. The service was marked by even brighter music and heartier singing than the morning service. Dr. Davies, the brilliant organist of the church, surpassed himself. The sermon was preached by Rev. Mr. Davidson, who prefaced it by reading the statement of the directory at the preceding services of the day, which was as follows: At 8 30 the offering was $35 20; at 11 a.m. the offertory was $1 285 38; at the afternoon service $110 66 (of which the central division of the Sunday-school contributed $72 92 and the South Ward $28 57 and Ward $9 17. This made a total of $1 491.. 84, increased by the offertory at the evening service to a grand total for the day of $1,700 62.

ASHBURNHAM ANGLICANS.

At St. Luke's, Ashburnham, the services were of special interest to the congregation from the fact that the chancel was arrayed in its new dress. During last week the work of decorating was carried on, and the natural effect of the bright new cloths was enhanced by the profuse display of flowers. The upper half of the chancel wall has been papered a pale blue, resembling kalsomine, and the lower half a pale green cotta, the two tints being blended together in a border encircling the wall like a belt. The usual Easter services were held, the hymns and addresses being suitable to the day. In the evening Miss Lily Duke sang a solo.

MARK STREET METHODISTS.

The service in the Mark street Methodist church, Ashburnham, were more than usually interesting, and were in keeping with the day observed in commemoration of Christ's resurrection. Very impressive sermons were preached by the pastor Rev. A. C. Wilson. In the morning the subject of the discourse was taken from Luke xxiv, 31, "And their eyes were opened and they knew Him, and He vanished out of their sight." The text for the evening was 1 Cor. xv 14 "And if Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vain, and your faith is also vain." The church was beautifully decorated with choice flowers by the ladies. Special services have been held during the past two weeks conducted by the pastor, assisted by the Young Men's Christian Band, which has lately been organized by the young men of the Mark St church for the advancement of earnest Christian growth in grace among young men, and to further the work of the church. The meetings will be continued all this week. Quite a number have been led to accept Christ, and a grand work is being done. All are invited to come.

CHURCH NOTES.

Among most Protestant denominations Easter is not observed with marked emphasis. In nearly all the churches, however, Easter topics were at least touched upon, the occasion being recognized by the general singing of Easter hymns and with floral decorations, the Calla lily predominating. In the George street Methodist church special Easter music was rendered by the organist, Mr. L. Seward, and the choir. In the evening two anthems of the jubilant Easter character were rendered, the male voices taking a strong leading part. A quartette was given by Mrs Seward, Miss Cochrane, Mr. Manning and Mr. Hill, and Mrs Seward took the soprano solo in the morning anthem with excellent effect. The anthems were "Christ the Lord is Risen Today," by Lloyd and "This is the Day," by Sewell.

In the two Methodist churches the services Sunday evening were of a very similar nature, Rev. S. J. Shorey speaking in the Charlotte street Church, and Rev. M. J. Bates in the George Street Church. In the latter church the revival meetings are to be continued this week.

Rev. B. Canfield Jones, of Port Hope, preached in St. Paul's Sunday, and the Rev. Mr. Mitchell, of Waterloo, in St. Andrew's.

Rev. E. P. Torrance preached in the First Presbyterian Church, Port Hope, Sunday.

The Boys Entertained—Successful Evening Meeting.

At 10 a.m. a delightful service was held for the junior branch, the members of which were out in large numbers. Miss Code gave a very helpful address, which impressed the boys with the need of taking the Lord Jesus as their personal Saviour. After the services were concluded, the boys were treated to refreshments by some lady friends. Altogether the service was very helpful to the lads and encouraging to the workers.

The rooms were thronged all day with young men, who enjoyed the privileges of the reading room, parlour games, etc., provided.

In the evening the monthly reception was tendered the young men. The hall was crowded with fine, manly young fellows. The St. Paul's Y.P.S.C.E. very kindly acted as hosts and did their work well, which gave pleasure and profit to all present.

At 8 p.m. the president of the St. Paul's Y.P.S.C.E. Mr. James Cunnal took the chair. After devotional exercises, led by Rev. Mr. Pentland, of Welcome, the following choice programme was carried out to the credit of the society and the enjoyment of the young men present:

Piano solo	Miss Code
Vocal duet	Misses A. Cameron and [Paterson
Reading	Mr. James Cunnal
Piano duet	Misses Fairweather and [Hall
Vocal solo	Miss S. Cameron
Instrumental duet	Messrs. J. Miller and [Holland
Vocal solo	Miss L Dixon
Piano solo	Miss A. Patterson
Vocal solo	Mrs. W. Daly

Rev. Mr. Torrance gave a very practical address on "Elements of success in life," which was full of excellent advice to the young men and will bear fruit in their lives.

During the evening an abundant supply of cake and coffee was served by the young ladies, which the young men did justice to.

A hearty vote of thanks was carried unanimously and tendered the St. Paul's Y.P.S.E., for the delightful evening provided, and Rev. Mr. Torrance for his helpful address. After a pleasant time spent socially the meeting closed, all feeling it was good to be there. The feeling was strongly expressed that the Association should keep open house every holiday, so as to counteract the influence for evil on these days.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

Mr. Frank Peck gave an earnest address on "Samuel" at the young men's meeting Saturday night. The attendance was good and fruit was borne at the after meeting.

Mr. Wm. Freeborn led the consecration meeting Sabbath morning. The many present received a great blessing.

Mr. Wm. Wallbrook gave an impressive talk to men only at the personal purity meeting yesterday afternoon. It was heart-searching and convincing.

Mr. John Carlisle addressed the Gospel and song service last evening. The attendance and attention was good. The message given was powerful and we have the promise it won't return void. Rev. Mr. Mitchell added a few appropriate words to the Christian workers present. The Spirit was present to convict of sin and lead to the Lord Jesus.

Obituary.

The Late Mrs. John Tully.

When a couple journey along the pathway of life for nearly half a century together and death claims one, the other, as a rule, is not long in following. A week ago to-day (Monday, March 23rd), Mr. John Tully departed this life, and yesterday, Easter Sunday, was a glad reality to Mrs. Tully, for she re-joined her husband in the better land—rose to a life happiness with him in the Paradise of God. Mrs Tully had been ill for some time, and a week ago she contracted a severe cold, which, together with the shock of her husband's death, resulted in a fatal issue to her illness on Sunday morning. The deceased lady, whose maiden name was Eleanor Thompson, was a native of Northumberland, England. She was united in marriage to Mr. Tully forty-five years ago, and, as a faithful partner, shared his joys and sorrows, his reverses and successes, fulfilling all the duties of her station as a faithful wife and mother, a kind neighbour and faithful friend. The funeral takes place on Tuesday, March 31st, to the Little Lake Cemetery at 2 30 p.m.

Farmers' Institute at Lakefield.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

[The following report of the recent evening meeting of the West riding Farmers' Institute, at Lakefield, was received too late for incorporation with the regular report published on Wednesday.]

When Reeve Casement took the chair to preside over the evening session of the Farmers' Institute, the town hall was filled with a brave array of those interested in farm and garden pursuits, a large number being of the fair sex, which caused Mr. Hobson to remark on opening his address that he had great doubts if the large turnout of young ladies was due to their desire to be enlightened on agricultural topics, but rather owing to the desire to see what good looking young men Ottawa produced.

Mr. F. J. SHUTT was the first speaker, and prefaced his remarks on "Chemistry of Food" by a few remarks on experimental farm work and its great importance to the farmer. Chemistry, Botany, Physiology, all had a bearing on farm work and life, and as such were represented by departments at the experimental farms; and he advised all farmers to do a little experimental work. Then taking up his subject proper, he traced the different articles of food in common use from their crude forms up, and pointed out their different values by the aid of charts, showing what kinds were most required to sustain life and repair the waste which is constantly going on in the human body.

Mr. J. I. HOBSON was the next speaker, his subject being the "Education of Farmers' Sons." He considered that the elementary subjects of agriculture should be taught in our schools, especially those in the rural districts, and that our educational authorities were alive to the fact. Young men who had been brought up on farms and then attended agricultural colleges made the best and most progressive farmers, but young men who took a college or university education seldom, if ever, returned to the farm or farm life. He had noticed that the most successful men in towns and cities were those who had been brought up on a farm, and there taught habits of industry and economy. The chief factors of success in a farm boy were: untiring industry, ambition to excel, coupled with habits of observation, as well as by experience. Force of example was another factor. Brains must in this age take to a great extent the place of the brawny muscle by which our forefathers won success. Consider before you act; love your chosen profession, and the young farmers of the future will be as the present Canadian farmer is, second to none in the wide world.

CHAS FAIRBAIRN, M. P., South Victoria, who was present in the audience, was called to the platform, and after stating he almost felt a stranger, and had not expected to be called upon, advised his hearers, especially the younger portion, to take every advantage of the facilities now offered by both Governments, in the shape of agricultural education, lectures, reports, etc.

Mr. JOHN CRAIG continued his remarks of the afternoon on "Fruits and House Plants," first taking up apples, enumerating the causes of failure in some varieties, and remarking that by selecting those kinds that grow do well, and adding some of the new Russian varieties, we will in time have a selection better suited to our soil and climate than at present. He thought the apples best suited for this district were as follows: For summer—Yellow transparent, Red Astrachan, Duchess of Oldenburg. For winter use: Wealthy and Pewaukee. Pears:—Flemish Beauty. Plums:—Weir and Wagner (American varieties). Cherries:—The Morello.

Taking up the subject of "House plants," hardy varieties were enumerated, kinds of soil best suited to them, care of failure, heat, over watering, dust, insects, mentioned, and hints for their successful growth given.

Vocal and instrumental music was given between each of the addresses by a number of young ladies and gentlemen, for which Mr. Hobson moved them a vote of thanks. All united in singing "God Save the Queen" and to a close a most successful meeting.

Salvation Army Notes.

A big reception will be tendered Brigadier Margetts and his bride at the barracks tonight. A banquet will be held.

At the barracks Saturday night the members of the band were formally commissioned by Staff-Capt Beatty. Each musician received a certificate recognizing him a qualified bandsman. The Army band is "looking up," and now boasts of ten brass new instruments, which were recently purchased at a cost of $200. In order to pay for them the band has adopted the practice of screaming, and they are now rejoicing in the fact that their indebtedness has been almost wiped out. The band music has noticeably improved since the new instruments were got. Two of the buglers are boys about fifteen years old.

Scratched 28 Years

A Scaly, Rotting, Skin Disease With Endless Suffering Cured by CUTICURA REMEDIES.

If I had known of the CUTICURA REMEDIES twenty-eight years ago, it would have saved me $200.00 and an immeasurable amount of suffering. My disease (psoriasis) commenced on my head in a spot not larger than a cent. It spread rapidly all over my body, and got under my nails. The rankes would drive off or me all the time, and my suffering was endless, and without relief. One thousand dollars would not tempt me to have this disease over again. I am a poor man, but feel rich to be relieved of what some of the doctors said was leprosy, some ringworm, psoriasis, etc. I can not praise the CUTICURA REMEDIES too much. They have made my skin as clear and free from residue as a baby's. All used of them was $5 worth. If you had been here and said you would have cured me for $500, you would have had the money. I looked like the picture (No. 2 page 47) in your book, "How to Cure Skin Diseases," but now I am as clear as any person ever was. Through force of habit I rub my hands over my hands and legs to scratch once in a while, but to no purpose. I am all well I scratched twenty-eight years, and it was to be a kind of second Nature to me. I thank you a thousand times.

MASSACRE IN INDIA.

DEATH PRECEDED THE DURBAR AT MANIPUR.

Two Companies of Goorkhas, Including Several English Officers, Practically Annihilated in Consequence of a Dispute over the Deposition of a Rajah.

CALCUTTA, March 30.—The news of a terrible massacre was brought to Kohima on the Assam frontier by two Goorkhas who arrived there yesterday. The massacre originated in a feud between the Rajah of Manipur and a leading tribal chief. The Rajah was deposed and he appealed to the Viceroy. Mr. Quinton was sent to settle the trouble and started from headquarters at Shillang, escorted by the 42nd and 44th Goorkha Light Infantry. After crossing the frontier Quinton summoned the chiefs to a durbar at Manipur for the purpose of arresting the rebellious chiefs. The tribesmen pretended to obey the summons, mustered in force and at midnight on the day before that on which the durbar was to be held suddenly attacked the camp of Commissioner Quinton, which lay between Kohima and Manipur. The attempt to surprise the camp failed and the tribesmen were driven back. They returned, however, and kept up the attack and siege night and day for 48 hours. Finally the ammunition of the Goorkhas gave out and Mr. Quinton was obliged to give the order, "Save qui Puts." During the fight scouts were sent out to try to communicate with Shillang, but they never returned. The Manipur natives cut the telegraph wires and killed the messengers. Fugitives report that a general massacre followed the taking of the camp. There is reason for believing that the estimate that 470 were killed is incorrect. One account of the affair reports that Commissioner Quinton and his staff were made prisoners. Another account says Colakene, the commander, Commissioner Quinton, with his son and daughter, Captain Bolleau and six officers were killed, the natives refusing to give them quarter. The rebellious tribe is famous for cunning, cruelty and bravery. Immediately upon receiving the news of the disaster the viceroy at Simla summoned a council, and native regiments stationed in Assam have already been despatched to Manipur. The 3rd Bengal Infantry will start for the scene to-morrow.

The Viceroy of India has abandoned his tour and has started for Simla. Five regiments and a mountain battery have been ordered to Manipur.

IT WAS A DOUBLE MURDER.

A Man and Woman Killed by a Chocktaw Indian.

PARIS, Tex., March 30.—In the Federal Court here yesterday testimony was given showing that a double murder had been committed in the Chocktaw Nation by Tomlees Williams, a full-blood Chocktaw, in October, 1890. A white man stopped at the house of Jackson Baptiste and got some food and asked for work. He was accompanied by a woman. The Baptistes directed him to John Williams.

Tomlees Williams is John Williams' son and Ellis Williams, a boy of 12, is the latter's son. Ellis says that about sunset the man and woman reached his grandfather's and stayed all night. The man and woman left John's next morning, going towards Tomlees's place. Later the boy and his grandfather went over towards Tomlees's farm and there found the woman, but not the man. The woman was crying. Tomlees made the boy mount his pony and, putting the woman up behind him, started them up the mountain, John and Tomlees following with guns. On the mountain the boy was made to dismount and take the woman into the woods. At this the boy began crying again and Tomlees shot the woman in the head. She fell on the edge of a gully, into which they rolled her body and piled rocks on it. Later they found the body of the man, shot in the forehead, in a gully and also covered with stones. The horse was taken 10 miles away. There are no clues to the identity of the parties killed, but their bodies have been pointed out by the boy Ellis.

A Drunkard's Horrible Work.

BERLIN, March 30.—At Mulhausen, in Alsace, last night a drunken cooper attacked his wife with a knife and killed her. He then turned upon his mother-in-law, who had tried to save her daughter and killed her, after which he cut his own throat and fell dead on the floor. The horrible scene was enacted in the presence of the man's five little children, and one of them, frantic with terror, jumped out of a window to the pavement and was killed.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 30.—The Russian newspapers concur in the opinion that the Baltcheff incident is proof that it is necessary for the powers to intervene in Bulgaria. The Novoe Vremya declares the time is near at hand when the duties involved by the Berlin treaty will require fulfilment.

Sam Gompers Will Lead the Inaugural Movement in Pittsburg on May 1.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 30.—Samuel Gompers, president of the Federation of Labor, will be here within the next two weeks and writes that his organization will back the coke strikers to the last in their demand for eight hours. His visit, however, more directly concerns the coming struggle of the building trades in this vicinity for the eight-hour law to be demanded on May 1. Pittsburg, it will be remembered, having been chosen as the nucleus for an eight-hour movement in the building trades to extend all over the country.

Both sides are thoroughly organized for the fight. The master builders have been preparing for a year, and the builders of Pittsburg and the surrounding towns say they are a unit in repelling the move, and that they will lock out every employee on May 1, if they persist in demanding eight hours. On the other hand the carpenters with all other branches of the building trades are the best organized men in the country and are confident of winning.

President Gompers says he will make his headquarters here and stand by both the coke strikers and the building organizations until they win their demands.

DUPED FORTY-THREE MEN

A YOUNG WOMAN'S MATRIMONIAL ADVENTURES.

How She Worked the Marriage Trick on Numerous Swains — A Story of Adventure Without a Parallel in the Modern Annals of Crime.

PARIS, March 30.—A woman who has actually gone through the marriage service with 43 men and swindled all but one of them within three hours after the ceremony is the latest product of the Parisian police. Six years ago Eveline Leal, a handsome young English girl, married a Frenchman, who died within a month of the wedding, leaving her with no money and plenty of debts. To "square" herself with society Eveline resorted to what is known in police lingo as "the marriage trick." Her method of procedure was simple and ingenious. She advertised, stating that a widow possessing 1,200,000 francs wished to marry a gentleman in good circumstances, belonging to the nobility or to the high commercial class.

Answers were to be sent to the postoffice. Her accomplice, who occupied the position of companion, seems to have had the important duty of choosing the victims from among the applicants. At any rate, the suitor was never admitted into Eveline's presence unless his personal appearance was in his favor, and then he was granted a rendezvous either in a sumptuous apartment on the Champs Elysees or at one of the best hotels.

Naturally Eveline took a different name for every occasion. For some suitors for her hand and fortune she called herself Madame Farbank, Madame Rappy, Madame Decomay, Madame Burnelly. She always began by making some objection to an immediate marriage. Sometimes assuming the character of an ingenious miss she said her mother considered that she was too young for marriage and that the applicant must wait awhile. On another occasions the fortune or social position of the suitor was not what she desired, but in the end she always allowed herself to be captivated with these personal qualities of the would-be husbands. She often managed things so cleverly that she received rich presents from her suitors, and, after getting as much as she could, suddenly disappeared. In several cases she considered it better policy to secure possession of the wedding gifts by agreeing to a marriage ceremony. For this she invariably crossed the Channel, expressing a preference for the wedding to take place in England. After the clergyman had in all good faith pronounced the nuptial benediction she returned with her victim to the hotel, but always managed to disappear before night, never, however, leaving the wedding gifts behind her.

Eveline victimized 32 presumably intelligent men in this way before she fell into the hands of the Paris police in the autumn of 1887. She was sent to jail for two years, obtained an early release for good conduct, resorted to her old tricks and victimized ten lovers more without detection. The swindled ones were too much ashamed to inform the police, but her 43rd victim gave the police information which led to Eveline's second arrest on Good Friday at the Hotel Meurice, Rue Rivoli. Her dupe this time was a French Viscount who had ruined himself through gambling and was anxious to regild his armorial bearings with the 1,200,000 francs of the charming widow. It would even seem as if he were really in love with the adventuress, for he journeyed with her and a companion (a certain Mrs. Caba), believed to hail from New Orleans.

They traveled in England, Belgium and Norway, the Viscount paying all expenses by borrowing money right and left on his expectations. He made Eveline rich presents wherever they went. At last back in Paris, the Viscount insisted upon having a day fixed for the wedding, but to no avail. Miss Reynolds—that was the last name she had assumed—was inexorable. He must wait. This fact awakened the suspicions of the Viscount, who laid the case before M. Goron, chief of detectives. When the officers presented themselves at the Hotel Meurice Eveline was greatly astonished, but followed them bravely to the police station. As for her companion, Mrs. Caba, she was absent from the hotel when Eveline was arrested, and has not been seen there again. This time fair Eveline will probably get a sentence which will put her out of harm's way for many years.

She is the child of a well-to-do farmer in Shropshire, the fertility of whose acres made it an easy matter to provide handsomely for his family, composed of one daughter and three sons.

Eveline, like many others in the same position, being the pet of the father and brothers and fairly good looking, soon learned to command, and grew up in the belief that mankind was created to do her homage and minister to her wishes.

A Comet With a 15 mins Tail.

MOUNT HAMILTON, Cal., March 30.—A small, fairly bright comet with a tail 15 minutes long was discovered by Prof. E. E. Barnard last night at Lick Observatory. Its position was right ascension 1 hour and 30 mins. 19 secs north; declination 44 degs. 48 mins. The comet is moving rapidly southwards.

Drowned in the Thames.

LONDON, March 30.—While some boys were amusing themselves on the bank of the river in the vicinity of the York-street bridge about noon to-day one of their number, named Eddie Pritchett, son of Mr. Pritchett, Alma-street, London South, fell in and was drowned.

Missionary Schooner Wrecked.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—The missionary schooner Chapman was lost on the west coast of Tahiti on Nov. 30, 1890. She was bound from Honolulu to Pitcairn Island. The crew of 16 were drowned.

Chicago carpenters have secured an agreement with the bosses for a working day of eight hours and a minimum wage of 35 cents per hour.

Rev. Andrew Colville, Presbyterian minister, New York, has been taken to the hospital suffering from insanity brought on by dissipation.

Robert Bartlett, town marshal of Priestville, Ky., shot and fatally injured the young wife of Dr. Coutri because she would not elope with him.

Was He Hypnotised?

FARGO, N.D., March 30.—From certain facts which have come to light within a day or so it seems possible that the trial of Joseph Remington for the murder of J. Flett at Arthur may become one of the most famous in the United States. The theory will be that when hypnotised by the Minneapolis woman, whose name has been so frequently mentioned since his arrest, he murdered Agent Flett.

Hypnotised By Sharpers.

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio, March 30.—Samuel Custer, an old resident of Beaver Creek township, Green county, is on the lookout for two lightning-rod swindlers who visited him and got him to sign a note, which he said to-day he thought was for $800 at least, if not for as many thousand. He explains his signing the note by claiming that the two hypnotised him, and while in their power he unconsciously signed the paper.

Both Dropped Dead.

TROY, March 30.—Erastus B. Stickney of Lansingburgh dropped dead of heart disease Friday afternoon at the age of 91 years. His death so affected the mind of his only daughter that it became unbalanced, and this afternoon she too dropped dead of heart disease. There will be a double funeral on Monday.

ALL THE NEWS OF EUROPE

PEACE REIGNED IN NORTH SLIGO YESTERDAY.

A Mob Prevents Firemen Working on a Burning Building and Several Persons Perish in the Flames — Moonlighters Arrested at Queenstown—Embarking For America.

LONDON, March 30.—During a fire at Portsmouth to-night a mob of drunken sailors gathered about the burning building and prevented the firemen from raising ladders in order to save the lives of the occupants remaining in the house. A desperate fight ensued between the firemen and the mob, in which many on both sides were injured. The mob was finally driven away. Meanwhile, however, a boy and a servant girl, whose lives might have been saved had the firemen not been interfered with, were burned to death in their rooms on an upper floor.

THE REUSS EPISODE.

A Phase of the Case Which Does Honor to the Young Princess.

LONDON, March 30.—Marie Glasier is the name of the pretty circus girl who charges M. Rudolph Vacaresco, son of the ex-minister to Roumania, at Vienna with stealing her diamonds, having first borrowed and afterwards pawned the jewels. The young man, it seems, who belongs to a noble family in Roumania, gave the girl the impression that he would make her his wife, and managed to borrow from her not only her jewelry, but all the money she earned while at Vienna, and, what is looked upon as making the matter worse, he used a portion of the money thus obtained in paying court to the daughter of an attache of the German Embassy.

The latter discovered his perfidy and made the facts known to the Princess Reuss, with the result before stated of Vacaresco's expulsion from the ball. The Prince of Reuss persists in his refusal to fight a duel on the subject.

THE WORKINGMEN'S CONGRESS.

A Sweeping Program Adopted and a General Strike Promised.

PARIS, March 30.—The Workmen's Congress has adopted a program embracing the following propositions: That eight hours constitute a day's work; that the minimum of wages be fixed; that children under 14 be prohibited from working; that everybody declared by workmen's syndicates to be unable to work to receive public support; that masters be held responsible for accidents to workmen; that municipal butchers, bake houses and bazaars be formed; that communes be allowed to borrow money without consulting the central government; and finally that every trade organize in readiness for a general strike to vanquish the opposing employers. The Socialist Allemane dominated the Congress.

WORK OF PARNELLITE PEBBLES.

Sligo Surgeons Busy Bandaging Up Sunday's Election Fight Wounds.

DUBLIN, March 30.—Roche and Conway (members of Parliament) engaged in an altercation followed by a scuffle at Easkey and police had to separate the combatants. Quietness has prevailed in North Sligo to-day, however. The surgeons of Sligo have been kept busy dressing the wounds of those struck with stones in Sunday's fights.

Messrs. Davitt and Sexton addressed a large meeting in the dark to-night from the steps of the town hall. Mr. Sexton announced that Mr. Smith, the First Lord of the Treasury, had consulted with Mr. McCarthy on the question of the appointment of an Irish delegate on the labor commission and that Mr. McCarthy had recommended Michael Davitt as the Irish representative.

Robbery Made Easy.

LONDON, March 29.—A man obtained admission to Viscount Cranbourne's London residence in Park-place on the pretence of being sent to examine the telephone wires. Once in the house he made his way to the Viscountess Cranbourne's room and stole her diamond necklace and some broaches, as well as studs belonging to Lord Cranbourne. He then walked out saying it would be necessary to fetch another man in order to finish the work, and was never seen again.

Three Moonlighters Arrested.

QUEENSTOWN, March 30.—On the arrival of the steamship Servia, from Liverpool to New York, at this point to-day she was boarded by the police, who arrested three moonlighters, Healy, Scollard and Brosnan, charged with firing into a hut at Tralee, which was occupied by a number of constables. The police have been looking for the men for some time, and learned that they had embarked at Liverpool yesterday for America.

The Sight That Greeted Mary Cooper.

LONDON, March 30.—Returning to her home at Great Marlow from a visit to a neighbor last night, Mary Cooper found her aged father and mother lying side by side upon a bed with their throats cut. The woman was dead but the man was alive. The room presented a dreadful appearance. The frightfully wounded man managed to confess that he had killed his wife after a desperate struggle and attempted to kill himself. After cutting his throat he plunged the knife into his abdomen, and would have inflicted other wounds upon himself but for weakness from loss of blood. He will die.

Comment on the Rebellion.

LONDON, March 31.—All the morning dailies comment upon the gravity of the Manipur rebellion and the necessity of strong measures to retrieve British prestige. Some papers think Commissioner Quinton's force was inadequate and that he committed a blunder in underrating the strength of the enemy.

Drowned Himself in Mid-Ocean.

PHILADELPHIA, March 30.—While in mid-ocean William Hartley, an expert florist and rose grower, bound to Manayunk, near this city, committed suicide on the night of March 23 by jumping overboard from the deck of the American Line steamship Ohio. The engines of the Ohio were stopped at once and every effort made to save the unfortunate man, but without success.

Arrested for Bigamy.

HAMILTON, March 30.—Thomas H. Davis is under arrest here on the serious charge of bigamy. Davis is a printer and came from Toronto only a few days ago. Davis was married in Barrie eight or nine years ago to Annie Foster, daughter of William Foster, a farmer of Vespra township, Simcoe County. On Dec. 16, 1889, while his wife was still living, he was married again in Toronto to Jane Sebastian of that city.

A Much Engaged Scamp.

HUNTINGDON, W. Va., March 30.—Oliver Deacon is very much in demand up in the Toma Creek neighborhood. He was without doubt the most numerously engaged man in all this region. Eighteen girls have stated since his escape that they were engaged to be married to Deacon, and the wedding day in each case was the 20th of April. The most distressing part of the whole affair is that the greater portion of the 18 maidens spoken of are all likely to have living reminders of Deacon. A letter from Deacon, written from Catlettsburg, says he believes himself safe, as they "don't hang gentlemen in Kentucky."

A Much Baptized Man.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 30.—Investigation yesterday shows that Henry C. Berg, the alleged Franciscan monk, who was baptised into the Christian church on Friday night, is a fraud from Louisville, who has been doing a thriving business as an "apostate," being quite impartial as between denominations in bestowing his faith. He has probably been baptized in more different styles than any other man in America.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria

KILLED BY RABIES.

A Spinster Whose Finger Was Scratched by a Sick Dog's Tooth Dies in Agony.

HARTFORD, Conn., March 30.—The terrible death this afternoon of Miss Ella G. Learned is asserted by her physicians to have been, without any question, due to genuine rabies. A dog, an Italian greyhound and a great pet of Miss Learned, had been sick and restless for several days. In springing toward a door the dog ran against Miss Learned and one of its teeth struck her finger, making a slight scratch, from which a drop or two of blood oozed. Four days later the dog died quietly, without having exhibited other than ordinary symptoms of sickness. Miss Learned, who was a spinster, aged 50, suffered terrible agonies.

A Bride of a Day, Who Married Her Husband's Slayer, Asks for Divorce.

MONTPELIER, Vt., March 30.—Mrs. Laura A. Caswell is suing for divorce from her husband, James S. Caswell, who is serving a life sentence of imprisonment at Windsor for murder. Caswell and George Gould worked on the Cutter farm and in September, 1883, Gould and Laura drove down to the village and were married. The next morning they returned home, and in less than half-an-hour afterwards the newly-made husband was shot and killed by Caswell.

Caswell was found guilty and sentenced for life and six days before Caswell was committed to the prison at Windsor, Laura Cutter Gould went to the county jail and was married to him.

Whatever her reasons were for marrying him, she has evidently tired of posing as the wife of a man who can never be a husband to her. Caswell asserts that it was with an eye to securing his pension that Mrs. Gould, the bride of a day, was willing to marry her husband's slayer.

FATAL FIGHT WITH A BEAR.

A Hunter Attacked by Brute While Trailing a Moose.

PRINCE ALBERT, March 30.—Word has been received here from Devil's Lake of the death of an Indian hunter. It appears that the Indian and a younger brother got on the trail of a moose, which they followed til about dusk, when the man told the boy to proceed home and he would follow the tracks a little further. Failing to return, searching parties were formed. When found the body was cold, but not frozen, showing plainly that the poor fellow had died but a short time before. From indications surrounding the spot where the body was found, it appears he followed the tracks of the moose till he suddenly came on the nest of a bear which must have attacked him, as his head, body and limbs were dreadfully lacerated by the ferocious animal. The Indian had fired a couple of shots at the bear, severely wounding him, judging from the marks of blood around the spot where a tussle for life took place. The bear must have dragged the man some distance, as a bloody trail showed plainly his track as he crawled back to the place where the body was found, and where he had managed to light a fire.

TRADED HIS WIFE FOR A PONY.

But the Animal Turned Out Worthless and He Welcomed Her Back.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 30.—A few months ago a man named Zimmerman arrived in Darlington, Beaver county, with a herd of ponies. Among those who looked longingly on a particular pony was George Davis, a young married man of that place. Davis had no money, but he possessed a wife, whom he offered to exchange for the animal and a money consideration. The wife was consulted, and after a few days' dickering Zimmerman agreed to give the pony and a deed to 144 acres of land in Montana in exchange for the woman. The papers were drawn up, and Zimmerman took the woman and Davis the pony.

The cowboy and Mrs. Davis went West, but she soon repented and asked to be taken back to her first love. By this time Davis discovered that Zimmerman did not own a foot of land in Montana or any other place. The innocent looking pony turned out to be everything that was bad, and when Mrs. Davis arrived home yesterday she was gladly welcomed by her rightful husband.

THE SOCIALIST CLOUD.

Kaiser William Worried at its Expansion, Especially in the Army.

LONDON, March 30.—This evening's advices from Berlin state that unusual activity has prevailed for the past three days in the War Office, and that an unusual number of employes were busy there to-day. The Emperor had a long audience with Chancellor Caprivi, and the high officials generally look as if something important was on the tapis. There is no doubt that the movements of Russian troops near the German frontier, and the evidence of cordial intimacy between Russia and France have caused much anxiety in Berlin, and it is possible that the alarm caused by the apprehension of war may lead to important military changes.

Besides the thought that Russia and France may be preparing for war the German Government is said to be very much stirred up over startling facts that have been disclosed in regard to the socialistic propaganda in the army. The military authorities have come into possession, through a recent arrest, of evidence going to show that the social democracy has been spreading its doctrines through the ranks of the army and navy, and has made numerous proselytes, and that the propagation of socialism among the troops is not confined of Germany, but is systematically carried on throughout Europe, with the exception of Russia, and that all the armies of Western Europe are honeycombed with the subversive ideas of the pledged enemies of established institutions.

The Kaiser, it is stated, has given directions that the evil shall be dealt with most radically, so far as Germany is concerned, and any officer or soldier detected in propagating the prohibited opinions shall be punished with the utmost severity. The information ascertained has also been sent to Austria, Belgium and Italy for the war offices in those countries to be on their guard.

A MAN-EATING STALLION.

He Horribly Mangles His Owner and His Owner's Father.

HAMILTON, Ohio, March 31.—Tom Burke, jr., of Somerville, a village near here, is the owner of a four year-old high-bred stallion, which is very wild and savage. It was unsafe to approach him without a club, that being the only thing which would intimidate him. Last evening Tom entered the stable, forgetting his club, when the stallion attacked him. He was knocked down, and the fiery animal began trampling on him, bruising him terribly. His father rushed to his rescue with a stick and broke it on the stallion's back. The beast then turned on the old man, and soon had him under his feet.

Tom, jr., rushed up into the haymow, descended with a pitchfork and thrust it repeatedly into the stallion's side. This weakened the savage brute, and the old man, terribly mangled, was carried into the house, where he now lies dying. His face was chewed in an awful manner, mostly all his ribs were broken and there are many internal injuries. His son will live.

The Man Has His Wife Had Twins.

NEWTON, March 30.—Charles Kutner, a frescoer and decorator, who has a wife and 10 children in Finesville, Hunterdon County, eloped with Miss Annie Cinderbox, a pretty girl who lived with her father in Waterstreet. On the very day of the alleged elopement Kutner's wife gave birth to a pair of twins. He left his family in great destitution.

Stand Your Ground.

When you make up your mind to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, do not be induced to buy some other preparation instead. Clerks may claim that "ours is as good as Hood's" and all that, but the peculiar merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla cannot be equalled. Therefore have nothing to do with substitutes and insist upon having Hood's Sarsaparilla, the best blood purifier and building-up medicine.

TUESDAY, MARCH 31, 1891.

THE last education report contains an abstract showing the comparative state and progress of education in Ontario from 1879 to 1889. The school population increased from 494,424 to 616,028. The main cause of this increase is the change of the maximum school age from 16 to 21. Up to 1884, when the change was made, the school population steadily declined; in the following year it rose from 471,287 to 582,147, and since then it has increased by 33,000. The number of Public and Separate Schools, High Schools and collegiate institutes, Normal and Model Schools in operation has in the same period grown from 5,231 to 5,749; and the attendance at all these institutions together has grown from less than half a million to 530,827. The salaries of Public and Separate School teachers in 1879 were $2,072,822; in 1889 $2,554,845, an increase of nearly half a million dollars. A still greater increase is shown in the amount paid for Public and Separate School buildings and other expenses, which was $760,262 in 1879 and $1,644,670 in 1889. In round numbers the total expenditure on Public and Separate Schools has increased in ten years from $2,833,000 to $4,200,000, and the total expenditure on these and other educational institutions from $3,493,000 to $5,145,000. The statistics show that women are pushing their way into the profession at the expense of men; the number of women teachers has grown from 3,443 to 5,193, while the number of men teachers has declined from 3,153 to 2,774; so that at the present rate of progress the sterner sex will soon be out-numbered by two to one.

THERE are some of the amounts paid by the Intercolonial Railway Company for printing and advertising:—Halifax Evening Mail, advertising time-table, ten months at $36, $360, other advertising, $327; total, $687. Halifax Morning Herald, time tables, ten months, $480, other advertising, $330; total, $860. The Herald also got $10,738 for printing and $222 for subscriptions, making in all $11,821. The Moncton Times got $10,742 for printing and $1,287 for advertising and subscriptions. The St. John's Sun's bill for advertising and printing was $13,370. These figures help, the Globe remarks, to account for the size of the Intercolonial deficit.

Canada and Canadians.

Prof. Goldwin Smith's New Book—The "Times" Offers Some Suggestions.

LONDON, March 29.—Goldwin Smith's new book on "Canada and the Canadian Question" shows, says the Times, his accustomed brilliancy of argument and exposition. It shows another thing, if our Canadian friends would but see it. The whole volume is an argument in effect, though not always in form for union between Canada and the United States. Times was when such a proposal as that from a writer of Mr. Goldwin Smith's eminence would have produced an explosion of wrath in England. There is now no explosion, no indignation. No powerful party in this country protests. Nobody sees any reason why Mr. Goldwin Smith should not write and Messrs. Macmillan publish, and everybody read, a political treatise of which the very foundation stone is the disruption of the Colonial Empire. I might go further, and say that, respectable as is the party of Imperial federation in this country, his sparkling chapter on that subject is read with delight, and his dissection of what he regards as a phantom policy angers nobody except federationists. Books on Canada do not commonly provoke comment. They are put aside and passed over. But this volume of Mr. Goldwin Smith's excites general interest, in spite, rather than because of, its subject. The advocate has the art of making his client's cause interesting, and his vigorous, sensible, and practical treatment of a problem heretofore dismissed to weariness from a different point of view enlists English sympathies and rouses in his own behalf some of that very sentiment which he gently ridicules as a factor in Anglo-Canadian politics. That is what the Canadians would do well to consider. They may consider with hardly less profit the tone of recent discussion here in the English press. Sir John Macdonald may consider it, he more seriously than most men, for he has been plainly told that his professions of loyalty beguile nobody; that his negotiations with Mr. Blaine for admitting American goods untaxed while British goods pay duty are understood here; that he is incapable of getting the better of Mr. Blaine, and that his diplomatic efforts towards some bargain with the United States at the expense of England only makes his declaration of imperial patriotism and his denunciations of his opponents rather ridiculous and slightly disgusting.

South Monaghan.

From Our Own Correspondent.

We are sorry to have to announce to the readers of the EXAMINER the death of Mary Hutchings, second daughter of Mr. John Hutchings, near Fraserville, who died of consumption on Monday, March 9th. She was an ardent member of the Methodist church, and was highly esteemed by all who knew her. She is the third one of the family that death has claimed. The funeral took place on Wednesday, March 11th, and proceeded to the Fraserville burying ground for interment. The parents and relatives have the deep sympathy of the entire neighborhood in their sad bereavement.

We are glad to notice that the managing committee of the Baptist burying ground here have removed all unnecessary bushes. They look and bring up our beautiful little cemetery this coming season.

Miss Mary Bothwell, of Lindsay, is visiting friends here for a few weeks. We wish her a pleasant time during her visit.

Miss Lizzie Finley, of Needler's mills, has been very ill lately of the measles. We wish her speedy recovery.

Mr. M. E. Hutchinson, late of Millbrook, has returned home, where he intends spending the summer, and is going to take up some business course in the fall.

Your Fraserville correspondent in last week's edition mentioned how that village was improving. We can also notice a decided improvement in the village of Centreville, a fine store we have here is very much needed in the worthy village of Fraserville.

HELP! HELP! THE LADY FAINTS.

"'Tis the twink of an eye,
'Tis the draught of a breath,
From the blossom of health,
To the paleness of death."

When sudden fainting spells come upon a lady, you may always suspect some uterine disturbances or trouble, or some great disorder in the circulation and nerve centers. A remedy that has always proved successful in warding off and removing the tendency to a recurrence of fainting spells—that removes the cause of them, corrects the circulation of blood, and gives to the system that even running nervous energy so essential, is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It contains no alcohol to inebriate; no syrup or sugar to ferment in the stomach and derange digestion, is a legitimate medicine, not a beverage.

The "Prescription" is guaranteed to give satisfaction in every case, or money refunded. Nothing else does as much. You only pay for the good you get. Can you ask more?

As a regulator and promoter of functional action, at the critical period of change from girlhood to womanhood, "Favorite Prescription" is a perfectly safe remedial agent, and can produce only good results. It is equally efficacious and valuable in its effects when taken for those disorders and derangements incident to that later and most critical period, known as "The change of Life."

Brimful of confidence in it—the manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It's a faith that means business, too—it's backed up by money. This is what they offer: $500 reward for a case of Catarrh which they cannot cure. They mean it. They're willing to take the risk—they know their medicine. By its mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties, it produces perfect and permanent cures of the worst cases of chronic Catarrh in the Head. It's doing it every day, where everything else has failed. No matter how bad your case, or of how long standing, you can be cured. You're sure of that—or of $500. You can't have both, but you'll have one or the other.

Everybody Likes It.

Wm. Dredge, Elles street, Barrie, Ont., says: One bottle of Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil brought back appetite which other Emulsions took away; removed cough entirely, and gained five pounds. It tastes just like cream, the oil being perfectly disguised. Sold by all druggists. dw

Distress in Digby.

DEAR SIRS—I was troubled by costiveness and sick headache, and in fact felt very miserable until I tried B. B. B. I used seven bottles with Burdock Pills also, and they made me as well as ever I was. This was about two years ago, and I still enjoy the best of health."—Mrs. A. McCullough, Digby, N. S. 2w11d

A Good Practice.

If the children suffer from pimples, irritated skin, headache, etc., Burdock Blood Bitters is by far the best remedy. Mr. McConnell, 28 Henderson Avenue, Toronto, says, "Since I have made a practice of using B.B.B. my children have got strong and well." 2w11d

The Handsomest Lady in Peterborough

Remarked to a friend the other day that she Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs was a superior remedy, as it stopped her cough instantly when other cough remedies had no effect whatever. So to prove this and convince you of its merit any druggist will give you a sample bottle free. Large size 50c. and $1. dw

Nasal Balm is used for cold in the head and catarrh from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and everywhere gives the best satisfaction. It has cured others—it will cure you. Try it. dw

SOME SYMPTOMS OF WORMS are:—Fever, colic, variable appetite, restlessness, weakness and convulsions. The unfailing remedy is Dr. Low's Worm Syrup. dw

AN INACTIVE or Torpid Liver must be aroused and all bad bile removed. Burdock Pills are best for old or young. dw

AS A PICK-ME-UP after excessive exertion or exposure, Milburn's Beef, Iron and Wine is grateful and comforting. dw

The Safest

AND most powerful alterative is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Young and old are alike benefited by its use. For the eruptive diseases peculiar to children nothing else is so effective as this medicine, while its agreeable flavor makes it easy to administer.

"My little boy had large scrofulous ulcers on his neck and throat from which he suffered terribly. Two physicians attended him, but he grew continually worse under their care, and everybody expected he would die. I had heard of the remarkable cures effected by Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and decided to have my boy try it. Shortly after he began to take this medicine, the ulcers commenced healing, and, after using several bottles, he was entirely cured. He is now as healthy and strong as any boy of his age."—William F. Dougherty, Hampton, Va.

"In May last, my youngest child, fourteen months old, began to have sores gather on its head and body. We applied various simple remedies without avail. The sores increased in number and discharged copiously. A physician was called, but the sores continued to multiply until in a few months they nearly covered the child's head and body. At last we began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. In a few days a marked change for the better was manifest. The sores assumed a more healthy condition, the discharges were gradually diminished, and finally ceased altogether. The child is livelier, its skin is fresher, and its appetite better than we have observed for months."—Frank M. Griffin, Long Point, Texas.

"The formula of Ayer's Sarsaparilla presents, for chronic diseases of almost every kind, the best remedy known to the medical world."—D. M. Wilson, M. D., Wiggs, Arkansas.

CHANGE IN BUSINESS.

I beg to announce to my late customers that I have sold out my business to Messrs. Hilliard & Peplow, and I would bespeak for them the same support as has been accorded me.

C. N. BROWN.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

For some time past we have thought a strictly cash business in Flour, Feed and Provisions could be successfully carried on in Peterborough, and to test this question, we have purchased the above business from Mr. C. N. Brown who will still continue as manager in Flavelle's old stand, Simcoe street.

In order to be successful we intend to make it the interest of everyone to pay cash with order by selling at wholesale prices.

We will positively give no credit and cash customers will not have to keep up the losses made by others on the credit system.

We will keep a full supply of the very best quality of Flour, Feed, Chop, etc., and our customers need not fear that the quality of the goods will be lowered to make up for the reduction in prices. We are simply giving them the benefit of the margin necessary to cover losses and interest charges incurred on the credit system.

Goods delivered to any part of the town or Ashburnham.

THE PEOPLE A MOB

Italian Prisoners Lynched in the New Orleans Jail.

ELEVEN LIVES FOR ONE.

Nine Men Shot Crouching in Prison and Two Hanged—Five Thousand Citizens Led by Prominent Lawyers and Merchants—The Police Cheer the Mob On—World Wide Opinions of the Tragedy.

David C. Hennessy, Chief of the New Orleans police, was shot dead near his house by Italians on the night of last Oct. 15. The assassination was instigated by members of Italian secret societies, against which Hennessy had collected evidence of the blackest crimes. The motive was the suppression of the information in his possession.

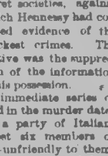
CHIEF HENNESSY.

The history of the immediate series of events which culminated in the murder dates back to last June, when a party of Italians shot down in the street six members of an Italian organization unfriendly to them. Forty murders of a similar nature had been committed by Italians in the the city during the preceding few years, and the authorities with the undivided support of all English-speaking citizens, determined to make all possible efforts to stop this incessant slaughter by the Mafia. Hennessy took active charge of the resulting investigation. He did this with full knowledge that his life would be in constant danger from the moment the Mafia societies learned his intention.

He had hardly begun his work when he was notified by dozens of anonymous letters that every step in his investigation was a nail in his coffin. At the instance of his friends he protected himself with a small body guard of detectives, who accompanied him all day and took him to his house at night. Despite this precaution, he, as well as all his friends, realized that he was constantly in imminent danger of assassination. The June murderers were brought into court. Six men were tried and convicted. Before the case was finished, however, the principal witness against the prisoners was killed by the Mafia. Then a new trial was obtained. With renewed energy Hennessy set about collecting more evidence against the Stoppaliagieri and other Italian associations of assassins in the city. By taking advantage of a feud among the members, he secured an immense amount of sensational information which, he promised, would have weight enough to crush all the Mafia societies in New Orleans.

His success was his death warrant. Members of societies against which he had damning evidence decided he must die. They waited only for a time when they might take him off his guard. Hennessy gave the desired opportunity by dismissing, early in October, the little company of detectives who had protected him during his work. Mafia Italians at once bestirred themselves. Chosen spies followed Hennessy's steps. Others watched him from alleyways and Italian houses near his home. His habits and hours were carefully marked, and, in accordance with the observations, the Stiletto Society on Oct 14 formed the plan of the assassination. Hennessy returned to his house daily shortly after midnight.

On the evening of Oct. 15 a gang of hired Italian murderers concealed themselves in a vacant house at the corner of an alleyway near his home. Hennessy, unwarned and unsuspicious, left his office at the usual time. About two blocks from his house a volley flashed from the house in the alleyway. Hennessy sank wounded, but raised himself, drew his revolver, and began firing back. He was answered with scattering shots from the Italians, and a few minutes later, was found riddled with slugs and buckshot. He lay gasping in his blood at the foot of a doorstep, his rev-lver clutched in his right hand. As shown hereunder this crime has been most fearfully avenged.



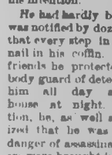
PIETRO MONASTERIO.

A mob, extraordinary in size, extraordinary in its make up, extraordinary in its determination, on Saturday, 14th March, killed three of the 19 Italians charged with the murder of Chief of Police Hennessy. It was a mob led by lawyers and merchants, men of large wealth and high standing. It was so strong that the authorities made no show of resistance and succumbed before it. Indeed the officers of the law threw up their hats and cheered the mob in its murderous work.

These are the names of those shot or hanged.

Joseph Macheca. Antonio Marchesi, Antonio Scaffedi, Rocco Geruci, James Caruso, Loretto Comitez, Pietro Monastero, Louis Trahina, Frank Romero, Manuel Polizzi, and Antonio Bagnetto.

When the day before the shooting the jury brought in a verdict of not guilty against six of the Italians on trial and disagreed as to the other three, a howl of indignation was heard. The press unanimously denounced the verdict, and declared that the jury had been bought. The jury stood twelve for the acquittal of Macheca, Emanuel Matranga, Matranzo, the two Marchesis, and Bagnetto, and nine to three for the conviction of the others. The excitement over the verdict reached fever heat by night, and three or four secret meetings were held to consider the situation.



ANTONIO MATRANGA.

The trial of the case had cost the city $30,000 and lasted for over a month, and yet none of the prisoners had been convicted. The general feeling was that a new trial would result in the conviction of all the men. Widespread threats were heard, and nearly every well-known citizen was approached with the question whether he would join an organization of a hundred citizens to avenge the slain.

Soon after the assassination of Chief Hennessy a large and order committee was appointed by Mayor Shakespeare to take charge of this case and to investigate the murder, and $15,000 was appropriated for that purpose by the City Council. The committee showed a disposition at first to resolve itself into a vigilance committee, but better counsel prevailed, largely through the influence of the newspapers, and the committee agreed to let the law take its course, but with an understanding that in case the law failed they would resort to lynch law.

The committee met after the verdict. The first proposition was to hold a mass meeting at Clay statue at night, but the leaders became convinced that this would have a bad effect, and later a call was drawn up by E. H. Farrar, a lawyer and President of the Committee of Law and Order. It was short and read as follows:

ANTONIO SCAFFEDI.

All good citizens are invited to attend a mass meeting on Saturday, March 14, at 1 o'clock P. M., at the Clay statue, to take steps to remedy the failure of justice in the Hennessy case. Come prepared for action.

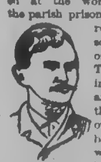
This call was signed by forty men of high standing in the community, including lawyers, merchants and others.

Promptly the call was obeyed, and 5,000 people assembled intent on vengeance. W. S. Parkerson, Walter Denegre and John C. Wickliffe, lawyers, and men of prominent social standing, addressed the crowd.

During their impassioned speeches, countenancing action, the mob yelled with vehemence: "We are ready." "Come on: lead on to the parish prison." "Death to the Sicilian assassins." "Down with the Mafia!" When Mr. Wickliffe concluded his address, cries of "Let's go!" "Let's go!" preceded a lull of an instant in the storm. Then some yelled: "Shall we get our guns?"

ANTONIO MARCHESI.

"Yes, yes; get your guns," said Mr. Parkerson. "Get your guns and meet us in Congo Square immediately." This closed the 15 minutes of speeches, and the mob, which seemed determined on quiet work, started at the word of command toward the parish prison at a dog trot. When they reached the prison it was soon seen that the men were organized as a military body. The 200 with guns drew up in front of the main gate, and other squads surrounded the prison. A large number of wooden beams, to be used as battering rams if necessary, were found to the ground, having been previously conveyed there. The leaders of the mob made a formal demand on the keeper of the prison for the keys, and his refusal to deliver them up was met with jeers. The mob then broke into the prison, and went from cell to cell in search of their prey. On the second floor a blanched and ghastly face was seen at the bars of the door.



ANTONIO BAGNETTO

"That's Scaffedi," shouted one excited individual, and immediately several shots were fired at the cell. The prisoner, whoever he was, quickly disappeared. Several more shots were fired at the door.

BASTIANO GORDONO.

"They are in the female department," shouted a shrill voice. "Where is the key?" "Bring us the key," yelled another, and a rush was made for the door separating the two divisions. The door was found securely locked.

"Batter it down," said one.

"Hold," said a young man with a Winchester rifle. "I've got the key," and he held a long key over his head. This announcement was greeted with cheers. The door was opened and the crowd made a break to get in.

My Life was Short.

Impromptu verses composed by Mr. Wm. Telford upon seeing a calf temptingly displayed in Winch Bros.' splendid display of Easter meats:

It is Easter, such mirth! but how sad is my lot,
For To-morrow, the cruel butcher, stuck his knife

As my life ebbed away, and before I was cold,
Then I half skinned my body, just for you to behold
How short was my young sportive life as a calf!
I am dead—there you stand to admire me and laugh.
The dear life of a calf, or the grief of its mother
Is not thought of by cruel Harry Winch or his brother.

Iron Moulder's Ball.

The first annual ball of the Iron Moulder's Union took place in the opera house last night. It was highly successful. There were about 70 couple present, who enjoyed the pleasures of the dance into the "wee sma, hours ayont the twal'." Mr. Butcher's orchestra supplied excellent music, and Mr. Jas Coughlin was the efficient floor manager. The hall was gaily ornate with streamers of flags and bunting festooned with evergreens, and beautiful floral decorations for the stage. The programme was varied and contained all the most popular dances. Supper was served in elaborate style by Mr. Martin Connors, of the "Hub." In fact, everything passed off most harmoniously and pleasantly, and the committee of management deserve credit for it. The committee comprise Messrs. E. R. Ward, J. Johnston, B. Harvey, J. Delaire, E. M. Scott and J. Crows. The young people will look forward to the next ball under the auspices of the Iron Moulder's Union with pleasing anticipations.

The Sad Sequel.

Two funerals took place to-day, the sad sequel to two very sudden deaths which occurred Sunday morning. Mrs. Sarah Strain, wife of Mr. Patrick Strain, was found dead in her bed. Mrs. Strain, who is 76 years of age, and an old resident of the town, was unwell on Saturday, but retired in the evening apparently improved. In the morning Mr. Strain found her dead in the bed. She had passed away during the night of heart failure..... Mr. James Hair, of Otonabee, was in Peterborough Saturday and retired apparently in his usual health. During the night Mrs. Hair was awakened by hearing her husband choking. He died a few minutes afterwards before medical aid could be secured. The cause of death was apoplexy. Mr. Hair was 59 years of age and a native of Otonabee. He leaves a wife and four daughters, two of whom are married. The sympathy of the community will go out to the two afflicted families who were so suddenly bereaved.

A Bride at the Barracks.

A Joyous Welcome to Brigadier and Mrs. Margetts—Addresses From the Newly Married Couple.

Brigadier Margetts and his bride were the attraction at the Salvation Army barracks Monday night. The Brigadier was married on Good Friday to Staff-Capt. Lucy Ashton, late of London, Eng., and they are now on their wedding trip. But the hallelujah honeymoon with them is not a season of luxurious idleness. Everything the Salvationists do must be to the glory of God, and their love for each other is not allowed to interfere with their love for the Master and His work. Indeed that is the only condition upon which the army permits its officers to marry. They must vow that that their marriage will in no way hinder their work and that they feel they can better glorify God in the connubial state than singly. Brigadier and Mrs. Margetts are therefore combining "business with pleasure," and on their wedding tour are conducting meetings and working just as hard as if it were a regular campaign trip.

The reception at the barracks Monday night was enthusiastic, hearty and noisy as only Salvationists could make it. The celebration was a dual one, for it was the anniversary of the Army in Peterborough as well as a welcome to the visiting officers. The past year has been a prosperous one for the Army.

A feast, which was dignified into a banquet on the posters, was held in the basement at the usual supper hour, and it is scarcely necessary to say that the blood-and-fire soldiers attacked the material comforts temptingly displayed on the table with the same vigor and success with which they assault the enemy in their spiritual warfare. A large number of the Salvationists and their friends took in the banquet. The usual street parade took place, followed by the meeting in the barracks. When Brigadier and Mrs. Margetts appeared on the platform a deafening din of welcome arose from the soldiers, among whom were a number of officers from outposts in addition to the local corps. Staff Captain Batty led the meeting. Among the other officers present were Capt. Rawlings, Ensign Logan, Capt. Bowker, Lieut. McKay, of Omemee, Capt. Richards, Capt. Cockerell, of Fenelon Falls, Capt. Wilcox, and Lieut. Purdy, of Lakefield, Capt. Stevenson and Lieut. Besugard, of Lindsay, Lieut. Wismer, of Millbrook, Lieut. Boyler, Capt. Gale and Lieut. Burroughs. The customary order of proceedings was then followed out. Brigadier Margetts delivered an address upon the work of which he had charge. He is responsible for the Cadets' Homes and is seeking help to clear off a debt of $1,000. He gave some information concerning the management of these Homes and the objects sought to be attained in them. There they trained their young officers to be practical and at the same time inspired and consecrated workers. The Brigadier also made a few sly allusions to the important event which had just transpired.

Interest centred in Mrs Margetts, who is a pleasant faced young lady of pronounced English accent, wearing the regulation blue uniform of staff officer. She spoke on general evangelical topics and sought to save souls from their sin. Her address had a good effect.

It is probable the Brigadier and his wife will soon be in Peterborough again.

A Narrow Escape.

A Mother's Superhuman Strength

On Monday last the son of Mr. H. Cartwright, Douro, narrowly escaped death. A 12 foot maple log rolled upon him from a height of two tiers, pinning him to the ground. Two little girls aged respectively seven and ten years of age gave the alarm. This brought the mother to the scene first. It would seem that the wonderful strength of a mother's love was by some providential process infused into her body powers for by what would seem a superhuman exertion of strength, she lifted the log and extricated, as she supposed, the dead body of her boy. Mr. Cartwright, the father, had in the meantime arrived, to find what he thought the dead body of his boy and the heavy log across his wife's legs. He relieved her—by the help of his hired man—his own efforts being unequal to lifting the log, as his wife had done under the stress of her frantic anxiety, without assistance. The boy was carried into the house and Dr. Yelland summoned, and under his treatment the lad is recovering, no bones, fortunately, having been broken. If he lives to be a hundred he can hardly ever have a narrower escape.

A Citizen of Vancouver Speaks.

A gentleman well known in the city of Vancouver, and a large speculator in real estate, speaks plainly regarding the value of Paine's Celery Compound; he says: "After seeing in the city of Vancouver I went into the real estate business. All at that time were excited, and I must confess, were neglecting more weighty and important matters in the race for wealth and fortune. I was one of them at the time, and in the rush of business and investment and re-selling, I neglected the laws of nature and brought on myself a condition of nervous prostration, sleeplessness and general debility, which forced me to remain at home, a helpless and broken down man. Before deciding to call in a medical adviser, I remembered that some of my friends in Toronto, where I had lived for years, had used, with grand results, Paine's Celery Compound. I immediately decided to try it myself, and very briefly and gratefully will give you the result. In less than two months I became as strong and as active as ever before. I secured sound sleep, good appetite, great mental vigor, and my nervousness was swept away and I am now as steady as a rock. Your great remedy certainly deserves all the praise and publicity I can give it without at present giving the public my name.

Easter Vestry Meetings.

Annual Vestry Meetings of St. John's and St. Luke's.

There was a large attendance of members of Vestry at last night's meeting in St. John's school house. The ladies of the congregation were largely represented. The Rector, Rev. J. C. Davidson, M. A., presided. After prayers, the chairman read telegrams of congratulation upon the splendid results of the Easter offertory in St. John's, from Rev. R. Daw, of Belleville, and Rev. Canon Davidson, of Colborne, and himself hoped that this extremely satisfactory condition was a forecast of the prosperity of the coming year.

THE FINANCIAL STATEMENT.

Mr. G. A. SMITH, rector's church warden, then read the financial statement, printed copies of which had been distributed among members of Vestry. The statement was a most satisfactory one. The receipts were as follows: Synod special collections, $229 81; harvest festival offering, $23 67; Easter offering for reduction of mortgage debt $1,700 62; offering of Mrs. Hammond, $100; general offertory and envelopes, $2 251 97; pew rents, $1 145 22; Women's Auxiliary $389 64; contributions towards building Hunter st. retaining walls to grounds—A. C. Dunlop, $25, Geo. A. Cox, $10, W. Clarkson, $5 and other sums to make a total of $44.50, and miscellaneous revenues $53 49, making a grand total of $5892 09 The payments were:—Outstanding items at Easter 1890, $670 32; current expenses, including salaries, etc., $29 64; Synod payments reductions of mortgage debt (by $1800, leaving balance of $9 350) etc., $2 259 16 making a grand total of payments of $5 889 leaving a cash balance in hand of $24 00. A comparative statement of receipts showed that the total receipts in 1887 were $5,551 31; in 1888, $2890.83; 1889, $2852.03; in 1890, $4252.83; in 1891, $5892 04.

The reading of the statement was received with hearty signs of approval, and was referred to the auditors, who, on motion, were appointed as follows:—W. H. Badden and A. V. R. Young.

CHURCH WARDENS.

The RECTOR, before nominating his Churchwardens, said he wished to express his most heartfelt gratitude, which he was sure was shared by the whole congregation, for the excellent work done during the past year by the Churchwardens, and now he wished most particularly to refer to the surviving Warden. His work had been done in a manner which had been of the greatest assistance to him (the Rector) and of the greatest good to the congregation and the interests of the church. Mr. Davidson's references to Mr. Smith's services were received with warm applause. The Rector then named Mr. Harry Rush as his Churchwarden.

Rev. Mr. CLEMENTI congratulated the Rector and congregation upon the results of yesterday's special efforts, which constituted an emphatic expression of the appreciation by the congregation of the management of the affairs of the parish. Mr. Clementi paid special tribute to the services rendered and the work accomplished by the Rector, Curate and Lay Reader. In nominating Mr. G. A. Smith for the position of people's Churchwarden, Mr. Clementi said that, in an experience of thirty-five years, he had never seen the work better done, the duties more faithfully filled nor with more untiring zeal, than had marked Mr. Smith's past discharge of the duties of churchwarden, and he was sure that the congregation appreciated his self-sacrifice and would gladly accept him as their churchwarden. The nomination was seconded by Mr. W. Salisbury and Mr. Smith was unanimously elected amidst hearty applause.

OTHER OFFICIALS

Messrs F. L. Somerville, H. Long, Joseph Mills and Robert Fair were elected sidesmen.

The Finance committee was elected as follows: Dr. Boucher, Dr. Halliday, R. A. Morrow, G. W. Hatton, Alex. Elliott, W. E. Sherwood, R. Fair, Macfarlane Wilson, Jos. Mills, W. Salisbury, A. V. R. Young and the churchwardens.

CONDOLENCE AND SYMPATHY.

Mr. G. A. Smith, moved, seconded by Dr. Boucher:—

That this Vestry record with very deep sorrow the great loss it has sustained in the death of one of its church wardens and fellow worker, the late William English. The motion was carried by a standing vote, the rector added that the Bishop of Toronto had expressed his great sorrow at the death of Mr. English, whose zeal and interest in church work he held in high esteem.

After passing an unanimous vote of thanks to the choir for their services, the meeting adjourned to Monday, April 13th.

VESTRY MEETING.

The congregation elected the following gentlemen lay delegates to the Synod:—Messrs. W. E. Sherwood and Edg. Pearce and Dr. Halliday.

A telegram was received too late to read at the meeting as follows:

"My heartiest congratulations to the congregation on their splendid effort to reduce church debt.

THE BISHOP OF TORONTO."

ST. LUKE'S CHURCH.

The Vestry meeting of St. Luke's, Ashburnham, was held in the lecture room Easter Monday evening, at 8 p. m. There was a good attendance. Rev. Mr. McCleary presided.

Rev. Mr. McCleary read an interesting report of the work of the parish for the past year. The churchwardens' reports and the financial statement were presented, and the accounts referred to auditors, who found them to be correct. The finances of the church were found to be satisfactory.

Mr. H. T. Strickland was re elected people's churchwarden, and Mr. J. Burnham was appointed church warden by the rector.

Messrs. H. C Rogers and F. Adams were elected Assistant Churchwardens.

The following were elected sidesmen:—Messrs. Ingram, F. Adams, W. Manlove, F. Paokenham and B. Orde.

The Finance Committee is composed as follows:—Messrs R. W. McFadden, F. Adams, F. J. Jameson, R. B. Rogers, H. Nesbitt, A. Ingram, H. C. Rogers, R. Manlove, Mrs John Heap, Mrs. Orde, Mrs. Nimmo, Miss Mills, Miss Tivey, the Churchwardens, and E. A. Peck, chairman.

The Whims of Fashion.

A Glimpse of the Latest Things in Millinery—The Newest Styles and Trimmings for Spring Wear.

Winter lingers in the lap of spring and seems loth to depart, but though the season is backward the ladies are busily preparing for the warm weather by selecting their spring millinery. Within the next week or two the various millinery establishments in town will hold their annual openings and delight the feminine fancy with their displays of the latest novelties and beauties of the milliner's art. Miss E. Delaney, who usually leads the local houses in this respect as well as being the leading designer in millinery here, is the first to announce an opening, which began to-day, and will continue until the ladies have thoroughly inspected the stock and made their selections.

The store is radiant with bright colors and artistic combinations, and the windows are an index of the interior. On one side of the door is an exhibit of mantle cloths, shapes and trimmings; on the other a fascinating array of bonnets and hats in all imaginable shapes, and including every color in the rainbow and several others not in it, grey, heliotrope, china and turquoise blue and others.

A minute inspection of the millinery reveals some stunning creations for this season's wear. A glass case standing on the counter within the store, contains the latest floral trimmings. Flowers will be much worn this year, roses of different varieties, and Marguerites, being specially prominent. Other flowers are pansies, locusts, lilacs, poppies, etc.

In the large case at the right hand side, the latest novelties in millinery are shown in bold relief against a background of dark velvet. The case contains some bewitching bonnets and hats. Bonnets are worn smaller than ever. One with a flimsy gold crown, trimmed with ostrich aigrettes at the back, is called the "Illusion." It is an exceedingly pretty illusion for the eye to rest upon. The newest shades for trimming are heliotrope and grey, and the pretty grey and gold combination will be popular as ever. A gold frame bonnet, trimmed in heliotrope and gold, called the Cleopatra, is quite as dazzling as was the illustrious personage whose name it bears. The "Sensation," a diminutive bonnet of a fancy hair shape, makes up very prettily.

Flat straw hats will be greatly in vogue this spring, and they are all being made in the poke shape with brim turned up at the back. The "Queen" is a leading shape, other attractive styles being named the Princess, Marguerite, and Hawthorne. The "Metropolitan" is a large symphony in steel chip straw, trimmed with steel-coloured feathers and gauze ribbons, with steel darts for ornaments—a hat calculated to steal the fancy of every person of good taste.

Some dainty productions in the line of toques are shown. The "Bouquet" is a charming bit of headgear. It is the very latest shape, trimmed with feather edge, with flowers or aigrettes at the back. The "Watteau" is another pretty toque, trimmed with ruching in front and flowers behind. One of the leading combinations is a French pattern, steel coloured, trimmed with gold.

Lace straws are made up into more varied styles than ever. Among these the Vimus, the Alfonso, and the Rose are the most attractive. One large lace straw, trimmed with white, looks "lovely." Another black lace straw, trimmed with daisies and lilacs, the Princess, is apparently shapeless, but when placed on the head most becoming.

A blue and cream combination, with corrugated brim trimmed with blue and cream rosettes, is very taking. A shape made of black rice and straw known as the "Amaranth" is exquisite when made up with a wreath of fine yellow flowers, with long lace scarfs falling from the back.

The Turban is still fashionable. "Styles may come and styles may go, but I stay on forever," says the Turban.

The large leghorn hats also remain in vogue. A large leaf leghorn trimmed with polka dot ribbon in cream and gold, with ostrich tip, is delicately beautiful. Misses' hats are worn trimmed profusely with flowers. One of the children's large Leghorns has a Tam o' Shanter crown in cream China silk; another, pretty Leghorn is trimmed with rosettes, with ruching under the brim.

The above are a few of the leading fashionable and ultra fashionable styles in spring millinery, of which Miss Delaney keeps a superb stock, with a courteous staff of lady assistants who never tire of showing off the goods. But besides these the store contains a complete line of ladies' millinery goods and trimmings. In mantle cloths a fine stock is shown. The diagonal serge is the newest. Brocades are still in fashion, and the black silk fringes and girdles to match. Braid trimmings are very popular.

The Cleopatra is the latest and admittedly the most fetching cloak in the market. It is made of fine ladies' cloth, embroidered grey, with high shoulders trimmed with ribbons.

Gold, silver and colored girdles are much more worn than formerly.

The Polka Dot is extremely fashionable.

Silk and lace ruchings make tasty and comfortable neckwear, and are largely used.

Miss Delaney shows a variety of children's cream embroidered bonnets and dresses.

Visites in lace and jet are still popular. In laces the polka spot is leading.

Black China silk bonnets and black Leghorns are novelties for children.

In parasols, also, Miss Delaney keeps a fine line. Lace parasols are taking second place now to colored silks with fancy handles.

The Late G. W. Hunter.

A Former Peterborough Citizen.

The following, which is taken from the Harrisburg (Pa.) Telegraph, refers to Mr. Geo. Hunter, brother of Mr. Josiah Hunter of Smith township, and uncle of Mr. Geo. Cochrane, Licensee Inspector of West Peterborough:—

"Colonel Hunter is dead. No more will his genial smile and warm hand shake welcome guests to the Locust Hotel, where so many years he was the presiding genius. This morning at 6.30 he quietly passed away at his home on Walnut street. He was at the hotel the last time on election day, and his friends remarked his frail condition. Colonel Hunter has been in failing health since a severe attack of the grip a year ago, and for several months was confined to his residence most of the time. There was general regret on the announcement of his death this morning.

"George Washington Hunter was born in Ireland, at Bonnyglass, in 1823, of English parents, his father being a civil engineer in the English army, stationed with his regiment at that place. A few months after the birth of their son, Mr. Hunter's parents moved to America, locating near Peterborough, Ontario, Canada, where young Hunter grew up and was educated. At the age of seventeen Mr. Hunter started for himself, going to Rochester, N.Y., where he remained but a short time. He next went into business at Pole, near Galena, Illinois, but that section was too retired for him and he soon located in New York city, where he resided for several years. Subsequently he established a hat business in Tunkhannock, Pa., where he was at the breaking out of the war in 1861. He at once enlisted and came to Harrisburg with his regiment. While in this city Mr. Hunter was offered a position by the late George G. Bolton as clerk at the Bolton House, which he accepted and at once developed that remarkable trait that placed him in the front rank of prominent hotel men in Pennsylvania. He remained with Mr. Bolton until 1868, when he looked about him for a hotel of his own. The Locust Hotel, which had changed proprietors about once a year for several years, came under his notice, and, securing a lease of it, he took charge of that hotel on May 1st, 1868, remaining there ever since. Mr. Hunter was married in 1867 to Mrs. Mary Ulrich, of Lebanon, who, with his two children, Forrest and Mary, survive him.

"Mr. Hunter was a most genial, pleasant gentleman, and had the tact so marked in good hotel men, of making and holding friends. His hotel for many years has been the political headquarters in Harrisburg, and Mr. Hunter knew intimately more prominent politicians than any other man in the State. He was the intimate friend of General Cameron, the late Robert E. Mackey, Capt. Wm. B. Kemble, Senator M. S. Quay, John Cessna, General Wm. Lilly, Casanova F. Black, Attorney-General Cassidy, Wm. T. Davies, A. K. McClure, and hundreds of other men who have been prominent in Pennsylvania and national politics, some of whom have for years had rooms at his hotel all the year around ready for them at any time they might drop into Harrisburg. He was a quiet, unobtrusive gentleman, gifted with keen judgment, and a political secret entrusted to him was sacred. Mr. Hunter was prosperous at the Locust Hotel, and some years ago purchased the property from the Thomas heirs, enlarging it and making it one of the best paying properties in the State. He was known by everybody. Of an exceedingly liberal disposition he gave extensively to charity in a quiet way, and was among the first to step forward and lend a helping hand to a friend in distress. Of advanced and progressive ideas he was always foremost in advocating anything tending to Harrisburg's prosperity, and rejoiced to see the city move forward. Many friends will miss the kindly, loving gentleman, whose gentle manner and graceful courtesy were extended alike to all. The bereaved family have the sympathy of the entire community in their deep sorrow.

"The will of the late Colonel George W. Hunter, was admitted to probate this afternoon. The entire estate, valued at $200,000, or more, is bequeathed to the widow and two children. The income from all the estate, real, personal and mixed, is left to Mrs Mery Hunter, the widow, subject to the payment annually of $1,000 each to his son and daughter, Forrest and Mary Hunter

"After her mother's death, Mary is to receive the income from the three houses, Nos. 111, 113 and 115 Locust street and the one house on River avenue during her life. At her death this income goes to her children, if any, otherwise to her brother Forrest.

"At his mother's death it is provided that the son Forrest shall receive the same income as his sister Mary derives from the four houses above mentioned. At his death an an amount equal in value to the four houses will go to his children, if any, otherwise to his sister, Mary.

"Upon the death of Mrs. Hunter the remainder of the estate is to be divided share and share alike between the two children The will, which was written in January, 1890, names Mrs. Hunter as the executrix."

It has been conjectured that the secret of antediluvian longevity was some method of keeping the blood pure, warm and vigorous. Moderns accomplish the same purpose by using Ayer's Sarsaparilla—the best blood medicine ever brought to light.

VOL. XII. NO. 76. PETERBOROUGH, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 1, 1891. PRICE TWO CENTS.

CASH HARDWARE STORE.

On and after 1st April we shall do business on a Cash Basis.

To cover the inevitable losses attendant upon a credit business, which accrue from amount of time spent in keeping accounts, collecting, bad debts, interest account, and in numerous other ways, larger margins of profit must be asked.

In these times cash buyers ask, expect, and are entitled to close prices. A careful consideration of the subject convinces us that the time has come for a cash business done on smaller profits.

The only customers who may possibly be put to inconvenience are those who have had long credit. In more ways than one it will be to their advantage to pay cash.

For convenience of our old customers who consider their accounts due when presented, we will call 30 days cash and render all accounts the first of each month, and we wish to say that will be happy to do business with them on those terms.

As the new departure is something of an experiment, what would be considered a close cash price will be made all through the stock. Not a few leaders only, but a general reduction in everything from the fourth flat to the cellar.

Our idea is to perform more than promised rather than promise more than can be fulfilled.

Our stock is large and varied, consisting of Builders', Contractors', Household, Mechanics', Painters', Shoemakers', Farm, Mill, Factory, Lumbermen's, Sporting, Threshers', Cabinet-makers', and other lines of Hardware.

THE NEWS OF EUROPE.

A CLUE TO CARROTY NELL'S MURDERER DISCOVERED.

The National League of Great Britain Summoned to Meet Owing to the Irish Crisis The Wrecked Utopia Causes Another Disaster.

LONDON, March 31.—News has come to this city from Zanzibar of the outbreak of a revolution in the Comoro Islands, in the Mozambique Channel, about 350 miles northwest of the Madagascar coast.

On the Island of Anjouan the natives, after the death of Sultan Abdullah, supplied themselves with arms and spread over the country, massacreing 300 people and carrying desolation far and wide.

The war vessels of the French squadron, now in the waters of the Indian Ocean, have been directed to proceed to the islands and put down the insurrection. The Comoro Islands are under French protection, but are nominally ruled by Arab princes.

Their Feet Washed by an Emperor.

VIENNA, March 31.—There is probably no more impressive ceremony in Europe than the "Fusswaschung" gone through with so much solemnity by the Austrian Emperor and his fortune of archdukes, clad in gorgeous white uniforms, in the throne room of the Hofburg the other day. The twelve octogenarian almsmen, in their black XVIIth century garb, the dramatic offer and refusal of food, the dishes borne by stalwart life-guardsmen and the formal ablutions all contribute to its effect, and, when all is over, the proffered dainties are sent to the recipients of the honor in great oval packing-cases bearing the imperial arms. Not only does the Emperor tie a bag of maundy round the neck of each of his guests, but they all receive as a memento the knife, fork, spoon, silver goblet and wine jug put before them. The jugs, of fine green glass glass ornamented with heraldic devices in gold, are highly prized by collectors, but are exceedingly difficult to obtain, as they are regarded as heirlooms by the families into whose possession they fall.

William Mowbray Joined the British Army to Incite a Revolt.

LONDON, March 31.—William Mowbray, a member of the Norfolk regiment, stationed at Yarmouth, deserted some time ago and was traced to London, where he was arrested and condemned to military trial, which he has been awaiting a week. It is now learned that Mowbray is not a British subject, but an American. It is further ascertained from his own admissions and the testimony of his fellows in the regiment that he enlisted in the British service for the purpose of filling the minds of his comrades with socialistic ideas and desires, with the ultimate purpose of inciting a revolt.

"Carroty Nell's" Murderer.

LONDON, March 31.—A man giving his name as French appeared at the headquarters of the police at Maidstone, Kent, to-day and declared his ability and willingness to give ample evidence to convict George Smith, a professional burglar, of the murder of Frances Coleman, alias "Carroty Nell." French declares that Smith robbed the house in front of which the Coleman woman was found while she kept watch to avoid detection. When Smith emerged from the house with his plunder the woman demanded a larger share of the booty than he was willing to give up, and in the consequent quarrel she threatened to expose him to the police, whereupon he murdered her and fled.

Young English Officers Lost in Persia.

LONDON, March 31.—Much anxiety is felt at the disappearance in Persia of the promising young officers Captain Edmund Burton and Captain Vaughan, the former one of the eight soldier sons of General Burton, author of "An Indian Ono" and "Reminiscences of Sport in India." Captains Burton and Vaughan, having obtained a year's leave, left India in the autumn with the intention of prospecting a new route to the Russian frontier through an unexplored portion of Persia. Although they were timed to reach England in March at the latest, nothing whatever has been heard of them since they set out from Yezd in November.

A Wonderful Submarine Gun.

LONDON, March 31.—A very successful experiment was made to-day in the Lake of Como with the submarine gun invented by Signor Isolin. The cannon was sunk to a depth of 350 feet in the lake, but in spite of the pressure of the water the projectile was fired with sufficient force to sink a boat. The authorities have decided to make further trials with a still larger gun.

The National League.

LONDON, March 31.—The annual convention of the National League of Great Britain is summoned to assemble in Newcastle May 10. The convention is called earlier than usual because of the Irish crisis.

A Duellist Punished.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 31.—The military tribunal has sentenced Prince Vadbalsky to three years' detention in a fortress for killing Lieut. Monossoff in a duel.

Labor Reforms in Germany.

BERLIN, March 31.—The Duke of Ratibou President of the Prussian Upper House, has ordered that hereafter all the workingmen employed on his estates shall have three days additional holiday in the year, and shall receive pay for all holidays.

A Crash Threatened in Genoa.

PARIS, March 31.—The Journal des Debats says Genoa is threatened with a financial crash. A large and influential shipping company of that city has already suspended.

Foreign Brevities.

O'Brien and Dillon were taken back to Galway jail to-day.

Mr. Parnell is suffering from a severe cold and is confined to his apartments.

The steamer Prahda collided with the wreck of the steamer Utopia in Gibraltar Bay last night. Her fore peak is full of water.

The Pacific steamer Empress of Japan steamed a mile on the Clyde at the rate of 19 knots an hour. She then proceeded on her trial trip of 500 miles.

Timothy Healy, M.P., yesterday started for Sligo to take part in the electoral contest there. His right eye was concealed by a bandage.

Escaped From the Constable.

PORT ARTHUR, March 30.—The man Duclette, convicted of stealing furs from the Hudson Bay Company's stores at Nepigon, got away from Neil Macdougall, deputy sheriff, at Masoukama. He was on his way to Kingston to put in his three year sentence.

THE MASSACRE IN ASSAM.

THE BRITISH COMMISSIONER A CAPTIVE.

The Revolt Threatens to Spread Unless Prompt Punishment is Meted Out to the Guilty Tribe—The Rajah of Manipur Among the Prisoners.

SIMLA, March 31.—Further particulars received from the scene of the Manipur massacre show the insurgent tribes have captured a number of prisoners, including the Rajah of Manipur, whose deposition by a powerful chieftain of Assam was the cause of all the present trouble.

The insurgents have also captured Chief Commissioner Quinton, F. H. G. Grimwood, the political agent at Manipur, and Col. Skene, who commanded the detachments from the 42nd and 43rd and 44th Goorkhas, which defended the camp of the commissioner, may have escaped. Mrs. Grimwood, the wife of the political agent, two assistant-commissioners and one of the officers of the Goorkhas escaped in the direction of Silehar when the insurgents made the final charge upon the camp. The fate of the remaining officers is still unknown. Four regiments have already started for Manipur with the object of effecting the release of the prisoners and punishing the rebellious tribes. These regiments include two native regiments which were in garrison at Assam. The Third Bengal Infantry, several mountain batteries of artillery and a force of cavalry are also being prepared to take the field in Assam immediately. The general opinion seems to be that the military authorities will have to punish the insurgent tribes severely and promptly in order to avert a more serious revolt.

The seat of the Government of Assam is at Shillang, which has a population of only 2000. The population of the province of Assam is estimated at 5,000,000. The hostile tribes are composed of well-armed, brave and cunning fighting men, who are liable to give the British forces considerable trouble before the revolt is entirely ended.

Manipur is in Assam, close to the borders of Burmah, and is the original home of the game of polo.

Four of the regiments of Goorkhas form part of the Bengal native troops in the British service, while the fifth is attached to the Punjab frontier force. The men are of small stature, and are noted for the dexterity with which they handle the short and broad cleaver-like blade which they carry, and with which they rush into the thickest of the fight hacking right and left.

BECOMING RESTLESS.

Unless Prompt Punishment is Meted Out the Revolt Will Spread.

CALCUTTA, March 31.—Fifteen fugitive Goorkhas who have reached Kohima report that Mr. and Mrs. Grimwood, Col. Skene and Mr. Simpson escaped into Cachar, where the natives are becoming restless. The party included 12 Europeans. It is surmised that Mr. Quinton was seized at Mr. Grimwood's house, which was four miles from the cantonment of the main Goorkha guard at Langthabat, and that 10,000 irregular Kuki levies in the service of the Manipur Government were ordered to attack and massacre the troops.

EARL GRANVILLE DEAD.

The Former Leader of the British Liberal Party No More.

LONDON, March 31.—Earl Granville died to-day.

Earl Granville's death was due to exhaustion following an operation for stone. Lord Rosebery succeeds to the leadership of the Liberals in the House of Lords.

The Right Honorable Granville George Leveson-Gower, K.G., the late Earl Granville, was the eldest son of the first earl. He was born May 11, 1815, educated at Eton and Christ Church, Oxford, where he took his degree in 1836. He became attache to the Embassy at Paris in 1835 and was elected to the House of Commons for the borough of Morpeth in 1836, being re-elected in 1837. In 1840 he accepted the Under-Secretaryship for Foreign Affairs, which he held for some months, and shortly afterwards took his seat as member for Lichfield. While in the House of Commons he supported the Liberal party and was an able and consistent advocate of free trade. In 1846 he succeeded to the peerage. In 1848 he was appointed vice-president of the Board of Trade, in 1851 he obtained a seat in the Cabinet and in December of that year succeeded Lord Palmerston in the Foreign Office. He retired with the Russell Ministry in 1852. Lord Granville, who has held the office of Master of the Buckhounds, Paymaster-General of the Forces, Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster and Treasurer of the Government, was appointed President of the Council in 1853, and in 1855 he took the ministerial leadership in the House of Lords. In 1850 Lord Granville acted as Vice-President of the Royal Commission for the Great Exhibition. In 1860 he was Chairman of the Commission for the Great Exhibition of that year. In 1856 he was sent upon an extraordinary mission to the Court of St. Petersburg at the coronation of Alexander II. Lord Granville, who retired with Lord Palmerston's first ministry in 1858, was reappointed President of the Council (having failed after an attempt to form a ministry himself, in Lord Palmerston's second administration in 1859 and retired on the fall of Lord Russell's second administration in 1866. In 1865 the deceased earl was made Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports, in 1868 Colonial Secretary under Mr. Gladstone and he retained that position until 1870, when he was appointed Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs in succession to Lord Clarendon. He occupied that position till the resignation of the Liberal Cabinet in 1874. Next year when Mr. Gladstone retired from the leadership of the Liberal party Earl Granville succeeded him, Lord Hartington acting as leader in the House of Commons. On Mr. Gladstone's return to power in 1880 Lord Granville again became Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs. In Mr. Gladstone's ministry in 1886 the deceased was Secretary of State for the Colonies.

He is succeeded in the title and estates by his son, Lord Leveson, who was born in 1872.

THE WAR CLOUD GROWS.

A MEETING OF THE TRIPLE ALLIANCE ANNOUNCED.

Russia's Massing of Troops, Balkan Intrigues and Relations with France Ominous Symptoms—Bulgaria Alive with Preparations for a Fight.

BERLIN, March 30.—An uneasy feeling prevails throughout Germany that the massing of troops on the Austrian frontier, the bestowal of the Order of St. Andrew on President Carnot and the resumption of Russian intrigues in the Balkan peninsula are symptoms which, taken in connection with each other, amount to a Russian demonstration of hostility to the German Empire. The Berlin Bourse is sensibly affected by the prevalence of this feeling.

Prince Ferdinand's commission as Governor of Roumelia expires on April 5, when Turkey can refuse to renominate him, but is not likely to do so while Stambuloff is Premier. This probably explains the attempt on the latter's life, as his death would have enabled Russia to interfere.

BERLIN, March 31.—It is reported that a note has been issued by M. de Giers, the Russian Minister of State for Foreign Affairs, forenuning the intention of Russia to intervene in the Balkans. This circumstance, says The Gazette, combined with the demonstrative massing of Russian troops on the frontier, is looked upon as a sign of the approach of critical days in Eastern Europe.

BUDA PESTH, March 31.—The Pesther Lloyd says: "We stand at the beginning of another great movement on the part of Russia, which will probably open with a protest against the reappointment of Ferdinand as Governor of Roumelia. It is time that the dreibund should consider how long it will continue to allow Russia to make military preparations."

LONDON, March 31.—Berlin advices state that the murder of the Bulgarian Minister of Finance is one of the chief causes of the sudden flurry among officials of the war office and that it is looked upon as a serious indication of the gravest designs on the part of Russia. Dispatches have been busily passing between the foreign offices of Berlin and Vienna, and also Bucharest, and it is now stated that the celebration of the 25th anniversary of the accession of King Charles of Roumania at Bucharest next month will be made the occasion of an informal conference between the powers of the triple alliance. The kaisers of Germany and Austria and the king of Italy have been invited as guests to the celebration. Francis Joseph has promised to be present, but the German kaiser will probably be represented by one of his leading and confidential officers, although he may conclude to go in person. At any rate the sovereigns of the triple alliance will spare no effort to prove their friendship for the Roumanians and hold that state to their side in the event of war. Roumania is in excellent condition for defence, having nearly completed the series of formidable fortifications along the Russian frontier, and having an army that is far from contemptible.

The Bulgarian reserves have been notified to be ready for service on call and the principality is alive with warlike preparations, as there is a strong apprehension that a hostile movement on the part of Russia may be expected.

The Cologne Gazette says the Bulgarian Government has made a contract for large supplies of war material with which to strengthen the Bulgarian defences.

ELOPEMENT IN QUEBEC.

A 50-Year Old Man Goes to Montreal with a 19-Year-Old Girl—Detectives Hot in Pursuit.

QUEBEC, March 31.—Quebec is all agog over the elopement of a widower of 50 years with a girl of 19. The girl is the daughter of Mrs. Hill, who keeps the Rosario boarding house in Palace Hill, and her lover is Sissons, manager of Sewell's lumber mill at Lake St. Joseph, on the Lake St. John Railway. Sissons has three daughters, one of whom is as old a Miss Hill. He has been carrying on a clandestine courtship with the latter for some months past, and on the girl's father discovering this he forbade him the house. By some means or other Sissons managed to carry on his suit, and yesterday when the girl's parents went to church they left her alone. On their return she was gone, but believing she was visiting one of the neighbors they suspected nothing until 9 p.m., when they received the following telegram from Montreal:

To Mrs. Hill:

Don't be alarmed about your daughter's absence. She is with me and all right. Annie accompanies us. [Signed] Sissons, Montreal.

The father of the girl became furious when the truth commenced to dawn on him and he immediately sought the advice of Lieut.-Col. Vohl, who in turn telegraphed to Col. Hughes, chief of police, Montreal, asking him to apprehend the couple.

Contempt of Court on a Question of Ribs.

TRENTON, N.J., March 31.—Judge Lanning of the City District Court to-day adjudged Dr. Elmer Rogers guilty of contempt of court for refusing, while on the witness stand, to answer the question: "How many ribs are there in the human body?" The doctor insisted that it was a technical question which he was not obliged to answer, because he had not received a fee for expert evidence.

Tupper Off for Washington.

OTTAWA, March 31.—Sir Charles Tupper, who left for Washington to-day, expects to arrange the preliminaries for the proposed conference with Secretary Blaine on the question of closer trade relations with the United States. He will probably be followed at an early date by Sir John Thompson and Hon. George E. Foster.

Hiccoughs Caused Death.

CHICAGO, Ill., March 31.—Robert Porter of No. 285 42nd-street died at his residence to-day. He began to hiccough and all the doctors could do was to give him opiates to put him to sleep. But the rest was only momentary and the hiccoughing continued to rack his frame. He literally hiccoughed himself to death and died in great agony.

Died Under His Sweetheart's Window.

RACINE, Wis., March 30.—Late last night Henry Hellings, aged 21 years, shot and killed himself under the window of Miss Nettie Zunal, who had repeatedly refused to marry him.

Burned While Playing Circus.

LANCASTER, Pa., March 31.—While some children were playing circus in Columbia, a tent in which Anna Kiehl, four years old, was seated, was set on fire and before she was rescued she was fatally burned.

Emigration to Canada.

OTTAWA, March 31.—The annual report of Sir Charles Tupper, High Commissioner to England, has been issued. It shows that the emigration from Great Britain to Canada last year was 31,930, as compared with 38,056 in the same period in 1889. Sir Charles says that in order to attract attention to the country money must be spent continually and systematically.

Tired of Life at 25.

BUFFALO, March 30.—C. Clark, 25 years of age, son of E. Clark, general freight agent N.Y.C., committed suicide at the Brezeal House yesterday by shooting. The deceased was to have met his father here yesterday morning, and the latter arrived only to find his son dead.

Mutiny on a Man-of-War.

BUENOS AYRES, March 31.—A mutiny occurred on the Chilian man-of-war Pilcomayo while lying in the harbor here. Three sailors were killed and nine wounded.

Protest in North Middlesex.

AILSA CRAIG, March 30.—The Reform Association of North Middlesex met to-day, and decided to protest the election of W. M. Hotchkiss at the last general elections.

DIXON THE WINNER.

The Colored Boy Defeats McCarthy for the Featherweight Championship.

TROY, March 31.—The glove contest between Cal McCarthy and George Dixon for the featherweight championship of the world and $4000 took place at the Bicycle Club to-night. Choice seats sold as high as $20 each. It is estimated that $35,000 has been paid into the Crib Club this afternoon. Both the principals were weighed in. The scales were set at 115 pounds. Neither man tipped the beam at that mark and they jumped off, so that none of those present could ascertain their exact weight. At the headquarters of the Dixon party he was found to weigh a trifle over 113 pounds. Sheriff Tappen was served with an injunction issued by Judge Griffith restraining him from interfering with the fight. The betting was $100 to $75 in favor of Dixon.

The fight began at 10:27. Both men fought fast, but Dixon had the best of the fight from the start, repeatedly knocking down his opponent, whose blows, although landed often, seemed to lack force. In the seventh round McCarthy's nose was broken. Dixon, with the characteristic of his color, ducked his head frequently and saved many blows. In the ninth round McCarthy became groggy. In the twelfth round the fighting became furious. Dixon ran McCarthy to the ropes, and the latter held on to the colored boy all through the round. The referee appeared to be unable to separate the men. Dixon held McCarthy's head and pounded him time after time, while all McCarthy could do was to try to avert the blows. It looked as if McCarthy would be knocked out in this round, but the call of time saved him.

McCarthy did his most effective work in the fifteenth round, having rallied. He began to weaken in the seventeenth, however, and in the twenty-first was as good as defeated.

Round 22—When the boys came together in this round it was evident that they meant to settle matters. They both landed heavily, Mac. going down several times from the tremendous swings of his opponent, but he rallied in time to gain his feet. It was too plain that he couldn't last long. The colored boy never lost his head and took advantage of Mac.'s condition and knocked him down and finally out.

Walking Record Lowered.

MOBILE, Ala., March 31.—The world's half-mile walking record has been broken here by Henry G. Klink, jr., the present champion one-mile walker of the world. Klink did the half mile in 2 mins. and 55 secs. on a sandy track, five laps to the ¼ mile. The record for a half mile was formerly 3 mins. 12½ secs.

THE GRIP IN CHICAGO.

There Were 130 Funerals in Chicago Easter Sunday.

CHICAGO, March 31.—Easter Sunday was the first really beautiful spring day that March has given to Chicago. In spite of its balmy pleasantness it had an undue exhibit of sackcloth and ashes, for there were no less than 130 funerals. The funeral processions began to arrive at the cemeteries before noon, and from that time on the processions were filing in and out until nightfall. The deaths last week were 934, showing an increase of 225 over the previous week. The past three weeks of March this year show almost double the death rate of the same time in 1890. La grippe is a very insidious disease and a great many deaths result from imprudence and exposure that the victims might avoid by taking care. The Commissioner of Health says that the great increase in the death rate is due solely to the prevalence of influenza, together with the prevalent atmospheric conditions, which are extraordinary and most unusual.

STEAMSHIP DISASTER.

The Steamer City of Detroit Badly Wrecked Near Amherstburg.

DETROIT, March 31.—The steamer City of Detroit struck the "McDougall Rock," a mile above the lime kiln crossing, in the Detroit River, this morning. She had about 75 passengers on board, who were awakened by the crash, and almost immediately the electric light went out. A rush was made for the boats, but the captain succeeded in restoring order and the vessel was steered into the M.C.R. railroad slip at Amherstburg, where the passengers were landed. The vessel is still afloat, but there is a 40-foot rent in her bottom on the starboard side.

Printer Davis Acknowledged His Error and Will be Docked.

HAMILTON, March 31.—The trial of Thomas H. Davis for bigamy at the Police Court this morning was a record-breaker. It was over in three minutes, the prisoner being found guilty on his own confession. Davis is a man about 40 years old, medium size, with dark brown mutton-chop whiskers and sullen expression. He came here from Toronto, where he has lived off and on for a number of years. The wronged woman was not in court. When asked to plead Davis replied guilty and was remanded for sentence until to-morrow.

Davis is sore at his second wife, whom he says instituted the proceedings because of insane jealousy. As the story goes his first matrimonial venture occurred at Barrie eight or nine years ago, when he was married by Rev. Mr. Thornton, a Methodist minister, to Annie Foster, daughter of William Foster, a farmer. They lived together at Barrie and Toronto until 1887, when Davis left his wife. He returned to Toronto in 1889 and was taken sick. Jane Sebastien nursed him during his illness, and to show his gratitude he married her on Dec. 16.

The Villeneuve Story Discredited.

BERLIN, March 31.—The newspapers of this city dismiss the reported interview which the Marquis de Villeneuve says took place in 1866, between the late Prince Napoleon and Prince Bismarck, at which the latter is said to have proposed a combination of France and Prussia against Russia and the rest of Europe, as being a piece of absolute fiction, evident from the fact that Prince Napoleon was not even in Berlin in 1866.

Died to Death from the Nose.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 31.—About eight days ago a young man of Union City, Tenn., named Joseph Everett began bleeding from the nose and gums, causing the victim to gradually sink, and after enduring much suffering Everett died to-day.

He is Not Appreciated.

Sugar Imports to the U.S.

Hydrophobia Feared.

AILSA CRAIG, March 31.—A Newfoundland dog owned by a farmer named H. Bowman living near the town here went mad yesterday and bit two of Mr. Bowman's children. One was bitten in the arm and the other in the back of the head. The parents are anxiously awaiting developments. The dog also bit some three or four other dogs.

Fell Dead From a Bicycle.

ROCHESTER, March 31.—Henry D. Rogers, a local wheelman, fell dead from his bicycle in State-street yesterday. Heart trouble was the cause of death.

200 Killed.

BUENOS AYRES, March 31.—A riot occurred at Moron during the recent election. Two hundred voters attacked the police and general firing ensued, which lasted two hours. The killed and wounded number 200.

The Spring Medicines.

The popularity which Hood's Sarsaparilla has gained as a spring medicine is wonderful. It possesses just those elements of health-giving, blood-purifying and appetite-restoring which everybody seems to need at this season. Do not continue in a dull, tired, unsatisfactory condition when you may be so much benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla. It purifies the blood and makes the weak strong.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 1, 1891.

THE TORONTO Telegram says that there will never be an honest election in this Canada of our until the jail yawns wide for returning officers and deputy returning officers who bungle the returns, or who err in favor of their own party.

SPEAKING at Huntingdon on the 16th inst., two weeks ago, Mr. Tupper, minister of marine, told the people that his father, the High Commissioner, was then "on his way to Washington" to secure a reciprocity treaty. But the High Commissioner is still in Ottawa. He has not left for Washington at all, and a large number influential Conservatives are doing their utmost to keep him from going there.

Forestry.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—Perhaps you will allow the following lines on forestry admission to your columns. I send you herewith the new forestry report If any of your readers who are interested in this matter will send their addresses to me, a copy will be sent them free and post paid.

It is most important that in Ontario we should continue our efforts in tree planting I am glad to say to say that public opinion is being aroused to its necessity, and that in many parts of the country, people who possess the means and time are planting long rows of trees as windbreaks, and endeavoring to preserve what pieces of forest they have. On the other hand there are many whose exigencies compel them to cut down and sell much of the timber remaining, thus depriving themselves of shelter and destroying the fertility of the soil.

Where large masses of forest are interspersed throughout a country, the rainfall is better distributed and much more beneficial, and where either these or windbreaks of trees are allowed to stand in sufficient numbers, the rapid passage of the wind over the land is checked and "drying out" to a large extent prevented. In a sufficiently wooded country the rain is more likely to fall in frequent showers. Where such is not the case, it falls in torrents of water, injuring the crops and washing away the soil. We have but fifteen years' supply of firewood left in older Ontario, and as this goes, so does most of our hardwood for manufacturing and building purposes. In a few years, when both become scarce, many people will begin to plant; but a little trouble taken now will prevent many years of waiting then.

The forestry report now ready for distribution, contains many suggestions as to the various kinds of trees advisable to plant, and the best methods of sowing their seed and planting them, with much valuable forestry information from this and other countries.

Yours truly,
R. W. PHIPPS,
(address to) 251½ Richmond Street,

[The following is taken from the last number of the Monetary Times:]

Editor Monetary Times:

SIR,—The town of Peterborough has been well provided by nature for becoming a manufacturing town, and its growth has been steady and progressive. The town is soon to have an addition to its manufacturing establishments, which implies a considerable addition to its population. The Kaison Manufacturing Co. is about no less than eleven large buildings, which are to cost in the neighborhood of $250 000. The first of the series is now in course of erection; it is 300 feet long by 100 feet wide, and will rise several stories in height. The buildings are intended to cover some 30 acres of land, and the company proposes to give employment to about 700 hands. There will be railway connection direct into the yards from both railways, and it no doubt will greatly enhance the interests of the town, and tend to its further development. An electric street railway, and other important town improvements, are already in contemplation. Mr. J. Stevenson, one of the oldest and most respected of its citizens, thinks it will not be long before you can write—the city of Peterborough! There are places which already boast this title and deserve it far less than this stirring and pleasant place.

THOMAS GORDON OLIVER.

Omemee,

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Snow about gone and sugar season began, but very few farmers have any maple trees on their places.

Peterborough high prices for butter and eggs creates a hopeful spirit amongst farmers wishing for a high price their in the future, Mr. John Jas. Keglin, who has been teaching Indian farming near Calgary, N.W. T., returns after a few months vacation.

No medicine has had greater success in checking consumption, in its early stages, than Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It stops coughing, soothes the throat and lungs, and induces much needed repose. Hundreds have testified to the remarkable virtues of this preparation.

Weather Probabilities.

Lower temperature and sudden change often give rise to coughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis, and lead through them to consumption. A little care and the use of Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam will effectually cure any cough and give pleasant relief even in confirmed consumption. 2w11d

The Dangers of Spring.

Pests and novelists go into ecstacies over what they romantically call "beautiful spring," and "gentle spring," and while, no doubt, everyone is glad to see winter release its icy grasp, "beautiful spring" is after all one of the most deadly seasons of the year. Sudden transitions from warmth to extreme cold, with piercing chilling winds; from dry to sloppy, "muggy" weather, all combine to make the season a most trying one, even to the hardiest constitutions, while to those with weak constitutions the season is one of positive danger. Undoubtedly the greatest danger at this season of the year is from cold in the head, which very few escape, and which if not properly and thoroughly treated, develops into catarrh, with all its disagreeable and loathsome effects. Catarrh, neglected, almost as certainly develops into consumption, annually destroying thousands of lives. At this trying season no household should be without a bottle of Nasal Balm. In cases of cold in the head it gives almost instant relief and effects a speedy cure, thus preventing the development of catarrh. When the latter disease has already secured a hold it is equally efficacious, and with a persistent use will cure the worst case. From the outset it sweetens the breath, stops the nauseous droppings into the throat and lungs, dispels those dull headaches that afflict the sufferer from Catarrh. Nasal Balm is not advertised as a cure-all—is in an honest remedy, which never fails to cure cold in the head or catarrh when the directions are faithfully followed, and thousands throughout the country have reason to bless its discovery. Nasal Balm may be had from all dealers, or will be sent on receipt of price, (50 cents small, or $1 large size bottle) by addressing Fulford & Co., Brockville, Ont.

FITZSIMMONS IN CLOVER.

Ladies Who Long for a Look Try to Tempt the Murderer—Did He Kill Farmer Umberger?

PITTSBURG, March 28.—Something of a sensation was created here to-day by the charge that Fitzsimmons of Brockville, Ont., the desperado who murdered Detective Gilkinson last Saturday, was the real murderer of Farmer Umberger, for which crime David and Joseph Nicely are to be executed at Somerset, Pa., next Thursday. John Myers, a reputable citizen of Homestead, says Fitzsimmons was recognized as one of the two peddlers who were seen in the neighborhood of Umberger homestead the next night after the murder and robbery, and who are believed to have been the murderers of the old farmer. The Nicelys were convicted on purely circumstantial evidence and have steadily protested their innocence.

Fitzsimmons is being lionized by male and female visitors to the jail and the morbid sensation-seekers are trying various means to tempt the accomplished desperado into giving them at least a view of himself. The season's delicacies, in the way of choice foods, are being sent to him in abundance, and his cell yesterday fairly blossomed with sweet-smelling flowers. Fitzsimmons, however, resisted all these delicate overtures and refused to come out to the great iron door to be observed by the persons manifesting such an interest in him.

The Live Stock Trade.

MONTREAL, March 29.—Mr. Smith, Deputy Minister of Marine, was in the city on Thursday, and called upon several of the live stock exporters in reference to the bill which is now being drafted by the Government to regulate the shipping of live stock from Canada. It is understood that certain regulations will be made regarding the space the animals are to occupy, and also in reference to the fittings, and an inspector is to be appointed to see that the regulations are carried out. The Canadian Pacific Railway has issued a new live stock tariff, from western points to eastern Canada. The tariff went into effect last week and shows a reduction of about 20 per cent. compared with the tariff it supersedes. It has been adopted with a view of encouraging the stock-raising industry in Manitoba and the Territories.

Everybody Likes It.

Wm. Dredge, Ellen street, Barrie, Ont., says: One bottle of Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil brought back appetite which other Emulsions took away; removed cough entirely, and gained five pounds. It tastes just like cream, the oil being perfectly disguised. Sold by all druggists. dw

A Good Practice.

If the children suffer from pimples, irritated skin, headache, etc., Burdock Blood Bitters is by far the best remedy. Mr. McConnell, 28 Henderson Avenue, Toronto, says, "Since I have made a practice of using B.B.B. my children have got strong and well." 2w11d

The Safest

AND most powerful alterative is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Young and old are alike benefited by its use. For the eruptive diseases peculiar to children nothing else is so effective as this medicine, while its agreeable flavor makes it easy to administer.

"My little boy had large scrofulous ulcers on his neck and throat from which he suffered terribly. Two physicians attended him, but he grew continually worse under their care, and everybody expected he would die. I had heard of the remarkable cures effected by Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and decided to have my boy try it. Shortly after he began to take this medicine, the ulcers commenced healing, and, after using several bottles, he was entirely cured. He is now as healthy and strong as any boy of his age."—William F. Dougherty, Hampton, Va.

"In May last, my youngest child, fourteen months old, began to have sores gather on its head and body. We applied various simple remedies without avail. The sores increased in number and discharged copiously. A physician was called, but the sores continued to multiply until in a few months they nearly covered the child's head and body. At last we began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. In a few days a marked change for the better was manifest. The sores assumed a more healthy condition, the discharges were gradually diminished, and finally ceased altogether. The child is livelier, its skin is fresher, and its appetite better than we have observed for months."—Frank M. Griffin, Long Point, Texas.

"The formula of Ayer's Sarsaparilla presents, for chronic diseases of almost every kind, the best remedy known to the medical world."—D. M. Wilson, M. D., Wiggs, Arkansas.

C. N. BROWN.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

For some time past we have thought a strictly cash business in Flour, Feed and Provisions could be successfully carried on in Peterborough, and to test this question, we have purchased the above business from Mr. C. N. Brown who will still continue as manager in Flavelle's old stand, Simcoe street.

In order to be successful we intend to make it the interest of everyone to pay cash with order by selling at wholesale prices.

We will positively give no credit and cash customers will not have to keep up the losses made by others on the credit system.

We will keep a full supply of the very best quality of Flour, Feed, Chop, etc., and our customers need not fear that the quality of the goods will be lowered to make up for the reduction in prices. We are simply giving them the benefit of the margin necessary to cover losses and interest charges incurred on the credit system.

"Hold on, gentlemen, man ar Parkerson. "We do not want to shed any innocent blood. Who knows the assassins?"

"I do," "and I," shouted a dozen men. "Let me in. I know them," said one determined man, and he was admitted. Seven men entered, and the corridor was found deserted with the exception of one person. This was an old negro woman.

"Dey are up stairs, boss," she said, in answer to a question. The seven men ran up stairs. Before they got half way up a door was slammed and footsteps were heard running along the gallery.

"There they are!" yelled one enthusiast. "Hurrah, tiger!" said another, and the cry was taken up by those in the lobby. The door leading to the gallery was thrown open, and the backs of the assassins were seen disappearing down the winding stairway leading into the yard of the colored female department. Not a word was spoken then, but a half dozen men quickly ran the length of the gallery and quietly descended the stairs.

These six men did all the shooting. They found the prisoners crouching in the women's department. When they saw the mob they set up a yell for mercy.

Suddenly a voice said: "Give it to them!" and instantly three guns and a pistol belched forth a rain of leaden bullets.

Gerachi, who was lame and was the last of the fleeing men, received one load in the back of the head, and, turning a complete somersault, fell on his face and never moved again. Then Monasterio and Jim Caruso fell. Their backs and heads were literally riddled with bullets. Romero, with a cry of anguish, crouched down on his knees, with his head almost on the ground.

He was killed in that attitude. He was the only one who had his hat on, and, notwithstanding that it was riddled with bullets, it never left his head. His black frock coat was torn to shreds by the bullets.

It had been intended to take Macheca, who was regarded as the leader of the Italians, outside and hang him, but in the meanwhile another section of the mob had broken into the cell where Macheca was confined. He heard the men coming, rushed from his cell, which was open and toward the chapel, but was finally cornered in a gallery of the condemned prison.

Here a young man hit him over the head with a rifle, which made him insensible. It was reported that he was dead, and the crowd was about to leave him when some one suggested as an extra precaution that he be disposed of. A bullet was fired through his brain. It being impossible to hang Macheca, it was decided to lynch Polizzi and Bagnetto.

Politz, the crazy man, was locked up in a cell up-stairs. The doors were flung open and one of the avengers, taking aim, shot him through the body. He was not killed outright, and in order to satisfy the people on the outside, a rope was provided and tied around his neck and the people pulled him up to the cross-bars. Not satisfied that he was dead, a score of men took aim and fired a volley of shot into his body, and for several hours his body was left dangling in the air.

Bagnetto was caught in the first rush upstairs and the first volley of bullets pierced his brain. He was pulled out by a number of stalwart men through the main entrance to the prison and from the limb of a tree his body was suspended, although life was already gone.

Just as soon as the bloody work was done Mr. Parkerson addressed the crowd, and asked them to disperse. This they consented to do with a ringing shout, but first they made a rush for Parkerson, and, lifting him bodily, supported him on their shoulders while they marched up the street. The avengers came back in a body to the Clay statue, and then departed.

The whole affair occupied barely forty-five minutes. It was 10:30 when the mob reached the parish prison; it was 11:08 when Bagnetto, the last victim, was strung up.

VIEWING THE MANGLED BODIES.

The coroner officially viewed the bodies of the butchered Sicilians during the afternoon of the 14th. He found that Joe Macheca, the leader of the party, was dead from a gunshot wound below and behind the left ear.

The body of Rocco Geracci had a wound in the chest, and he had died of hemorrhage.

Peter Monasterio, gunshot wound in back of the head; bruise on neck, anteriorly.

Charles Terahina, ten gunshot wounds in chest, anteriorly, one gunshot wound on left side of face; gunshot wound on back of left shoulder and in back.

Jim Caruso, numerous gunshot wounds of anterior portion of body, from head to knees, one wound in face, one in neck, nine in chest, twelve in abdomen, four in groin, five in right thigh, four in left thigh.

Loretto Comites, gunshot wound in chest, anteriorly; one gunshot wound on top of head, four in right side of body, bruise by a gunshot wound on the left side of back. All these were buckshot wounds.

Frank Romero, alias Nine-Fingered Frank, gunshot wound on head above the forehead; face powder-burnt. All shot lodged in the head and the skull inside is completely shattered.

Antonio Scoffedi had a gunshot wound of the brain. The ball entered above the right eye.

Joseph P. Macheca had not a single bullet wound in him. His face was swollen and his flesh already assumed a bluish tint.

Antonio Bagnetto was hanged on the neutral ground. His body dangled in the air for about one hour and a half. Coroner Lemortimer found that death was caused by strangulation.

Manuel Politz was strung to a lamp-post. His body was also removed to the police station. His corpse was riddled with bullets. Death resulted from shot wounds of the head and chest. There were marks of strangulation around his neck.

The jury returned a verdict finding the men dead, but did not say who shot the men.

These are the facts in the tragedy.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

Two distinct classes of opinions are held; the following illustrate them:

London Times: It is all very well to deprecate a resort to violence, but in such circumstances as these what way is there for emancipating the community from intolerable tyranny excepting to resort to violence. The law requires trial by jury, and trial by jury has been reduced to a farce by the knowledge possessed by every juryman that if he convicted a member of the Mafia his life is not worth a week's purchase. It is really a misuse of language to speak of a resort of violence. The standing rule in New Orleans is the rule of violence, and all that Mr. Parkerson and his followers have to do is to accept the conditions prescribed by the Mafia. All lawyers practically agree that when the ordinary course of justice is stopped by criminals who gain by it public feeling rebels but is too broad to just principles to effect their deliverance. Let lawless violence be abandoned by all means, but "Que, messieurs, les assassins commencement." Among the men who were lynched there may have been some who did not actually fire at Hennessy, but it is not pretended there were any who were not members of a detestable society that decreed his death. That being the case, it is impossible to feel any very severe distress because in the midst of the violence they had rendered indispensable they have been somewhat more severely punished than if they had been legally dealt with.

New York Sun: However certain the leaders and instigators of the tragedy of Saturday may have been of the guilt of their victims, by taking the law into their own hands they undertook a frightful responsibility which may yet prove a burden heavier than they can bear. It sounds well to say that the People in its outraged majesty rose in its might and prevented a miscarriage of justice by taking the law into its own hands and executing summary vengeance on the supposed criminals. But the People long before this occurrence, with calm deliberation, led by the best and wisest of their fellows, handed over this power which naturally resided in them to their agents in the way of Judges, prosecuting attorneys and police officers. On these, if on any one, their wrath should fall, if justice has not been done. Criminal societies of whatever nature have never been stamped out by the spasmodic efforts of passionate men, or even of well-ordered mobs. They have yielded to the cumulative effect of good government firmly, wisely and tirelessly administered. It must never be forgotten that the retarded growth of representative democratic government in Europe is directly traceable to the excesses of Robespierre and his followers during the French Revolution.

Kanuck, in Toronto World: My object in writing is to call attention to the fact that we in Ontario cannot rebuke the New Orleans people till we have inflicted punishment on the assassins of Biddulph. Let me recall public attention to that case. The members of the Donnelly family were more than suspected of crime, but no one ever hinted at their being assassins. Their offences were petty crimes against property, and in spite of one or two convictions they were believed to be confirmed thieves and incendiaries. A vigilance committee was formed in the neighborhood. A crowd of the vigilants visited the Donnelly home, called out one son and killed him with a spade in the presence of his aged parents, brutally murdered both father and mother and a young girl who had never harmed anybody, shot another brother and tried to kill still another one. The lynching of the Italians at New Orleans was immeasurably more courageous and immeasurably less brutal than the murder of the Biddulph victims, who were not suspected of anything worse than theft or arson, while the Italians were believed to be guilty of assassinating a public officer and of securing an acquittal by bribing a jury through the agency of a detective. We tried suspected members of the Biddulph Vigilance Committee for the murder of old Mrs. Donnelly. In spite of the explicit testimony of an eye-witness of the murders, who identified several of the murderers, and in spite of a chain of circumstantial evidence quite as strong as that which convicted Birchall without any testimony from eye-witnesses of his crime, the accused were found not guilty, and to this day no attempt has been made to call anyone to account for the murder of old Mr. Donnelly, or of either of his sons, or of the young girl. In the name of common sense and common decency, how can we hold up our hands in horror at the New Orleans lynching?

One Secret of Health and Happiness.

The political battle is over, but the battle with disease must be constantly and unceasingly waged else the grim reaper will come out victorious, and loved ones will be gathered to their long home. On all sides may be seen pale and listless girls who should be enjoying the health and glow of rosy youth. Everywhere we are met with women young in years, yet prematurely old, who suffer in silence almost untold agonies, the result of these ailments peculiar to the female system. To all such, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills come as a blessing. They restore wasted vitality, build up the nervous system, enrich the blood, and transform pale and sallow complexions into glowing, rosy cheeks that along follow perfect health. In a word they are a certain cure for all these distressing complaints to which women and girls are peculiarly liable. A trial of these pills will convince the most sceptical of their wonderful merits. For suffering men Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are equally efficacious. For overwork, mental strain, loss of sleep, nervous debility, and all those diseases that lead to broken-down manhood, they are a certain specific, stimulating the brain, reinforcing the exhausted system and restoring shattered vitality. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are nature's restorative and should be used by every weak and debilitated person. For sale by all dealers or sent, post paid, on receipt of price (50 cents a box), by addressing the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The First Steps Taken.

For the past few weeks stone chips have been flying about under the sheds of the George street Methodist church, and the industrious hammers of the stone-masons have been busily shaping the large stones which are intended for the new tower of the church. There is no immediate prospect of the tower being erected, but the Committee in charge are having this necessarily slow work done now so that there may be no delay when the tower is begun. A considerable quantity of stone is being prepared.

Resolution of Condolence.

The directors of the Mechanic's Institute at their regular meeting held on Tuesday evening adopted the following resolution:—

Moved by Dr. Burnham and seconded by Mr. R. Robertson: and resolved that the members of this board wish to express their sincere grief at the loss of our late friend and colleague William English whose valued services in connection with the Peterborough Mechanic's Institute has always been willingly and unselfishly given during his long term of service expending from the formation of the Institute up to the time of his death.

And we further wish to convey to Mrs. English and her family our sincere appreciation of his upright and genial disposition and sterling qualities in business and social intercourse, and the assurance that his memory will always remain associated with the Peterborough Mechanics' Institute.

The secretary was instructed to forward a copy of the resolution to Mr. English and to the press.

Origin of All Fools' Day.

This is All Fool's Day, and the practical joker is getting in his work. "Look at the bird" and "what's the matter with your coat?" were the leading questions on the street to-day. There was no escaping the "April fool" fiend. Even the solemn sanctuary of wisdom was invaded by the spirit of mischief. When the council was in session this morning a petition was handed in, and read by the Mayor, purporting to be from the ladies of the Protestant Home, inviting the council to pay their long promised visit to that institution to-day, and concluding with the suggestive announcement, 'Refreshments served at twelve o'clock." The reading of the petition created some diversion, and after the meeting was was over some councillors got into a discussion concerning the origin of All Fool's Day. Different opinions were expressed, but the question was settled by one of the councillors, a prominent church member, stating that the matter was fully explained in the Bible, Romans, iii chapter and 32nd verse. The others immediately consulted their pocket editions and were quite satisfied that their friend had spoken the truth. The verse in question is short but very expressive.

The Grand Trunk Siding.

An Agreement in Triplicate Between the Town, the Railway and the Edison Company.

A special meeting of the town council was held this morning for the purpose of passing a bylaw authorizing the Mayor and clerk to execute a contract or agreement between the town, the Grand Trunk Railway and the Edison Company, regarding the route, building and maintainance of a siding to be built to connect the Grand Trunk railway with the Edison Company's grounds.

Every member of the council was present, Mayor Stevenson presiding. Toe representatives of the Edison Company present were: Mr. John Kreusi, general manager of the Schenectady works, Mr. H. M. Francis, auditor of the company, Mr. Martin, the local superintendent, and Mr. B. D. Francis, salesman of the company.

The agreement was read over in council, and discussed, Mr. E. H. D. Hall answering questions by Mr. Cahill and others. A bylaw authorizing the Mayor and clerk to sign and seal the same was presented by Mr. Moore and passed.

The proposed siding leaves the main line of the Grand Trunk at Wolfe street, continues along Bethune until the Carbon Works are reached, then cuts across the rear of those premises and passes over Townsend street, another corner lot, over Stewart street, and joins the C. P. R. siding near Rubidge street. The agreement provides that the remainder of the spur line will be used in common by the two railways.

The corporation agrees to provide the necessary right of way at its own expense and allows the use of the stream to the company for 99 years at a nominal rental of $50 per annum; the corporation will indemnify the company against all claims for damages for property injuriously affected by the building of the siding.

The railway company agrees to build the siding at its own expense and maintain it; to be guided by the Edison Company as to the moving of cars over all tracks that now exist or may hereafter be laid; to allow the C.P.R to use the part of track common to both free of charge; also in order to facilitate shipping, allow the C.P.R company the use of certain portions of their siding for shunting purposes, in return for a like favor from the C.P.R.

The railway company releases the corporation from all claims, if any, which the Railway Company now has or claims to have against the Corporation for demurrage of cars delivered to the Edison Company, and further covenants and agrees that upon the Corporation providing the right of way aforesaid, the Railway Company will repay to the Corporation $1 per car out of all moneys paid or that may hereafter be paid by the Corporation for the transfer of cars from the line of the Railway Company to the Edison grounds over the C.P.R sidings, and will from the date hereof pay for the transfer of all cars from the line of their railway to the Edison Co's grounds over C.P.R. siding.

The Fruit Growers.

Echoes of the Meeting Held Last Week—Some More Pointers From Mr. Beall.

Mr. Edwards, Secretary of the Fruit Growers' Association has received letters from Messrs. Woolverton, Allen and Beall, all express the pleasure it gave them to be at the meeting, and promising to lend their assistance in future. Mr. Craig, of the Ottawa Experimental Farm, explains that he could not be present on account of the Warsaw meeting, but he was willing to come to the next one.

Mr. Edwards has received a box of books and pamphlets containing reports of meetings of other Fruit Growers' Associations and interesting information for all concerned, which he will give to anyone calling upon him.

Mr. Woolverton writes that members desiring to get the 'Princess Louise" tree as their premium may have it by notifying the local secretary. If half a dozen or so send together, instead of a small seedling a three foot tree will be sent by express.

In our report of Mr. Allan's address at the meeting last week, he is made to say that the "Pewaukee" is the most useful tree for fruit growers. What he did say was that the Pewaukee was a good kind, but the best for all purposes was the "Ontario."

In his letter to Mr. Edwards, Mr. Beall throws out some valuable suggestions. Among other things he says:—

LINDSAY, March 28th, 1891.

DEAR SIR,—Your very kind letter of the 25th reached me this morning, and I beg to say the thanks of your association is fully appreciated by me.

I am greatly pleased to find such an association established in your town and assure you that much good generally results from such meetings, or, perhaps I should say, from a succession of such meetings, because, at a first meeting, the subject of fruit growing can only be said to be introduced, and it will require a long succession of such meetings to treat the subject in all its various ramifications.

You ask me to give my experience "as to the kinds of apples, pears, grapes and plums" I have succeeded with. I am afraid this information would be of little use to you. A list of my failures and the causes thereof might be of much more advantage, because the cause or causes of failures in fruit growing, both by myself and by too many others in this vicinity, would, I am convinced, be similar to those which exists more or less throughout the Province; the chief of which was the subject of my paper, viz., the lack of knowledge by fruit growers of the principles of underdraining.

The Fruit Growers' Association of Ontario has been endeavouring for several years to impress upon the public the necessity of growing but few varieties of the various kinds of fruit, and that the matter of the first importance to fruit growers in any given locality is to ascertain what varieties of the several staple fruits can be most profitably grown in that locality.

As an instance of what may be done when the necessary knowledge is obtained, I may state that although I had failed to grow successfully about fifty varieties of pears planted eighteen or twenty years ago, yet for several years past I have obtained a good crop of Bartlett pears, (one of the tenderest varieties) from one tree, and it is now in a perfectly healthy condition.

I should like to impress upon the members of your Association the desirability of growing but few varieties. A person growing for his own family use might grow a dozen or so varieties, but for the growers of commercial orchards, five or six leading varieties, if properly selected are better than sixty or seventy varieties. One fourth of that number would be much more profitable.

Judging from the apples on the table at your meeting, together with what I have observed at your exhibitions, I am quite sure that the best varieties can be grown in your town and vicinity. Then, why grow inferior and unprofitable varieties?

Yours very truly,
THOS. BEALL.

Our Cheese Industry.

Summary Statement of the Season's Operations—Comparative Statement—Increase of the Production.

The president of the Peterborough and Victoria Cheese Board has kindly furnished the figures given below, which give the summary of the last season's operations, as well as a comparative statement of the last two season's as contrasted with 1856.

These figures show that the total value output marketed in 1886 was $123,200, that of 1889 being $211,463, and that of 1890 totalling $221,401. almost double that of the year 1886—the figures would have been more than double, but Lakefield and Bobcaygeon did not sell with the board, and their product would have made the figures for 1890 more than double those of 1886.

Owing to two or three factories choosing to sell through the Empire Produce Company and no returns having been received, it is not known what prices were received. These figures are of course not available for comparision, or for use in giving the total cheese product of the district, or the total amount realized by patrons. It would seem that the cash payment system that prevails with the Board is the more satisfactory, even if by the other way after a considerable period it is found that a fractional increase in price may have been realized. On the Board sellers know what they are receiving, and they can compare these prices with quotations and, therefore, use their own judgment in selling or withdrawing.

There promises to be an increase in the amount of cheese manufactured, at least there are to be several new factories put into operation this season. But it is a problem with cheese men whether this circumstance will be an advantage or not to the interests of the cheese industry. It is said that some of these factories will not so much develop and make tributary to cheese making entirely new territory, as draw to a certain extent from the patrons of established factories. This will not be an advantage to either maker or patrons. Not to speak of the uniformity of quality of the product, it is an established fact that buyers will pay more for large quantities, and cheese can be produced much more cheaply in a large factory with a large milk supply, than in a smaller factory, with a more limited supply of milk—on the same principle that there is no great difference between the cost of raising ten or a hundred bushels of grain off a field after it is prepared for the seed.

The outlook for the coming season is encouraging. The last season's make is pretty well cleaned up, the prices are stiffening and altogether there are indications that the coming cheese season will not be by any means the dullest of the series.

The following is a comparative and tabular statement of the output, the average monthly and average season price, and the total receipts for the:

Ontario Legislature.

The budget debate was resumed in the Legislature on Tuesday and good progress was made. The preliminary work of the session is finished, and there seems to be a general and commendable desire to finish up the business at the earliest date possible. Judging from present appearances, there is no reason why the House should be detained in session after the end of May.

Dr. McKay (Victoria) introduced a bill on Tuesday to consolidate the debt of the Town of Lindsay at the sum of $152,000, and to authorize the issue of debentures to retire debentures amounting to $141,740 and to pay off other debts amounting to $10 260.

Police Court.

WEDNESDAY, April 1st.

A dog was tried in the police court this morning on a charge of biting a previous nature. Its owner, Mr. Adam Turner, was summoned by Mrs. George Henry, who claimed that the dog had bitten her little son last Monday. It appeared from the evidence that Mr. Turner's dog and another got in a fight, and young Henry venturing too near, was bitten. It was not shown that Mr. Turner's dog began the fight or showed a vicious disposition as the charge was dismissed.

A young married man named Wm. Anderson, who lives on College street, was charged by his wife with striking her. It seems the pair do not live happily together, and this last one of their quarrels terminated in blows. Anderson admitted the charge, but said he could not help it. He was fined $5, and the magistrate advised the couple to bear and forbear more with each other in future, and avoid quarreling.

The Foot Guards.

Arrangements for the Trip to Peterborough on the 24th of May.

The following from the Ottawa Free Press will show that the people of that city, as well as the military, are greatly interested in the projected trip of the G. G. F. G. to Peterborough on May 24th. That paper says: The men of the Governor-General's Foot Guards are looking forward to a most enjoyable trip to the town of Peterborough on the 24th of May. The 57th, or Peterborough Rangers, by whom the invitation to visit the town was extended, included a number of large-hearted and pushing fellows, who last year exerted themselves to the utmost to welcome the Queen's Own Rifles under similar circumstances. It is expected that arrangements will be made for the Guards to leave Ottawa on Friday night, or early Saturday morning, May 24th, arriving at Peterborough and going into camp with the 57th Batt. Saturday night. On Sunday morning there will be a grand church parade, and on Monday morning a review will be held. The site of the camp is that used as the agricultural show grounds, close to the river, and most beautifully situated. Peterborough will do her best to give the boys of Ottawa a hearty welcome. It is the only town in Canada able to support a city battalion of six companies and the citizens are bound to keep up the prestige they have thus far gained. Added to this is the fact that the town is one of the most advanced in the province and the Guards are sure to be royally treated.

On Dominion Day the 57th will pay Ottawa a return visit, and an invitation has been forwarded to the Royal Scots, of Montreal, to be present and take part in the review to be held here that day. The people of Ottawa may look for a programme well worthy the Capital.

The Foot Guards are in good, shape the appearance of the men being excellent and it is expected that they will muster in full strength for their trip to Peterborough.

The first parade of the corps since the change in the staff will take place to-morrow evening at 7:45, when Sergeant Major Conroy will take his formal farewell of his old comrades.

Hereditary Organic Quality.

Hereditary or acic quality is the first, the basis, the most important condition of all the power of formation and all happiness. This is congenital, and comes with life at birth. It depends mainly on the parents, and their health, state of mind and body, and is of vast importance not only to the family but to the community and nation as well.

Children of nervous, weak, brain-tired, sleepless and dyspeptic parents, will, to a great extent, show as they grow up many of the same conditions and troubles. How important them for parents to give this subject the consideration it so much deserves. It is the duty of every parent to consider carefully his or her condition, and to strengthen the weak points wherever found. Fathers and mothers are often nervous and weak; at times they experience a used-up feeling; they are listless, morose, and often morbid feeling prevail. All these unpleasant and dangerous symptoms can be eradicated by the use of that great health-giver, Paine's Celery Compound. It will give parents what they most delight to see in their children—a robust constitution, vigor, digestive power, brightness and energy. Secure these characteristics and blessings, and yours offspring will be blessed in the same way.

ITALIAN MINISTER RECALLED.

The Government Shows Its Disapproval of the New Orleans Massacre.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—In an official note dated to-day Baron Fava, the Italian minister, has declared to the Secretary of State that the U.S. Government not having given assurances that the murderers of the Italian subjects acquitted by the American magistrates and murdered in prison while under the immediate protection of the authorities of New Orleans would be brought to justice, the Italian Government has found itself under the very painful necessity of showing openly its dissatisfaction by recalling the minister of his majesty from a country where the Italian representative is unable to obtain justice. The baron will soon leave the United States, leaving the secretary of legation in charge only of the current affairs.

This action by the Italian Government has caused much surprise in official circles, as it was generally supposed the Italian Government would await the action of the New Orleans grand jury charged with an investigation of the jail episode. A reason for the recall is found in the fact that when the Italian Minister sought for some assurance that the persons concerned would be punished such assurance was not forthcoming. While a recall under the circumstances of the case is a serious matter, it does not signify that neutral explanation and diplomacy cannot restore the old status.

The reason given for the recall is, "the King of Italy is dissatisfied with the progress of adjustment between the two countries in regard to the New Orleans massacre."

TORONTO GOSSIP.

Mining Convention—Is She Dead or in a Trance?

TORONTO, April 1.—The master in chambers yesterday morning delivered judgment on the motion to unseat Mayor Clarke, dismissing the motion without costs.

A mining convention was opened at the Canadian Institute yesterday morning for the purpose of considering measures for the advancement of the mining industry and the advisability of establishing a Provincial Department of Mines. A resolution was passed in favor of a Department of Mines being established as being far preferable to a Bureau of Mines.

The residents of the West End are all excitement over a supposed case of catalepsy, coma or trance. On Sunday last the death was announced of Mrs. Owen, wife of Frank Owen, a moulder who resides at 9 Brookfield-street. Mrs. Owen had been ill for a number of months and latterly has been failing very fast. On Sunday she was very low and Dr. Woods of King-street west was called in. The woman, no doubt, died on that day and the doctor made no mistake in signing the burial certificate. Her appearance after death, however, was so natural and lifelike, the skin so pliable and the lips so red that several of the women and children in the house became possessed of the idea that Mrs. Owen was not dead, but simply in a trance, and the funeral has been postponed.

The Ontario Legislature was very dull yesterday, the time being principally occupied with a discussion on the Treasurer's budget and the reception of deputations from Toronto and Mimico.

CASH HARDWARE STORE.

On and after 1st April we shall do business on a Cash Basis.

To cover the inevitable losses attendant upon a credit business, which accrue from amount of time spent in keeping accounts, collecting, bad debts, interest account, and in numerous other ways, larger margins of profit must be asked.

In these times cash buyers ask, expect, and are entitled to close prices. A careful consideration of the subject convinces us that the time has come for a cash business done on smaller profits.

The only customers who may possibly be put to inconvenience are those who have had long credit. In more ways than one it will be to their advantage to pay cash.

For convenience of our old customers who consider their accounts due when presented, we will call 30 days cash and render all accounts the first of each month, and we wish to say that will be happy to do business with them on these terms.

As the new departure is something of an experiment, what would be considered a close cash price will be made all through the stock. Not a few leaders only, but a general reduction in everything from the fourth flat to the cellar.

Our idea is to perform more than promised rather than promise more than can be fulfilled.

Our stock is large and varied, consisting of Builders', Contractors', Household, Mechanics', Painters', Shoemakers', Farm, Mill, Factory, Lumbermen's, Sporting, Threshers', Cabinet makers', and other lines of Hardware.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

TWO SESSIONS OF THE HOUSE HELD YESTERDAY.

The Debate on the Treasurer's Statement Continued. An Act to Amend the Insurance Act. General Notes of the Session.

TORONTO, April 2.—The Ontario Legislature held two sessions yesterday afternoon and evening.

Mr. Ross introduced a bill to incorporate the Chartered Stenographers' Association of Ontario. The bill is similar to the acts incorporating the Chartered Accountants and Chartered Architects. Anyone assuming the title C.S.O. without warrant is subject to a penalty of $25 for the first offence and $50 for subsequent offences.

Among other bills introduced was one by Mr. Gibson (Hamilton) to amend the Insurance Act. It explains away the petition of the Underwriters' Association. It provides that companies shall pay an income fee for licensing of agents, the issue of new policies, etc., and also provides for the appointment of Provincial officers for the investigation of cases of fire, examination, etc.

The debate on the treasurer's statement was resumed. Mr. Ross vigorously repudiated the statement that the public schools are not as good as they used to be.

In reply to Mr. Commissioner of Crown Lands was presented to the House. It showed that the total collections of the department were $1,115,052, and the total disbursements $460,955. The area of energy lands sold during the year was 780 acres, aggregating in value $1220.76. The amount collected on account of these and former sales was $8937.88.

PREPARING FOR WAR.

Secretary for War Stanhope Says Every New British Vessel Is to Be Fitted to Receive Armament on the Shortest Notice.

LONDON, April 1.—In a speech at Grimsby today Secretary-for-War Stanhope announced that the Government had determined that every new vessel built in England which was big enough for the purpose and the owner of which was willing to accept the Government's conditions should be fitted to receive armament on the shortest notice.

BLOWN TO ATOMS.

Desperate Naval Battle Between Government Troops and Insurgents.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.—Advices from Valparaiso state that the frenchat Blanco, belonging to the insurgents, attempted to blow up the armed government tug Florence with a fish torpedo, but the torpedo missed the tug and struck the big floating dry dock, blowing it to pieces. The Florence and a torpedo boat attacked the Blanco, when a heavy shell from the latter struck the Florence, blowing her entirely out of the water and killing or wounding every one of her crew of 17 men, while a broadside from the Blanco's consort, the O'Higgins, knocked the torpedo boat all to pieces. Fire was opened from the forts and a shell went through the O'Higgins, and the gun on the quarter deck exploded, the deck being literally torn out of the vessel and nine men out of the gun's crew of 12 were blown to atoms.

Enthusiastic Celebration of Bismarck's 76th Birthday.

FRIEDRICHSRUHE, April 1.—Prince Bismarck, who is 76 years old to-day, has been receiving congratulations all day, with addresses and floral offerings from all parts of Germany. Early this morning the reveille was sounded under the windows of the prince's apartments by the Hatzenau dragoons. Every train brought large numbers of strangers. Among the visitors were the Duke of Ujest and other persons of title, several Hamburg guilds and a number of Munich artists. Prince Bismarck received many telegrams and gifts from admirers abroad. During the day the prince appeared in public three times and on each occasion was received with fervent cheers and hand-shakings. To-night a torchlight procession was held in which [illegible] took part.

Bismarck met the foreign procession at the Castle gate. Herr Woermann made a speech and they had come "as representatives of a political party, but as citizens to give the Prince proof of their gratitude for his services to the Fatherland. Bismarck, who was deeply moved, said he "was glad to see it growing a good school certificate, that when he was a minister he had not always received such recognition, and that he would leave the memory of the demonstration to his children as a precious inheritance. The Prince received 3000 congratulatory despatches.

An Irish M.P. Roughly Treated by a Mot of Women.

DUBLIN, April 1.—Col. John P. Nolan, member of Parliament for North Galway, was set upon by a crowd of women at Sligo to-day and very roughly handled. The women surrounded him, hooted at him, pelted him with stones, mud, etc., tore his clothing and finally crowned him with an old iron pot.

Mining Convention.

TORONTO, April 2.—At the session of the mining convention yesterday, resolutions were passed pronouncing against all provincial taxation in the shape of royalties and ground rents; that the selling of mining lands for arrears of taxes be discontinued; that development work should be required before lands is patented, that the explorer should have the right to stake out the ground of his discovery whether in surveyed or unsurveyed territory according to any regulations relating thereto; that the railways should be asked to lower their present excessive rates for carrying ore, and that a free market in the U.S. and Canada for mining products would be to the advantage of both parties and greatly tend to the development of the mineral resources of Ontario.

A Conflict Promised.

SANTIAGO DE CHILI, April 1.—The elections just held result in a complete triumph for the Liberals. It is reported the situation around the insurgents at Iquique and themselves is most desperate. Famine prevails and the supply of coal is exhausted. The Chilian Government flotilla is almost ready to proceed against the rebels' ships. A desperate conflict is inevitable.

IRELAND AND ROME.

ARCHBISHOP WALSH VOICES THE VIEWS OF THE POPE.

The Archbishop Speaks Concerning Gladstone and Home Rule and Says Parnell is no Longer a Factor in Irish Politics.

ROME, April 1.—In an interview to-day the Most Rev. Dr. Walsh, Archbishop of Dublin, expressed the liveliest satisfaction that in a long audience with the Pope he found His Holiness perfectly acquainted with the position in Ireland.

"The Pope," he said, "has followed every change in the situation with sympathy. He has recognized that by legal means we will eventually obtain our rights. He has never thought of interfering with Irish affairs while questions were of a purely political character. Those who presumed that the Pope would take any action against Ireland were totally informed. There may exist parties desirous of drawing the Vatican into a line of policy against us, but His Holiness will not lend an ear to their interested voices. He fully approves the attitude of the Irish Episcopate during the present internal crisis and desires union and common action on the part of the bishops."

Archbishop Walsh continued: Mr. Gladstone's election is almost sure. He will have at least a majority of 70, and the success of Home Rule cannot be longer delayed. After the coming general election Mr. Parnell will be interred. He has been led astray by some shortsighted making believe that the whole people marched behind him. He will soon realize the opposite. When defeated at the elections he will understand his error and will seek to repair the wrong which the present rupture has done to the cause of Home Rule.

Recurring to the actual situation Archbishop Walsh said: "There is no conflict between the bishops and priests and the people. Mr. Parnell no longer represents a national force. He has followers here and there, possibly everywhere there are some. This only shows that he still retains some power to weaken the National ranks, and doubtless will have until the end, but the country is against him. We bishops simply gave expression to the sentiments of Catholic Ireland, and had the courage to speak out when courage was needed. Mr. Parnell seemed to be on the point of carrying everything by storm and violence. The country was overawed. Gradually the country, as a whole, emboldened by the strong moral support of the bishops and clergy, has taken courage to speak for itself. The imposture which came so near imposing itself upon Ireland now rapidly melts away. Numbers of over-zealous Parnellites stand by him. Some, possibly, continue to believe themselves standing by the country. The elections will soon open their eyes to their deplorable error. Kilkenny's lead will be followed all over Ireland. The bishops have not dictated, they have only given courage to the country to free itself from the intolerable dictatorship of Parnell."

HIS WIFE WAS A SPY.

And Herr Schladeck, the Socialist, Put Her to Death.

CONSTANCE, Baden, April 1.—The police made an organized descent upon the lodgings in the city of Herr Schladeck and other prominent Socialists, several of whom were arrested and important information was obtained. The wife of Herr Schladeck [illegible] mysteriously murdered a short time ago, and the police have since been following up the crime. Evidence came into their hands lately, confirming their suspicions, that the poor woman was the victim of a conspiracy. She had betrayed the secrets of the Socialists, and was murdered by them in consequence. The police have discovered the assassins, and they are among those arrested. Proofs were also obtained of the existence of an Anarchist conspiracy having its ramifications throughout Germany. The prisoners will be brought to Leipzig for trial.

NORTH SLIGO ELECTION

The Vote to Take Place To-day — McCarthyite Express Confidence.

SLIGO, April 1.—There is a feeling of re[illegible] to-night over the approaching termination of the struggle between the Parnellites and the anti-Parnellites. The campaign drew to a close to-night with several meetings, all of which, with the exception of a McCarthyite meeting in the Town Hall, were spoiled by bad weather. Everybody is heartily tired of the struggle. A large section of the Conservatives intend to vote for Dillon the Parnellite. The McCarthyites, however, are still confident that their candidate will have a majority of 1000. The counting of votes will take place Friday.

The Tichborne Case.

LIVERPOOL, April 1.—The death of Vincent Gosforth, aged 74, recalls the excitement that attended the Tichborne trial 18 years ago. Mr. Gosforth was the agent for the estates, and his testimony, which was most important, occupied over three weeks in the taking. He was at one time the holder of the celebrated sealed packet that played a leading part in the case, it having been intrusted to him by the real Sir Roger prior to his departure from England.

The Baccarat House Burned.

LONDON, April 1.—The residence of Mr and Mrs. Arthur Wilson, known as Tranby Croft, near Doncaster, where the famous baccarat scandal took place, and in which Sir William Gordon Cumming was involved while playing in company with the Prince of Wales, has been partially destroyed by fire.

Parnell To Speak In Phœnix Park.

DUBLIN, April 1.—Parnell is advertised to speak in Phœnix Park in this city on Sunday next when he will probably have something to say about the result at Sligo. He will also protest against "continued holding" and the inhuman treatment of political prisoners, and demand their release.

Prof. Tyndall Dying.

LONDON, April 1.—Prof. Tyndall, who several weeks ago was reported as suffering from an inflammation of veins, has had a serious relapse and his condition to-night is worse than it has been at any time.

Denying the Soft Impeachments.

WINNIPEG, April 1.—There was an exciting scene in the Legislature to-day during which Messrs. Greenway, Martin and Prudhomme evidently thought they had insulted in the libellous, coined each other "liars with [illegible] consciences or heart" and "colossal liars."

MASSACRE OF MANIPUR.

CONFIRMATION OF THE NEWS WITH DETAILS OF THE FIGHT.

British Soldiers Slaughtered—Instant Action on the Part of the Governor-General to Punish the Tribesmen—Some Facts Concerning Manipur.

SIMLA, April 1.—A force of 600 Goorkhas and Cowley's missing detachment have arrived at Lakhipur on the direct route from Silchor to Manipur. It is believed all the members of Chief Commissioner Quinton's staff are safe with the exception of Mr. Brackenbury.

The Viceroy, the Marquis of Lansdowne, is hurrying troops into Assam to punish the hostiles. Reinforcements are also being sent into the states located in proximity to Assam, in order to prevent any possible disorder or warlike outbreak which it is thought might follow the spreading of the news of the massacre of the British troops at Manipur.

Only Themselves to Blame.

LONDON, April 1.—The Star, referring to the slaughter of the Goorkha troops in Assam, says the British Commissioners have only themselves to blame for this deplorable catastrophe. They should not have meddled with the question of the deposition of the Rajah of Manipur, which was the result of a quarrel between tribal chiefs.

Lord Lansdowne, Viceroy of India, has cabled to the Government that the Indian forces are abundantly able to deal with the rebellion at Manipur without the aid of additional troops.

During the progress of the mutiny, despite the utmost desperation of the fighting, husbands invariably kept a loaded pistol in reserve to save their wives from dishonor at the hands of their fiendish assailants.

The disaster is recognized by military authorities here as the result of a blunder. Two mistakes of vital consequence characterized the expedition. The fact that the ammunition ran out after a couple of days' fighting only shows that proper provision had not been made for possible exigencies.

The second blunder was the advance of such a small force without support.

CALCUTTA, April 1.—It is officially announced that Mrs. Grimwood, wife of F. S. Grimwood, the British political agent at Manipur, the scene of the recent massacre of the British troops, in company with Lieutenants Gurdon, Boileau, Woods, Butcher, Lugard and Calvert, has arrived safely at Manipur. Crowley's detachment, a number of other British officers who were treacherously captured by the rebels, are held as prisoners at Manipur.

Concerning Manipur.

The slaughter of the Chief Commissioner of Assam and the officers and men of his Goorkha escort in Manipur is almost certain to result in a further addition to the map of British India, bringing the British Empire is closer contact with the Chinese frontier.

Manipur, although adjacent to Assam, in no part of that province; it is an independent state, ruled by a Rajah, who pays no tribute to the British and who exercises absolute power within his borders, except the privilege of making war. The state is as independent as the great native kingdoms of Hyderabad, Gwalior and Indore. It is situated in the corner between the two tea producing districts of Assam and Cachar. The greater part is tableland—no richer soil in the world, as the tea-planters know well.

There is no doubt that this disturbance will give the Viceroy of India the opportunity to annex Manipur, repeating the proceedings of Lord Dalhousie in Oude and Lord Dufferin in Burmah.

The tribe who attacked the commissioner's camp were probably Nagas, who gave so much trouble on that frontier some years ago. It is altogether improbable that the Manipuris themselves were hostile. They live on the plains of the table land, have always been friends of the planters, grow their own cotton and indigo, and breed the finest ponies in the world. Manipur is the birthplace of polo, and their players have always been in the crack Calcutta teams whenever they have met.

The Highlanders of India.

The 470 Goorkhas probably died hard. The Goorkha is the Highlander of India. His home is in the mountains of Nepaul, and his trade and only joy are fighting. Years ago the English troops had a hard fight with Nepaul, and the worth of the foe was recognized, and Goorkha regiments were raised as soon as the province had submitted. At no time has there been any lack of recruits, the men being only too glad to enlist; and quite lately five new regiments were raised.

The headquarters of the regiments are at Almorah, Northern Bengal, and not long ago there was a curious meeting between the 42d Highlanders (the Black Watch) and the Goorkha watch of the Himalayan passes. No fraternizing took place, but the men eyed each other together. The men are short, averaging 5 feet 2 inches, thick set, of a deep brown complexion, but with merry faces that, however, show deep determination when the matter in consideration is a fight. Their uniform is of blue serge with [illegible] piping for the coat and trousers and a scout round cap with a red band and the number of the regiment. They are armed with short rifles and carry the "kookerie," a curved sword peculiar to the tribe, which is always kept as sharp as a razor and with which at close quarters they do terrible work. The Goorkha regiments have always done good service. The 2nd Regiment, that was with General Sir Frederick Roberts' force that held the [illegible] in 1879, saved [illegible] by the steadiness [illegible] Goorkhas. The 4th Regiment, that was with General Stewart's North Monaghan.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

On Wednesday, March 25th, the residence of Mr. Joseph T. Green was a pleasant scene of festivity, the occasion being the marriage of Miss Bella Gillespie, of North Monaghan, to Mr. David Lewis, of South Monaghan. Rev. E. F. Torrance performed the ceremony in the presence of a large number of the friends of the contracting parties. Miss Lewis, sister of the groom, supported the bride, and Mr. Gillespie, brother of the bride was groomsman. To the ceremony succeeded the usual congratulations and the wedding breakfast. The high esteem which the bride had won during her residence of five years in the neighborhood hood was evidenced by the large number of presents of which she was the recipient. The following is a partial list of gifts and givers:—Bedroom suite, Mr. J. T. Green; pair of blankets, Mrs. Birney; tea set of dishes, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lewis; silver cruet, Mr. Geo. Gillespie; rocking chair, Miss Birney; bedroom set, Misses M. and E. Lewis; dozen silver knives and forks, Messrs Peter and R. D. Norwood.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

We learn that Mr. P G. Bromley, our popular station agent here, is about to remove from the village. He has been appointed travelling auditor on the C. P. R., and will necessarily be on the road most of the time. Although we regret his departure very much, we join all his well-wishers in congratulating him on his promotion.

Last Sunday and Monday were big days for the Salvationists here. Officers gathered from the surrounding strongholds, and interesting meetings were held on both days. On Monday evening a banquet was held in the barracks and the town hall was used for the regular meeting.

Good Friday passed off very quietly for most of the folks in the village. Probably the young people might have been found in some of the sugar bushes.

We expect before again writing you to be in full possession of the electric ights. Reeve Finlay promises that luxory for Friday night, April 3d. The nights are very dark now and an illumination would not be out of place.

Frazerville.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The piercing winds of the forepart of March seem to have taken great effect upon the citizens of the vicinity. Very bad colds, much resembling the la grippe, have predominated through the neighborhood, leaving those with weak constitutions in a very low state and trying severely even the hardiest.

The heavy rains of last week followed by a hot sun, caused an inundation of water, the streams and creeks rising several feet over the banks, and filling the adjacent houses, but the Monaghan council had the foreknowledge to repair the bridge south of our village in time to save a lot of expense and trouble.

The vigorous farmers of this section who have maple bush on their farms, are now busily engaged making sugar and molasses. A good season is expected.

Mr. Wm. Peel is now making preparations to build a stone cellar under his house the coming season.

It is with regret we have to announce the loss of one of our highly esteemed neighbors, Mr. James Latimor, jr, who a short time ago removed to Manvers Township. Mr. Latimor was an old Monaghan resident and was highly respected by all who knew him. The surrounding vicinity will miss a very genial and obliging neighbor. However we wish him much success in his new home.

Last week Mr. Charles Phillips, the well known butcher at Cavanville paid a visit to our village with some fine Easter meats which he quickly got rid of. Charlie has supplied our village with some excellent meat, none of the pachydermateus kind.

Easter morn broke brightly and was a glorious day all through. The good people of Fraserville who helped to partake of the feasts in remembrance of Christ's resurrection were pleased to think that there was a day for that purpose,

The Grain Market.

MONTREAL March 31.—Excepting the sale of a few car lots of peas and oats at about quotations, no business is reported in grain. Wheat is stagnant, and prices are nominal. The flour market is very strong, and the demand for both the local trade and for export is good.

CHICAGO, March 31.—Wheat—The cables of the early morning showed not only strength but higher prices, Liverpool noting halfpenny advance, and London ¾d. The result was the continuance of the strong feeling which had developed after the close of the market yesterday.

BUFFALO, March 31.—The barley market was unaltered and the only sales of late were one car of Michigan at 79c. and 3 000 bushels of No. 3 western at 75c. The talk of maltsters shutting down still continues, but the date has been further postponed as usual, every year this being the regular old story, but there is no doubt that the season will be shortened this year somewhat.

Live Stock Market.

TORONTO.—The receipts at the cattle market to-day were 24 loads, 150 sheep and lambs, 500 hogs and 50 calves. Last week's were 412 cattle, 347 sheep and lambs and 735 hogs. The market for cattle was weak, and about 5 or 6 loads were left over unsold.

One distinct point about Hagyard's Yellow Oil is that it is just as good for external as for internal use. It is a cleanly, prompt and pleasant cure for rheumatism, colds, croups, sore throat, wounds, bruises, sprains and chapped hands, etc. No household should be without it. 2w11d

Distress in Digby.

DEAR SIRS—I was troubled by costiveness and sick headache, and in fact felt very miserable until I tried B. B. B. I used seven bottles with Burdock Pills also, and they made me as well as ever I was. This was about two years ago, and I still enjoy the best of health."—Mrs. A. McCullough, Digby, N. S. 2w11d

The Safest

AND most powerful alterative is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Young and old are alike benefited by its use. For the eruptive diseases peculiar to children nothing else is so effective as this medicine, while its agreeable flavor makes it easy to administer.

"My little boy had large scrofulous ulcers on his neck and throat from which he suffered terribly. Two physicians attended him, but he grew continually worse under their care, and everybody expected he would die. I had heard of the remarkable cures effected by Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and decided to have my boy try it. Shortly after he began to take this medicine, the ulcers commenced healing, and, after using several bottles, he was entirely cured. He is now as healthy and strong as any boy of his age."—William F. Dougherty, Hampton, Va.

"In May last, my youngest child, fourteen months old, began to have sores gather on its head and body. We applied various simple remedies without avail. The sores increased in number and discharged copiously. A physician was called, but the sores continued to multiply until in a few months they nearly covered the child's head and body. At last we began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. In a few days a marked change for the better was manifest. The sores assumed a more healthy condition, the discharges were gradually diminished, and finally ceased altogether. The child is livelier, its skin is fresher, and its appetite better than we have observed for months."—Frank M. Griffin, Long Point, Texas.

"The formula of Ayer's Sarsaparilla presents, for chronic diseases of almost every kind, the best remedy known to the medical world."—D. M. Wilson, M. D., Wiggs, Arkansas.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

For some time past we have thought a strictly cash business in Flour, Feed and Provisions could be successfully carried on in Peterborough, and to test this question, we have purchased the above business from Mr. C. N. Brown who will still continue as manager in Flavelle's old stand, Simcoe street.

In order to be successful we intend to make it the interest of everyone to pay cash with order by selling at wholesale prices.

We will positively give no credits and cash customers will not have to keep up the losses made by others on the credit system.

We will keep a full supply of the very best quality of Flour, Feed, Chop, etc., and our customers need not fear that the quality of the goods will be lowered to make up for the reduction in price. We are simply giving them the benefit of the margin necessary to cover losses and interest charges incurred on the credit system.

KALAKAUA'S SUCCESSOR.

His Sister, Lilliokalani, and the Next Heir, Princess Kalani.

King Kalakaua, of the Hawaiian Islands, leaves a widow, Queen Kapiolani. His successor is his sister, Princess Lydia Kamakabeha Lilliokalani, who was born in 1838 and was proclaimed heir-apparent to the throne April 12, 1877, and has been for some time past acting as regent. She is married to John Owen Dominis, a native of Boston, a well-educated man, well known to all visitors to the islands. The next heir, in the legitimate order of succession, is the young Princess Kalani, who was born Oct. 16, 1875. She is the daughter of the late Princess Likelike, the youngest sister of Kalakaua. The young Princess, it will be remembered, passed through America about a year ago on her way to Europe, where she was to remain two years completing her studies. She is a very accomplished girl, a splendid musician, a daring equestrienne and a fine linguist.

LILIUKALANI. KALANI.

HERCULEAN POWER.

A Frail Phenomenon Who Performs Wonderful Feats of Strength.

Miss Mattie Lee Price is one of those mysterious phenomena with which Nature now and then puzzles the world.

That a girl not yet out of her teens, frail, and weighing only ninety-six pounds, should, unaided, accomplish feats that under ordinary circumstances would require the strength of a horse, seems incredible, but convincing demonstrations of the facts preclude all possibility of optical illusion.

That these are facts, there cannot be a shadow of a doubt. That these facts are mysterious is equally certain. Scientists, physicians, journalists and laymen have all in turn been puzzled by this girl's powers, and she herself says that it is even inexplicable to her self. All she has to do, she says, to accomplish her feats is to concentrate her mind on whatever she desires to perform and supplement the application of her hands with a strong determination to succeed. The only conditions under which she has failed, she says, were when one of the "committee" she draws from the audience was intoxicated or acted in such a manner as to distract her attention from her work. "For," she said, "if my mind is behind me and my work in front of me I can do nothing."

Here is a record of the facts as found, leaving their solution to scientists versed in physics and metaphysics, or to those necromancers for whom nothing seems impossible.

LIFTING THREE MEN WITH OPEN HANDS.

A feat that Miss Price performs with comparative ease, is lifting three men aggregating some six hundred pounds in weight. First, one man is placed on the chair, another is seated on his lap, and a third placed astraddle of the middle man. The chair is then tilted back-ward, thus throwing the entire weight on the chair and leaving only the toes of the first man touching the floor, while the feet of the others are in the air. Miss Price then applies her open hands to the sides of the chair at a point opposite the seat, and after stroking them for a few seconds, as though feeling for the right spot, she says, mildly, "All right!" and the six hundred pounds of humanity are lifted in the air and sometimes sent sprawling pell mell on the floor.

And this is done by a girl weighing less than one-sixth of the weight she lifts. She once lifted in Jim Geary's museum, Fort Wayne, Ind., three men whose weight aggregated seven hundred and fifty-six pounds. Her other feats are just as wonderful, and are puzzling the wise men of New York city these days. She is giving exhibitions there.

SKETCH OF MISS PRICE.

Miss Mattie Lee Price is an attractive little woman. Her face denotes intelligence and great energy. Her eyes are gray and piercing, her manners unassuming, though self-reliant. She was born on a farm near Dalton, Bartlett county, Ga., and will be twenty years old on May 15 next. Her father is George W. Price, a cotton raiser. One fourth of the blood that courses through his veins is of Indian origin. Her mother is of German descent. She first became aware of her abnormal power while at school when she was eleven years old. One day she and another girl began to struggle for the possession of a rope. She overcame her antagonist with ease. Others joined her opponent till five of them were pitted against her. Yet she overpowered them all with one hand, dragging them around as if they were so many feathers.

This came to the ears of her teacher, who apprised her father and who in turn told many prominent people of the child phenomenon. She was put "on the road" and has since been giving exhibitions in the South and West, Mexico and Canada. She is subject to epileptic fits, which she feels coming on and which last from fifteen minutes to two and even fourteen hours. While in such a state she is apparently breathless, and no medicine has ever had the slightest effect upon her. When she recovers she is apparently none the worse for it.

MARRIED HIS SISTER.

A Nova Scotia Couple Make an Awful Discovery and Both Commit Suicide.

HALIFAX, March 29.—From the little town of Newport, on Avon River, near Windsor, comes the story of an unusual tragedy. Three days ago the dead body of Mrs. Madeline Duval, the pretty young wife of Lucian Duval, was found drowned in the river. The remains were taken home and a search instituted for her husband, who was found wandering aimlessly in the woods about a mile from his home, evidently half demented. It was immediately suspected that he was responsible for his wife's death and a watch was placed upon him.

During the funeral obsequies he eluded his keepers and fled. The same evening his body was found hanging in the barn dead. A letter was found in his pocket stating that ever since his marriage he had been endeavoring to ascertain who his wife's parents were, she being an adopted child, and about a week before had made the awful discovery that his wife was no less a person than his own sister. It appeared that his mother and father had separated, the latter going to Prince Edward Island, taking the son with him. After the separation the daughter, Madeline, was born. The mother, too proud to ask help of the father, never told him of the birth. The girl was adopted and brought to Newport, where Duval married her. Being religious, they were overcome with horror at the discovery. Mrs. Duval evidently became insane and committed suicide, and remorse drove Duval to the same end. They were buried together to-day.

A PRISONER AS A PEELER.

Windsor's Accommodating Constable is in Sore Trouble.

WINDSOR, March 31.—The Police Committee recently decided upon Policeman Maitre's dismissal. During the month of January Maitre was on duty from 7 p.m. until 4 a.m. One of the charges is he put the best part of one night playing cards with a colored man named Fox, for whose arrest a warrant was out. Maitre, it is said, became on extremely friendly terms with Fox, and assured him that while, when morning came, he would be compelled to arrest him, still, as a personal friend, he would pay his fine and costs. At 11 o'clock that night Maitre became tired at cards and returned to an inner room to sleep, while his prisoner put on the officer's coat and helmet, took his club and paraded through the streets.

A Bachelor Burned to Death

WINNIPEG, March 30.—A despatch from McGregor, Man., says that an old bachelor named John Gibbs, living four miles north of that town, was burned to death last night. The fire, it is supposed, originated through a defective stovepipe, and the unfortunate man appears to have been suffocated and burned while insensible.

He Wrote "The Breadwinners."

CHICAGO, March 30.—In the course of a talk on literary style before the Methodist Ministers' Association of this city to-day, Rev. Dr. Meudenhall of Cleveland settled rest the mooted question of the authorship of "The Breadwinners," by announcing himself as that man.

A Diabolical Outrage.

LIBERTY, Miss., March 31. A school examination and concert took place last night at the Parson Hill schoolhouse near here. While the pupils were singing a double-barreled shotgun, heavily charged with shot, was fired into the assemblage by some unknown miscreant, wounding 14 persons.

Allow a cough to run until it gets beyond the reach of medicine. They often say, "Oh, it will wear away," but in most cases it wears them away. It Does Its Work.

A Good Practice.

If the children suffer from pimples, irritated skin, headache, etc., Burdock Blood Bitters is by far the best remedy. Mr. McConnell, 28 Henderson Avenue, Toronto, says, "Since I have made a practice of using B.B.B. my children have got strong and well." 2w11d

Weather Probabilities.

Lower temperature and sudden change often give rise to coughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis, and lead through them to consumption. A little care and the use of Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam will effectually cure any cough and give pleasant relief even in confirmed consumption. 2w11d

It Pays Best.

It pays best to keep a good medicine like Hagyard's Yellow Oil always on hand in case of accident or of emergency. It cures colds, croup, sore throat, rheumatism, wounds, bruises, burns, etc. Price, 25 cents per bottle. 2w11d

A Troupe's Misfortunes.

Cuthbert & Bartmus's Elite Novelty Company perpetrated an "April fool" on the theatre-going public last night. They were billed to play at the opera house but did not appear. Two Liquor Cases.

At the police court this morning Mr. J. S. Fanning, proprietor of the Commercial House, pleaded guilty to a charge of selling liquor Sunday last, contrary to law. As this makes the third time he has been convicted under the Crooks Act, a fine of $80 and $3.50 costs was imposed, with the option of 30 days in gaol. In addition to this punishment the statutes say that a man convicted of a third offence forfeits his license, and is disqualified from again receiving a license for two years. This is the first conviction for a third offence since the Scott Act went out of force. Chief Kersel was the complainant in all cases.

John Clancy pleaded guilty to selling liquor after hours Saturday last, and was fined $20 and costs. Inspector Cochrane laid the charge.

NATIONAL NOSE COUNTERS

The Dominion Census to be Begun Next Monday.

The Names of Those who Will act as Enumerators—And the Questions They will ask—Be Ready for the Census Taker When He Comes.

On Monday next, 6th of April, an army of census enumerators will be turned loose to number the citizens, their children, servants, cattle, sheep and goats, for a general national stock taking. To prepare for the event, the enumerators have been instructed in their duties by the district commissioners, who likewise furnish them with books of instruction with which they are expected to make themselves familiar before next Monday. In addition to this they will be taken in groups of three or four and practically instructed by the supervisors as far as possible. There are in all eight schedules to be filled out, each containing questions of a public or private nature on every topic which has been conceived to be of possible public interest. Of course, the enumerators and their superiors, who will transfer their information to Ottawa, are all sworn to secrecy so that it will be more stupidity to withhold information. The work is expected to take three weeks, the large number of questions requiring much careful labour. In East Peterborough there are 2 860 square miles of territory to be gone over, including the northern townships of Guilford, Harburn, Clyde, Havelock, Eyre, Livingstone, Lawrence and Nightingale, over which are appointed twenty-four enumerators; and in West Peterborough there will be fourteen officials, and the result of of their labours will be awaited with interest, as there is no Canadian but wishes to learn just how we are prospering as a people.

SWORN TO STRICT SECRECY.

There are two points which should be borne in mind in connection with the census taking. The first is the secrecy of the census, and the second, the fact that it will not in any way affect taxes. The people everywhere should understand that the enumerator who collects the information is sworn to secrecy, and the information given by one person is never seen by any one except the enumerator and the Government statistical officers. Ladies often do not give right answers or they suppress information because they are afraid their next door neighbour will see it. They need not be. Then, again, people will not give information about their property or belongings because they are afraid their taxes will be increased. The census has nothing to do with taxes, and municipal or other tax officers are not allowed to use the census returns.

The Act dealing with census returns says that for false information or refusal there shall be a penalty of from $5 to $10.

SOME STATISTICS.

The first census of Canada was taken in 1663, and the population was then 2 500. In 1841 the first regular census was taken, showing Lower Canada 625 000, and Upper Canada 455 688. In 1851 the figures were 890 261 for Lower Canada, 952 000 for Upper Canada, Nova Scotia, 276,854, New Brunswick 193,800. In 1861 the figures were Upper Canada 1,111,566, Lower Canada 1 396 091, New Brunswick 252 047, Nova Scotia 330,856, Prince Edward Island 80,858, British Columbia 3,024. In 1881 the figures were, Quebec 1,329 057, Ontario 1,993,228, Nova Scotia 440,572, New Brunswick 321,233, Prince Edward Island 108,891, British Columbia 49,459, Manitoba 65,954 and the North West Territories 56,446. These were the official figures, with the exception of Manitoba, where the census was taken in 1886, showing a population of 108,640.

WHAT THE QUESTIONS WILL BE.

The census enumerators, to quote Hamlet, must "know a hawk from a handsaw." The questions they have to ask and the schedules they have to go through would be enough to appal anyone unblessed with a mathematical mind. The commissioners have been hard at work for several days drilling the enumerators and going over the lists. The method of taking the census adopted is not quite the same as that which finds favor in some other countries. The method employed is that of asking questions, the enumerator filling in the schedule himself. In some countries slips are left at each house, and collected the following day.

The enumerators will carry eight schedules and if there has been a death in the family within the past twelve months the enumerator will have to go through the eight lists. Every question will have to be filled in either with an answer or a stroke of the pencil. The schedules and the questions to be asked may be of some interest to the public, as the enumerators will be at work shortly, and it will be well to know what questions to expect.

Schedule No. 1 is a nominal return of the living. No. 2 is a nominal return of the deaths within the last twelve months. No. 3 is a return of real estate, orchard products, nurseries, vineyards and market gardens. No. 4 is a return of farm products. No. 5 is return of live stock, animal products, home made fabrics, fur and labour. No. 6 is devoted to industrial establishments. No. 7 is a return of products of the forest; and No. 8 is given to shipping and mining.

THE LIVING AND THE DEAD.

The questions are printed in the schedule in both English and French. No. 1 schedule is divided as follows:—Numbered in order of visitation, vessels and steamers, houses in construction, houses uninhabited, houses inhabited, families, name, sex, age, married or widowed, relation to head of family, country or province of birth, French Canadians, place of birth of father, place of birth of mother, religion, profession, occupation or trade, employers, wage-earners, unemployed during week preceding census, employer to state average number of hands employed during the year. Under instruction two columns are given:—"Read" and "write"; and under infirmities are deaf and dumb, blind, unsound of mind. In all twenty-five questions are to be asked on this schedule.

In schedule No. 2, mortuary statistics are dealt with. Following are the questions:—Names of deceased, sex, age, month of birth, if born in census year, religion, country or province of birth, profession, occupation or trade, married or widowed, month of death, disease or other cause of death. Under public institutions, these questions are asked:—Special or legal name, number of buildings, number of inmates—in all, thirteen questions.

REAL ESTATE, FARMS AND THEIR PRODUCTS

In schedule No. 3, under the head of real estate, the following questions are asked:—Grand total of acres, number of town or village lots, number of dwelling-houses, number of stores, factories, etc., number of barns and stables. Under real estate occupied, the questions are:—Owner, tenant, or employe, number of acres occupied, number of acres unoccupied, number of acres improved, number of acres in pasture, number of acres in woodland or forest, number of acres in garden and orchards, also capacity in tons, of orchard products, apples, peaches, pears, plums, cherries, other fruits; acres of nurseries, vineyards, acres in vines, pounds of grapes, acres under market garden, all vegetables, acres under all kinds of small fruit.

Schedule No. 4 deals with the farm, and thirty-two questions are asked, as follows:—Spring wheat, acres and bushels; fall wheat and barley, acres and bushels; oats, acres and bushels; rye, acres and bushels; peas, acres and bushels; buckwheat, bushels; beans, bushels; hay, acres and tons; corn, acres and bushels; root crops, potatoes, acres and bushels; turnips and other roots, hops, tobacco, grass seed, clover seed, flax seed, flax fibre, hemp fibre, maple sugar (pounds)

Schedule No. 5 deals with stock and products as follows:—Live stock, horses over three years, colts and fillies under three years, working oxen, milch cows, other horned cattle, sheep, swine under one year, over one year, turkeys, geese, ducks, hens and chickens, other fowl, cattle killed or sold for slaughter, pounds of home-made butter, bees, number of hives and pounds of honey; pounds of wool, fine or coarse; home-made fabrics, yards of home-made cloth and flannel, yards of home-made linen, value in dollars of furs, amount paid for farm labor, including board, number of weeks of hired labor upon farm in 1890.

INDUSTRIAL AND COMMERCIAL

No. 6 schedule treats of industries:—Kind of industrial establishment; names of proprietors or company and similar information; fixed capital, in land, in buildings, in machinery and tools, working capital; employees, average number of males over 16 years, under 16 years; females, the same; aggregate amount of yearly wages in dollars, months in operation, full time, half time, quarter time; steam engines, horse power; water, horse power; gas or other motors, horse power; materials used, kind, quantities, cost at the factory using them, including freight charges; products, kind, quantities, values.

Schedule No. 7 treats of the forest, as follows:—Square pine, number of entire feet, white, red; entire feet of oak, white, red; tamarac, white, red; of birch and maple, white, red; of elm, white, red; of walnut, black or other; of walnut, hickory, or other square or sided timber; number of census standard pine logs, spruce or other logs; number of spars and masts, thousands of staves, cords of lath wood, of tan bark, of firewood, of fence posts; number of railway ties, of telegraph poles, cords of pulpwood, thousands of shingles.

In schedule No. 8, which treats of mines and shipping, under shipping comes:—Steam vessels, shares, tonnage owned; sailing vessels and barges, number and tonnage; name of mine, and name and address of manager or owner, quantity of products for the census year; number of months run, number of steam engines in use, and horse power; horse or water power, value of real estate, value of building, value of plant and tools, working capital, miners, labourers, aggregate amount of yearly wages, administrative force, aggregate amount of yearly salaries, number of horses, mules and oxen; accidents to human beings causing loss of life, accidents not causing loss of life.

The statistics to be gathered from the answers to these questions will be invaluable.

Satisfactory reports were read, showing the association to be in a good position.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

These officers were elected:—

THE RIFLEMEN'S REGRETS.

The following resolution was adopted with feeling emphasis on the part of the members of the association present:

That the members of this Association with deep sorrow and regret place upon record our deep sense of the loss we have sustained by the death of our old and valued friend and steady shot, Frederick Hall, who was always a faithful worker in this Association, and was for many years a most useful member of the council; he was one who always strove to protect our constitution and rigorously observed the letter of our by-laws; his many medals and trophies are proofs of his skill.

A copy of the resolution was ordered to be forwarded to the family of the late Mr. Hall.

OTHER BUSINESS.

The Association has done away with the system of giving ammunition prize at the monthly matches.

Monthly matches will be held on the first Friday of each month, beginning in May, the date being changed from Thursday. Some new regulations concerning the monthly matches were adopted, one of which was that no women are to be employed on the range as markers. This is a direct blow at Women's Rights. Last year women did about all the marking, but it was found they were too slow, and hired easily. Besides, there was the constant danger that their natural inquisitiveness would overcome their prudence, and in their anxiety to "see what gentleman was shooting now," they might accidentally get in front of a bullet. Women are crowding men out of most of the walks of life, but the line is drawn at markers for a rifle range.

GUARDING OUR GAME FOSTERING OUR FISH.

The Fish and Game Commission Sits in Peterborough.

Great Interest Taken by Local Sportsmen—Expert Sporting Evidence Tendered—A Resume of the Testimony.

The Ontario Fish and Game Commission began a session here at ten o'clock Wednesday, in the council chamber. There was a good attendance of our leading sportsmen and the interest they took in the questions upon which information was sought for legislative guidance gave the members of the Commission much satisfaction.

The inquiries of the Commission included a wide scope and covered such questions as those relating to deer, game, fish, game birds, fur-bearing animals, hares and rabbits, destructive animals and vermin, etc. The enquiry also extended to hotel keepers and merchants in sporting districts as to the effect that protection to game, or the withdrawal of it, would have upon travel and trade. Dealers in game, canoe builders, dealers in guns and tackle, and purvers and conductors were also expected to contribute their quota of information as to the effect which protection to game would produce, etc.

The commission was composed of Messrs. A. D. Stewart, Hamilton, J. C. Smith, Belleville, and E. W. Thompson.

WHAT SPORTSMEN THINK AND SAY.

The witnesses who appeared before the commission to give evidence were Messrs. R. E. Wood, Alex. Paterson, L. G. Steele, Jno. Richardson, (Lakefield), R. Walton, (Smith), George Cochrane, Wm. Brownscombe, J. D. Collins, E. Tivey and G. B. Sproule. The witnesses were not impaled in the witness-box mode, but sat in a circle around the commission, and the secretary. Mr. Stewart, by skilfully suggested questions, extracted the information available on the particular phase of the subject under consideration, and dotted down the generalized summary — the result of the collequal expression of opinion or statement of fact of the several witnesses. The following is a SUMMARY OF THE EVIDENCE.

In regard to fish, the trend of the evidence brought out, showed that the witnesses agreed in the opinion that the waters in this district were first-class. Some of the local streams had been depleted from over-fishing and unseasonable fishing. There was a considerable amount of illegal fishing—the principal were spearing, netting, snaring and shooting—not for sport either, but for making money. The witnesses were in favour of allowing bona fide settlers to take fish at all seasons for food purposes.

GAME BIRDS.

In the matter of birds, the witnesses were unanimously opposed to the exposure for sale of partridge—the prohibition to extend over five years, and the Secretary of the Commission stated that this opinion corresponds with that expressed by the majority of witnesses who had appeared before the Commission. The local witnesses were also opposed to the exportation of all bird game from Canada.

DEER.

In the matter of deer a great deal of interesting information was elicited as to the different seasons at which they are in the best condition for food, the hunting season and the beginning of the yarding or herding season. It was the unanimous opinion of the witnesses that no fawns should be allowed to be shot. Witnesses were not of opinion that deer killing should be entirely prohibited for a number of years; nor did they think that the "hounding" of deer should be abolished. Runway shooting before hounds was unanimously condemned as a cruel process whereby many wounded animals escaped only to fall an easy prey to wolves. Illegal killing was considerable practised principally by settlers The present law regarding the number of deer allowed to be shot by hunters was pronounced to be fairly good if it were only observed, but some thought that two deer per gun in one season was sufficient. The witnesses were of unanimous opinion that foreigners coming to kill deer in Ontario, from the United States, or other Provinces, should be required to pay $20 for a permit. They were also of one mind that a special service of game wardens should be established to protect game in Ontario.

WOLVES AND MINOR VERMIN.

Regarding wolves, it was unanimously held that that the present bounty of $6 should be increased to $15 as the destruction of wolves was very great and the small bounty now paid was not enough to induce hunters and settlers to go in pursuit of these animals. A bounty of $1.00 was advocated for the destruction of foxes, and of 25 cents for smaller vermin, such as owls, weasels, coon and skunk.

GENERAL SUGGESTIONS.

A great many tourists were said to visit this locality every season for fishing and shooting, the number increasing yearly. For this reason, and in order to produce a revenue towards the support of sub-wardens, it was thought that the permit system and an increased schedule of fees should be rigidly enforced. No person favored the suggestion that a license and fee should be exacted for using sporting weapons. None of the farmers take any pains to feed quail or game in winter, nor did that class ask for any better trespass law than the present statutes afforded.

The commission adjourned till 10 o'clock Thursday morning.

CASH HARDWARE STORE.

On and after 1st April we shall do business on a Cash Basis.

To cover the inevitable losses attendant upon a credit business, which accrue from amount of time spent in keeping accounts, collecting, bad debts, interest account, and in numerous other ways, larger margins of profit must be asked.

In these times cash buyers ask, expect, and are entitled to close prices. A careful consideration of the subject convinces us that the time has come for a cash business done on smaller profits.

The only customers who may possibly be put to inconvenience are those who have had long credit. In more ways than one it will be to their advantage to pay cash.

For convenience of our old customers who consider their accounts due when presented, we will call 30 days cash and render all accounts the first of each month, and we wish to say that will be happy to do business with them on these terms.

As the new departure is something of an experiment, what would be considered a close cash price will be made all through the stock. Not a few leaders only, but a general reduction in everything from the fourth flat to the cellar.

Our idea is to perform more than promised rather than promise more than can be fulfilled.

Our stock is large and varied, consisting of Builders', Contractors', Household, Mechanics', Painters', Shoemakers', Farm, Mill, Factory, Lumbermen's, Sporting, Threshers', Cabinet-makers', and other lines of Hardware.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

A MINING DEPUTATION INTERVIEW THE GOVERNMENT.

Mr. Ross' Amendment to the School Law Strong Measures to be Adopted to Put Down Truancy—General Notes of the Session.

TORONTO, April 3.—A deputation of Ontario miners waited upon the Government yesterday and presented the resolutions passed at the morning convention the past two days. After Mr. Conmee, the member for Algoma, had introduced the deputation, William Hamilton Merritt read the resolutions adopted by the convention. He said that while the mining interests had not been intentionally slighted they were of such a character as to deserve serious consideration. The convention would like to see a corner stone and foundation upon which to rear the financial interests of the province.

Mr. Mowat replied that he had read the reports of the proceedings of the convention with great interest. They were of a very important nature and covered a good deal of ground, and the Government would give the matter their best consideration before the end of the session.

Mr. Ross' bill respecting truancy and compulsory school education makes a number of important changes. It provides that all children between 8 and 14 years of age shall attend school for the full term during which the school of the section or municipality in which they reside is open each year, unless excused for reasons mentioned. The present law places the age limit at 7 and 13 years and the period of attendance at 100 days. The new bill also provides that the police commissioners, or, in cases where there are no police commissioners, the municipal council of every city, town, incorporated village and township shall appoint one or more persons to act as truant officers for the enforcement of this act. The truant officer shall, for the purposes of this act, be vested with police powers, and shall have authority to enter factories, workshops, stores and all places where children may be employed, and shall perform such services as may be deemed necessary for the enforcement of this act. And it shall also be his duty to institute proceedings for violation of the act. As a penalty, instead of $5 as at present, the bill provides that any person or officer mentioned in this act, and designated as having certain duties to perform in the enforcement of any of its provisions, neglecting to perform any such duties, shall be liable to a fine of not less than $25 nor more than $50 for each and every offence.

A deputation consisting of C. J. Pusey, president of the Irondale & Bancroft Railway, J. Burnham, M.P., J. R. Stratton, M.L.A., T. Blezard, M.L.A., J. B. McWilliams and E. Pearse of Peterboro, Mayor Walters, H. O'Leary, Col. Deacon and E. H. Hopkins of Lindsay, and W. Ince and G. M. Ross of the Toronto Board of Trade, and J. Lockhart Gordon waited upon the Government to ask a bonus for that railway, representing the great advantages which would result from developing the mineral resources of the region through which the road will run.

The large and influential deputation from London had its interview with Mr. Ross yesterday morning regarding the establishing of the new Normal School in London. The deputation left with the impression that their wishes would be acceded to.

Mr. Barr—Return showing what municipalities have passed bylaws under the provisions of the 4th section of the act 33 Vic., Chap. 35, imposing a business tax in lieu of the tax on personal property and what municipalities, after consideration of the question, have decided not to put the provisions of the said section into effect.

Mr. Bishop—Return showing what proceedings have been taken by the government investigating the business carried on by the Lion Provident and Life Association, with copies of any reports or orders in council connected therewith.

Yesterday morning there was found reposing in the water closet of the office building at 10 Wellington street east, owned by Warwick & Co., a piece of dead fish. It was badly decomposed. All the water which has been consumed by the occupants of the building in the past two weeks has passed over the putrid mass.

John E. Dall of 60 Bernard avenue, employed by Chiropolist Davidson as messenger boy, was arrested on a warrant yesterday charged with forgery. The boy was suffering the pangs of hunger, and being without money to secure the desired meal signed his employer's name to an order for a 15c. lunch at Nesmith's. When Mr. Davidson appeared at the police clerk's desk to swear out a warrant one of the clerks offered to reimburse him for the loss, but the professor would not be mollified.

THEY DIED TOGETHER.

Peculiar History of an Old Colored Couple A Son's Loyalty.

PITTSBURG, April 2.—Elizabeth and George Parker, a colored mother and son, the last members of a numerous family and old-time residents of Pittsburg, lie in their coffins side by side at No. 20 Logan-street. Mrs. Parker was 80 years old and died Sunday night. The son was 49, and his death occurred Monday. Both had pneumonia, superinduced by la grippe. The son chose to remain unmarried, the better to assist in caring for his mother. The couple were much attached to each other, and as the son looked quite as old as his mother they were often mistaken for husband and wife.

EIGHT HOURS A DAY.

The Movement Inaugurated in Several Cities Yesterday.

CINCINNATI, O., April 2.—The first demand for the eight-hour day in this city was made by 150 plasterers, who went on strike to-day. They had demanded as long ago as last August an eight-hour day and pay at 45 cents an hour. The rule has been 35 cents an hour with a nine-hour day. At a meeting held to-day it was decided to strike and committees were appointed to get all the plasterers to join them.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 2.—The tinners having refused to accept the agreement presented by the bosses were yesterday locked out. About 200 men were affected.

MILFORD, Mass., April 2.—All the Milford granite cutters quit work to-day because the demand for $3 a day, beginning to-day, was not granted.

PHILADELPHIA, April 2.—At a meeting last night of Clay Assembly, K. of L., composed of about 700 brickmakers, it was decided that the men would not go to work to-day, the opening of the brickmaking season. The employers decided some time ago to work under the schedule of 1889, which would lower the wages about 10 per cent. The employers have refused to treat with arbitration committees representing the workmen. The strike will involve about 3,000 men.

FALL RIVER, Mass., April 2.—All the mill corporations in this city have posted notices to the effect that after April 6 the day hands will be paid by the hour instead of by the day as heretofore. This is done in anticipation of the passage of one of the short-hour bills now pending in the legislature. If the fifty-four hour bill is passed the mills propose to reduce the wages in the same ratio as the product of mills is reduced, and this means a reduction of 10 per cent. in wages.

ERIE, Pa., April 2.—There is a general movement in Erie to make a demand for a reduction of hours of labor and an advance of 10 per cent. in wages on May 1. The Erie Board of Education, in making appropriations for new buildings, added 20 per cent. for increased cost of labor in anticipation of a reduction of the hours from ten to nine and an increase of 10 per cent. in wages, and have therefore given the keynote for the general movement on May 1.

CHICAGO, April 2.—About 200 plasterers struck this morning for an advance in wages to $4 per working day of eight hours. Most of the bona plasterers had already acceded to the demand.

LYNN, Mass., April 2.—The bricklayers to-day asked an increase to 42 cents per hour from 35 cents. The demand was complied with. The house painters asked an increase from $2.25 per day to $2.50. Most shops acceded and only four struck.

THE COLOR LINE.

A Sanguinary Conflict Ensued, in Which Six People Were Injured.

OMAHA, April 1.—A riot of considerable magnitude was provoked in the Keystone dinner hall by the refusal of the proprietor to serve two negro Pullman porters. A negro policeman interfered in behalf of his brethren, and the proprietor replied that neither he nor his men would serve negroes, and immediately ordered the entire force to throw the three colored men out. They tried to make their way to the door, and as Newman, the colored officer, interfered to protect them, he was hit in the mouth with a catsup bottle, knocking two of his teeth down his throat.

He endeavored to defend himself with his club, but his assailants were too numerous and he was repeatedly knocked down. He finally managed to draw his revolver and fired three times. As the crowd made a break for the door Officer Rose, who was passing, saw what was up, and rushed to the assistance of his brother officer. He knocked down two or three of the belligerents, receiving several blows in return, when one of the "Hashers" made a pass at him with a heavy meat cleaver. The fearful weapon was aimed to cleave the officer's skull, but just as it descended Officer Gadola, who had fought his way in, struck up the arm of the would-be murderer, knocking the weapon from his hand.

As it fell the keen blade struck Rose upon the nose, splitting open that organ from top to bottom. Everybody was covered with blood and the chop house looked like a slaughter pen. Two officers, two waiters and the two colored men were badly hurt.

Remi Lamontagne's Body.

MONTREAL, April 2.—Mr. J. H. Pillet, advocate, has received an acknowledgement from Quebec of the petition from the Lamontagne family for the body of Remi Lamontagne. The whole record of Lelia Lamontagne will be sifted out and in certified copy of the whole sent to the Washington authorities to establish that the spirit and letter of the extradition of Lelia Lamontagne have been broken by her present imprisonment for an offence for which she was not extradited.

Bob Harrison is Getting Old.

LONDON, April 2.—John Richardson of Dorchester and A. N. Harrison of Toronto met in the Grand Opera House here to-night in a wrestling match. Richardson won the first fall in catch-as-catch-can in ten minutes, throwing his opponent somewhat heavily. In Greco-Roman Richardson again secured the fall and the contest in four minutes. Harrison's backer disputed this fall, claiming it was not square, but the referee decided otherwise.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—That the President does not believe that the Italian embroglio will take a serious turn is evidenced by the fact that he is making arrangements for a trip to the south and west during the present month.

The Queen and the Indian Massacre—"Skin-the-Goat" and Other Phœnix Park Assassins on Parade—Prof. Koch in a Despondent Mood.

LONDON, April 2.—Accounts of the removal of the prisoners from the Downpatrick jail say that there was a great crowd present to see the Phœnix Park murderers as they came up, and when one of the prisoners sang "God Save Ireland" the majority of the crowd joined in the song. The greatest interest was shown in Fitzharris, alias "Skin-the-Goat," who looked remarkably strong and healthy. He was the most joyous of all the prisoners, and as he came from the building he began to repeat a number of verses of his own composition referring to incidents that had occurred in the prison since his incarceration. Mullett looked pale and delicate, in consideration of which he was placed in an outside car. The other prisoners walked two by two, handcuffed together. McCaffray, another Invincible, looked well also, as did Nally, who was convicted for the conspiracy to murder a brother of Scrabb. Nally and all the other Crossmaglen prisoners who had been found guilty of this conspiracy to murder appeared in fairly good health.

A special train from the Great Northern Railway had arrived at Downpatrick station last night, in order to do away the necessity of changing cars at Belfast. The prisoners, with their warders, left the station amidst renewed cheering and singing by the prisoners and by the crowd.

THE ITALIAN EMBROGLIO.

Little Trouble is Anticipated in Connection With Fava's Recall.

ROME, April 2.—Premier Rudini to-day sent another cable message to the United States on the subject of the New Orleans trouble. The message is a reply to Mr. Blaine's last note, and in it the premier says Italy has asked nothing but a prompt institution of regular judicial proceedings against the guilty parties at New Orleans. He adds that it would have been absurd to claim punishment for the offenders without the guarantees afforded by a regular trial. The diplomatic incident, Premier Rudini says, can only be considered closed when the Federal Government has declared in precise terms that the prosecutions will be commenced. In the meantime the Italian Government takes cognizance of the Federal Government's declaration, acknowledging the fact that compensation is due to the families of the victims by virtue of the treaty existing between the two countries.

FURTHER FROM MANIPUR.

The Massacre Instigated by a Brother of the Deposed Rajah.

CALCUTTA, April 2.—It is not known how the affray at Manipur commenced, but it has been learned that Commissioner Quinton was treacherously seized while treating with the natives. The Manipurs then scelled the residency. The Ghoorkhas defended the place as long as their ammunition lasted, then they fought their way out and escaped across the hills. They met Cowley, who escorted them to Lakipur. A detachment of troops stationed at Laogthobal were cut up.

In an interview the deposed Rajah of Manipur declared his brother, the present Rajah, would not kill his prisoners, but would merely hold them as hostages. The only fear is from the uncontrolable Kukis. The deposed Rajah offers to send another brother to endeavor to induce the ruling Rajah to release the prisoners.

Koch Cast Down in Spirits.

BERLIN, April 2.—Professor Koch is reported as being very much depressed with the indifferent success of his treatment for tuberculosis. Even his own partisans regard the boped-for cure as a failure, and say openly that however valuable the discovery may be from a theoretical and scientific point of view the practical results are not likely to amount to much.

French Fishermen Punished.

PARIS, April 2.—M. Barbey, Minister of Marine, has suspended the certificates of several masters of fishing vessels from Fecamp and withdrawn the certificates of one master for violent assertion of their rights on the Newfoundland banks by firing upon hinderers. The vessels concerned are still at sea.

The Queen Much Affected.

GRASSE, April 2.—Queen Victoria was greatly affected when the news of the massacre at Manipur was communicated to her. The Queen subsequently forbade the usual military band performance which takes place every evening before the balcony where the Queen is in the habit of sitting.

$8000 Fire at Brooklin.

BROOKLIN, Ont., April 2.—Last night about 12:30 fire broke out in the two-story brick block in Baldwin-street owned by Bickell & Smiley and occupied by R. C. Warren as a general store, H. N. W. Telegraph office, Bell Telephone Company and by C. H. Wilson as a dwelling. It originated in the store and before any alarm was given had destroyed the entire stock. Total loss about $8000.

Frozen to Death.

WINNIPEG, April 2.—A Nova Scotian named Archie McPhail, who has been trapping on Lake of the Woods and who has been missing since early in February, has been found frozen to death. On February 2 he visited Keewatin and sold furs, returning with supplies. It is supposed he became exhausted when within two miles of home, fell to the ice and was unable to rise again.

STRIKERS FIRED ON.

TWO VOLLEYS KILL SEVEN OF THE MOB.

And Wound Many Others—A Determined Attack Upon an Armed Guard—The Strikers do the First Shooting—Two Volleys Scatter Them Like Chaff.

MOUNT PLEASANT, Pa., April 2.—At about 2.45 this morning a mob of about 500 men began rioting at the Standard Works. They destroyed some of the company's property and then proceeded to cut the telephone and telegraph lines of the coke company so that no warning could be sent to the people at Morewood. About 3 o'clock a party of rioters between 400 and 500 strong marched to Morewood. The deputy-sheriffs were soon in readiness to receive the attack. After looting the company's store the rioters marched to the barn enclosure and attempted to break down the gates. They succeeded in doing this and as they entered Capt. Laurer called out to them to halt or he would fire upon them. Their answer was to fire a rattling volley in the direction of the deputies, none of whom were seriously injured. Capt. Laurer then gave the order to fire. Two volleys were fired before the mob broke and ran. Seven fell dead in the public road and 27 were found wounded, four of whom died. The rioters then broke into small groups and made their escape in various directions.

The Dead.

CRESZO BINERO, Italian of Tarrs, shot through the heart.

JOHN FUDORA of Standard, single, shot through the brain.

ANIOD RUST, Pole, single of Standard Works, shot through the head.

JACOB SCHUCASKEY, Pole of Tarrs, shot through the brain, leaves wife in Poland.

JAMES PROCHTE, Pole, single of Tarrs, shot through the head.

VALENTINE ZEIDEL, Slav of Donnelly, single, shot through the jugular.

PAUL DOHANNIS, Slav of Standard, shot in the head, single.

As usual during a raid the strikers were armed with revolvers, stones, iron bars and every conceivable weapon obtainable. The volleys from the Winchesters were well directed and but a few rounds were necessary to drive the frightened rioters back into the hills where hundreds of their fellow-strikers had gathered in anticipation of assisting in the raid but not in a battle with guards. The firing on both sides continued hardly three minutes. The volleys from the guards had terrible effect on the compact mass of strikers, while the latter made an attempt to return the fire with what weapons they possessed, but without effect. The dead were left lying in the road while the wounded, estimated at between 40 and 50, were assisted or bodily carried away into the hills by their fellows. All day the entire coke region has presented scenes of the wildest excitement. The foreign element especially has been driven frantic. Always turbulent, sullen and ready for desperate measures they are not one whit cowed by the death of several of their number, while they have sedulously concealed in their homes those of their number who were wounded, many, no doubt, unto death.

Late to-night word was received here that two more men concerned in the riot had died in strikers' houses near the Morewood works, where they had been dragged by their fellows. Their names could not be learned, but it is known that one was an English-speaking foreigner. These two deaths make nine in all that are known, but there is no doubt others are dead or in a critical conditions. Reports late to-night from all over the region indicate a fearfully dangerous and excited condition of affairs and the word that the military was soon to be on guard was received by the law-abiding labor officials and coke operators alike with the liveliest satisfaction at Leisuring.

At 9 o'clock this morning another attack was attempted by the coke strikers and three more were killed. Twenty-five of the rioters were wounded in this last scuffle. This story has not yet been confirmed from Morewood.

Labor officials deny the men at Morewood were killed for good cause and warrants have been issued for the deputies on the charge of murder, with General Manager Lynch of the Frick Company and Superintendent Ramsey of the Morewood plant charged as accessories before the fact.

HIS LIBERTY FOR HIS LIFE.

An Alleged Conspiracy on the Part of a Millionaire to Wreck a Man's Life.

CHICAGO, April 2.—Charges of a highly sensational character are made in a suit for $100,000 damages begun in the Circuit Court this morning. The plaintiff is Eugene Dunnivant, formerly a newsboy, who claims that his life has been wrecked as the result of a conspiracy between Orrin W. Potter, the millionaire president of the Illinois Steel Company, and Tom Fox, James Hennessy and Frank Allen, whom are also made defendants. In his declaration young Dunnivant avers that in April, 1885, he was a poor boy sixteen years of age, and was then engaged in selling newspapers in the district in which the Potter mansion is situated. While pursuing this vocation he made the acquaintance of Mr. Potter's daughter, a beautiful and accomplished girl. The acquaintance between the young people was distasteful to the girl's father, and Dunnivant alleges that in November he was induced to accompany Frank Allen to South Chicago. Allen had a confederate who was dressed so as to personate plaintiff. Some clothing was stolen presumably by Allen and his confederate, and Allan was arrested. As a part of the scheme to send plaintiff to the penitentiary it is alleged that Allan accused plaintiff of the theft and caused his arrest. He and Allan were jointly indicted for larceny.

At the trial in January, 1887, the daughter of Mr. Potter, knowing her lover's innocence, is said to have employed counsel to defend him. Dunnivant was convicted and sentenced to four years' imprisonment.

Dunnivant served his term in the penitentiary at hard labor, with the result that his health was broken completely, leaving him a physical wreck; hence this suit.

When found at night the boy and load dead to all appearances.

Blood on the Snow.

SPRINGFIELD, April 2.—Jack Prince was indicted for murder in the first degree on circumstantial evidence here to-day. He was suspected of murdering William Hennessy, a night watchman.

A $10 bill dropped soon after the murder was traced and examined with the microscope. Blood was found on it and the indictment followed.

What is Caste.

Must be carefully considered by the great majority of people, in buying even necessities of life. Hood's Sarsaparilla commends itself with special force to the great middle classes because it combines positive economy with great medicinal power. It is the only medicine of which can truly be said, "100 doses One Dollar," and a bottle taken according to directions will average to last a month.

The Beauties of the N.P.

In the Matter of Sugar, for Instance.

April 1st the sugar duties in the States disappeared under the provisions of the McKinley Act, that is all the duties on the sugar used by refiners; whilst the duties on refined sugar will be reduced from 3 and 3½ cents per pound to half a cent. The refiners have been allowed to refine in bond the raw sugar bonded by importers, in order that they might be able to fill the demand at the reduced prices on and after April 1. A New York paper says "they have been running at full blast under this arrangement, and sugar has been distributed in bonded cars to all parts of the country." It is expected that the removal of the duties will cause a drop in the price of two cents per pound on all refined sugars. In fact, the refiners have been selling bonded sugar to jobbers at 4½ cents per pound for April delivery. Up to Wednesday the price of sugar for immediate use was 6¼ cents. It is possible that the extraordinary demand may stiffen the price for a few days, but when the market rights itself the American housekeeper will be able to buy twenty pounds of granulated sugar for a dollar, instead of fourteen. In Canada we get thirteen pounds for a dollar, the wholesalers selling granulated to the retailers at seven cents, and the retailers charging eight cents for a single pound or a dollar for thirteen. Henceforth, therefore, granulated will be over fifty per cent. cheaper in the States than in Canada. Some have imagined that the reduction across the line would compel the Canadian refiners to ask for an increase in the duties. But that is not necessary. Our sugar tariff is quite high enough to exclude the cheap American article. On refined of all kinds and grades the duty is 1½ cents per pound specific and 35 per cent. ad valorem, and that coming from the States is struck with an addition of 7½ per cent on the sum yielded by those two imposts. Thus granulated selling at $4.50 per hundred at the American refineries would be taxed on entering Canada $1.50 + $1.57 + 23 cents = $3.30, bringing the price up to $7.80 per hundred, or nearly eight cents per pound. Hence the refiners, who bled freely for the Old Man, the Old Flag and the Old Policy, have nothing to fear from the era of cheapness which begins in the States now. The smuggler may temper their disposition to the shorn consumer along the frontier otherwise they are secure in their monopoly. The answer of the Tory press will be that we are a self-contained community, that it does not matter to us what the price of the necessaries and comforts of life may be across the line; and that our sugar duties furnish employment to a large number of people. It is scarcely worth while to discuss the first part of this ole estopped pies. If the presence of a million Canadians in the States and the speculation of thousands more flocking over this year are not sufficient to warn the Government against pursuing a policy which tends to render the conditions of life and of production less favorable here than there, it would not be convinced though one rose from the dead. The employment story is absurd. All told, the Canadian refineries do not afford work to more than 2,000 hands; it would be nearer the truth to say 1,500. But let us put the number at 3,000 so as to be on the safe side, and let us suppose the average yearly wage is $600 per man. That would represent an outlay of $1,800 000 a year for labor. The annual consumption of sugar in the Dominion amounts in round numbers to 220,000,000 pounds. As we could now buy this in the States for 3 cents per pound below the Canadian price, free trade in sugar with that country would mean a saving of over $6,000,000 a year. That is to say, if we had free sugar it would pay us well to give the Canadian operatives their present wages for doing nothing, to grant the sugar barons a consideration or pension of three millions a year for the plant and "good will of their monopoly, and then to close the refineries or set fire to them.

The coal oil tariff is another huge swindle on the Canadian people. American refined oil, in barrels, sells in the States at 6½ cents per wine gallon or 7¾ per imperial gallon. The Canadian duty is 7 1-5 cents per imperial gallon, the cost of Government inspection is a cent per gallon, and the duty on the barrel is equal to an additional cent per gallon; so that the protection amounts to 9 1-5 cents per gallon on an article costing 7¾. American water white oil, highest grade, sells in barrels at 7 cents per wine gallon or 8¼ per imperial gallon. The Canadian duty on this grade is likewise 9 1-5 cents. In all 300,000 barrels or about 13 000,000 gallons are consumed every year in the Dominion. Of this quantity the Canadian wells and refineries supply 200,000 barrels, while 100 000 come from the States. Our wells appear to be giving out, and, as every householder knows, the quality of the oil is not first-class. The price of all the oil consumed is augmented, of course, to the extent of the protection accorded to the Canadian wells; in other words, the consumer is fleeced to the extent of $1 200 000 a year on an article which is used in the main by farmers and artisans, and which they cannot very well do without. It is no wonder that the town of Petrolia voted almost to a man for the Tory candidate on March 5. Cotton is another necessary or convenience of life, and here again the N. P. plays into the hands of monopoly and scorches the people. The manipulators of this industry profess that their cotton is as cheap as that made in the States, and then proceed to controvert that assertion by declaring that free trade between the two countries would close every mill in Canada—that though their labor is cheaper than American their machinery is behind the age; that they are obliged to charge more because the smallness of the home market prevents them from specializing, and so on. It is equally notorious that, as a rule, iron and steel goods are cheaper in the States than in Canada owing to the enormous duties which Sir Charles Tupper levied four years ago in the interest of his Nova Scotia friends. He looked for a marvellous development of our iron wealth and talked in his grandiloquent fashion of seeing 30,000 men at work within three years with eighty or a hundred thousand later on. He forgot that half a dozen good blast furnaces could supply all the pig iron the market consumes in a year, and that we can never hope for any large growth of the industry until we get free entrance to the United States for the surplus output. The duties have increased the price to an exorbitant figure, in most cases far above that ruling in the States, and all we have to show for the wasteful experiment is four or five small iron mills, which are clamoring for additional protection. Things have reached a critical stage when fundamental articles as iron, coal oil, cotton and sugar, to say nothing of salt and coal, are dearer on this side of the line than on the other, especially in view of the fact that, speaking generally, the American artisan receives higher wages, and the American farmer a better price for many of his products than the farmers and artizans of Canada. If we tried, we could not devise a better plan for keeping out foreign labor and foreign capital, or for swelling the exodus of our own people. To say that the policy is a "loyal" one is to imply that loyalty and its impoverishment of the country are synonymous—a conclusion which no true friend of British connection can afford to press to its logical conclusion.—Globe.

THEY ALL HAD ONE.

A Blackthorn Pedlar's Ill-Luck in Sligo—Importing Surgeons.

SLIGO, April 2.—A queer feature of the town for the past few days has been the number of surgeons invited by their professional brethren of the place to assist them in caring for the injured of the various affrays and with an eye to the possibilities of to-day. A pedlar of blackthorn sticks has been doing a lively trade, although nearly everybody seems to be supplied.

The Parnellites have during the campaign made the strongest showing of physical aggressiveness and there are parts of the district where not even Davitt would dare to show himself.

There were scores of priests in Sligo to-day assisting in the canvass for the Healy candidate and Bishop Gilhooly himself made personal appeals and directed the ecclesiastical branch of the campaign.

SLIGO, April 2.—There has been a heavy polling in Sligo town, the most important place in the division, and the result is the anti-Parnellites are jubilant while the Parnellites are despondent. Michael Davitt, after a tour of the polling booths, said he was confident the anti-Parnellite candidate would receive a majority of 3000 votes. A large number of electors in North Sligo are illiterate, and consequently the manner in which they have voted is unknown. It is not expected the final result will be known until to-morrow afternoon. None of the ballot boxes will be opened to-night. There have been no serious disturbances.

COMMONWEALTH OF AUSTRALIA.

Canada's Constitution Approved By the Federated Colonies.

SYDNEY, N.S.W., April 2.—The Australian Federation in convention now in session here has approved of the title, "Commonwealth of Australia," for the federated colonies. The convention also adopted the clause of the constitution providing that the chief executive of the federation shall be known as the Governor-General and that he shall be appointed by the Queen. A proposition that the Governor-General should be elected by a popular vote was rejected 35 to 3.

Their Sailboat Upset.

DETROIT, April 2.—The body of a man recovered from the upset sailboat in Lake St. Clair yesterday evening was identified today as that of Frat Bedore, son of Joe Bedore, the well-known boat keeper at St. Clair Flats. The other is known to have been Jacob Kehl, son of Henry Kehl, who keeps a place near Bedores. The young men sailed down from the flats Tuesday to sell some ducks and started back early yesterday morning.

One Distinct Point.

One distinct point about Hagyard's Yellow Oil is that it is just as good for external as for internal use. It is a cleanly, prompt and pleasant cure for rheumatism, colds, croups, sore throat, wounds, bruises, sprains and chapped hands, etc. No household should be without it. 2w11d

THE effect produced by Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Colds, Coughs, Croup, and Sore Throat are, in most cases, immediately relieved by the use of this wonderful remedy. It strengthens the vocal organs, allays irritation, and prevents the inroads of Consumption; in every stage of that dread disease, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral relieves coughing and inducing refreshing rest.

"I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for thirty years and have always found it the best remedy for croup, to which complaint my children have been subject."—Capt. U. Carley, Brooklyn, N. Y.

"From an experience of over thirty years in the sale of proprietary medicines, I feel justified in recommending Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. One of the best recommendations of the Pectoral is the enduring quality of its popularity, it being more salable now than it was twenty-five years ago, when its great success was considered marvelous."—R. S. Drake, M. D., Beliot, Kans.

"My little sister, four years of age, was so ill from bronchitis that we had almost given up hope of her recovery. Our family physician, a skilful man and of large experience, pronounced it useless to give her any more medicine; saying that he had done all it was possible to do, and we must prepare for the worst. As a last resort, we determined to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and I can truly say, with the most happy results. After taking a few doses she seemed to breathe easier, and, within a week, was out of danger. We continued giving the Pectoral until satisfied she was entirely well. This has given me unbounded faith in the preparation, and I recommend it confidently to my customers."—C. O. Lepper, Druggist, Fort Wayne, Ind.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

For some time past we have thought a strictly cash business in Flour, Feed and Provisions could be successfully carried on in Peterborough, and to test this question, we have purchased the above business from Mr. C. N. Brown who will still continue as manager in Flavelle's old stand, Simcoe street.

In order to be successful we intend to make it the interest of everyone to pay cash with order by selling at wholesale prices.

We will positively give no credit and cash customers will not have to keep up the losses made by others on the credit system.

We will keep a full supply of the very best quality of Flour, Feed, Chop, etc., and our customers need not fear that the quality of the goods will be lowered to make up for the reduction in prices. We are simply giving them the benefit of the margin necessary to cover losses and interest charges incurred on the credit system.

How the Pope is Chosen.

Preliminaries being settled, the balloting begins. First to cast his vote is the dean of the college, who writes the name of his candidate on a slip of paper eight inches in length and four in width, which he folds, and sealing it at both ends, folds it once more in the middle, and then drops it in the bowl nearest his desk. All follow in the order of their rank as members of the college. As each deposits his ballot, he holds it in his hand, and advancing to the altar, kneels and solemnly calls the Deity to witness that he chooses for pontiff the person whose name is written therein. On the vote being finished, the inspectors advance to the bowls and taking out the ballots unfold them and make a list of the vote, showing the number of ballots cast for each candidate. To elect a pope, it is necessary that the successful candidate should receive not less than two-thirds of the entire vote cast. Failing this, the ballots are torn, thrown into a straw heap and burned, and the straw being dampened, the thick smoke that ascends is a signal to the outside world of the progress of the conclave. The incineration of the ballots closes the session for the day, and the conclave does not reassemble until evening.

At the evening session an opportunity is given to those cardinals representing foreign powers to state whatever serious objections may exist to any of the candidates, and which, in the event of that candidate's election as pope, might operate to the disadvantage of the Vatican abroad. These objections are duly considered. Twice in the present century have the foreign cardinals successfully opposed the election of leading candidates. There are many modes of conducting a papal election, but the simplest and most generally used is that described.

Proceeding with the election by ballot, voting is continued on the lines indicated until a choice is reached, and this is made known to the people by the absence of the smoke; for, although the ballots, as in the unsuccessful instances, are also burned, the smoke is not permitted to escape. When the result is reached it is announced by the ringing of a bell. All the senior cardinals advance to the place occupied by the newly-chosen pontiff and inquire if he accepts the election. On receiving his affirmative answer, he is at once saluted by the entire college. He then announces the name by which he desires to be known throughout the world as the head of the church; and, after putting on the robe and head-dress of his new office, he is approached by the camerlengo, who places upon his right finger a new "Ring of the Fisherman," the old one having been broken in pieces according to immemorial custom. Each cardinal in turn approaches and salutes the hand and foot of the pontiff with the "two-fold kiss," and the assemblage dissolves.

When one remembers that 34 of the 60 odd cardinals are Italians and that a two-thirds vote is needed to elect, it will be seen how difficult it would be, in any event, for a foreigner to overcome the united Italian vote. But not always is this vote united; some are, like Alimonda, leaning toward the royal house of Italy, although they would still preserve the papacy free from the intermeddling or control of cabinets and courts. The Crispi influence gone and the allied cabinets of the three powers no longer to be dreaded, the field seems clear for a Vatican election without pressure when Leo passes away.

Some time ago the Independence Belge declared that it had positive information that the pontiff desired that Cardinal Lavigerie should be selected as his successor, and had intimated as much at the last consistory. No better foundation to this statement can be found, however, than the wish of certain politicians to advance the interests of France at the Vatican. Charles Martial Allemand-Lavigerie, now archbishop of Carthage and Algiers, is a native of France, and has become known to the world mainly through his anti-slavery crusade. He has, during a period of 30 years, traveled over and worked everywhere in a vast extent of territory, and is almost worshiped by his people. Although a septuagenarian, his robust physique and black hair, relieved by an almost snow-white beard, show that he has yet many years of energetic effort before him. Still it is hardly among the probabilities that the crusader cardinal will ever sit in the chair of St. Peter. Indeed, there would even seem to be equal likelihood of Cardinal Mermillod, of Switzerland, or an American being chosen—two extremely remote possibilities. The militant leader of the church to-day is Vicar General Lucido Maria Parocchi, around whom all conjecture as to the succession seems to naturally centre, and who will probably attract to his support the conservative element in the sacred college, as well as many of the more progressive, who recognize in him a man of tremendous energy, a rare diplomat, an eloquent and learned prince of the church, and one well calculated to resist the encroachments of the allied governments upon the papal power.—Detroit Sun.

Drill in the British Army.

Of prowess with the sword and with the bayonet there is a full plenty, and many and close are the desperate bouts which the fortnight's tournament produces. Every possible combination which the soldier in actual warfare is likely to have to face seems to come within the scope of his drill. The unmounted infantryman whose magazine is emptied is swooped down upon by a cavalryman armed with his sword, and each rushes at the other as if dear life depended on it, or maneuver for position as if a slip would not only end the chance of glory, but their days. It looks—indeed it is—quite real, and the spirit of it is as much so that when the bayonet pierces, or seems to pierce, the cavalryman under the arm and glides apparently six inches into him, one almost expects to see the blood follow its withdrawal. It is only when we are confidently informed that the bayonet is set on a spring and retires down the barrel, instead of entering the man's side, that apprehension is wholly removed.

Of the theoretical drill, if it may be so called—i. e., the drill which is directed to developing accuracy and quickness without the interposition of a living enemy—there are long and varied competitions, of which that known as "heads and posts" may be taken as a type. In this competition the horseman has to traverse a distance of about 100 yards, during which he has to gain his impetus, execute six distinct evolutions with the sword, three on one side of his horse and three on the other, jump a flight of hurdles and come to a dead stop; and he has to do each of these in the orthodox regulation way, and in no other. Every muscle in the body and every bone in the hand and arm must be just where theory says it will be most effective, and in no other place. It is this which gives the competition and the antecedent drill their disciplinary value.

The first evolution, at the end of the first fifteen yards, is a forward cut on the right of the horse which must sever the neck of a dummy head level, like a supposed footman, with the cavalryman's arm and lay it rolling in the dust. The next, at fifteen yards, on the left of the horseman is a thrust at a supposed foe, and in proof of the accuracy of the aim the horseman must remove a ring on his sword point. The third is a back-handed cut, which must bring down another head, supposed just to have ridden up. Then comes the hurdle, and on landing, almost at its foot, is another thrust. The fifth is a low cut at infantry on the opposite side, quick as lightning, and the final a thrust at infantry represented by a ball on the left side very low. Seeing that the whole of these operations must be performed with regulation accuracy, their rapid and perfect accomplishment marks a swordsman of ingenuity and nice finish, whom the transfer to actual warfare would find ready.

A Fanatic.

A young knight made his battle-cry—
"I'll fight the evil till I die."

And forth he rushed with heedless might
To do his battle for the right.

And recklessly he laid about,
And ruthlessly, and felt no doubt.

But blindly struck whate'er he was
That seemed to him to have a flaw.

At length a doubt came to his mind;
He paused, and turned, and looked behind.

Alas! too late he understood
How deftly mingles ill with good.

With swimming eye, with reeling brain,
He saw the good that he had slain.

Himself seemed evil to him now,
And then he thought upon his vow.

And, lo, the warrior lay at rest,
With his own dagger in his breast.

Some Foolish People

Allow a cough to run until it gets beyond the reach of medicine. They often say, "Oh, it will wear away," but in most cases it wears them away. Could they be induced so try the successful medicine called Kemp's Balsam, which is sold on a positive guarantee to cure, they would immediately see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Price 50c. and $1. Trial size free. At all druggists. dw

It Does Its Work.

Mrs. James Dix, Brock street, Kingston, Ont., says: I suffered with an inflamed throat and bad cough for seven months. Was treated by physicians without success, when six doses of Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil cured me. It's as palatable as cream. For sale by all druggists. dw

A Good Practice.

If the children suffer from pimples, irritated skin, headache, etc., Burdock Blood Bitters is by far the best remedy. Mr. McConnell, 28 Henderson Avenue, Toronto, says, "Since I have made a practice of using B.B.B. my children have got strong and well." 2w11d

Weather Probabilities.

Lower temperature and sudden change often give rise to coughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis, and lead through them to consumption. A little care and the use of Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam will effectually cure any cough and give pleasant relief even in confirmed consumption. 2w11d

It Pays Best.

It pays best to keep a good medicine like Hagyard's Yellow Oil always on hand in case of accident or of emergency. It cures colds, croup, sore throat, rheumatism, wounds, bruises, burns, etc. Price, 25 cents per bottle. 2w11d

Daily Examiner.

FRIDAY, APRIL 3, 1891.

Mr. Gilbert McKenzie, the Reform candidate, was elected to the Legislature by acclamation in South Grey Wednesday.

Admiral Sir Provo Wallis, who was Capt. Broke's lieutenant in the famous Shannon-Chesapeake battle, will be 100 years old on the 12th inst., and Halifax friends are preparing to present him with a piece of plate on that day.

Here is a circumstance which throws into strong and by no means creditable relief the Dominion methods of conducting and gambling the results:—Hon. Joseph Martin and Mr. Robert Watson, M.P., are both citizens of Portage la Prairie. On March 5 Mr. Watson was elected to the Commons. On March 30 Sir John Macdonald's election officials declared the result. On March 28 Mr. Martin was elected to the Legislature. On March 30 the Local Government officials declared the result.

An instance of time literally being money, is afforded by one of the curiosities of the Auditor-General's report in the account of the expense of firing the noon gun on Parliament Hill. The man who performs the dangerous but honorable duty gets $100 a year, or about 30 cents a shot, which seems to be moderate enough. The amount of powder used is 500 pounds, and its costs $128; friction tubes and bags cost $22, and rent of time-ball line $60; the yearly cost of announcing the dinner hour in this picturesque way is $297.

The revenue of the Department of Crown Lands last year was $1,113,062, of which $185,671 came from sales of land, and $916,155 from sales of timber. The latter item may again be divided in this way: From bonuses, $185,479; from ground rent, $58,096; from timber dues, $722,580. The ground rent and timber dues constitute the ordinary revenue from timber, and the fact that they amount to $780 676 in an exceptionally dull year is satisfactory. The sale of October last was held with the view rather of giving a supply of timber to millowners in the Northwest than of obtaining revenue; yet the financial result was good. The bonuses obtained for the 3762 miles sold amounted to $346,556, or $909 a square mile; in addition to this the limits sold will yield revenue in the shape of ground rents and timber dues. The Government has now sold in all 2,653 square miles of limits, from which it has received $2 807,337 in bonuses, besides a revenue from timber dues and ground rent averaging nearly $1 000,000 a year. The department is doing something for the preservation of the forests by employing 33 fire rangers, who did such good work last year that there are no fires to record.

The American Sault Canal.

Work on the new American Canal at the Sault will be actively prosecuted during the coming season. The first canal built there was commenced in 1853, and in 1855 the first vessel was locked through from Lake Huron to Lake Superior. This canal consisted of a lock with two wells, and was built chiefly out of the proceeds of the sale of 750,000 acres of land granted by the United States Government to the State of Michigan. In 1870 the Canal now in use was commenced. It cost $2,250 000. In 1889 the tonnage passing through amounted to over 7,500,000 tons, as compared with 106,200 tons in 1855. Some time ago, Congress made an appropriation for the construction of what is practically a parallel lock with double the capacity of the present one. This new lock will be 800 feet long between the gates, 100 feet wide and 44 feet deep. The cost will exceed $3 000 000. No tolls are charged on vessels using the Sault canal, not even on Canadian vessels. The Dominion Government is building a canal of its own, which will be finished shortly. The American canals, for there will really be two, are works of vast importance to the copper and iron districts on the American side of Lake Superior and also to the Duluth wheat shipper.

A Warning to All.

With the approach of spring time, the ruthless, pitiless hand of disease is laid on the old and young, the rich and poor. Every system, during the winter months, has been charged with impurities; the blood is sluggish, and the digestive vigor is imperfect and out of gear. Confinement in overheated and imperfectly ventilated houses has brought on nervous debility, dizziness, headache, difficult breathing, restlessness and sleeplessness. Dyspepsia has commenced its terrible work; there is distress in the stomach after meals; the food remains too long in the stomach and the blood is tainted and poisoned, so that the circulation is retarded and hindered. Is behooves all to cleanse and purify the system, strengthen the weak nerves and flabby muscles, and invigorate the digestive organism. To secure this desired end, that great and well known remedy—Pelau's Celery Compound—must be used. No other preparation can so effectually do the required work and give the sick one such a healthy, vigorous and robust constitution, as well as a clear and unclouded brain. Go to your druggist and procure a bottle and test it; you will be agreeably surprised with the result.

Local Legal.

A meeting of the Law Association was held yesterday afternoon for the purpose of appointing a representative from Peterborough at the meeting of the joint committee of the Law Association, which is being held at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, to-day. The Spring Assizes for the county of Peterborough commence here on Monday next before Mr. Justice McMahon. It is probable that the old-time custom of presenting His Lordship with a pair of white gloves by the Sheriff will form an interesting and gratifying feature of the opening proceedings at the Court, as there are no prisoners in gaol awaiting trial. The following civil cases are entered for trial:—Leonard vs. Town of Peterborough. Yomaes vs. Young. Ashwath vs. Henry. Mooles vs. Lyle. It is expected that the sittings of the Court will not occupy more than two days.

The White Store.

Mr. J. C. Turnbull's dry good establishment will in future be known as the white store. The work of improvement has been completed, and the store to-day presents a bright and attractive contrast to its former appearance. From front to back every bit of wood work except the counters have been painted white, and the walls and ceilings papered in light and tasty colors. The brightening influence is enhanced by the enlarged window space in front. The windows have been deepened and new glass doors put in, admitting of more light than formerly. Upstairs the work has not yet been finished, but Mr. Turnbull contemplates having it ready for the near future for show rooms for the mantle and carpet departments. The millinery rooms in the rear of the main store which have an entrance on Simcoe street, have also undergone an improvement with paint and paper, and added lustre to the tasty show room is lent by the show of millinery goods made during the opening now being held. Mr. Turnbull's millinery department is always a centre of attraction for ladies, and particularly so at the present time, when all the spring fashions are exposed for their admiration—and purchase. Mr. Turnbull, in addition to the staple lines of Canadian goods, and the very latest styles in materials and shapes, shows a fine lot of imported trimmings and millinery goods, which are well worth inspection. Miss Mahoney, who is in charge of this department, is a skilled milliner, whose superior taste the ladies of the town are not slow to appreciate and avail themselves of. The whole store has been re-modelled throughout. Mr. Turnbull has reason to feel proud of his premises.

Sons of England At Home.

A Highly Successful Soiree Socials Given by Peterborough Lodge, S.O.E.

The jolly Britishers and their friends enjoyed one of the most successful "At Homes" of the season last night. Peterborough Lodge of the Sons of England fairly distinguished itself, and won the encomiums of all who attended the delightful entertainment. This is the second "At Home" given during the winter by Peterborough Lodge, and is regarded all previous efforts by the Sons of England in this line. There has been more or less friendly rivalry among the different societies in town as to who should carry off the honors for having the most brilliant "At Home," and the Masons, Oddfellows, Foresters and Sons of England have in turn entertained their friends with most gratifying results. Such pleasant affairs cannot fail to benefit the lodges under whose auspices they are held, while bringing before the public the advantages derived from membership in these fraternal organizations.

The last of the series, though far from the least, was given by Peterborough lodge, S.O.E., Thursday night, and it was second to none held this winter. There were about 250 persons present, mostly young people, who enjoyed the amusements provided, or engaged and listened to the programme as their inclinations dictated. There was no lack of amusement provided for all. The spacious rooms were handsomely decorated with bunting, flags and flowers, the walls being ornamented with pictures, and at the entrance landing was a may pole. Guests were received at the door by the usher, Mr. Jos. Wyatt, who showed them the cloak room and then conducted them to seats within the lodge room. A large proportion of the guests were in evening dress, which gave the gathering a gay appearance.

At intervals during the evening the different numbers on a short but meritorious programme were announced by the chairman, Mr. F. L. Somerville, president of the lodge, and all the performers received their just meed of praise. The programme was as follows:

Selection.....The Orchestra
Chorus.....The Jones Family
Song.....Mr. Drope
Piano Solo.....Mr. Umpleby
Duet.....Mrs. Seward and Mrs. Singleton
Recitation.....Mrs. Dr. Goldsmith
Selection.....The Orchestra
Song.....Miss Parcott
Violin Solo.....Prof. Hayter
Vocal Solo.....Miss Wrighton

About half-past ten o'clock a substantial lunch was served at a table set in the rear end of the room. Messrs. T. Hooper and H. Long catering to the wants of the guests. Then the ball of the ball which was spread with linen was cleared, and to the music of the orchestra a couple of hours were spent in a social dance, in which all joined heartily. The programme comprised twelve dances, as the conclusion of which a circle was formed and Auld Lang Syne was sung. This was followed by the National Anthem, after which the gathering dispersed.

All who attended the At Home speak in the most complimentary terms of the successful efforts made by the Sons of England to give their guests a pleasant evening. The different members of the lodge wrought indefatigably to make all feel comfortable and thoroughly at home, and there was the greatest of harmony and a complete absence of stiffness or constraint observable throughout. Much credit is due the committee who had charge of the At Home for the admirable arrangements they carried out. The committee was composed of Messrs. W. Brundrette, J. A. Prentice, F. Foote, W. D. Parker, J. Long and T. Hooper. They deserve the thanks of their fellow Englishmen, as well as of those who had the privilege of spending such a jolly evening with them.

A Day of Deputations.

Peterborough and this District Well Represented—Railway Bonuses Sought—Cheese-making Northumberland—The County Council of Peterborough on Hand.

Thursday was a day of deputations, no less than five having waited on the Government.

THE RAILWAY REPRESENTATIVES.

The first deputation was soliciting aid for the Irondale & Bancroft railway, a project that has often been before the Government, and now appears to make what it is believed is the last effort for its life. The deputation was composed of Messrs. C. J. Posey, president of the company, J. B. McWilliams, J. Burnham, M. P., East Peterborough, and E. Pearse, county clerk, from Peterborough; Mayor Walters, H. O'Leary, Col. Deacon and E. H. Hopkins, from Lindsay; and Mr. Wm. Ince and Mr. G. M. Rose, representatives of the Toronto Board of Trade. They were introduced by Mr. J. R. Stratton, West Peterborough's representative, accompanied by Mr. T. Bizard, member for East Peterborough. Mr. Posey first addressed the Attorney-General and Mr. Fraser, chairman of the Railway Committee. The point to which the attention of the Government was now directed was the usefulness of the projected railway as a colonization agent over and above the work it was calculated to do in opening up the rich mineral resources of the country to which it would run. Messrs. Ince and Rose and J. Lockhart Gordon of Toronto, Col. Deacon and Mayor Walters all briefly addressed the Ministers, and the Attorney-General promised the attention of the Government to the points that had been urged in favor of the assistance asked for.

THE BRIDGE BUSINESS.

There were three deputations with reference to Dr. Willoughby's bill to make all bridges within 80 chains of a county boundary county bridges. The first that had the ear of the Minister was from Peterborough County. On it were Warden Frank Fenhirst, Messrs. John Burnham, M.P., reeve of Ashburnham; A. McCauley, reeve of Belmont; John Moloney, reeve of Dnro; M. Sanderson, reeve of Smith; George Stewart, reeve of Otonabee; James Moore, reeve of Asphodel; E. Pearse, county clerk, and John Belcher, county engineer. This deputation, too, was introduced by Mr. Stratton. The first three gentlemen were spokesmen, and presented reasons why the bill should not be passed. They said it was exceptional legislation and brought forward by Dr. Willoughby with the sole object of putting upon the County of Peterborough a part of the cost of the bridge over the "Trent narrows," which as the law now stands is upon the united Counties of Northumberland and Durham, and is rightly on those counties, the deputation urged, according to the use to which the bridge is put. Moreover, the passage of the bill would re-open the question of maintenance of the Kinmount bridge, which the law courts had settled between Peterborough and Victoria. The deputation represented that the County of Peterborough at present is heavily burdened for the cost of bridges within itself—that there are 50 county bridges of lengths of from 100 to 350 feet, which cost from $100,000 to $120,000 to build and maintain.

THE OFFSET.

To offset the Peterborough men were deputations from Victoria and from Northumberland and Durham. The Victoria representatives were:—Warden A. E. Stabock and Messrs. Robert Adams, E. H. Hopkins, J. Lithgow, D. Carmichael, W. C. Switzer and Capt. Bottom, members of the County Council, and County Clerk J. E. McNellis. Dr. McKay, member for West Victoria, presented them. Mr. McNellis read a lengthy document in which the case of the county in favor of the passage of Dr. Willoughby's bill was stated. At the sight of the formidable roll of foolscap, which the county clerk unrolled, some of the Ministers forsook the Attorney-General and disappeared through the door of the Speaker's dining room. The complaint of the deputation in effect was that by sharp practice the county of Peterborough some years ago put the township of Harvey out of itself into the County of Victoria and with it the cost of maintaining the Kinmount bridge. Having succeeded in this, Peterborough beat Victoria in the courts when the case was tried, but Victoria continues to consider itself wronged, and to-day urged the Government to right it by the passage of Dr. Willoughby's bill, which would throw upon Peterborough a share of the cost of the Kinmount bridge.

The deputation from Northumberland and Durham was presented by Dr. Willoughby, and consisted of Wardens Ferguson and Masons. W. H. McCallum, deputy reeve of Hope; J. J. Preston, reeve of Manvers; T. B. Carlow, reeve of Percy. They, too, urged the passage of the bridge bill.

DIED:

LYNCH—In Otonabee, on the 2nd of April, 1891, John Lynch, sander, aged 69 years.

Our Crown Lands Domain.

Some Interesting Facts Culled From the Commissioner's Report.

The report of the Commissioner of Crown Lands for the year 1890 was laid before the House Thursday. One of the first matters referred to in it is the discovery of the deposits of nickel in the Sudbury region. It says these discoveries "were so extensive as to create a sort of boom, which led to numerous applications to the department for leave to purchase mining lands. By order in Council dated the 29th November, 1890, the nickel-bearing region was withdrawn from sale or location until further notice." With regard to mineral surveys the report says:—"The General Mining Act requires that applicants to purchase mining lands in unsurveyed territory shall file surveyor's plans, field notes and descriptions by metes and bounds of their locations in the department before any sales is carried out. Under this statutory regulation a number of applicants in the Districts of Algoma, Nipissing, Rainy River and Thunder Bay have filed plans, etc., etc., and an area of upwards of 14,000 acres have been sold and patented to them, for which upwards of $23,000 has been received." The patents in the Rainy River district covered 7,344 acres, and brought $18,000, while in the other districts named covered 5,976 acres and amounted to $11,900.

CROWN LANDS SOLD.

This statement of lands sold, amount of sales and amount of collections for the year is given:—

Service.	Acres Sold.	Amount of Sales.	Amount of Col'n's
Railway lands	3,669	$18,277	$11,499
Crown lands	50,043	79,947	74,021
Literary lands	1,000	1,210	6,207
Common School land	220	705	11,789
Grammar School lands	584	307	1,035
Total	55,926	$100,777	$104,551

"Total total" collection of the department on account of all sources of revenue was $1,113,062, made up as follows:—Land collections, $185,671 13; woods and forests—timber dues $722,580 14, ground rent $58,095, bonus $135 479 53—$916,155 67; casual and other fees, $1,193,18; expenditure refunds, $10,122,31; total, $1,113,062 29.

The total disbursements of the department for the year amount to $290 953.

WOODS AND FORESTS.

The total collections for the year for woods and forests amounted to $916.155.67, which includes $135,479.53 on account of bonuses, leaving the revenue from timber dues, ground rent, etc., to be $780 676 14. "The revenue from woods and forests," the report says, "is somewhat lower the sale made, which is accounted for by the collapse in the square and waney board timber trade, there being very little demand for this class of timber during the past year. While, therefore, the quantity of timber estimated was got out, it was unsaleable, is still in the hands of the producers and the dues remain unpaid. There was also a depression in the sawed lumber trade during part of the season, and this, together with the financial stringency which prevailed later on, made collections somewhat slow. The reduction in the import duty upon sawn lumber going into the United States States from $2, to $1 per thousand feet board measure came too late in the year to have very much effect on last season's business, although there was a stiffening towards the close of the year, due, no doubt, to the reduction in question. The quantity of timber being got out this year is very small, and there is also a reduction in the output of logs. It is reasonable, therefore to expect for the coming season a fair business at remunerative prices, and that the reduction of the American import duty will enlarge our market to some extent—more particularly for the coarser grades of lumber.

"In order to enable the prospecting mills in the northwest part of the Province to obtain supplies of timber in harmony with the police prevailing in other parts, it was determined to hold a sale of limited area of timber berths as soon as the necessary surveys and explorations could be completed. With this object in view, an adequate staff was placed in the field, and the necessary information was obtained to warrant the holding of a timber sale on the 1st of October last. There was a large attendance at the sale, and fair prices were realised. Four hundred and eighty-five miles were offered, all of which, except 165 miles, were in the territory west of Thunder Bay. Three hundred and forty-three and three-quarter miles were knocked down on the day of sale for $321,956 25, and 33 miles were sold subsequently at the upset price, realising $27,300, making a total mileage sold of 376¾, realising $346 256 25, or $919.06 per mile bonus for the mere right to obtain licences. There has been paid on account $110 729.53, leaving outstanding $235,526 72."

The report says that the fire-ranging service continues to give satisfaction and is more largely taken advantage of from year to year. There were no fires during the past year. There were 83 rangers on duty during the dangerous part of the season, and the total cost of the service was $17,525 43, one-half of which is refundable by the licensees. The reports received from fishery overseers and others, the Minister says, lead him to believe the law was fairly well observed. The revenue from permits was $441. Under the amendment to the game law which requires foreigners to take out permits to hunt deer, nineteen permits were issued, the revenue from which amounted to $190. Under the head of free grants the report says that last year there were 153 townships open for settlement, and during this year the township of Cavendish has been opened. During the year just closed 610 locations were made on 83,273 acres of land, and 53 locatees purchased 2,345 acres; 456 patents were issued to locatees.

A BAD HUMOR CURED.

$5,000 Expended on Doctors and Medicine with scrofula. Sores himself up to die.

Cured With Cuticura Remedies.

Uses them 7 months, and is entirely Cured.

"I was in the war during 1863-65, and took a heavy cold at Corinth, Miss., which I never fully recovered. In 1875 I broke out in sores all over my chest and shoulders, which spread somewhat in time. I tried all the blood doctors I could find, and to no avail. I expended over $5,000 in all, and suffering to-day to find a local cure, and finally giving myself up as to die, my friend Mr. Hosmer said to me, one day, to try the Cuticura Remedies, which were an extraordinary advertised and used. I followed his suggestion, and am happy to say that by different applications of your Cuticura Remedies for seven months I was entirely cured, now counting five years and a half, and entirely without scrofula, and am a sound and well man to-day. You may refer to me if you wish, as I will tell any one who may call." (Signed) Pearis Gale, 1 Fulton Fish Market, New York.

Purify Your Blood

The importance of keeping the blood in a pure condition is universally known, and yet there are very few people who have perfectly pure blood. The taint of scrofula, salt rheum, or other foul humor is hereditary and transmitted for generations, causing untold suffering, and we also accumulate poison and germs of disease from the air we breathe, the food we eat, or the water we drink. There is nothing more exclusively and positively proven than the power of Hood's Sarsaparilla over all diseases of the blood. This medicine, when fairly tried, does expel every trace of scrofula or salt rheum, removes the taint which causes catarrh, neutralizes the acidity and cures rheumatism, drives out the germs of malaria, blood poisoning, etc. It also vitalizes and enriches the blood, thus overcoming that tired feeling, and building up the whole system. Thousands testify to the superiority of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier. Full information and statements of cures sent free.

CASH HARDWARE STORE.

On and after 1st April we shall do business on a Cash Basis.

To cover the inevitable losses attendant upon a credit business, which accrue from amount of time spent in keeping accounts, collecting, bad debts, interest accounts, and in numerous other ways, larger margins of profit must be asked.

In these times cash buyers ask, expect, and are entitled to close prices. A careful consideration of the subject convinces us that the time has come for a cash business done on smaller profits.

The only customers who may possibly be put to inconvenience are those who have had long credit. In many ways than one it will be to their advantage to pay cash.

For convenience of our old customers who consider their accounts due when presented, we will call 30 days cash and render all accounts the first of each month, and we wish to say that will be happy to do business with them on these terms.

As the new departure is something of an experiment, what would be considered a close cash price will be made all through the stock. Not a few leaders only, but a general reduction in everything from the fourth flat to the cellar.

Our idea is to perform more than promised rather than promise more than can be fulfilled.

Our stock is large and varied, consisting of Builders', Contractors', Household, Mechanics', Painters', Shoemakers', Farm, Mill, Factory, Lumbermen's, Sporting, Threshers', Cabinet-makers', and other lines of Hardware.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

EXTENDING THE TORRENS LAND SYSTEM

What Mr Mowat Had to Say Thereupon The Conviction of Farmers' Sons Forms the Subject of a Debate in the House Yesterday.

TORONTO, April 4.— In the Ontario Assembly yesterday Mr. Wood (Hastings) asked whether it was the intention of the Government to take any steps for the purpose of extending the benefits of the Torrens system of land transfer to other counties of Ontario on the same terms as the system was introduced into the city of Toronto and county of York.

Mr. Mowat in reply said the same terms applied to the whole province as to Toronto and York. Although the act applied specially to Toronto, York and a few other places, any county, city or town might adopt the system by passing a bylaw declaring such expedient. The act was imposed upon Toronto and York because it was so important that it was desired to show other municipalities how it worked. Any other municipality may adopt the system by passing the necessary bylaws. The act was passed for Toronto in March, 1885. In that year there was a deficit between receipts and expenditures of about $1000; in 1886 a deficit of about $1600; in 1887 a deficit of $900; in 1888 a deficit of about $1000. But in 1889 there was a surplus of $2000 and in 1890 a surplus of $1200. In all the practical result was that there was a deficit of only $331. He believed the receipts would soon exceed the expenditure.

Among the bills introduced was one by Mr. Tait to amend the Municipal Act by compelling telegraph and telephone companies to put their wires into cable and to allow other companies the use of their poles.

The attention of the House was occupied the greater part of the afternoon in discussing the facilities for education afforded farmers' sons. It came upon a resolution of Mr. McLenaghan that in the opinion of the House greater local facilities should be given to farmers' sons by which they could secure a better education in their own calling than is afforded under the provisions of the law as it now stands.

The attention of the House having been directed to the question the motion was withdrawn.

ENGLISH OPINION

Of the Italian-American Riot Embroglio.

LONDON, April 3.—Current opinion here is setting more steadily against the action of the Marquis di Rudini in trying to force the hands of Mr. Blaine in the matter of the lynching of Italians in New Orleans. To-morrow's leading high class weeklies devote considerable attention to an analysis of the position and generally discuss the affair from the standpoint of the United States constitution. The Spectator holds that "serious thinking Americans will admit the imperfection of the constitution, and that they are bound to remedy the defect all the more because there is a small chance of their being compelled to remedy it."

The Spectator ridicules the notion of Italy declaring war against one of the greatest powers in the world a power capable within six months of buying and building a fleet that would block every port in Italy American ingenuity would be so stimulated to outdo itself that it would turn every steamer that could float into an improvised ironclad."

The Economist says: The Marquis di Rudini and his Government cannot sit still, cannot fight and cannot obtain the redress they want without fighting Italy's allies, will never permit her to risk a war that would disturb European combinations. The United States holds the exceptional position that it cannot be conquered by any power or probable combination of powers even if all Europeans allied and made the attempt. But the United States also cannot conquer any great power. Yet if the United States continues to claim exemption from pressing international obligations its position will not be supported without new internately laws or a recourse to war to obtain modifications.

The Conservative press apply the difficulty to illustrate the evil that would result from the concession of Home Rule to Ireland and the comparison will have undoubted potency in electoral platforms. If autonomy should be granted to Ireland, it is argued, how could the Irish be compelled except forcibly to observe foreign and impartial obligations. It is argued that "Federal institutions cannot be worked by a nation having wide external interests. They worked with success in the United States because until recently that country had no foreign policy." The Conservatives fling about with delighted surprise these new reasons against home rule. It was reported to-night that Lord Salisbury, on the instigation of the Marquis di Rudini, would offer to mediate for adjustment of the difference between Italy and the United States. A high foreign official said, however, that the question had not been discussed.

O'Malley Surrenders.

NEW ORLEANS, April 3.—Dominick O'Malley, the notorious detective charged with having attempted to pack the jury in the Hennessy case, created a sensation here to-day by surrendering himself. There are three indictments against him, one as accessory to the crime of bribing one of the jurors in the Hennessy case, one for perjury in a suit in the Civic Court several years ago and one for attempting to procure the commission of perjury in 1882 in a criminal suit of the state against himself. O'Malley gave $3000 bail. He looked well though rather pale. He refused to talk, but said he would make a statement. He would not tell whether he had been away from the city or not. His bondsman says he has been here all the time.

To be Extended to Simcoe.

WALKERVILLE, April 3!—The Lake Erie, Essex & Detroit Railway is to be extended as far as Simcoe for the purpose of opening up new territory, from which Walker & Son can readily draw supplies of wheat, barley and oats.

Burned to Death.

BRADFORD, April 3.—Mrs. Fegner, living on the 11th con. West Gwillimbury, was attending to her duties, whereby some means her clothes caught fire and when her son, John Steven, who had been from the house only a few minutes, came in he found her lying on the floor apparently unconscious and badly burnt. Dr. Stevenson was called and did all he could to relieve the sufferer, but died 1931 p.m.

A SIGNIFICANT PLACARD.

THE SOFIA ASSASSINATION CHARGED TO RUSSIA.

Parnell's Candidate Defeated in North Sligo—Tragic Death of An Amateur Actor on the Stage—British Victory Over the Manipuris.

SOFIA, April 3.—This city has been extensively placarded with a poster which conveys a thinly-veiled accusation of Russia as the instigator of the plot which resulted in the death of Minister Baltcheff. It contains this sentence: "Our enemies having despaired of annihilating the country by internal revolutions, knowing they are detested by the army and the nation, now have recourse to the vilest means—attacking statesmen in the dark."

LONDON, April 3.—Foreign Office advices from Berlin and Paris are more hopeful for the continuance of European peace. Nevertheless, the uneasiness in British official circles remains the same. The Government is reported to have received information through the St. Petersburg embassy placing beyond a doubt existence of a formal defensive and offensive alliance between Russia and France, including stipulations that France will support Russia in her plans against India.

THE MANIPUR MASSACRE.

Lieut. Guerdon's Description of the Affair—An Act of Treachery.

CALCUTTA, April 3.—Lieut. Guerdon, one of the officers who escaped from Manipur, has telegraphed as follows: "The British force advanced on March 24 in order to arrest Chief Jubrai, who had deposed the Rajah of Manipur. The Manipuris resisted and a general engagement ensued. We ran short of ammunition and retreated to the residency at Manipur. The Manipuris then attacked and shelled the residency. Finding our ammunition exhausted, we offered to arrange terms for a cessation of hostilities. To this the enemy seemed to agree, and consequently the chief commissioner and others went out to meet Chief Jubrai, but the chief commissioner and those with him were seized and held as prisoners. After the capture of the British officers the Manipuris resumed their attack on the residency. We were obliged to retreat and fought our way across the hills until we met Cowley's detachment." A report has reached there that the treasury at Manipur has been looted.

British Troops on the March.

RANGOON, April 3.—Brigadier-General Graham is in command of the force advancing from Tamu to attack Manipur. Uneasiness is felt regarding the safety of a detachment of 80 Sepoys under Capt. Grant which left Tamu for Manipur before the news of the attack on that place was received.

A British Victory.

CALCUTTA, April 3.—Advices from Manipur say the British have attacked and carried by assault Ft. Thabat, situated 12 miles from Manipur and garrisoned by 1000 Manipuris.

NORTH SLIGO ELECTION.

The Parnell Candidate Defeated by Nearly 800 Majority.

DUBLIN, April 3.—The Parliamentary contest in North Sligo resulted in the election of the McCarthyite candidate, Ald. Bernard Collery, by a majority of 771. Collery secured 3130 votes to 2359 for Ald. Valentine Dillon, a cousin of John Dillon and a solicitor of Dublin. The seat was made vacant by the sudden death of Peter McDonald (Parnellite), who was returned unopposed at the last general election. The electoral district contains 8605 votes, of which 5489 were polled.

Ald. Dillon's agent has lodged a petition against the return of Ald Collery on the ground that the presiding officer of the grand polling place unlawfully adjourned the polling while he went to refresh himself.

The elections for poor law guardians in Northwest Cork yesterday resulted in majorities for the McCarthyites' candidates of 2 to 1. The ward was supposed to be a Parnellite stronghold.

Parnell in his final utterance before the result of the polling at Sligo was known, declared: "If we are lost it will be such a victory as will show by comparison with the Kilkenny election that our cause is progressing." Davitt, besides blaming the loose system adopted in polling the illiterate vote as losing the Nationalists hundreds of votes, traces the reduction in the expected majority to the Conservative support given to the Parnellites. It is estimated 450 Conservatives voted for Dillon.

Speeches made by the Parnellites after their defeat was known showed unabated pluck. In the contest each side worked with undoubtable energy and skill. The Parnellites tried to dupe Catholic voters by displaying bogus telegrams from Rome to the effect that the Pope disapproved the anti-Parnell policy of the Irish bishops and had detained Archbishop Walsh in that city to prevent him from interfering with Parnell. Archbishop Walsh found it necessary to wire a direct denial. The events in Sligo have so widened the breach between Parnell and his old followers that the gulf will be forever unbridgeable. Parnell's phrases, "Foul-mouthed Healy" and "Maudlin Sexton," and his charge that Sexton was in a speechless condition of drunkenness on his arrival in Sligo intensified the fury of the Nationalists.

Parnell will preside at an amnesty meeting in Dublin Sunday, when there will be opened a vigorous amnesty agitation whereby he hopes to strengthen his ranks.

ANOTHER MINE EXPLOSION.

Causes Terrible Loss of Life in an English Coal Mine.

LONDON, April 3.—A disastrous explosion in a coal mine took place to-day at Apedale, Staffordshire. Ten persons were killed outright and several were severely injured. The bodies of the dead miners have been extricated from the portion of the mine where the explosion took place. The cause of the disaster is supposed to have been the presence of fire damp in the mine and the foolhardiness of one of the miners after the presence of the danger gas was first discovered.

Peanut Growers Alarmed.

RICHMOND, Va., April 3.—Reports received here from several of the principal peanut sections of this State and from Turboro, N.C., announce that growers of that crop are alarmed at the spack of war between Italy and the United States. A war, it is feared, would mean death to that industry since two-thirds of the crop is handled by Italians.

UNDER TONS OF SNOW.

AN AVALANCHE OF SNOW SWEEPS DOWN FROM A CLIFF.

Many Persons Killed and Others Injured in Newfoundland—Bodies Mangled Beyond Recognition.

HALIFAX, N.S., April 3.—At St. Anthony, Nfld., an avalanche of snow swept down from a high cliff and buried under its enormous weight the house of Levy Andrews, about 60 or 70 feet from the foot of the cliff. Nine persons were in the house at the time of the accident, five in the loft and four in the kitchen. Mrs. Andrews was going out in the porch at the time and six days after her lifeless body was found under 14 feet of snow. The head was smashed in and her neck and arms broken. The eldest daughter was discovered lying across the stove, rigid in death and the stove was smashed in atoms. One of the sons died from his injuries. At the time of the terrible affair George Reid was up in the loft again; a trap and is unable to lift his arms to his head. One of the girls rescued had her leg broken and suffered considerable pain. It was an awful sight to behold the disfigured bodies and the house broken up like so much tinder wood.

OH! THE RARITY.

Shocking Cases of Misery and Destitution Amid Filth and Dirt.

NEWMARKET, April 3.—John Hambly, whose wife is in Hamilton asylum, is the father of several young children who live with their parents amid the filth and dirt of an old house in York-street. Although Hambly earns good wages as a laborer and has steady employment his family are in want and misery. For thrashing his eldest daughter with an iron poker Hambly was brought before Police Magistrate Pattullo and the case was adjourned, and in the meantime an effort will be made to have Hambly's neglected offspring sent to an industrial school, where they can be properly taken care of.

More Than Motherless Babes.

STOUFFVILLE, April 3.—Living in a log hut in the swamp, along the railway track about 2½ miles northeast of Stouffville, live two families, Hamiltons and Middletons, in a wretched state. The woman called Mrs. Hamilton is lying in bed sick and miserable. There are about eight small children between the ages of six months and 12 years, some of them nearly naked. One young lad is blind and paralyzed and is an object of pity, his feet being frozen in the house a short time ago. It is next to impossible to describe the appearance of the hovel they are in, dirt and squalor and filth on every side. It is a horrible place for human beings and especially for a sick woman and young children.

Friends She Had None.

DUNDALK, April 3.—An old woman, who appears to be a confirmed tramp, was given comfortable lodging at the Connor House. She retired, but not to sleep. About 1 o'clock she began to sing and yell, awaking everyone in the house. Mrs. Connor and other ladies arose and endeavored to quiet her, but in vain. Dr. Greenlaw prepared a soothing dose for her, but she refused it with the advice: "Drink it yourself, dear." Left alone, she jumped out of the side window, barefooted and bareheaded, yelling "Murder!" As it was a very cold night she was caught and brought back, kept until morning and then turned loose.

A Peculiar Mania

ARNPRIOR, April 3.—Patrick Malia, who is well known throughout the Ottawa district as an expert hunter and bushman, held the delusion that Thomas Havey had for some time past been applying a "magnet," as he termed it, to his (Malia's) head which caused him great torment, and he resolved to shoot Mr. Havey in order to remove the trouble. With loaded rifle he lay in wait for Mr. Havey, but fortunately did not succeed in getting a shot at him. He was arrested and brought to Arnprior.

Fiends Justly Punished.

WALTER'S FALLS, April 3.—Some young men coaxed Mr. Barker's dog into John Seeks' shop, and after pouring turpentine on him set fire to him and let him go. The dog ran some miles trying to escape the fire, but could not, and was burned so badly that he died. James Walters was fined $25.25, including costs, or 40 days in jail; Frank Walters was fined $15.89, including costs, or 30 days in jail, and the three who witnessed the act were each fined $7.89, including costs for breaking the Sabbath. The two former men will serve their time in jail.

A Uniform Monetary System

WASHINGTON, April 3.—The International American Monetary Commission, which organized here last January, closed its sessions to-day by adoption of the following: "Resolved that this commission brings its sessions to a close expressing the wish that before long another commission may meet which shall reach an agreement to bring about the adoption of a uniform monetary system among the nations of America advantageous to one and all."

Fears of a Flood in Montreal.

MONTREAL, April 3.—Fears of a flood are predominant at Montreal, the immediate cause of the sudden anxiety being the shoves that took place in the ice to-day and the rise of water which followed, the water which is rising steadily being now within 6½ feet of the level of the road. It is thought that while the dyke may withstand the force of the ice it may not be watertight and this is looked upon as an element of danger.

Here's a State of Things.

WINNIPEG, April 3.—Watson's majority in Marquette is 40, he gaining 31 on the recount. In some places the total vote was thrown out owing to the illegal manner in which the deputies had marked ballots. Boyd claims he is defeated by blunders of deputies and that he has an actual majority of 37. A protest will probably be entered.

A Fateful Day for Murray.

LONDON, April 3.—The trial of Robert Murray for the murder of William O. Rowe in Metcalfe, was begun to-day at the Assize Court here before Justice Falconbridge. It was shown by the defence that the first blow was struck by Rowe and that Murray had previously borne a good character. The evidence was concluded this evening and the case will go to the jury to-morrow.

They Died "Game."

SOMERSET, Pa., April 2.—The Neely brothers, who murdered and robbed Simon Umberger, an old farmer, and robbed him of $2,000, were hanged at 1.45 this afternoon. They both met their fate protesting their innocence. Death resulted from strangulation. The bodies were cut down about 19 minutes after the trap was sprung.

Killed by a Log.

EXETER, April 3.—While Mr. Colley of Stephen was driving through the woods on his farm, logs from the upper slope, through some accident, started rolling down the hill, striking the said driver and killing him.

The Poor Italian.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., April 3.—There is considerable commotion among the railroad lines in this state and there are indications that the Italians are avenging their countrymen by destroying property. Two attempts to wreck the fast express on the B. & O. Railway were detected in time to prevent loss of life. A large depot and store building on the Baltimore & Ohio at Constitution was blown up with dynamite, completely wrecking the building and causing a heavy loss. All the contents were destroyed. All these crimes are charged to the Italians.

Crushed His Head to a Jelly.

NEWMARKET, April 3.—A young Indian lad named Porte, employed in Dr. Babbald's bush, was cutting down a tree when it fell upon him, as he was from beneath a newly-felled tree with his face crushed almost beyond description. The dead boy was an orphan, being a son of the late Moses Porte of Georgina Island.

Cuticura Dry for Pitcher's Chapped,

RAVAGES OF THE GRIP.

A Decrease in Chicago's Death List—A Patient Insane from the Disease.

CHICAGO, April 3.—The death list to-day showed a marked decrease, the total being 116, a decrease of 99, as compared with the day previous. City Health Commissioner Wickersham attributes the improvement to the effects of sunshine on the grip sufferers.

A despatch from Council Bluffs, Iowa, says: "The public schools in this city will probably be closed on account of the sickness prevailing. The complaints mostly are the grip and measles, although there are some cases of scarlet fever and diphtheria. One-third of the teachers are unfit for duty."

READING, Penn., April 3.—Judge Ermentrout issued an order this morning for the transfer of John Pelt from the county prison to the State Lunatic Asylum. Van Pelt is the man who made a murderous assault upon Dr. A. M. Hengst of Birdsboro, by whom he had been treated for the grip. The testimony of physicians was to the effect that Van Pelt's reason had left him because of his long and continued illness from the disease.

Mr. Mercier's Mission to France.

PARIS, April 3.—In an interview to-day Mr. Mercier, the Canadian delegate, explained the objects of his mission, which, he said, was intended to counteract the United States tariff law. He aimed to negotiate a loan of $12,000,000 for the conversion of the internal debt and the development of railways and other resources. He would study the best sugar industry in Belgium and Germany, in order to apply the same system in the Dominion, and consult the French Government and French Chambers of Commerce in regard to the exchange of French wines for Canadian timber. He had contracted with the Societe Hippique to export to France horses bred in Canada in exchange for French stallions.

Political Gossip.

OTTAWA, April 3.—The Maritime Provinces members are almost a unit it is said, on Prof. Weldon as Mr. Quinet's successor. Quinet wants Mr. J. F. Wood to succeed him, however. It is stated that Mr. De Boucherville will be the next president of the Senate. Last year there was a French Speaker in the Commons and an English Speaker in the Senate. This year there will be one Englishman and one Frenchman, but the latter will be in the Senate and the former in the Commons if present intentions are not changed.

A leading Cabinet Minister denies the report that Hon. C. C. Colby has resigned as president of the Privy Council.

A Dose of Poison.

WINDSOR, April 3.—Patrick Ryan, a tramp, attempted to commit suicide by taking poison at Comber. He was pumped out and brought to Windsor yesterday. He was sent to Sandwich for three months as a vagrant.

Honorably Acquitted.

MONTREAL, April 3.—Herbert Capewell, who was arrested in Toronto on a charge of obtaining goods under false pretences from the firm of John Watson & Co., was honorably discharged to-day and returned to Toronto.

Will Come to Toronto.

HAMILTON, April 3.—Chairman Blaicher and other members of the Finance Committee, will go to Toronto on Tuesday, when the bill authorizing the city to issue $300,000 debentures will come before the House. The Freeholders' Association will send a deputation to secure a clause inserted so that in the event of a future overdraft the city can't get legislation to enable it to pay it off.

The jury returned a verdict of accidental death.

THE BRITISH FARM DELEGATES.

All will remember the visit of the British farm delegates to Canada last year—"to spy out the nakedness of the land." They were a most intelligent and practical body of men, capable of forming a sound, and willing to give an honest, opinion of the agricultural capacities and possibilities of the country. They travelled it from end to end. That their opinions were favorable is shown by the reports they took back with them to the old country. The following extracts, which gives the opinions of delegates representing different parts of the country, will be read with interest. What Canada most wants is a change in her political condition that will make these correspond to the unrivalled natural agricultural capabilities of the country, and then we shall have little need to beg for population to come to the Canadian Canaan from the pent up Egypt of the mother and other lands:—

THEIR VALUE INESTIMABLE.

The value of these reports, as independent testimony of British farmers well acquainted with all the details and with every aspect of agriculture cannot be over estimated. They afford the reliable means of obtaining information concerning Canada which is free from the slightest suspicion of exaggeration such as might attach in the minds of many desiring emigrants to reports emanating from those who are avowedly anxious to draw population into the Dominion. The facilities afforded by the Canadian Government for the free dissemination of the reports in this country through the Government agents (Mr. John H. S. Dyke, Canton, buildings, Water street, is the Canadian Government agent in Liverpool), from whom they may be obtained on application, ensures wide diffusion of information on the true state of affairs in Canada.—Liverpool Courier.

THE EFFECT OF THE REPORTS.

The reports of the tenant farmers delegation's visit to Canada, if carefully perused and bravely acted upon by emigrants to the Dominion, should prove the means of showing thousands of men and women who are now struggling unsuccessfully with poverty in England, how to make a new start in life, and win cheerful comfort, and even substantial prosperity.—Leicester Journal.

HONEST EVIDENCE.

For those anxious to find homes in the far west the pamphlets in question are invaluable. It sometimes happens that agents get up glowing accounts of regions into which they wish to direct the stream of emigration. But the farmers' reports have been prepared with an honest purpose, and state facts without indulging the pleasures of the imagination.—Newcastle Chronicle.

RELIABLE AND TRUSTWORTHY.

The Dominion Minister of Agriculture could have adopted no better means of making known the excellent resources of the country, and to the British public the reports published by the delegates will be of the greatest value. People have begun to view with suspicion the glowing accounts given of emigration fields by agents, and, no doubt, at times, worthless and inaccurate statements have been made, but the four little pamphlets that have been issued for distribution in the three kingdoms by the delegates can be accepted as thoroughly reliable and trustworthy. Being practical men, they have recorded everything and left out nothing which will help the reader to form a just estimate of the country. In order that no suspicions mind might accuse the delegates of being biased, the Canadian Government allowed them to go where they pleased and see what they liked. The result is that we have a thoroughly impartial account of the advantages and disadvantages of the territories in the Dominion.—Manchester Courier.

ELOQUENT TESTIMONY OF PROGRESS.

Viewed in the light of the experience of the last farmers' delegation that visited Canada 10 years ago, the report is striking confirmation of the views then expressed, and eloquent testimony of the progress that has been achieved during that interval. For all practical purposes the reports are far and away the best and most reliable literature available for those who wish to learn the true condition of life and work, and the prospects of settlers in our great dependency.—Cornish Post.

IMPARTIAL, AND, THEREFORE, CONVINCING.

The delegates have much to say that is fresh, based on their practical knowledge of agriculture, and they are to be congratulated on the spirit of impartiality in which they carried out their task.—Boston Independent.

NOT GOING FROM HOME.

Plenty of room, indeed! Is capable Highlanders at home could only see in vision the prosperity and comfort of those who at home had lived from hand to mouth, they would not hesitate, but would at once hasten to join their friends, who are able to have from 18 to 80 and 100 acres under wheat, and to rear 20 head of cattle in a year, yet have 40 head more! But Canada is a land of many provinces, each having its own peculiarities and merits, with openings for thousands upon thousands of men, especially agriculturists with experience, a little wealth, and an abundance of the spirit of enterprise. In going to Canada such people are not going from home, or among strangers, but to a part of the old empire, and among friends who are of their own blood and kindred.—Glasgow Times.

Hygiene and Sanitation.

Our Canadian doctors should always interest themselves in every branch of practical hygiene and sanitation. Their education should fit them for considering the best means of promoting health, and to warn against all things which have a tendency to destroy it. To-day few physicians who visit families in their charge ever look into or examine the conditions which surround these families, whether or not they tend to health or disease.

It is to be regretted that the great subjects of hygiene and sanitation are so much neglected in our large centres of population. Seeing that this is the case we should guard ourselves and families from the malarias, effluvias and contagion which surround us every day. Our health should be in a condition to resist all disease. To secure a perfect condition of health, a contented mind and a cheerful disposition, it will be well for us to use Paine's Celery Compound. Let us bear in mind that the spring season is always a dangerous one, and that the system requires toning up, the nerves require strengthening, and the digestive organs must work harmoniously.

Paine's Celery Compound is the great agent for this rebuilding and recuperating of body, nerves and brain. Every family should have it in their homes at this particular season.

How to Become Rosy-Cheeked Women.

The political battle is over, but the battle with disease must be constantly and unceasingly waged else the grim reaper will come but victorious, and loved ones will be gathered to their long home. On all sides may be seen pale and listless girls who should be enjoying the health and glow of rosy youth. Everywhere we are met with women young in years, yet prematurely old, who suffer in silence almost untold agonies, the result of these ailments peculiar to the female system. To all such, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills come as a blessing. They restore wasted vitality, build up the nervous system, enrich the blood, and transform pale and sallow complexions into glowing, rosy cheeks that along follow perfect health. In a word they are a certain cure for all these distressing complaints to which women and girls are peculiarly liable. A trial of these pills will convince the most sceptical of their wonderful merit. For suffering men Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are equally efficacious. For overwork, mental strain, loss of sleep, nervous debility, and all those diseases that lead to broken-down manhood, they are a certain specific, stimulating the brain, reinforcing the exhausted system and restoring shattered vitality. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are nature's restorative and should be used by every weak and debilitated person. For sale by all dealers or sent, post paid, on receipt of price (50 cents a box), by addressing the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A Saw Mill Removed.

The Bigelow saw mill, on Pigeon Lake, will soon have disappeared. Held by the Ontario Bank for debt, it has been dismantled bit by bit. The limits have been broken up and sold to various parties, and the engine, boiler and machinery has been purchased by Mr. Hazlitt, of Peterborough, and removed to his mills at Harwood. Mr. J. P. Davis undertook the removal, and it was no small contract. Some of the loads took three teams, and they were all taken down the Buckhorn road. Mr. Davis accomplished the work without any mishap.—Independent.

A Cure for Constipation and Headache.

Dr. Silas Lane while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and herbs, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick headache, and is the best spring medicine. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50c. and $1 a package. dw

Important and True.

No better evidence of the fact that Burdock Blood Bitters is certain remedy for all blood disorders can be asked than that of Mr. Geo. V. Thomas, druggist, of Hull, P. "Like Magic,"

THE effect produced by Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Colds, Coughs, Croup, and Sore Throat are, in most cases, immediately relieved by the use of this wonderful remedy. It strengthens the vocal organs, allays irritation, and prevents the inroads of Consumption; in every stage of that dread disease, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral relieves coughing and induces refreshing rest.

"I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for thirty years and have always found it the best remedy for croup, to which complaint my children have been subject."—Capt. U. Carley, Brooklyn, N. Y.

"From an experience of over thirty years in the sale of proprietary medicines, I feel justified in recommending Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. One of the best recommendations of the Pectoral is the enduring quality of its popularity, it being more salable now than it was twenty-five years ago, when its great success was considered marvelous."—R. S. Drake, M. D., Beliot, Kans.

"My little sister, four years of age, was so ill from bronchitis that we had almost given up hope of her recovery. Our family physician, a skilful man and of large experience, pronounced it useless to give her any more medicine; saying that he had done all it was possible to do, and we must prepare for the worst. As a last resort, we determined to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and I can truly say, with the most happy results. After taking a few doses she seemed to breathe easier, and, within a week, was out of danger. We continued giving the Pectoral until satisfied she was entirely well. This has given me unbounded faith in the preparation, and I recommend it confidently to my customers."—C. O. Lepper, Druggist, Fort Wayne, Ind.

CHANGE IN BUSINESS.

I beg to announce to my late customers that I have sold out my business to Messrs. Hilliard & Peplow, and I would bespeak for them the same support as has been accorded me.

C. N. BROWN.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

For some time past we have thought a strictly cash business in Flour, Feed and Provisions could be successfully carried on in Peterborough, and to test this question, we have purchased the above business from Mr. C. N. Brown who will still continue as manager in Flavelle's old stand, Simcoe street.

In order to be successful we intend to make it the interest of everyone to pay cash with order by selling at wholesale prices.

We will positively give no credit and cash customers will not have to keep up the losses made by others on the credit system.

We will keep a full supply of the very best quality of Flour, Feed, Chop, etc., and our customers need not fear that the quality of the goods will be lowered to make up for the reduction in prices. We are simply giving them the benefit of the margin necessary to cover loses and interest charges incurred on the credit system.

Goods delivered to any part of the town or Ashburnham.

CHINAMEN IN CANADA.

HOW HE ELUDES THE VIGILANCE OF CUSTOMS OFFICIALS.

The Certificate-Passport System—Sold in China at from $50 Up—Form Good at Making a 40-year Old Appear to be Only 24.

Every Chinaman who leaves Canada takes a certificate which shall serve as his passport when he returns. He may take out a certificate when he does not mean to leave the country. He may take one when he is merely going to smuggle himself over our border, and never means to go back to the Dominion. Or he may take a certificate when he has made all the money he needs, and is on his way to China to end his days there, after years of that luxurious idleness which the average laborer expects upon obtaining in China from the judicious investment of $2000—the coolie's plum. Of course it is fair to presume that in many cases the certificates are demanded by men who mean to return. At all events, these certificates, which are passports to Canada, and indirectly to the United States, have a money value. They are sold in China. They can be purchased openly to-day in the streets of Hong-Kong, like ducks or chopsticks. There they possess a fluctuating value, and have been known to fetch as high as $55. Sometimes they are let go at a less price than the $50 they are expected to save in the avoidance of the poll-tax, the fluctuations being governed by the demand at the time of the departure of a vessel, because only so many uncertified Chinese laborers may take passage on the steamers under the Canadian law—one to every fifty tons of the ship's burthen. Of those who carry certificates and of those not of the laboring class as many as choose may come.

It is to guard against trickery with the certificates that the customs officials at Victoria and Vancouver have all that they can manage. When a Chinaman enters the office of the collector to apply for a certificate, several men are called in—the interpreter and a clerk or two. The Chinaman gives his name, age, place of birth, and other particulars of value in identifying him. He is asked to step upon the platform of a measuring machine, such as is in use in our army and elsewhere—an upright pole marked off into feet and inches, and fitted with a gliding rod that gives the man's height when it rests upon his head. All this the Chinaman perfectly comprehends; but what he does not know is the description of himself that the men around him are going to write down in the big government book after he has gone, a description which takes in his general appearance, the peculiarities of his features and limbs and shape, with notes of every scar or pit or mark upon his hands, neck, face, and head.

And yet, in spite of these precautions, Chinamen who go away from Canada looking at least forty years of age, return appearing to be only twenty-four; and others who measure five feet and nine inches when they depart, come back it a few months several inches shorter or taller than when they sailed for China. They are new-comers, with the certificates of other men, of course. The silent scanning of the features of applicants for certificates does not pass unnoticed by these shrewd and intelligent people. The manner in which they endeavor to make themselves appear like the persons whose certificates they carry shows this. They frequently go as far as to disfigure themselves for life in order to save the $50, and to bear out what they judge must be written in the customs book against the numerals that mark each of the certificates—which, by-the-way, contain no word of the descriptions of the men who take them out. While I was in Victoria one of these tricksters arrived with a great scar burned in his forehead, a cut disfiguring one cheek, and a deep pit burned in his neck. When questioned, and proven to be a fraudulent fellow, he confessed that he had never been to Canada before.

The cross-examination each certificated Chinaman must undergo in the British Columbian custom-houses before he is allowed to pass into the country without paying the tax is very searching. He is asked what city he worked in while in Canada, and then he must name the principal streets in that city, some of the names of the merchants there, and also the notable peculiarities of the town; what sort of looking things drag the railroad cars; what kind of machines are used to put out fires—a hundred questions cleverly devised. In spite of all this, the customs officials frequently have to admit that they cannot tell whether they are being imposed upon or not in especial cases. Doubtless many Chinamen slip through without attracting suspicion. The men who sell the certificates accompany the sales with descriptions of themselves, and with a great amount of the information they acquired of the localities they were familiar with. As to the general facts about Caucasian life, they are plenty of men in China and on the ships to post the immigrants fully.

Every three weeks, when a ship arrives, the Chinamen with certificates are questioned, and several are found to be the purchasers of the certificates of others, but not one Chinaman has yet been sent back on this account. All that Canada wants is her tax, and if any Chinaman caught at this trickery lacks the $50, he finds his countrymen in Victoria or Vancouver willing to advance the money to him.—From "The Chinese Lady," by Julian Ralph, in Harper's Magazine for March.

An Elephantine Joke.

Mrs. Dogood—Did you see the elephant while you were in New York?

Mrs. Tyger—I didn't; but my husband did. At least, when we got home he said one had stepped on his pocketbook.

How Life May be Prolonged.

Poets and novelists go into ecstacies over what they roman tically call "beautiful spring," and "gushy spring," and while, no doubt, everyone is glad to see winter release its icy grasp, "beautiful spring" is after all one of the most deadly seasons of the year. Sudden transitions from warmth to extreme cold, with piercing chilling winds; from dry to sloppy, "muggy" weather, all combined to make the season a most trying one, even to the hardiest constitutions, while to those with weak constitutions the season is one of positive danger. Undoubtedly the greatest danger at this season of the year is from cold in the head, which very few escape, and which if not properly and thoroughly treated, develops into catarrh, with all its disagreeable and loathsome effects. Catarrh, neglected, almost certainly develops into consumption, annually destroying thousands of lives. At this trying season no household should be without a bottle of Nasal Balm. In case of cold in the head it gives almost instant relief and effects a speedy cure, thereby averting the development of catarrh. When the latter disease has already secured a hold it is equally efficacious, and with a persistent use will cure the worst case. From the outset it sweetens the breath, stops the nauseous dropping into the throat and lungs, dispels those dull headaches that afflict the sufferer from Catarrh. Nasal Balm is not advertised as a cure-all—it is an honest remedy, which never fails to cure cold in the head or catarrh when the directions are faithfully followed, and thousands throughout the country have reason to bless its discovery. Nasal Balm may be had from all dealers, or will be sent on receipt of price, (50 cents small, or $1 large size bottle) by addressing Fulford & Co., Brockville, Ont.

"Just as I Tell Nell."

She is just the only woman
Who can make for him this life
Worth the tiresome toil and trouble
And the never-ending strife.

Why, he treats her like a baby.
Saves her all the steps he can;
She is such a little creature,
And he's such a great big man.

It's a joke among the neighbors—
His uxoriousness, you know—
And they all exchange sly glances
When they see him come and go.

But more often they smile to hear him
When a fact he wants to tell;
For he's sure to thus begin it:
"Now, it's just as I tell Nell."

Whether speaking of the earthquake
Or the mercury that fell,
Or the janitor who left ashes
It is "Just as I tell Nell."

Well, they may all laugh about it,
But for me I cannot tell
Why it is I love to hear him
Say "It's just as I tell Nell."

Unless it is the rough voice softens
Like the death tone of a bell
When he speaks the name he loves most
In his "Just as I tell Nell."

Out of the Months of Babes.

Two children were playing on the side walk and a lady passed them.

"She's a grass widow," said one.

"What's a grass widow?" asked the other.

"Gracious! Don't you know that?" said the other, scornfully: "why, her husband died of hay fever."

Force of Habit.

Mrs. Laytin (waiting up for her husband)—"What is the matter, Molly?"

Molly (from the kitchen)—"Och, mum, there be thieves at the durr."

Mrs. Laytin—"Well, tell them I am not at home."

Burned Out on Their Wedding Night.

The Port Hope Times says: What might be truly called a wedding with a sensational termination took place at the residence of Mrs. John W. Stevenson, King street, last evening, when the nuptial knot was tied between Mr. S. E. K. Walker, son of Mr. H. H. Walker, and Miss Hattie Stevenson, by Rev. E. N. Baker, pastor of the Methodist Church. The ceremony was strictly private, only the immediate relatives of the two families being present. The wedding supper was just concluded when an alarm of fire was raised. Little time elapsed before word was received that the flames were consuming the residence of Mr. H. H. Walker, father of the groom. A general adjournment was then made to the scene of the conflagration. It was the intention of the newly-wedded couple to reside with Mr. H. H. Walker, but unfortunately all their new and handsome furniture was consumed in the fire. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Walker will sympathize with them in their misfortune, and wish them long and happy wedded lives.

Ashburnham's Health Bill.

Annual Report of the Medical Health Officer—A Very Creditable Showing—Our Great Advance in Sanitary Sentiments.

Dr. Clark, medical health officer of Ashburnham, has compiled his annual report, which is as below:

To the Chairman and members of the Ashburnham Board of Health:

GENTLEMEN,—In presenting my seventh annual report for the year 1890, I have again to congratulate the village on a remarkably low death rate—12½ to the thousand — not so low as that of last year, which was exceptional, but low enough to justify the assertion then made that Ashburnham is one of the healthiest villages in the Dominion. A few cases of so-called infectious diseases have occurred, but none have been fatal, and in every case by means of isolation and disinfection has the disease been limited to the house in which it appeared. Four or five cases of malaria, or typhoid, fever occurred, but in two of them the disease was brought from a distance, so that the number of cases, though small, is misleading as to the sanitary condition of the village. I would point out here what I have not yet noticed in connection with health precautions, that when these are effectually carried out, not only is the number of cases lessened, but the severity of each case is greatly mitigated. This confirms the observation of bacteriologists that a concentration of infection adds to its virulence, while attenuated, or rather scantily distributed,

VIRUS LOSES HALF ITS VIOLENCE.

Evolution is none the less a force among the lower organisms than among the higher. The greater crowding, the greater the struggle for existence, and in consequence the greater force is developed, the stronger bacterial forms surviving and the weaker going to the wall. Hence sanitary measures make a double attack both upon centre and upon flank, reducing the numbers as well as diminishing the vitality of the enemy.

The principal points to which your officer's attention has been directed during the year are the following:—

SLAUGHTER HOUSES.

At a meeting of the Board last March to consider the applications of butchers for the year, a motion was passed refusing permission to one to continue operations in the village, and granting it to the others only on condition that no pigs were kept at or in connection with the slaughter houses from 1st November to 1st April. The objectionable one was soon removed, but some of the other owners attempted to evade the resolution by moving their pens to a considerable distance from the slaughter houses. Of course, this was an improvement, but did not in every case do away with the nuisance, as some very bitter complaints have still been sent in. The only proper way is to deal with each slaughter house on its own basis. Some are so situated that no complaint is ever heard about them, pigs or no pigs. But those in thickly inhabited places are totally different, and the Board has power to deal with each case on it own merits.

REMOVAL OF GARBAGE AND EXCRETA.

This is always one of the most perplexing sanitary questions and gave considerable trouble last year. It is sometimes hard to find out whose business it is to clear away certain rubbish or empty certain closets. The duties of landlord and tenant are not clearly defined in the Health Act. The employment of a public scavenger by the town will soon be recognized as so beneficial that it is hoped the system will be introduced here or an arrangement made with the town scavenger. In that event there could be no hesitation in insisting upon the introduction of earth-closets. The Board of Health should take an active interest in this question as it is not likely sewerage will be established here for some time.

HOUSE TO HOUSE INSPECTION.

These have been attended to by the Sanitary Inspector and on several occasions I accompanied him on his rounds. The slaughter houses were, as a rule, found in good condition. A certain number of pig pens make their appearance annually and have to be weeded out. Some yards are invariably dirty and untidy unless looked after, and a good many out houses and closets would not be cleaned unless notices were served.

BURIAL OF ANIMALS.

Two horses having been killed on the railway track, in the hurry of the moment were buried near by in the very centre of the village. When my attention was directed to it putrefaction had set in so that it was too late to have them removed. This should not be allowed to happen again. A small animal may be buried anywhere without much risk, but large masses of decaying animal matter constitute a danger which should be avoided. Recent scientific researches have demonstrated that some of the most destructive poisons are generated by the decomposition of large carcases, and that these retain their vitality for years and may produce diphtheria, typhoid fever, or other dangerous diseases, without any one dreaming where they come from.

COMPLAINTS.

Many complaints of all kinds have been sent in, and we have endeavored to rectify abuses as much as possible. Sometimes this is very difficult. Suppose a tenant finds his cellar containing water during the greater part of the year. Naturally he is apt to consider it unhealthy, and if illness occur in his family he is sure to consider it so. He makes a complaint, and thinks it is the duty of the health officer to compel his landlord to drain it away. So in the case of stables too near neighbours' houses. There is no doubt these are sometimes a very great nuisance while being positively detrimental to health, and an attempt to force their removal might result awkwardly for all parties concerned, in the present crude state of the health laws. It ought to be remembered that these are of recent introduction and by no means perfect. The Legislature is constantly making changes in accordance with the progress of public opinion. We can do more now than we were able to do a few years, and we shall be able to do more soon than we can now.

ANALYSES OF WATER.

A number of specimens were sent in and examined, with varying results. There is this to be said about well water, that the greater cleanliness above ground the purer the water supply in the vicinity. The rule is invariable.

MILK SUPPLY.

Two specimens were sent in which were supposed to be not up to the average. I found one so much watered that I sent a note to the person who sold it which had a salutary effect. As the analysis of milk is a complicated process requiring special training and no arrangement has been made by the Board of Health here or in town I can make only a superficial examination. As so few complaints are made I believe the quality of milk supplied to be generally good.

DISINFECTANTS.

The use of these is growing from year to year and nothing can be of greater importance. Cleaning away filth is only one part of the work. Closets and cesspools should be thoroughly disinfected at intervals as well.

Wells are not cleaned out as often as necessary. This part of sanitary work is so easily evaded, that it is perhaps less attended to than any other. I have the Public School in much better condition than former years, and the Hospital is also in good sanitary condition.

There is very much work to be done this spring. As the village extends and becomes more thickly settled, greater and more constant care is necessary, and it will be your officer's duty to carry out the various requirements of the statute as fully as possible.

I remain, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant.
J. CLARKE,
Med. Health Officer.

Something Good About Baptie's Boxer.

The Sixth Stock to Gain—Good Record of a Son of the Springvale Stallion.

Mr. James Baptie's speed stallion Boxer is now well known and very highly thought of in this district. As a stud-horse he has in the past shown that he is able and apt to transmit to his progeny the speed which he himself has developed on the turf. The pride of Mr. Baptie himself in Boxer as well as the pride of all good horsemen in this part of the country will be heightened by the following from the March number of The Horseman:—

"BELLEVILLE, N. Y., March 18.—The sale of General Benton in 1876 to Governor Stanford for $28,000 gave the town of Ellisburg the distinction of being the birthplace of the highest priced trotter ever bred in any town in Northern New York, and judging by the speed and quality of the present equine profusion of the town, it will safely hold the honors in the future. With its rolling land of excellent gravelly loam soil, healthful lake breezes, fine roads and ready access to the thousands of acres of blue grass pastures why should not this section produce as fast trotters, with bone and tendon of good quality, as can be produced in any part of this great country? In order to get a true line on the speed of their horses and colts, and not guess the time and distance around the stove, some of the interested parties chained off a quarter of a mile in the Roberts' Corners pond and I have learned of some very creditable quarters being trotted during the past winter. The black gelding Bromo 2 28 although driven by Dr. Terry in his practice during the winter and not speeded until after February 1, reeled off quarters in 37 seconds so easily his owner is assured that his mark of 2.38 is no measure of his speed. Bromo certainly should beat his present record two seconds this season, and as he is a level-headed race-horse he will be dangerous in his class. Bromo has a right to be a trotter and a money horse, as he was sired by the Jefferson Prince Stallion Boxer, 2.23½, a horse that never started in a race but his owner had a fight for his money, and if heats were up is Boxer was sure of the major portion of the purse. Since the sale of Boxer to James Baptie, of Springville, Ont., the people of this section appreciate his worth more than ever."

Mr. Baptie deserves well from every lover of a good horse for his enterprise in importing a stallion of Boxer's speed and value for stock raising purposes, and it must be encouraging to him to have had evidences of the public appreciation of his enterprise.

Dummer.

The Late Henry Gardner.

Again we are called upon to chronicle the death of another of the pioneers of Dummer, in the person of Mr. Henry Gardner, who passed over to the great majority on the 24th of March, at the advanced age of 74 years. Deceased was born in Somersetshire, England, on the 17th of March, 1817, and emigrated to Canada in the year 1832, settling in the township of Dummer on lot 7, concession 7, where he resided continuously until the time of his death. Dummer at that date was a veritable wilderness, and the subject of this notice suffered all the trials and privations incident to pioneer life. In 1846 he married Miss Mary Ann Rose, sister of Mr. James Rose, of Dummer, by whom he had ten of a family, all of whom survive him except two. His father, Wm. Gardner, who came to this country with the deceased, and died some 4 years ago, served in the British navy during the wars with Napoleon Buonaparte, and was wardrobe-steward on board the steller-ophon when Napoleon was taken to St. Helena. A few years after wards he received an honorable discharge and a grant of one hundred acres of land in the township of Dummer. Deceased was a very successful farmer and amassed a handsome competence. He was a staunch member of the Presbyterian church and lived an exemplary Christian life. His friends have the assurance that to him "death was the burial of all his sorrows and the resurrection of his joys," as well as the sympathy of the community. The remains were interred in the Norwood cemetery, and the funeral was very largely attended.—Register.

Emily.

On the 18th inst, a large number of relatives and friends assembled at the residence of David Kennedy, Esq., 14th concession, Emily, on the occasion of the wedding of his third and youngest daughter Rebecca, to Thos. E. Johns, a highly respected and well-to-do young farmer of the same township. The ceremony was duly performed by the Rev. H. Thomas. About sixty of the relatives and friends were present, and the many useful, costly presents which were brought, clearly demonstrated that the young couple were held in the highest esteem by those who knew them best. It is scarcely necessary to state that the evening was spent in a most enjoyable manner. The bride was dressed in cream nuns veiling and wore the bridal veil and orange blossoms. The bride was assisted through the trying ordeal by Miss Smart, of Peterborough, while the groom was supported by the Rev. John A. Kennady, brother of the bride.—Warder.

Personal.

Among the visitors in town are Messrs. Barnard and Baldwin, of Toronto, at Col. H. C. Roger's; Miss Eyre, of Toronto, at Mr. R. W. Errett's; Miss Smith, of Port Hope, at Mr. Ullyott's; Mr. Jeff Davis, of Port Hope, T.C.S., at Dr. Boucher's, and Mr. Fouasette, of the Royal Military College.

The Lindsay Post says:—"Mr. J. T. Curran, G. T. R. train despatcher here, has, we regret to learn, been compelled to resign his position in consequence of ill health, and will try Colorado air for a time. He left town Wednesday for Peterborough, where he will remain a short time before taking his departure." Mr. Curran's many friends in Peterborough will regret to hear of his failing health, and will wish him speedy recovery.

March Weather Notes.

Our last winter month has gone, leaving many things to be long remembered, but the most eventful for the Dominion was the great political struggle we passed through on the 5th of the month; and as all bitter feelings will soon pass away, let each party do their utmost to advance the interests of our country. The three first days were a little keen, after which until the 24th we had a good amount of rain and snow, both of which were above the average. Rain fell on 13 days to the depth of 2 inches and 22/100 of an inch. the severest storm being on the 22nd, from 4 in the morning till 9 in the evening, there falling 1 inch and 15/100 of an inch. The snow fell for the month also was high, in 13 days reaching 23.5 inches. our severest storm being on the 20th and 21st, snow falling on the level 11 inches. We always take it for granted, being admitted by experts, that 10 inches of snow is equal to about 1 inch of water, which if melted would give 2 in. and 35/100 of an inch, and this added to our 2.22 would give a grand total for the month of 5 inches and 85/100 of an inch. Only four mornings was the thermometer below zero, on the 1st at 6°, on the 2nd at 4°, on the 6th at 2°, and on the 17th at 6°, leaving the mean temperature of the month at 40 12 21°. We had two severe gales on the 4th and 5th, lasting two days, and on the 12th, 14th and 15th, lasting all the time, only there not being much new fallen snow, it did little harm to the roads. No halos on five days, on two days, and auroral lights on two nights, one I and II. Our first crows on the 1st and butterflies on the 29th. The following are two different points from which the wind was blowing at sunrise during the month, respectively, namely, north-west 11 days, north-east 3 days, south 2 days, south-east 5 days, south-west 3 days, west 1 day, north 5 days, and east 1 day.

Play to crowded houses everywhere. See what the Hamilton Times says:—"The entertainment given in the opera house last evening by Zora Samon and his specialty company was a first class performance from beginning to end. The professor himself is one of the best sleight of hand performers and ventriloquists ever seen in the city. All his tricks were done clean and without those tiresome delays seen in so many entertainments of the kind. The entertainment closed with a marionette show and a long list of specialties, all of which were good. The house was packed from the stage to the door, and a large number had to go away disappointed." Gold watch leading present Thursday night. 1d

Lower Railroad Fares.

It is the opinion of a great many far-seeing persons, says the Lindsay Post, that among the reforms of the near future, railroad charges will be very much reduced. At present they are to a great extent exorbitant, and at a late meeting of the Lindsay Board of Trade the following resolution was adopted: As there is a very general feeling that railroad charges, particularly passenger rates, are far too high—almost prohibitory to many—and that in consequence some travel by rail unless obliged to do so by the demands of business or necessity, and scarcely any for pleasure or relaxation, except by the chance opportunities of excursions—ordinary trains having generally not more than one-third of the number of passengers they can accommodate—it is believed by many that were railroad charges reduced, not only would a far greater number of persons travel by rail, but the actual revenue of railroads would be much greater than it now is or has been." Something in the direction of the zone system—a uniform charge in each zone—adopted with signal success in Hungary, would meet the case. The reduction in Hungary was very decided; but the increase in traffic was enormous.

Makes the Weak Strong

The marked benefit which people in run down or weakened state of health derive from Hood's Sarsaparilla, conclusively proves the claim that this medicine "makes the weak strong." It does not act like a stimulant, imparting fictitious strength from which there must follow a reaction of greater weakness than before, but in the most natural way Hood's Sarsaparilla overcomes creates an appetite, purifies the blood, and, in short, gives great bodily, nerve, mental and digestive strength.

"I derived very much benefit from Hood's Sarsaparilla, which I took for general debility. It built me right up, and gave me an excellent appetite." ED. JENKINS, Mt. Savage, Md.

Fagged Out

"Last spring I was completely fagged out. My strength left me and I felt sick and miserable all the time, so that I could hardly attend to my business. I took one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it cured me. There is nothing like it." R. C. BEGOLE, Editor Enterprise, Belleville, Mich.

Worn Out

"Hood's Sarsaparilla restored me to good health. Indeed, I might say truthfully it saved my life. To one feeling tired and worn out I would earnestly recommend a trial of Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. PHEBE MOSHER, 99 Brooks Street, East Boston, Mass.

CASH HARDWARE STORE.

On and after 1st April we shall do business on a Cash Basis.

To cover the inevitable losses attendant upon a credit business, which accrue from amount of time spent in keeping accounts, collecting, bad debts, interest account, and in numerous other ways, larger margins of profit must be asked.

In these times cash buyers ask, expect, and are entitled to close prices. A careful consideration of the subject convinces us that the time has come for a cash business done on smaller profits.

The only customers who may possibly be put to inconvenience are those who have had long credit. In more ways than one it will be to their advantage to pay cash.

For convenience of our old customers who consider their accounts due when presented, we will call 30 days cash and render all accounts the first of each month, and we wish to say that will be happy to do business with them on these terms.

As the new departure is something of an experiment, what would be considered a close cash price will be made all through the stock. Not a few leaders only, but a general reduction in everything from the fourth flat to the cellar.

Our idea is to perform more than promised rather than promise more than can be fulfilled.

Our stock is large and varied, consisting of Builders', Contractors', Household, Mechanics'. Painters', Shoemakers', Farm, Mill, Factory, Lumbermen's, Sporting, Threshers', Cabinet-makers', and other lines of Hardware.

AUSTRALIAN FEDERATION

MEMBERS SESSIONAL ALLOWANCE TO BE 500 POUNDS.

An Elective Senate—England to Have the Final Authority on All Imperial Questions—What the New Commonwealth Will Be.

LONDON, April 5.—The Commonwealth of Australia is almost ready to be born. The Federation Convention, which has been sitting many weeks at Sydney, seems at last agreed on the main features of the constitution. It has agreed, at any rate, upon a name, which may be said to have a strong republican flavor, with a certain ominous memory attaching to it in English history. At the same time, the Sydney Convention affirms its loyalty by providing that the Governor-General of the new commonwealth shall be appointed by the Queen. The great Australian colonies, though ready for union, are not yet ready for disunion. They mean still to remain an integral part of the British Empire. They do, nevertheless, so far break with the present state of things as to propose that the Governors of each separate colony shall be appointed, not as now by the Crown, but as the Parliament of that colony may see fit. They borrow, moreover, from the United States the suggestion of a Supreme Court, which shall be the final appellate tribunal. It does not clearly appear whether this court will have political or constitutional jurisdiction.

The Australian Commonwealth, like the Federal authority in America, will derive all its powers by delegation and surrender from the separate colonies, and there are many other points in which the Constitution of the United States has served them as a model. The organization and distribution of the executive, legislative and judicial powers are strikingly similar. In the main points of the scheme the great majority of the convention seem practically of one mind.

England has hardly woke up to the fact that her Australian colonies are so near passing into a great commonwealth. She will not regret it, still less resist it; but, if the Imperial principle is worth anything, she will take care that, for Australia as for Canada, the ultimate sovereignty and final authority in all imperial questions shall remain with England.

SYDNEY, April 5.—The Federation convention, sitting in committee, yesterday, was occupied all day in discussing the question of the powers of the Senate with regard to money bills. The clause, as amended, was then passed in the following form: "The Federal Parliament is to consist of a Senate and a House of Representatives, the former consisting of an equal number of members from each colony, to be selected by a system which shall provide for the periodical retirement of one-third of the members, thereby securing to the body itself a perpetual existence, combined with definite responsibility to the electors. The House of Representatives to be elected by districts formed on a population basis, and to possess the sole power of originating all bills appropriating revenue or imposing taxation.

SYDNEY, N.S.W., April 5.—The Australian Federation convention had adopted the provisions of the constitution regulating the powers of the Parliament and fixing the payment of members at £500 yearly, and also the provision that all appropriation and taxation bills must originate in the House of Representatives.

REMARKABLE TRAGEDY.

ONE OF THE MOST SENSATIONAL CASES ON RECORD.

A Beautiful Woman Lures a Prominent Banker to Death—His Body Packed in a Box and Shipped to the United States.

NEW YORK, April 4.—The details of a murder which bears a striking similarity to the celebrated Eyraud case at Paris were received from San Jose, Guatemala, yesterday. The case will probably claim the attention of Inspector Byrnes. Carlos Santibanez, one of the most prominent bankers of Guatemala, mysteriously disappeared on Nov. 29. Mr. Santibanez had a habit of carrying large sums of money, valuable diamonds, jewelry, etc., about with him. Friends attached no importance at first to his sudden disappearance on Nov. 29. About the first of February, however, the mystery was entirely cleared up by the confession of the murderer of Santibanez while under the influence of liquor. On that day Carlos Cardenas, a merchant of San Jose, was accosted on the street by a Spaniard named Gonzales who lived in the outskirts of the town. Gonzales showed a beautiful topas ring, and asked him to make an offer for it. Mr. Cardenas saw that the ring was a valuable one, and at once suspected foul play. On the pretence of closing a bargain he invited Gonzales to accompany him to a neighboring liquor store. Cardenas and Gonzales seated themselves at a table and drank together several times; Gonzales discoursing on the qualities of his ring, which he seemed extremely anxious to sell. Cardenas examined the ring closely, and recognized it as belonging to his friend Santibanez. Cardenas, who had been an intimate friend of Santibanez, concluded that Gonzales was in possession of facts that might explain the disappearance of Santibanez, and determined to get the Spaniard under the influence of liquor, and, if possible, extort a confession from him. Mr. Cardenas made an offer for the ring, which was accepted. He detained Gonzales and succeeded in getting him intoxicated. Gonzales became confidential after a time and told Mr. Cardenas a story that almost turned the gentleman's blood cold. Gonzales said that he knew that Banker Santibanez continually carried large sums of money about him and he resolved to murder and rob him, and to cover up the crime in such a manner that detection would be absolutely impossible. He resolved to secure more money than the banker usually carried with him, and about Nov. 25 wrote to the banker stating that he had a number of bills of exchange on American banks which he wished to dispose of advantageously and requested the banker to call at his house in the outskirts of San Jose on Nov. 29 for the purpose of inspecting them. He also requested Santibanez to come prepared to pay for them as he was about to leave the country. Santibanez answered the letter in person on the 29th by going to the house of Gonzales "where his knock was answered," said Gonzales, "by my mistress, a most beautiful woman, who asked him to wait a little as her husband was not in at the time." Then the Spaniard described with great enthusiasm how the supposed Mrs. Gonzales entertained the wealthy banker and got him completely under her control. When Mr. Santibanez was kissing the woman Gonzales and another Spaniard rushed into the room and assaulted the banker with knives, Gonzales doing most of the stabbing while his mistress and his companion held the unfortunate man down to the floor. When life was extinct they removed all his valuables. Gonzales then put the horribly mutilated body into an air-tight chest and a few days later shipped the box to the United States.

This startling confession was immediately followed by the arrest of Gonzales, his friend and his mistress. Gonzales and his assistant will undoubtedly be hanged, while the mistress of Gonzales will probably be imprisoned for life.

The affair has created great excitement in San Jose. It is said to be the most brutal murder ever committed in Guatemala.

AVENGED HER HONOR.

Fred Bartlett Kills Her Betrayer, Seriously Wounds Two Other Men and Then Blows Out His Brains.

PEMBINA, April 5.—A man named McConnell recently seduced Miss Bartlett, then married another girl. Miss Bartlett's two brothers drove out where McConnell was visiting Saturday, called him out and shot him twice, the bullets entering his body. He ran to the house, and while a man named Hill was attempting to disarm McConnell's assailants he received a ball in the breast and another in the arm. McConnell ran out on the farm and Tom Bartlett started with a friend named Irwin in a buggy after him. Irwin was shot in the groin and afterwards McConnell was hit twice. The Bartlett brothers then returned home and while Tom attended to the horse Fred went to the house and shot himself through the head dying instantly. Tom has been arrested and it is feared will be lynched. Hill and Irwin are seriously injured and McConnell cannot live.

MASCOUTAH, Ill., April 3.—Two years ago a girl weighing twelve pounds was born to Mr. and Mrs. Frits Harback of St. Libery. The child was apparently healthy and was well-formed, but it never grew any after its birth. The 3-year-old mite died yesterday morning weighing precisely what it did when it was born.

BULGARIAN TROUBLES.

PRINCE FERDINAND THREATENED WITH DEATH.

The Campaign of Intrigue and Murder Continues—Arrest of a High Russian Official in Sofia—The Czar Notified of the Circumstance

LONDON, April 4.—Russia stands at the bar of Europe accused of a grave crime. The murder of M. Baltcheff at Sofia has again roused general indignation against the half-barbarous empire of the North. Undoubtedly he was killed by mistake. The bullets were meant for M. Stambuloff. So much is admitted. The Prime Minister of Bulgaria is the one man who stands between Russia and the coveted control of the Principality. She and her agents have tried every means—conspiracy, intrigue, diplomacy and intimidation—every means short of murder, to get rid of him, and have failed. Now she has tried murder, and that too has failed. She has murdered the wrong man.

It was known that something was about to happen. Roumania and Servia, both under Russian influence, have of late been swarming with Russian agents and Bulgarian refugees in Russian pay. The notorious Bendereff was there, the man who for his services in betraying and kidnapping Prince Alexander enjoys a Russian pension. Plots against Prince Ferdinand were known to be on foot, but what the plots were nobody had found out. What Europe saw was that at any price short of war and by any means, no matter how base, the Emperor of Russia was resolved to crush the independence of Bulgaria. Anarchy is his favorite method. To create, by artificial means, a condition of anarchy which might serve him as a pretext for interfering in the interest of order; to kill M. Stambuloff; to create a panic in the country; to establish disorder, and then to intervene to depose Prince Ferdinand and to put some Russian tool on his throne—that seemed an extremely promising program. It might all have been carried out in due sequence but for the fact that the assassins, in the darkness of last Friday evening, mistook their man. The Russian liberator has had, therefore, to postpone his appearance on the scene to some more convenient season. Bendereff, meantime, may concoct some fresh plot. Europe, by her leading papers, rightly holds the Czar responsible for him and his acts, but a Czar is not expected to take account of public opinion.

SOFIA, April 4.—Prince Ferdinand and his mother, Princess Clementine, have received letters threatening them with death if they do not leave the country. M. Greascoff has also been threatened with assassination if he does not resign his position as Minister of Foreign Affairs.

Evidence has been received indicating that these threatening missives emanated from an official connected with the Russian embassy in this city. Diplomatic action has been taken in the matter, pending the result of which the suspected official is being held as a prisoner at the Embassy.

The Russian Government censor has ordered the Russian press not to refer to the movements of the troops who are to take part in the manœuvres on the Polish and German frontier. The manœuvres are of unusual magnitude.

The Feeling in France.

PARIS, April 5.—President Carnot has decided not to attend the Moscow Exhibition. At the Foreign Office here no credit is given to the reports circulated in London and Berlin regarding the Czar's alleged intention to precipitate a war. On the contrary, the fact is recognized in official circles both here and at St. Petersburg that the Russian army is not yet in a position to begin an aggressive war. It is understood that an entente with France has been arranged for purposes of defence at the present time, and for offensive operations in the more remote future. In the meantime the Czar devotes his energies to the remodeling of the internal administration of the empire. Much must be done internally before Russia will be prepared to face a great European conflict.

Said to Have Been Slain During the Fighting at Manipur.

RANGOON, April 5.—Some natives of Manipur who have arrived here report that Chief Commissioner James W. Quinton, who was taken prisoner at the time of the Manipur massacre, was, together with the party of officers who accompanied him, killed on the first day of the fighting at Manipur.

Further details concerning the capture of Fort Shabat, 12 miles from Manipur, have been received. The British force which carried the works by assault numbered only 80 Indian troops under the command of Lieut. Grant. The garrison of the fort was composed of 900 Manipurs, but the onslaught of the British force was so fierce that the Manipurs fled from their fortified positions in wild disorder.

Information reached here this afternoon that Lieut. Grant's light force of Indian troops is now confronted by a large force of Manipurs, who, in addition to being well armed with rifles, have several field guns. It is feared Grant's force will be annihilated unless reinforcements which have been sent to his assistance are hurried forward.

A despatch has been received from Lieut. Grant in which he says he believes that he is the only European who escaped the recent massacre in the Province of Assam. Strong comments are made here on the blunder of the officials in sending such a small force to Assam. It is further pointed out that the residency was provided with Martini rifles while Commissioner Quinton's escort was armed with Snyder rifles. It was on this account that the ammunition gave out, the supply of cartridges at Manipur being of no use for Snyder rifles.

TORONTO TOPICS.

TORONTO, April 3.—Mrs. William Dunnage, wife of a grocer on Queen-street, was fatally kicked by a horse Sunday morning.

The Widow Fitzpatrick, whose lodge at the entrance to Queen's-avenue, in which she has resided for 60 years, is a landmark known to all, died yesterday, aged 84.

E. A. Tosback, in charge of the Toronto agency of George D. Ross & Co., a Montreal drygoods house, has been absent from the city for over two weeks and is believed to have absconded.

Paul Waltermann, an Alsatian, for four months back cook at the Hub Restaurant, Colborne-street, became enamored of the 23-year-old daughter of a Yonge-street hair dresser and the two are said to have eloped.

Results Fatality.

STRATFORD, April 4.—David Culbertspare conductor on the Grand Trunk, died as the result of injuries received while coupling cars on March 24.

It is announced that the Chilian Government ironclad Pilcomayo, with its officers and crew, has deserted the cause of President Balmaceda and that it has joined the rebel fleet, which now numbers 40 war vessels of various sizes.

The chiefs of the German dreibund will act in unison with Lord Salisbury in reference to the Bulgarian imbroglio. Their concerted policy consists in simply refusing to interfere or to permit interference in the Balkans.

Destructive Fire.

MONTREAL, April 5.—By a fire at Cote St. Paul yesterday, the works of the File & Spring Company, and Clarke's bell factory were destroyed, and Joseph Godin's hat factory and G. Gilmour's auger, bit and tool factory damaged. The losses: File & Spring Company, loss $33,000, insurance $3500; bell factory, loss $14,000, insurance $3500; hat factory, loss $3000.

Dropped Dead on the Stairs.

BOWMANVILLE, April 3.—George Fisher, proprietor of the Station Hotel, dropped dead when coming downstairs about 7 o'clock yesterday morning. Apoplexy is supposed to be the cause.

AMID A DOWNPOUR OF RAIN.

3000 People Assemble in Phœnix Park and Listen to Parnell Abuse Gladstone and Other Liberals.

DUBLIN, April 5.—Notwithstanding a steady downpour of rain, fully 3000 persons assembled in Phœnix Park to-day to assist in the demonstration of the Amnesty Association and protest against the continued imprisonment and alleged inhuman treatment of Irish and Irish-American political prisoners by the British Government. After speeches had been made by Mr. Kenny, Mr. Parnell and others resolutions were passed calling upon Irishmen at home and abroad to put forth every effort to secure the release of their friends, and demanding that the Government hasten the unconditional surrender of the prisoners. Mr. Parnell's speech was a tirade against the Liberals, whom he accused of always making political prisoners, while the Conservatives released them. The same thing might occur again and John Daly and others convicted of perjury during the Liberals' tenure of office be liberated by the Conservative Government. "Why," he asked, "did not Mr. Gladstone release these prisoners in 1886? He (Gladstone) did not hesitate to stoop to ascertain the opinion of dynamiters in America as to whether they would accept his Home Rule bill of that year, and even went so far as to receive some of these people at Hawarden. Why did not he release the prisoners at that time?"

Here a voice exclaimed: "Why did not you make conditions," while cries of "Kill him!" "Lynch him!" were heard.

In reply to his question Mr. Parnell declared that the Irish party never made conditions with the Government. The prisoners, he said, would rather rot in jail than accept anything but their unconditional release.

Joseph Chamberlain on Home Rule.

PORTSMOUTH, April 5.—Hon Joseph Chamberlain, speaking as a Unionist meeting last evening, said that many Gladstonians would gladly abandon the policy of Home Rule, but had not the courage to act independently. Home Rule being at present an impracticable policy, electors should consider from which party they could obtain the best performances. Even if Gladstone were returned to power he could do nothing in the way of promoting social reform, and would first endeavor to set up a rival Parliament in Dublin. Unionists, however, were not so hampered, but were free to continue their reforming labors.

For Having Explosives.

CORK, April 5.—At the assizes here yesterday John Foley was sentenced to seven years' penal servitude for having in his possession a quantity of explosives.

At the Tipperary Assizes Michael Hanley was sentenced to 18 months' hard labor and Michael Sanders to a year's hard labor for posting boycotting notices.

A MIDDLESEY MURDER.

A Dispute Over a Dipper Ends in One Disputant Stabbing the Other to the Heart.

LONDON, Ont., April 5.—A stabbing affray, which resulted in the death of Benjamin Hubbard, an employe of Geary's dairy, London township, six or seven miles north of this city, occurred this afternoon about 5 o'clock. Hubbard and another employe named Hodges got into an altercation over a dipper, when Hodges stabbed Hubbard over the heart with a knife, which he happened to have in his hand at the time, inflicting a wound from which the latter died a few minutes after. Both are married men with families.

Guilty of Manslaughter.

LONDON, April 5.—In the Metcalfe murder case of the Queen v. Robert Murray the jury returned a verdict of manslaughter with strong recommendation to mercy. Sentence deferred.

FOXES AND WOLVES PLENTIFUL.

Reynard Very Numerous this Year—33 1-2 Inches High.

BOBCAYGEON, April 5.—Mr. W. Oliver of North Harvey being aware that foxes were in his neighborhood laid out some tempting baits well saturated with an ingredient that is not entirely conducive to longevity. The following morning when he went out he was surprised. The slain were scattered around in all directions, and he gathered in no less than ten foxes. Some of them were very large, and the skins were in good condition. Foxes are quite numerous this year and the farmers are turning in many an odd dollar by catching them.

BRUSSELS, April 5.—Arthur Brook, who resides near Belgrave station, while driving through the bush on Henry Brandon's farm saw a female fox. He went to the house and secured a gun and shot her. While he was absent for the firearms Mother Reynard had gone to her home close by and removed her family of four babies, whose eyes were not yet opened, to a brush pile for greater safety, it is supposed. Their hiding place was found, however, and they were carried to Mr. Brook's house. A female hound in possession of the proprietor, who had had her puppies recently taken from her, adopted the little "chicken hunters" and is caring for them in good style.

NEWBORO, April 5.—Our champion fox-hunter has ceased from his labors after slaying 11 of the varmints.

SELKIRK, April 5.—Mr. Neeson of Back Throat shot at his door the other day a wolf weighing 150 pounds. It stood 33½ inches high and measured 5 feet 10½ inches from nose to root of tail, and the tail was 16 inches long. Mr. Neeson says it is the largest wolf he ever saw. Several of these animals have been visiting the neighbors' houses and killing their dogs. Three dogs were eaten up on the river in one day. Mr. Quesnel saw three very large wolves while going to English River. They came within 50 feet of his sleigh, and the oxen were so frightened that they ran away, tearing the sleigh to pieces, and he had to mount an oxback. A report from Sand River says that six wolves attacked Mr. Norbert and followed him two miles. He says they kept within 100 feet of him all the way, and he was so frightened that his hair actually lifted his cap off his head. He said he knew of two hunters being kept up in a balsam tree two days by 16 wolves at the foot of the tree. It appears they dropped their guns in order to get out of the way of the wolves. They managed to kill four some way and the rest ate the dead ones. At Rice River a pack of wolves was seen a few days ago. Two young lads were out getting wood with a dog and sleigh. While going to the house one wolf came along and ate the dog out of the harness. The two boys escaped while his wolfship was engaged at his meal. There have been about 75 seen around here, and they are very large.

From a Three-Story Window.

OTTAWA, April 5.—Esther Dolan, employed as a domestic at the house of Charles Boyce, 179 Slater-street, made a singular attempt at suicide by throwing herself from a three-story window, sustaining severe injuries. She was locked up.

Racing on the English Turf.

LONDON, April 4.—At the second day of the Leicester spring meeting to-day the principal race on the program was for the Portland Stakes, five furlongs straight. It was won by Mr. J. B. Leigh's filly Fiyaway, Mr. R. H Combes' filly Petrova second and the Duke of Portland's filly Katherine third.

Fatally Crushed by a Log.

PORT ARTHUR, April 5.—Joseph Gaynor, a teamster recently from Sherbrooke, had his head injured by a log falling upon it, and he died before medical assistance could be obtained.

EVENING MILLINERY OPENING AT TURNBULL'S.

We have decided to have a second Millinery Opening this season on Tuesday evening, April 7th, when the store will be kept open, and decorated with all the new and fashionable goods for this season's trade.

Notwithstanding the unfavorable weather, our show rooms have been thronged in the afternoons since Thursday, but we feel that there are a great number of Ladies who have not been able to get out on account of the weather, which has led us to decide to keep everything on display until after Tuesday evening.

The styles this season are such a decided change, and unusually pretty, we want all to see them to the best advantage, and naturally to leave the impression that for decidedly new and cheap goods, Turnbull's is the right place to go for a large selection, since our store has been thoroughly renovated.

While passing through the store, even when not intending to buy, you are compelled to stop and price some of the articles on display.

Pretty print blouses from 50c. each, up to those of figured wool delaine at $1.75. Neat patterns in light prints, narrow, but warranted to wash, at 5c. a yard. Novelties in pearl bead frillings, at 5c. a frill. White embroidered aprons lawns at 20c. a yard. Cream and white curtain nets, taped edge, at from 15 to 25c. a yard.

On reaching the archway leading into the Simcoe street store, you are struck with amazement, and almost think you have got into midsummer, and begin to look around for the bumble bees and humming birds among the flowers. Some of the leading colors are the new Shades in Heliotrope and Lavender, French Gray, Buttercups and Black Combined. Most of the Bonnets are Small, Toque Shapes, flat, and trimmed at the back with pretty little Forget-Me-Not Flowers, Jewelled Ribbon and Lace to match. There is something very pretty for children in Leghorn Hats, trimmed with ruchings of silk and lace.

MALICIOUS IMAGININGS.

A correspondent of the Empire inquires if "treason "veiled" and made is to be allowed to fester in our clubs, boards of trade and halls of legislation and less public places, and less publicly to poison the minds of the young innocent and unsuspecting." If the man who wrote this tepid slosh expects the public to take it seriously he should have dated his letter from the Orillia Idiot Asylum. As a matter of fact all the treason that exists in the country was that talked by the Tory stampers during the recent election contest and by the Empire and the Tory journalistic reprobates of a like kidney. No Liberal speaker or journal ever even hinted at treason except to repudiate the blackguardly aspersions sown by the Empire and its satellites. If, as the elections, according to the claim of the loyalists, showed that more than half of the population of Ontario and Quebec was "disloyal traitors," why have not some steps been taken to punish, at least the ringleaders? It is disgusting and humiliating that the chief organs of one of the great political parties should be guilty of the iniquitous imbecility of talking the rant about treason and disloyalty it has been guilty of for so long a time—iniquitous because it has given the outside world, by means of its incessant iteration of the slander, to believe that Canada is honeycombed with disaffection and disloyalty; whereas the only disloyalty is in the mind of the Empire and the mediæval type of newspaper it represents.

Near Unto Death, but Rescued.

Mrs ——, who lives four miles from the city of London, Ont., eight months ago gave up all hope of ever regaining health and strength. She was a victim of dyspepsia and had suffered untold agonies. A year before she weighed 143 pounds, and was with the help of a hired girl, able to do the work for a family of nine. Eight months ago she weighed only 98 pounds — a mere skeleton, hopeless, tormented and wishing for death. Two doctors were unable to give her any permanent relief, and both believed that her end was not far off. Her husband still clung to hope, and determined to have her try Paine's Celery Compound, after reading an article referring to it in the London "Free Press." Two bottles were procured at once, which the sick wife and mother commenced to use. In ten days the patient showed more strength and the appetite was better. It was observed that she slept more soundly, and secured a greater measure of rest. At the end of three weeks the change was extremely gratifying and truly hopeful. One of the doctors was surprised, but nevertheless pleased at the result. For nearly nine weeks the Celery Compound was constantly used, and the dear mother was again restored to health and strength; she slept well, her appetite was vigorous and healthy, and she was able once more to resume her labors in the household. This is considered one of the most remarkable cures ever effected by any medicine, and demonstrates the great value of Paine's Celery Compound. The above is not by any means an isolated case; hundreds of women in our Dominion have experienced the same grand results from the use of this great Compound.

'Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.'

A Toronto Young Woman Discovers Thieves at Work in Milton.

MILTON, April 3.—Mr. and Mrs. James A. Fraser left their house locked up and went to a neighbor's to spend a few hours. Miss Gillespie of Toronto, who was paying a visit at Mr. Fraser's, had gone down town and when she returned saw a light in Mr. Fraser's house and rang the front door bell, but got no response and found that the door was bolted on the inside. She notified the neighbors and on further investigation it was found the house had been entered and a pair of gold bracelets, a gold brooch and a card case belonging to Miss Gillespie, some jewelry belonging to Mrs. Fraser, a gold-mounted hair watch guard with a gold Masonic keystone belonging to Mr. Fraser and $12 in cash had been carried off. The burglars escaped in the meantime.

Off for Washington.

OTTAWA, April 3.—Sir Charles Tupper has left Washington for Ottawa and will reach here to-morrow (Saturday), when he will have a conference with Sir John Macdonald and his colleagues in reference to his recent trip to Washington. He must have met with some encouragement from Mr. Blaine, as it has been determined that after the conference to-morrow he will immediately return to Washington, accompanied by Sir John Thompson and Hon. Mr. Foster, and hold an informal interview with Mr. Blaine in that city early next week. If any headway is then made plenipotentiaries on behalf of England will be appointed for the negotiation of a treaty to settle the various trade and fishery issues before the two governments. Sir Charles Tupper will probably leave for England a week from to-day.

Scalded in Boiling Sap.

TILSONBURG, April 3.—James, the 10-year-old son of Mr. Joseph Campbell, was playing around the fireplace where sugar-making was being carried on in Thomas Scott's sugar bush in Dereham, when he slipped and landed on his back in the boiling kettle of sap. Fortunately his heavy clothing saved him from being scalded alive, but as it was his back and hips were severely scalded.

"Like Magic,"

THE effect produced by Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Colds, Coughs, Croup, and Sore Throat are, in most cases, immediately relieved by the use of this wonderful remedy. It strengthens the vocal organs, allays irritation, and prevents the inroads of Consumption; in every stage of that dread disease, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral relieves coughing and induces refreshing rest.

"I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for thirty years and have always found it the best remedy for croup, to which complaint my children have been subject."—Capt. U. Carley, Brooklyn, N. Y.

"From an experience of over thirty years in the sale of proprietary medicines, I feel justified in recommending Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. One of the best recommendations of the Pectoral is the enduring quality of its popularity, it being more salable now than it was twenty-five years ago, when its great success was considered marvelous."—R. S. Drake, M. D., Beliot, Kans.

"My little sister, four years of age, was so ill from bronchitis that we had almost given up hope of her recovery. Our family physician, a skilful man and of large experience, pronounced it useless to give her any more medicine; saying that he had done all it was possible to do, and we must prepare for the worst. As a last resort, we determined to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and I can truly say, with the most happy results. After taking a few doses she seemed to breathe easier, and, within a week, was out of danger. We continued giving the Pectoral until satisfied she was entirely well. This has given me unbounded faith in the preparation, and I recommend it confidently to my customers."—O. O. Lepper, Druggist, Fort Wayne, Ind.

CHANGE IN BUSINESS.

I beg to announce to my late customers that I have sold out my business to Messrs. Hilliard & Peplow, and I would bespeak for them the same support as has been accorded me.

C. N. BROWN.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

For some time past we have thought a strictly cash business in Flour, Feed and Provisions could be successfully carried on in Peterborough, and so to test this question, we have purchased the above business from Mr. C. N. Brown who will still continue as manager in Flavelle's old stand, Simcoe street.

In order to be successful we intend to make it the interest of everyone to pay cash with order by selling at wholesale prices.

We will positively give no credit and cash customers will not have to keep up the losses made by others on the credit system.

We will keep a full supply of the very best quality of Flour, Feed, Chop, etc., and our customers need not fear that the quality of the goods will be lowered to make up for the reduction in prices. We are simply giving them the benefit of the margin necessary to cover losses and interest charges incurred on the credit system.

Goods delivered to any part of the town or Ashburnham.

Tennyson's Latest.

The New Review for March, just published leads off with the following new poem by Lord Tennyson, called "A Song":—

To sleep! to sleep! The long bright day is done
And darkness rises from the fallen sun.
To sleep! to sleep!

Whate'er thy joys, they vanish with the day;
Whate'er thy griefs, in sleep they fade away.
To sleep! to sleep!

Sleep, mournful heart, and let the past be past!
Sleep, happy soul! All life will sleep at last.
To sleep! to sleep!

Mr. Archibald Grove, editor of the New Review, paid more than $10 per word for this poem. It was also sold through a syndicate, and altogether Lord Tennyson cleared over $3,000 by this poem.

WARNED BY A MOUSE.

I.

The old manor-house at Barton-Bridge, although one of the quaintest and most picturesque houses in this side of the country, was not half so well known as it deserved to be. Cut off from the high-road by a clump of ancient and well-wooded wych-elms, the few travelers who passed by the plantation gates plodded or drove wearily up the steep hill beyond it, reached the top, admired the view away across the valley of the Bar, and never dreamed of what a curious old mansion lay hidden among the trees.

Its master and owner, John Trowbridge, was an old-fashioned bachelor, who prided himself on three good things—old books, old wine, and old friends; and though he had few of the last, and their visits were few and far between, he always boasted that they were 'enough for him, and enough was as good as a feast.' It was a lonely place, too, ten miles from the county town, and six from the station; while the whole hamlet of Barton consisted of about a score of cottages, all clustered round the tiny church, half a mile down the valley below. The Squire therefore,—as he was everywhere called—when not busy in his library, troubled his head about few things beyond his own domain, lived in a royal sort of cosy comfort on half his income; and gave up most of his time and thoughts to the care of his niece and ward, Miss Grace Rivington, declaring at times that she was the plague of his life; and at others, that without her he did not know what would become of Barton manor. Left an orphan when a mere child, with a fortune of twenty thousand pounds on coming of age, she had grown up at last to be a high-spirited, and charming a young lady as could be found in all the country-side. In short she was the old man's pet, and managed by dint of coaxing, flattery, and scolding to have her own way "in things little or big," as John Trowbridge often confessed. His favorite name for her was, "the little witch," "a wee body, but with a mind and a spirit big enough to manage the most fussy and troublesome horse in the stable, or out of it."

These were the two who sat chatting together one wintry evening in November, on the day of her coming of age, when contrary to all custom in such cases, and in defiance of his urgent intreaty, she had insisted on having no dinner party and no birthday celebration; but a quiet time "just for us two," she said, "and I can have you all to myself." Dinner was over, the wine and walnuts were on the table, and that was wheeled up to the blazing wood-fire; Graves, the butler, had departed, and at last she could speak freely.

"My dear, dear uncle," said she, "there never, never was, and never will be, anything half so beautiful as the necklace you gave me this morning. I had it in my pocket all dinner-time, and was longing to look at it the whole time.—But why did you spend so much money?"

"Why, my dear!" Well, because you are such a naughty, ill-tempered, ugly little shrimp; and I determined that people should look at your diamonds to-morrow, if they wouldn't look at you. As to money, child, I only had them reset; they were my mother's fifty years ago, and her mother's before that —a wedding present from that old Jack Trowbridge whose eyes are now looking down at you from the other side of the room. "Gentleman Jack" they used to call him when he came back from India and brought the diamonds with him."

"Look!" she said, taking them out of the dainty morocco case—"see, how they shine in the light of the fire! I shall be as grand as a queen to-morrow night at the ball, and in that lovely dress from Paris, Uncle; the very happiest girl in Cornwall! What can I say, what can I do, to thank you—the dearest, goodest, wisest of old uncles!"

"Well, if you won't have any more wine, Miss Grace Rivington, say good-night; be off to bed, and look up the necklace in a safe place, and keep the key in your own pocket. You'll have a thousand things to do to-morrow; so go now and get your Beauty sleep, that you may look your best at night. Half the woman will go crazy at the sight of your necklace and gay feathers; and all the men about your lovely face.—But mind, the first quadrille is for me."

They chatted on for a while, and she playfully reminded him that only a month before he had utterly refused to have a dance at the manor-house, or to let the house be turned upside down for any such nonsense. "And now," she added, "you are decking me out like a queen, and begging for a quadrille!"

"You're a witch, my dear, nothing more nor less, and you know it; and I am an old goose, and don't know it; so, good-night."

In less than an hour from that time the diamonds were safely locked up in an old oak cabinet, and the happy owner, like most of the household, sound asleep, and dreaming of all the joys of the coming morrow.

The morrow came, as most to-morrows do, in good season, heavy with clouds at first, but slowly breaking out into sunshine at last. Miss Grace Rivington, after her Beauty-sleep, came down radiant to breakfast; and that being over, sent off a special messenger to her special friend Florence, at the Grange, the following brief note:

"My Dear Florrie—Come over at once, if only for half an hour, and you shall see the loveliest necklace to be found in Cornwall. I am to wear it to-night. G. R.

It was but a short walk from the Grange to the manor-house, and in less than an hour after the despatch of the note, the two friends were in full talk by the side of a roaring wood-fire in Grace's own sanctum, a cosy, snug room, with oak panelling and old oak furniture, which opened out upon the lawn. The two girls were in high spirits; the necklace was duly admired, locked at again and again, carefully put away, and locked up; and then came the discussion of dresses, laces, and partners, about which last point there was a considerable difference of opinion, as great almost as the difference in the personal appearance of the ladies themselves. In that difference, in fact, lay the strength of the friendship. Florrie was a tall dark brunette, with an abundance of black hair, a loud, rather masculine voice, and a still more masculine manner, dress, and tastes.

"And now, Grace," she said at last, "away all the fal-lals, and I'll tell you all about yesterday's doings, when you shut yourself up like a hermit, instead of being out in the finest run for the season. There were four of us from the Grange, and about twenty other redcoats, besides Charlie Burton and a couple of militia men; and we went straight away for Barton Edge, a downright spin of fifty minutes without a check. Then we ran him in, and killed in the open. Coming back, we found again—another forty minutes; lost him, and then home by the harvest field, where Jack and I and the two militaries went in for a rat hunt with a couple of terriers."

"Glad you enjoyed it, my dear; but no rats for me; I hate the sight of one. The mice behind this old wainscot are bad enough, and terrify me out of my wits sometimes. I am actually afraid of them, and uncle won't have a single cat in the place, so that we are fairly overrun with them. Ten to one, if I only open the door of the old press, out flies a mouse, and away I go as fast as my legs will carry me."

"O Grace! what a coward; afraid of a mouse! Never mind, dear; with that necklace on to-night you'll carry all before you—red coats and black, old stagers and young dandies; they'll all fall in love with that charming little witch of a face of yours. You won't be afraid of them, mice or no mice. I shall stand no chance; but it's time for me to be off; so, good-bye, my dear, until eight P.M.—I shall come early. I'll go out by the window and cut across the lawn."

FIGHTING FOR ZION.

Latter-day Saints Engage in Unseemly Wrangles Over Gabriel's Temple Site.

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., April 3.—The two branches of the Mormon Church, known respectively as the Hendrickites and the reorganized church, are fighting for the possession of Mount Zion, a low hill of four acres in extent, selected by Joseph Smith as the place where all the elect will assemble on judgment day and from there be taken into Heaven. The Mormons believe that the foundations of a magnificent temple laid many years ago by the Angel Gabriel are just under the surface of the ground and the place is pitted with holes dug by zealous believers who have endeavored to discover the walls. Some time, so they believe, the Angel Gabriel and his hosts will descend from heaven and uncover these foundations, and then in a single night erect the most beautiful temple ever beheld by mortal eyes. Hendrickites have a church on Mount Zion, and the title to the property is vested in one of their number as trustee. The reorganized church is contesting the title. Last night the church building was nearly wrecked. All the windows were broken, the furniture was turned upside down and the altar was overturned. The Hendrickites claim the desecration was done by the Reformed Church.

A MISER'S HOARDE.

$700 Secreted in the Rafters of a Barn at St. Catharines.

ST. CATHARINES, April 3.—Mr. John Hainer of this city moved a barn from his deceased father's residence to his own place. This morning as the building was being placed in position Hainer, while examining the partitions, found an old buckskin purse hid away in them. Upon opening it a gold piece rolled to the ground and further examination disclosed a sum amounting to about $700 in gold coin. Some of the coins bore the date of 1830. The money is supposed to have been placed there by the finder's father, John Hainer, sr.

We Claim the Earth.

We claim the earth is round, and we know it's true. We also claim that Hagyard's Yellow Oil cures sprains, bruises, colds, croup, sore throat, rheumatism, neuralgia, and all painful or inflammatory diseases, and we know this is true. Yellow Oil is a true family remedy for lameness or soreness in man or beast. 2w15d

The E. B. A. at Church.

Sunday morning the members of St. Peter's branch No. 21, of the Emerald Beneficial Association, to the number of seventy, assembled in the large reception hall at the Convent, each wearing the decoration badge of the order. At eight o'clock, conducted by the marshall, Mr. Athanase Mercier, the "Emeralds" marshed in a body from the Convent to St. Peter's Cathedral, where they received the Holy Communion at the mass. Upon returning to the convent the following resolution was unanimously adopted:—

Moved by John McGrath, seconded by Thomas B. McGrath, and resolved, that the thanks of the E. B. A. are due and are hereby tendered to the good sisters of the convent for their great kindness in placing the reception hall at the disposal of the E. B. A.

Mr. E. O'Neil, president, subsequently presented the Mother Superior of the convent with the above resolution, adding a few well chosen remarks appropriate to the occasion.

"Gentle spring" loses many of its terrors when the system is fortified by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. With multitudes this wonderful tonic-alterative has long superseded all other spring medicines, being everywhere recommended by physicians.

A City Milk Depot.

A Long Felt Want Supplied—A Public Convenience That Should be Appreciated.

The old system of itinerant milk vending carried on by country dairymen is being replaced in these go-ahead days by milk depots, and no city or large town is complete without an establishment of this kind conducted on a business like basis inside the corporation. Peterborough has just been supplied with such a convenience by Mr. G. A. Howson, who has rented one of the stores in the new market building on George street and invites the public patronage.

The advantages he offers over the peddling milkman are many. In the first place, his milk is all aerated, which means that, by the aerating process all animal taste and gases are taken away and the milk made perfectly pure. Mr. Howson has arranged to receive 800 quarts of milk a day from prominent dairymen in the country, and before the milk is given out to the public it is aerated twice and strained four times. The milk is kept ice cold in the large refrigerator and put up in sealers for delivery. Milk delivered in this form is guaranteed strictly pure and sells for 6c. a quart. Milk will also be delivered in bulk for 5c. a quart.

In addition to this Mr. Howson will supply pure cream to customers at a reasonable rate. This will be a great accommodation to the public, who have in the past had difficulty in obtaining cream.

Milk will also be seasoned for churning purposes. Mr. Howson will keep constantly on hand a supply of choice dairy butter. He will have butter milk and skim milk for sale at low rates.

In addition to all this Mr. Howson will run a milk restaurant in connection with his business. He has a large store, fitted up with shelves and counters, with stalls at the back, where, on market and other days, the public can get a light lunch, with a glass of pure milk; and in the summer ice cream, strawberries, etc., will be kept on hand.

Mr. Howson hopes to succeed in his venture, and by continuing to furnish first-class milk and cream gain the confidence and patronage of the public, so that his milk will be above the suspicion too commonly attached to vendor's milk, of having been under the pump. Milk and cream will be delivered to all parts of the town in any shape, bottled or in bulk. Give him a call. His telephone is No. 216.

Church Chimes.

An impressive evangelistic service was held in the Charlotte street church Sunday evening, when Rev. S. J. Shorey delivered a stirring address. During the service Miss Fawcett sang "Jesus Lover of My Soul" in good voice.

The members of the Emerald Benevolent Association received communion in a body at St. Peter's Cathedral Sunday morning, at the 8:30 mass.

Master Arlidge sang a solo in St. Paul's church Sunday evening. Rev. E. F. Torrence gave an earnest and practical sermon upon the lesson suggested in the story of the pool of Bethesda.

Rev. A. McWilliams, of South Mountain, occupied the pulpit of St. Andrew's church Sunday.

An amusing incident occurred at the morning service in the George Street Church Sunday. Rev. Mr. Maxwell, of Toronto, was about beginning to read the lesson, when Mr. Seward, the organist, accidently stepped on one of the pedals and the organ gave forth a dismal groan. Mr. Maxwell quickly turned around to the organist and said, "Hold on, there, give a fellow a chance." The congregation smiled audibly.

The revival services in the George Street Methodist Church will be continued this week, conducted by the pastor.

The services held in the George Street Methodist Church yesterday on behalf of missions were unusually interesting and were largely attended. Rev. W. J. Maxwell, of Toronto, preached at the morning service a thrilling missionary sermon. The evening service took the form of a platform meeting, during which the choir sang with good effect several anthems and hymns, and missionary addresses were delivered by Dr. J. J. McLaren, Q.C., of Toronto, and W. J. Maxwell. Liberal collections and subscriptions for missions were taken up. It is confidently expected that when the collections are all in the amount raised will reach $600. At the evening service the pastor of the church, Rev. Jos. H. Locke, read several extracts from the 66th annual report of the society, from which it appears that the Methodist Missionary Society has under its control 487 missions, 438 missionaries, 90 native assistants and teachers, while the contributions to the society for the past year amounted to $220,000, being about $5 000 over last year. Rev. G. H. Davis and Rev. M. J. Bates occupied seats on the platform and took part in the service, which was continued until an unusually late hour. Those who remained till the last were amply repaid, the addresses by Dr. McLaren and Rev. Mr. Maxwell being full of interest.

A dog owned by Mrs. Stenton, which, it was claimed, had bitten a little son of Mr. Michael Lavery, was ordered to be shot, evidence being conclusive that the dog was of a vicious nature.

Edward Tighe pleaded guilty to a charge of "assaulting and beating" his mother on Saturday, but offered as an excuse that he was drunk. A punishment of $5 fine or ten days in gaol was imposed.

The Late Harry Read.

The Port Hope Times says:—"The death of Mr. Harry Read, which took place in Montreal this morning, will be a matter of much regret to his many friends in Port Hope, whom they hear the intelligence. Deceased's life has been in the balance for some time, and his demise will not be a surprise. He was for many years Secretary of the Midland Railway, and made his residence in Port Hope. When the amalgamation of the Midland with the Grand Trunk took place, Mr. Read was transferred to Montreal where he has ever since occupied a responsible position in the service of the Company. He was very popular with all with whom business brought him in contact, and among the G. T. R. officials and the general public he was held in the highest esteem. The funeral will take place from the residence of his brother-in-law, Mr. Wm. Simpson, King street, on Tuesday at 3 o'clock p. m. to St. John's cemetery." The late Mr. Read was well known in Peterborough. When the Midland Railway Company's head offices were transferred to Peterborough, Mr. Read located here with the other officials as Secretary-Treasurer of the Company. By his genial disposition and his good business abilities he made many warm friends, who will deeply deplore his death, and their heartfelt sympathy will go out to the bereaved widow, who will also be borne in the most kindly remembrance by a great many warm friends in Peterborough.

A Sign of Spring.

Several flocks of wild geese were this morning noticed flying northward to their nesting grounds. This is considered to be a fairly accurate sign of spring, for this fowl is no so much of a goose as to make a mistake in meteorological matters.

If your cough keeps you awake and restless at night, take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and obtain immediate relief. This remedy allays inflammation, heals the pulmonary organs, induces sleep, and restores health. The sooner you begin the better.

The Spring Assizes Opening—Mr. Justice Mc'abea Presiding—A Bank Crimi nal and a Petty Civil Docket.

The siftings of the Spring Assizes began at the Court House on Monday at 1 p.m. His Lordship Justice McMahon occupied the bench, and the bar was represented by Messrs. D. W. Dumble, C. J. Leonard, John Green, W. A. Stenton, R. M. Dennistoun, E. B. Stone, R. B. Edwards, C. W. Sawers and John Barnham, Q.C., town; and D. Burke Simpson, Bowmanville, in charge of the Crown business, and G. W. Watson, Q.C., Toronto.

THE GRAND JURY

was empanelled as follows:

JOHN CARNEGIE, Foreman.

T. P. Atwill,	F. Birdsall,
T. E. Bradburn,	C. D. Crawford,
James M. Carter,	J. S. Campbell,
T. Cahill,	M. Coughlin,
W. Cox, sr.,	Samuel Ellis,
Jos. Forster,	W. A. Graham,
Thos. Gladman,	J. J. Hartley,
R. Mulholland,	Jas. Middleton,
Jas. McKibbon,	Jos. Payne,
Jas. Petrie,	E. Peplow,
E. Short.

His Lordship briefly addressed the Grand Jury. He said it was a great pleasure to congratulate the Grand Jury upon the lightness of their duties. There was no person in gaol charged with any crime, but a case of arson would be preferred against a person accused of setting fire to a school house in Aylmer. His lordship defined arson and stated that malice was not essential an element of this crime. His lordship adverted to the changes in the law relating to certain offences, which were of interest to those whose names were on the Commission of the Peace, and discharged the jurors to their duties.

The first crime case called was that of Leonard vs. Peterborough, which is in progress as this report closes.

"Contingencies."

Some of the items for contingent expenses of the several Dominion departments last year are interesting. The amount appropriated for contingencies totalled $234,364, which was all used, and $32,454 in addition. Over $16 000 was spent on telegrams and over $50,000 on extra clerks. For prolonged Cabinet meetings it was found necessary to purchase a China tea set, costing a modest $10. The lunches supplied to Ministers cost $150. The item of refreshments for Cabinet, $69 31, is distinct from "lunches," and apparently has some connection with "decanters, $4." For a portrait of Sir John Macdonald for the Department of Justice the sum of $25 is charged. Sir Adolphe Caron charges $4 for one volume of the Encyclopedia Britannica. Probably it contains the article on military tactics. L. H. Tache, the private secretary, got over $600 for travelling expenses, while his chief, the Secretary of State, was content with $300. The officers of the Department of the Interior received no less than $3,700 for travelling expenses, of which $400 only went to the Minister. Mr. Dewdney also got two volumes of the Encyclopedia Britannica. It cost nearly $30 to notify the public not to address Mr. Dewdney on Indian affairs as Minister of the Interior. Hon. John Carling appears to be the only Minister who is a patron of art, as he charges an item of $17.50 for framing and hanging six paintings. Mr. Tupper follows close with 60 cents for framing a photograph. The expense of Hon. C. H. Tupper at the Behring Sea conference, which resulted in nothing, amounted to $1,582. Lieutenant-Governor Royal charged the public with $160 for volumes of The Scientific American, the freight on which amounted to $50. The grant to 143 Protestant Public Schools in the Northwest amounted to $40,000, and to Roman Catholic institutions of learning $18,000. There are 26 Catholic Public Schools, nine Separate Schools and two convents included. The Regina representative of the Ottawa Government spent the following sums:—For one lady's oak desk, $35; one satin fire screen, $35; one oak dining chair, $2.50; one sewing machine, $60; one walnut wardrobe, $30; bamboo, beaded and terra cotta curtains, $60; portiere curtains, $87; Swiss curtains, nineteen pairs, $13; Chudda silk, seven pairs, $17. Over $300 was required to renew Mr. Royal's curtains last year. For the table the taxpayers bought him, among other things, the following:—Dragon candlesticks, claret bowl decanters, champagne glasses, claret glasses, port glasses, sherry glasses, wine glasses, statues of Sir George Cartier, Lafontaine, Mgr. Tache, Sir John Macdonald and Sir Hector Langevin. We are told that His Honor had to have a page dressed in knee-breeches and kid slippers, and that he purchased two pairs of socks, six pairs of cuffs and one dozen ties before said page was appavelled sufficiently to wait on royalty. For a prohibition country one corking machine and liquor box are rum items. His Honor is evidently a gay gondolier, and charged us $125 for a skiff. Altogether in such items is cost the country last year about $7,000 to run the royal ranche of Regina, in addition to the expenditure in the office of the Lieutenant-Governor and in addition to his salary of $7,000.

Opportunity.

Master of human destinies am I,
Fame, love and fortune on my footsteps wait.
Cities and fields I walk. I penetrate
Deserts and seas remote. And passing by
Hovel and mart and palace, soon or late
I knock unbidden once at every gate.
If sleeping wake; if feasting rise before
I turn away; it is the hour of fate,
And those who follow me each every state
Mortals desire and conquer every foe
Save death; but those who doubt or hesitate.
Condemned to failure, penury and woe,
Seek me in vain, and uselessly implore;
I answer not, and I return no more.

But fail not in this respect:
Seize every opportunity to travel
Over the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway. 3/80

A McCarthyite Envoy.

DR. FOX.

Dr. Joseph F. Fox, the delegate of the McCarthyites, who has been in America for some time, also hails from the county Cork. He was born in Queenstown thirty-eight years ago. He came to America twelve years ago, studied medicine and settled down in Troy to practice. While there he was well known in Irish National circles, serving two terms as New York State delegate of the Irish National League. He went back to Ireland five years ago. He is one of the most trusted members of the anti-Parnell side of the present controversy.

How Clothes-Pins Are Made.

If there is one article that is an absolute necessity to a housekeeper it is a clothes-pin. Canadian clothes-pins are made at Newmarket, Ont., Eastman, Que., and Rundhill N. B. They are usually of white ash, but we have them of beech, birch, and maple. The wood is taken to the factory in logs, and cut into lengths of thirty-one inches by circular saws. These are then cut into blocks which are reduced to sticks, then placed under another saw and reduced to clothes-pin lengths. Next the turner takes a hand at them, and from him they go to the slitting machine. They are placed in troughs by the operator, the machine picking them up and slatting them. Then they are placed in a revolving pipe drier, going thence to the polishing cylinder. Each pin passes through eight hands.

A single plant consists of a board saw, gang splitter, gang chunker, turning lathe, drying house and polisher, and costs from $10,000 to $19,000. The little blocks of wood, five and one half inches long, are placed on an endless belt, which feeds the blocks automatically into the lathe. As the lathe is turned the pin is taken automatically from the spindle and placed on a turn-table and carried to a circular saw, which whittles out the slat into a pin. It is then finished and thrown out of the turn-table by the same appliance that puts the pins on the table.

Pailing, they are caught in a basket or barrel, and are taken to the drying house to remain twelve hours or until dry. The polishing cylinder holds from twenty to forty bushels. This is run at a slow speed, about thirty turns a minute, and is by simple friction and contact they become polished. They are sold to the trade at a little over $1 a bushel, and are packed in boxes of four to the bushel. The industry is an increasing one, and almost $50,000 worth of pins were manufactured in 1890.—Canada Lumberman.

The Fatted Calf.

Though Dead Yet Speaketh.

On the Saturday preceding Easter, upon entering the doorway of Winch Bros. meat stall, I was delighted to behold a splendid and extremely fat calf hanging, half-skinned, and magnificently decorated. The sight inspired the muse, and the calf tells its tale of woe:

It is Easter—men seem to rejoice and to feast,
But the season merry death to the fowl and the beast;
Man's love must be dead, and their sympathy cold,—
They regard not the life of a beast, young or old.

Who would kill a young calf, yes, before its skin dried,
That their nice craving appetites might be supplied;
They would break family ties for veal cutlets or stew,
Though my grief-stricken mother should weep out her eyes.

Two happier bovines never stood in a byre,
And a kindlier mother no calf could desire.
When I stood up beside her to suck her rich milk,
Then she licked all my back till it shaded like silk.

My young frolicking days were too pleasant to last,
A dark hour arrived before two months had passed.
I was laid half asleep, when they gave me a pinch;
I looked up at my boss, and his friend Harry Winch.

My boss puffed and blowed on the milk that I drank,
Harry handled my brisket, ribs, pin-bone and flank;
I knew not the meaning when I heard Harry say:
"It will suit me tip-top for my Easter display."

When they lifted me into the rig for a ride,
I could hear my dear mother lead bawling outside,
Of her grief been me Harry no notice did take,
All their thoughts were the dollars and cents they could make.

That ride changed my joy into torture and pain,
For I knew, the cruel wretch, cut my jugular vein.
He half-skinned and disbowelled me, dressed me nicely for sale,
Then he split up my body from the neck to the tail.

I am dead, here I hang, with my back to the wall,
To be gazed at by crowds as they enter your stall,
I am stretched out, and covered with fat like a net,
Decorated with rosettes, grand flowers and mottoes.

Harry Winch and his brother seem great men in your view—
If you were a fat calf they would soon slaughter you!
For they search the whole globe for their Easter display,
They would butcher a whale if it came in their way.

My life seemed a dream—a short joy, then a sorrow,
A grand show for to-day, a rich feast for to-morrow;
I craved a true with as I drew my last breath,
That my mother would gore both the Winches to death.

King of Medicines

A Cure "Almost Miraculous."

"When I was 14 years of age I had a severe attack of rheumatism, and after I recovered had to go on crutches. A year later, scrofula, in the form of white swellings, appeared on various parts of my body, and for 11 years I was an invalid, being confined to my bed 8 years. In that time ten or eleven sores appeared and broke, causing me great pain and suffering. I feared I never should get well.

"Early in 1886 I went to Chicago to visit a sister, but was confined to my bed most of the time I was there. In July I read a book, 'A Day with a Circus,' in which were statements of cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla. I was so impressed with the success of this medicine that I decided to try it. To my great gratification the sores soon decreased, and I began to feel better and in a short time I was up and out of doors. I continued to take Hood's Sarsaparilla for about a year, when, having used six bottles, I had become so fully released from the disease that I went to work for the Flint & Walling Mfg. Co., and since then on account of sickness. I believe the disease is expelled from my system, I always feel well, am in good spirits and have a good appetite. I am now 27 years of age and can walk as well as any one, except that one limb is a little shorter than the other, owing to the loss of bone, and the sores formerly on my right leg. To my friends my recovery seems almost miraculous, and I think Hood's Sarsaparilla is the king of medicines." WILLIAM A. LEHR, 9 N. Railroad St., Kendallville, Ind.

A BAD HUMOR CURED

$5,000 Expended on Doctors and Medicine with small. Gave himself up to die.

Good Will Suggests Cuticura Remedies. Does them 7 Months, and is Entirely Cured.

I was in the war during 1863-4, and took a heavy cold at Gettysburg, from which I never fully recovered. In 1875 I broke out in sores all over my chest and shoulder, which seemed impossible to cure. I tried all the famed doctors I could find, and to no avail. I expended some five thousand dollars trying to find a cure but could not, and finally giving myself up to die, my friend urged me to try, one day, to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES, which I did, no extraordinary advertisement and trust. I believed her suggestion, and am happy to say that by diligent application of your CUTICURA REMEDIES for seven months I was entirely cured, after spending many years of time and money without avail, and am a sound and well man to-day. You may refer to me if you wish, as I will tell any one who may call on me my experience. O. L. PEARSALL,

CASH HARDWARE STORE.

On and after 1st April we shall do business on a Cash Basis.

To cover the inevitable losses attendant upon a credit business, which accrue from amount of time spent in keeping accounts, collecting, bad debts, interest account, and in numerous other ways, larger margins of profit must be asked.

In these times cash buyers ask, expect, and are entitled to close prices. A careful consideration of the subject convinces us that the time has come for a cash business done on smaller profits.

The only customers who may possibly be put to inconvenience are those who have had long credit. In more ways than one it will be to their advantage to pay cash.

For convenience of our old customers who consider their accounts due when presented, we will call 30 days cash and render all accounts the first of each month, and we wish to say that will be happy to do business with them on these terms.

As the new departure is something of an experiment, which would be considered a close cash price will be made all through the stock. Not a few leaders only, but a general reduction in everything from the fourth flat to the cellar.

Our idea is to perform more than promised rather than promise more than can be fulfilled.

Our stock is large and varied, consisting of Builders', Contractors', Housekeeping, Mechanics', Painters', Shoemakers', Farm, Mill, Factory, Lumbermen's, Sporting, Threshers', Cabinet-makers', and other lines of Hardware.

CONFERENCE POSTPONED.

THE PRESIDENT WISHES TO ATTEND RECIPROCITY NEGOTIATIONS.

And the Reciprocity Conference is Postponed Until Harrison Returns from His Vacation The Ministers Leave for New York

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Sir Charles Tupper, Canadian High Commissioner to England; Hon. George E. Foster, Minister of Finance; Sir John Thompson, Minister of Justice, and C. C. Chipman, Sir Charles Tupper's private secretary, reached Washington at a late hour last night from Ottawa. The object of their visit was to call by appointment on Secretary Blaine and informally discuss with him the propositions embodied in the letter from Lord Stanley, Governor-General of Canada, to Lord Knutsford, Imperial Secretary for the Colonies. The propositions were:

1. The renewal of the reciprocity treaty of 1854 with such modification as will suit the altered circumstances of both countries.

2. The reconsideration of the treaty of 1888 with respect to the Atlantic fisheries, with the aim of securing free admission into the United States markets of Canadian fishery products in return for facilities to be granted the United States fishermen to buy bait and supplies and to tranship cargoes in Canada, all such privileges to be mutual.

3. Protection of mackerel and other fisheries of the Atlantic Ocean and inland waters.

4. The relaxation of the seaboard inland coasting laws of the two countries.

5. Mutual salvage and saving of wrecked vessels, and

6. An arrangement for settling the boundary between Canada and this country.

Accompanied by Sir Julian Pauncefote, the ministers called on Secretary Blaine at his home, just before noon. Their stay lasted but a few minutes. Returning to their hotel they announced that they were to leave Washington in a few hours. As social engagements had been made by members of the party that indicated a purpose to stay in Washington at least a week, the news of their intended sudden departure caused some surprise. This was not at rest, however, by a statement from Sir Charles Tupper, who said he visited Secretary Blaine last Thursday and was cordially received. He explained the desire of the Canadian Government to lay the foundation for negotiations that would broaden the trade relations between Canada and the United States. Secretary Blaine met the proposal favorably, and Sir Charles returned to Ottawa to report the result to his Government and to secure the presence in Washington to-day of Messrs. Thompson and Foster, Secretary Blaine having arranged to receive them. Subsequently Secretary Blaine learned that the President desired to be present when negotiations were undertaken, and his projected southern and western trip would not admit of that if the negotiations were to proceed at once. Accordingly Secretary Blaine informed Sir Julian Pauncefote that a postponement would be desirable, and the Minister so telegraphed Sir Charles Tupper at Ottawa but the party had started for Washington before the telegram was received and was not informed of the change of program until this morning. Sir Charles Tupper says Sir Julian Pauncefote will notify the party when to return to Washington, which will be as soon as the President can conveniently give his attention to the negotiations. After the interview with Secretary Blaine this morning the party called at the White House and left their cards for the President.

Sir Charles Tupper and Messrs. Foster and Thompson left for New York this evening.

LONDON TOWNSHIP MURDER.

It Was the Culmination of a Feud of Long Standing.

LONDON, April 6.—Further particulars of the murder of Benjamin Hubbard, an employe of Geary's dairy farm, 6th concession of London township, by Charles Hodges, the foreman, show that the two men had been on unfriendly terms for a year past, as the result of a previous quarrel. On Sunday afternoon the two men engaged in a dispute in a milk house, but who started it will never be known. The prisoner claims the deceased called him names and caught him by the whiskers, and that in self-defence he struck Hubbard in the breast with his fist and he fell off the landing face downward upon a pile of manure. Hodges denies that he used a knife or that he had one, although when Dr. Hutchinson examined the body he found a knife wound below the heart, which had either entered the heart or cut some of the vessels leading thereto, and a pocketknife, such as might have been used in inflicting the wound, was found in his possession. Hodges took his arrest coolly. He is a married man, 65 years of age, while the victim, who was also married, was aged 40 years.

A Connecticut Lad Dying from Swallowing Tacks, Nails and Iron Filings.

HARTFORD, Conn., April 6.—John Gunn, 18 years of age, is lying at the point of death in the Hartford Hospital as the result of his rapacious appetite for metal filings, screws and nails.

To Father Leary of St. Patrick's Church young Gunn related that about two years ago he went to New York on a visit, and while there dropped into a dime museum on the Bowery. The curiosity which most attracted his attention was the "Human Ostrich." The sight of a person swallowing nails, bits of old iron, etc., filled him with astonishment. He visited the museum often during his stay, and on his return home he resolved to become a human ostrich, too.

He was at that time employed in the Hartford Machine Screw Co. and began his experiments with small bits of iron filings. No evil effects were felt from the first experiment, and Gunn often repeated the feat in the shop for the edification of the boys.

Dunn broke into a store in the city a few months ago and was sentenced to a year in jail. He got hold of some carpet tacks in prison and swallowed them. Pretty soon the tacks gave out and Dunn fed on nails. The doctors say he cannot live many days.

Wrecked on the Boston & Albany

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., April 6.—The Owl express train on the Boston & Albany Railway leaving this city at 9.40 to-night was wrecked near Westfield. The locomotive was thrown down the bank, with two mail cars. No passengers were hurt, but Engineer Marshal of Albany, Baggagemaster Murray and Expressman Howard are known to be injured.

MANITOBA'S SCHOOL ACT.

TO BE ALLOWED BY DOMINION GOVERNMENT.

Separate Schools in Manitoba and the French Language in the Manitoba Legislature to be Abolished Several Other Acts Disallowed by the Cabinet.

OTTAWA, April 6.—The Dominion Government has decided to allow the Provincial Act abolishing separate schools, and also an act abolishing French in the Legislature and journals and judicial proceedings, to go into operation. In his report Sir John Thompson says: "It is doubtful whether the Legislature had the power to pass these Acts. The constitutionality of them, however, can be easily tested in the courts by anyone who is interested in the use of the French language in legal proceedings or in the journals of the Assembly, and therefore the prerogative of disallowance has not been exercised." The Minister comments very unfavorably on several bills passed by the Manitoba Legislature in 1890, notably the act respecting The Executive Administration of the Lands of the Province, the Game Act and The Municipal Institutions Act, but the objections raised were not sufficient to have them disallowed. Two acts, however, are said to be especially objectionable. The first is one respecting Contagious Diseases Among Animals. This is said to be ultra vires in part, because it conflicts with trade and commerce, as well as with the authority of Parliament to deal with the subject of quarantine. On these and the other grounds the Act has been disallowed. The other is an act respecting Extra Provincial corporations, which authorized companies incorporated, not of the province, to do business therein, and in effect provides that no institution can transact business in the province except with permission of the Provincial Government and upon payment of a license fee, no matter how enormous the amount, or it may be made prohibitory as the executive council may see fit. This act, it is said, would have the effect of confiscating the Hudson Bay property and be a breach of faith with certain land companies who got Dominion lands for building certain roads and carrying out certain other obligations entered into with the Dominion Government. It has therefore been disallowed.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

TORONTO, April 7.—In the Ontario Legislature yesterday Mr. Tait's bill respecting the examination of stationary engineers and the inspection of stationary boilers was referred to a special committee.

Upon Mr. Waters' motion for the second reading of the bill to amend the Ditches and Watercourses Act Mr. Mowat said that a commission would be issued during recess to investigate the whole question of municipal drainage. In the meantime he had drafted a bill to simplify the assessment of costs under an arbitration. Mr. Waters' bill accordingly was dropped.

Among the bills introduced was one by G. B. Smith to amend the Insolvency Act in order to prevent a person about to become insolvent from making over property to anyone to the disadvantage of creditors.

Mr. Meredith introduced a bill to amend the Judicature Act by providing that in the case of anyone suing for compensation for injuries the judge or referee may order that the claimant shall submit to examination by medical or other experts.

Mr. Davis' bill respecting the use of velocipedes on public highways, which was printed yesterday, is not so formidable as the bicyclists had feared. The first clause provides that in case any difficulty shall arise from any person using bicycles, etc., on any highway in passing any vehicle or mounted horseman, "it shall be the duty of such person to stop and in every reasonable way to assist such mounted horseman or the person in charge of such vehicle to pass him and proceed in safety." The second clause provides that bicycles, etc., running after dark over any highway shall carry a bright red light in a conspicuous place.

What the New Shipping Act Will Require of Exporters.

OTTAWA, April 6.—The Marine Department has made public a draft of the Live Stock Shipping Act, which will be introduced at this session. The governor-in-council may appoint inspectors, who shall issue clearances certifying the number of cattle actually on board, and that such ship is seaworthy, and that all arrangements are satisfactory to ensure the safety of such live stock for the voyage.

The master of any ship which proceeds to sea, or attempts to proceed to sea, with a greater number of live stock on board than is allowed by her certificate for the intended voyage shall incur a penalty of one thousand dollars, and such ship shall be liable for the same, and will be liable for seizure.

American Cattle in Glasgow.

MONTREAL, April 6.—There was consternation among cattle exporters this morning upon learning that cattle were selling a cent a pound dearer in Chicago than in Glasgow to-day. About £3 a head was being lost on each head of American cattle sold in Glasgow. This is an extraordinary state of affairs and is not easy to account for. It is a long time since a similar thing has happened.

Transportation of Bonded Goods.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The Secretary of the Treasury has determined on a number of important changes in the regulations governing transportation of bonded goods in Canadian cars over United States territory, but will not make them public for several days yet. It was announced to-day, however, that the Secretary has decided that domestic goods taken from ports in the United States by the Canadian Pacific Railway to Revelstoke, B.C., may be transferred from the cars at that point, under supervision of a customs officer, to American vessels for transportation down the Columbia River to Little Falls, Wash., and there be re-loaded on cars of the Canadian Pacific road.

Will Written on the Fly-leaf of a Bible.

WESTMINSTER, Md., April 6.—On the fly leaf of a Bible belonging to the late Miss Mamie McKinstry of this county, who died several months ago, the following, written in lead pencil in her handwriting, has been discovered: "$5000 for the Western Maryland College, $1000 of it to be given to the Theological Seminary; $1000 towards hall; the $3000 to be given to the main college." This will is signed and dated July 18, 1885. The paper has been filed by her brother in the Orphans' Court.

MORE TROUBLE IN INDIA.

SEVERAL OTHER TRIBES OPEN FIRE ON THE BRITISH.

Troopers and Officers Killed—Reinforcements Being Hurried Into the Interior The Viceroy Hopes to Speedily Crush the Rebellion.

LONDON, April 6.—Sir James Fergusson, Political Secretary of the Foreign Office, in the House of Commons to-day said the recent trouble at Manipur, India, originated in a dispute between the Maharajah of Manipur and the latter's brother, a powerful chieftain. The dispute became so serious that the Maharajah took refuge in the British residency, leaving the state in an extremely disordered condition. Chief Commissioner Quinton met with resistance upon the part of the Maharajah's brother, who commanded the Manipur troops, when Quinton went to Manipur to try to restore order and to reinstate the virtually deposed Maharajah. Sir James said the Viceroy of India, the Marquis of Lansdowne, had telegraphed that he would speedily restore order in the disturbed districts of India.

Further Risings Reported.

CALCUTTA, April 6.—If present indications turn out to be correct, there is very serious trouble brewing in India for the British forces. Emboldened by the success of the Manipurs, who recently crushed the Goorkha escort accompanying Chief Commissioner James W. Quinton in his efforts to settle the disputes which have occurred among the rival chieftains of Assam, the Miranzi in the Kohat territory, a district of the Peshawur division of the Punjab, have risen in arms and are attacking the British troops along the whole length of their lines. It is also known that the Miranzi attack is pushed vigorously and that strong reinforcements have been hurriedly despatched to the frontier. Full details as to this new uprising are withheld by the authorities here.

In addition to this news, telegrams from Rangoon announce that the Haku-Chins laid in ambush in a favorable location awaiting the passage of a small British column on its way from one military post to another. When the British force was well inside the trap the Haku-Chins suddenly opened fire on the soldiers, instantly killing Lieut. Forbes and five men and severely wounding 11 others. This column, however, returned the enemy's fire with such effect that the British force was enabled to retreat from the dangerous position and thus probably escaped annihilation.

Sharp fighting with the rebellious natives continues. The Miranzi rising is extending. Yesterday the 29th Regiment lost nine men killed and four wounded.

KEW AND KENSINGTON.

Close Vote On a Motion in the Commons to Reduce Appropriations for Repairing the Palaces.

LONDON, April 6.—In the House of Commons to-day Henry Labouchere moved a reduction of the item of £10,000 for the maintenance and repair of Kensington Palace, on the ground that the palace was utterly useless and that the country would be the better without that edifice. Labouchere also moved to strike out the item appropriating £425 for the maintenance and repair of Kew Palace, saying that palace was also useless and nobody knew where Kew Palace was or who lived there.

Sir George Otto Trevelyan opposed the motion, saying both Kensington Palace and Kew Palace were historical monuments in which considerable interest was centred.

After further discussion Labouchere's motions were rejected 79 to 51.

Samuel Danks Waddy (Gladstonian) then moved to reduce the item appropriating money for the maintenance and repair of Bushey House, which, he said, was occupied by the Duke of Nemours, a wealthy man. Mr. Waddy claimed it was a monstrous state of affairs which permitted the Duke of Nemours to occupy Bushey House at the expense of the English people. The motion was rejected 83 to 55.

IS PARNELL MARRIED?

LONDON, April 6.—A sensation was caused in the lobby of the House of Commons this evening by a rumor that Mr. Parnell has been privately married since the O'Shea divorce proceedings. According to this rumor the lady whom Mr. Parnell married is not Mrs. O'Shea. Several Parnellites in the House of Commons were interviewed on the subject to-night, but they refused to say more than that the "mystery" of their leader's inner life which has often been referred to recently as certain to clear Mr. Parnell's character will shortly be explained.

PARIS, April 6.—The Miners' Congress has been the screaming joke of the city for the past week. Each sitting has ended in a disturbance that culminated yesterday in a free fight. Messrs. McCartney, in the office with his throat cut from ear to ear and the door locked on the inside. Mr. Lancashire was one of the leading citizens, a councillor for the past two years and was in easy circumstances and it is as yet impossible to discover any cause for the rash act.

By a shawl and cap found beside the body the remains were recognized as those of Mary Jane Colville, the daughter of a farmer in the neighborhood who had met her Faustus and fallen, and the post mortem on the body showed that she was enciente at the time of her death. She had been missing for about 6 months. A farmer named Lemuel Kitchen has been working on the case for 6 years and claimed to have secured evidence connecting the prisoner Smith, who was known to have kept company with the girl, with being the murderer, but the crown have now concluded that the evidence is insufficient to warrant his being held, and he has therefore been discharged.

EVENING MILLINERY OPENING AT TURNBULL'S.

We have decided to have a second Millinery Opening this season on Tuesday evening, April 7th, when the store will be kept open, and decorated with all the new and fashionable goods for this season's trade.

Notwithstanding the unfavorable weather, our show rooms have been thronged in the afternoons since Thursday, but we feel that there are a great number of Ladies who have not been able to get out on account of the weather, which has led us to decide to keep everything on display until after Tuesday evening.

The styles this season are such a decided change, and unusually pretty, we want all to see them to the best advantage, and naturally to leave the impression that for decidedly new and cheap goods, Turnbull's is the right place to go for a large selection, since our store has been thoroughly renovated.

While passing through the store, even when not intending to buy, you are compelled to stop and price some of the articles on display.

Pretty print blouses from 50c. each, up to those of figured wool delaine at $1.75. Neat patterns in light prints, narrow, but warranted to wash, at 5c. a yard. Novelties in pearl bead frillings, at 5c. a frill. White embroidered apron lawns at 20c. a yard. Cream and white curtain nets, taped edge, at from 15 to 25c. a yard.

On reaching the archway leading into the Simcoe street store, you are struck with amazement, and almost think you have got into midsummer, and begin to look around for the bumble bees and humming birds among the flowers. Some of the leading colors are the new Shades in Heliotrope and Lavender, French Gray, Buttercups and Black Combined. Most of the Bonnets are Small, Toque Shapes, flat, and trimmed at the back with pretty little Forget-Me-Not Flowers, Jewelled Ribbon and Lace to match. There is something very pretty for children in Leghorn Hats, trimmed with ruchings of silk and lace.

TUESDAY, APRIL 7, 1891.

THE SITUATION.

The present situation at Ottawa is unusually full of interest. The tenor of the news from the Capital shows that the Dominion Cabinet members are in decidedly hot water. Sir Charles Tupper's visit to Washington evidently convinced him that the United States would accept nothing but Unrestricted Reciprocity and naturally he has pressed the views arising from this conviction upon the cabinet. There is every reason to think that Sir Charles' reasoning to the cabinet, whose meeting he attended on Saturday took a line in favor of adopting a measure of Unrestricted Reciprocity that would be acceptable to the United States. He sees that the principle of free trade has taken a strong hold upon the public mind of Canada and that sooner or later it must be conceded to the people of Canada. He has impressed upon Sir John the wisdom of yielding gracefully to the inevitable—it would be better he argues, to maintain a show of consistency and to implement the pledges of reciprocity upon which the Conservative party entered the contest last March. The farmers declared against the policy of restriction, and the feeling that prompted that declaration is not likely to die out, but to become intensified. Unless the Government can do something for the farming community, they must expect to have the adverse farmers' verdict of last March to be much more decided at another election. So overwhelming is this conviction, that Sir Charles, by such reasoning as the above, feels that the best policy is to secure reciprocity, and if the United won't accept of a treaty confined to natural products, then he is prepared to give what will be acceptable, namely, Unrestricted Reciprocity. And that is what seems to be on the slate now. The Liberals can take much comfort from the situation. They see that the principles for which they fought out the late campaign are recognized as the only thing that will satisfy the country, and they can continue the fight with the feeling of assurance that the great boon which they are striving to give Canada will be secured sooner or later.

Compulsory Reciprocity.

The Dominion Government Coerced by the Logic of Facts—Turning a Cold Shoulder to the "Old Policy"—The Manufacturing Monopolists Alarmed.

Correspondence of the Examiner.

OTTAWA, April 5th.—That "lookers on see most of the game," is as true of the political game being now played here by the Cabinet gamesters, as of any other game of chance. When Sir John stole the Liberal thunder at the last elections, and went to the country on the platform of Reciprocity in one locality of the Dominion, and of protection in another, he doubtless saw the tangle into which he was stepping, but he trusted to the chapter of accidents and to unscrupulous manoeuvring to bring order out of chaos. He knew he needed an unscrupulous tool, and Sir Charles Tupper was brought to the country for the purpose. Having bribed the outlying provinces to get a Government majority, he is now bull-dozing the Cabinet, and is carrying consternation into the Conservative camp by threatening to carry out the promises in regard to Reciprocity which Sir John made, but which were regarded by his followers as a blind to hoodwink the "Grits," whilst they, (the faithful) understood that it was gammon. But there's trouble in the camp now. Sir Charles, finding that no offer of partial reciprocity will be entertained by the United States, shows a readiness to go the "whole hog." He is prepared to go any length to show that he is master. Anyhow, the manufacturers are taking alarm. They fear that Sir Charles who seems to have a supreme and sinister influence over that aggregation of conflicting personal and faction interests, the Dominion cabinet, will bring about reciprocity in manufactures as the only condition on which he can get the success as a negotiator, he seems to have set his heart upon. Manufacturers of the tariff-fed type are flocking to Ottawa in a state of panic, and moreover in a state of mutiny. They were bled to sustain the government and now they are not going to tamely submit to having their spoil in the shape of tariff hap taken from them by Sir Charles Tupper. They boldly say that the Maritime provinces are not the Dominion and if a commission representing the Maritime provinces alone—Tupper, Thompson and Foster—is to go to Washington to juggle with the interests of the manufacturing provinces, then the manufacturing provinces, Ontario and Quebec which have practically declared against the government, and are not represented on the commission, will have something strong to say on the subject. And the Ontario and Quebec manufacturers have cause for alarm for their interests. If Sir John can get Tupper to make the Maritime and outlying Provinces majority solid beyond a peradventure by some sort of juggling, concessions at the expense of the manufacturing Provinces, he will have no hesitation in throwing the manufacturers overboard. And they are not much to be pitied. They support a government actuated by a policy suggested by expediency, not by principle. No pledge can bind such a government; no promise is sacred that stands in the way of such a government securing political support. The government sees that the unbiased opinion of the country is in favour of the Unrestricted Reciprocity offered by the Liberal party at the late elections. The Liberals supported this policy because they believed it was best for the country. The Tory government at Ottawa, at Tupper's dictation, are prepared to support it in order to keep office. What the upshot will be a few days will decide. There can, however, be no doubt that the result will vindicate the position taken by the Liberals in the elections of March last.

"THE CAT IN GLOVES

catches no mice," and so is the business man handicapped who suffers from sick headache, biliousness and dyspepsia, unless he makes use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

For men or women of sedentary habits, there is nothing equal to them as a gentle laxative to the bowels, and as a regulator of the entire digestive system. No griping, no pain, they are as gentle as Nature herself in their action.

Persons whose business gives them little physical exercise, will do well to always keep a vial in their vest pocket, to ward off all attacks of indigestion.

One little "Pellet" a dose as a laxative; three or four as a cathartic.

Being purely vegetable, they operate without disturbance to the system, diet or occupation. Put up in sealed vials, hence always fresh and reliable, which is not the case with pills put up in wood and pasteboard boxes.

The "Pleasant Pellets" are the only Liver Pill sold, by druggists, under a positive guarantee from their makers, of their giving satisfaction in every case, or price paid for them (25 cents) will be refunded.

They're the cheapest pill sold, because you only pay for the good you get.

when you use Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It's Catarrh. No matter how bad your case, or of how long standing, you can be cured. Incurable cases are rare. It's worth $500 to you, if you have one. The manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Remedy are looking for them. They'll pay you that amount in cash, if they can't cure you. It's a plain square offer from a responsible business house, and they mean it. It seems too one-sided, too much of a risk. It would be—with any other medicine behind it. But incurable cases are rare—with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy.

"Like Magic,"

THE effect produced by Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Colds, Coughs, Croup, and Sore Throat are, in most cases, immediately relieved by the use of this wonderful remedy. It strengthens the vocal organs, allays irritation, and prevents the inroads of Consumption; in every stage of that dread disease, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral relieves coughing and induces refreshing rest.

"I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for thirty years and have always found it the best remedy for croup, to which complaint my children have been subject."—Capt. U. Carley, Brooklyn, N. Y.

"From an experience of over thirty years in the sale of proprietary medicines, I feel justified in recommending Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. One of the best recommendations of the Pectoral is the enduring quality of its popularity, it being more salable now than it was twenty-five years ago, when its great success was considered marvelous."—R. S. Drake, M. D., Beliot, Kans.

"My little sister, four years of age, was so ill from bronchitis that we had almost given up hope of her recovery. Our family physician, a skilful man and of large experience, pronounced it useless to give her any more medicine; saying that he had done all it was possible to do, and we must prepare for the worst. As a last resort, we determined to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and I can truly say, with the most happy results. After taking a few doses she seemed to breathe easier, and, within a week, was out of danger. We continued giving the Pectoral until satisfied she was entirely well. This has given me unbounded faith in the preparation and I recommend it confidently to my customers."—C. O. Lepper, Druggist, Fort Wayne, Ind.

Goughs' Grandest Go!

UNPARALLELED STROKE OF ENTERPRISE:—THEY CHARTER A SPECIAL SPRING POET.

During the past few months, GOUGH BROS. have been making Immense Improvements in their Shops, till now—in their Spring attire—they have one of the Nobbiest, Brightest, Neatest Shops in the District.

Having laid in a Superb and Unrivalled Stock, they cast about for some special means to make it known to the public, and at enormous expense they capture a Genuine Genius in the Poetical line, whom they christened "Gough Bros. Special Spring Poet." They fitted up the office as a box-stall and turned the poet loose in it and he proceeded to let himself loose in the following manner:

O, beauteous, sloppy, balmy spring,
You are a bright and welcome thing;
You bring us sunshine—check the mumps,
And make the people stir their stumps.
(To "stir their stumps" they must have boots,—
And Goughs have just the stock that suits.)
You clothe the world in garments new—
Your bright example Goughs pursue;
They deck their shop with brightest hues,

And give the public chance to choose
From 'mongst the biggest stock on earth—
In no department is their dearth—
From head to foot, from top to toe,
The great Goughs' lines of great goods go.
They've nobby tiles for brainy heads,
They've dandy boots for dainty treads;
They—they—they—

At this point a loud groaning was heard in the poet's lair, and a visit showed him tearing his hair, the very picture of despondent despair. He was in a state of collapse. He was sent to the hospital, and a sane man employed to make the simple statement that GOUGH BROS.' Superb Spring Stock of HATS and CAPS, BOOTS and SHOES, and CHOICE SPRING CLOTHING

CHANGE IN BUSINESS.

I beg to announce to my late customers that I have sold out my business to Messrs. Hilliard & Peplow, and I would bespeak for them the same support as has been accorded me.

C. N. BROWN.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

For some time past we have thought a strictly cash business in Flour, Feed and Provisions could be successfully carried on in Peterborough, and to test this question, we have purchased the above business from Mr. C. N. Brown who will still continue as manager in Flavelle's old stand, Simcoe street.

In order to be successful we intend to make it the interest of everyone to pay cash with order by selling at wholesale prices.

We will positively give no credits and cash customers will not have to keep up the losses made by others on the credit system.

We will keep a full supply of the very best quality of Flour, Feed, Coop, etc., and our customers need not fear that the quality of the goods will be lowered to make up for the reduction in prices. We are simply giving them the benefit of the margin necessary to cover losses and interest charges incurred on the credit system.

WARNED BY A MOUSE.

II.

It was six o'clock P.M., and Grace Rivington, after an early dinner, had gone up to her own room for the important and laborious work of dressing for her first ball. It had been a fine calm day for November; the fire of wood had all but died out, and the window was still ajar as her friend had left it in the morning. But as it grew darker and colder, and the serious business of the night had to be begun, Grace closed and fastened it, and going to the opposite side of the room, sat down in front of a large cheval glass, and, as many a pretty girl has done before, took a calm survey of herself, and determined to wear the white dress. As she looked at the glass, into which the flickering fire now and then threw a fitful touch of light, she was suddenly startled by a slight rustling sound behind her, as a mouse dashed out and scampered across the floor; and then, turning her head, she saw, to her utter horror, a pair of eyes watching her from one corner of the room, among the curtains, where the mouse had sprung out!

For a moment she was utterly paralysed with dread; and not daring, or able, to move, was about to cry out for help. Luckily for her, the cry was stifled; and then with a sort of desperate courage, she turned back to her old position, and again looked into the glass, as if nothing had happened. At the very first glance, the two terrible eyes seemed to be still fixed on her from among the dark folds of the curtain; and she shuddered as she looked. It was clearly some scoundrel who had hidden himself there for some plan of robbery, and her life for the moment was in his hands; and all depended on her success or failure in lulling him into a belief that his presence had not been detected.

After a minute of sharp thought, her usual resolute will prevailed; her courage rose, and her plan was formed. Without rising from her chair, she drew up to her side a small writing table, calmly lighted a wax candle, and began writing a series of pretended notes, sealing and addressing each, as if for the post. Over the task of these notes she seemed to take much trouble, and, as if not satisfied with it, began to read aloud short bits of it as she went on, with an occasional word of comment: "We depend on your being here, my dear Jennie, in good time to-night, whatever the weather be; and I send this by a special messenger to say that you shall keep you until to-morrow. I have heaps of birthday presents to show you and the loveliest diamond necklace." As she uttered these last words, she suddenly stopped and said, as if in a whisper to herself: "Why, what a goose I am! Old Foster the jeweller has never sent back the rings and necklace, though he faithfully promised I should have them in good time this morning. Jane must go for them at once, or I shall not get them in time."

Then, having sealed up and directed the last of her pretended notes, she waited with trembling steps to the bell rope, pulled it, waited for a moment, and next unlocked a drawer and took out her jewel case. As she did so, the door opened, and the servant appeared. "Jane," said her mistress, "tell Richard to take this note to the Grange, and this to Dr. Forbes' at once. There are no answers; but as he comes back, call at Foster the watchmaker's with the other note, and ask for my rings and necklace which he had to clean. As it's getting late he had better take the pony. The necklace he can put in this box; Foster has the key." And with these words she handed to the servant her precious jewel-case. In another moment the door was shut, and Grace once more alone, with the pair of eyes watching intently from behind the curtain.

The owner of the eyes had seen and heard all that had happened, and though slightly puzzled, thought it best not to move as yet, especially as he saw that the young lady was calmly going on with her toilet, and had lighted two wax candles.

Meanwhile, Jane herself was slightly puzzled, but, being a well trained servant, obeyed her mistress's orders. "Here, Richard," said she; "Miss Grace says you're to take the pony as sharp as you can and leave these notes at the Grange and at old Forbes's; and as you come back, call at Foster's for some rings and a necklace that's to go into this case."

In five minutes he was on his way. The three notes he carried with him were duly delivered, and read with amazement by the recipients. The one to Dr. Forbes ran thus:

MY DEAR DOCTOR: Don't be alarmed though I beg you to come straight to the manor-house when you have read this. Say nothing to the servant, but make your way quietly up to the Oak Room, where I wait your coming. Uncle is now at the magistrates' meeting. Lose not a moment.

GRACE RIVINGTON.

The second note was this.

MY DEAREST FLORRIE: A mouse got into Oak Room, and here I am a prisoner; send your two brothers at once to deliver me at once.—Ever your affectionate, GRACE.

Foster the watchmaker, utterly and hopelessly puzzled, read as follows:

Mr. Foster, take the box which the bearer will give you to Barnet, the parish constable; tell him to bring it here to the manor-house at once. G. RIVINGTON.

Old Forbes was the first to recover from his amazement and, after a moment's thought, to hurry down to his surgery and rush out of the house—armed with a case of instruments and his biggest stick—without a word to wife or servants, or to himself, but, "What on earth is that witch of a girl up to now?" He ran as hard as he could, and in ten minutes, red hot and breathless, reached the halldoor of the manor-house, where he was well known.

"Parker," said he to the astonished footman, "Miss Grace says I am to go straight to her room with it: being announced, I know my way." Then he walked quickly upstairs and knocked at the door of the Oak Room, and at once entered.

His patient, with a pale face, and her long hair streaming down over her shoulders, was sitting in a low chair in front of the mirror; the fire had died out into white ashes, and the dim light of the two wax candles left half the room in darkness.

"Grace, what has happened? Are you ill—here, all alone?"

And then came a dead silence, more terrible than any speech. She tried to speak, but for many minutes the effort was vain, and ended in a few broken sobs and still more broken words. While the agony of suspense and fear lasted, she had been kept up by her courage; but now with safety had come the reaction. Her nerves, after being strung up to the highest pitch, suddenly collapsed, and the doctor was fairly puzzled. But at last, after a sharp effort, came an intelligible sound, and she stammered out: "Not ill, doctor, not ill; and not alone; he is there behind the curtains!"

Before he could ask "Who or what is behind the curtains?" out stepped Mr. Sikes, to answer for himself, a common roadside tramp of the lowest order, who that very morning had begged for victuals at the kitchen door and been awarded with beer in honor of the day. "All right, governor," says Sikes; "you needn't make no fuss. I ain't done no harm to the young lady; and the winder bein' open, you see, I only came in to get a rest."

But at that moment there was a sudden and tremendous clatter on the stairs, and in rushed not only the two brothers from the Grange and the parish constable, but the whole troop of terrified servants. In the midst, however, of all the noisy confusion, congratulation, and outcries that followed, Sikes continued his speech, with the same unblushing impudence as he had begun it: "And to think, now, of being took in by that there young gal, a-knowin' all the time that I was behind the curtains, and she ready to drop at a mouse!"

When Grace had reluctantly swallowed a glass of wine, recovered herself enough to tell her brief story and regain her birthday necklace, then arose a fierce discussion as to what was to be done with Mr. Sikes.

"Constable," said the old doctor, "tie that fellow's hands behind him and lock him up in the Clink until the Squire comes home; and first give him a good ducking in the horse-pond."

But then the vagabond altered his tune, and put on such a piteous look, and told such a miserable whining tale of starvation and misery, that Grace's voice prevailed: though he did not escape his taste of the pond.

"Let him go, let him go," she said, and take him away at once, before the Squire comes back, which he may do at any minute. —And now all my dear good friends, a thousand thanks to you, every one! But begone, all of you, for the clock has struck seven, and I have to be dressed before eight!"

In spite of all difficulties, however, Miss Grace Rivington, in her white dress and wearing her diamond necklace, was the admiration of all beholders that night at the ball. She danced many dances, and not a few with Charlie Burton, who after his marriage told me this true story.

Any one could see at a glance he was from the country. His hair was long, his face was brown and the back of his neck was scraped and crisscrossed with deep furrows. His clothes looked as if they had reposed at one time on the shelf in the dry goods department of the corner store.

He walked into a saloon on the avenue called for a glass of "lager beer" and looked around as if he was anxious to have somebody come up and talk to him. There were a dozen men sitting at half as many little round tables in the rear, but not one made a move.

After he had drunk half of his beer, he picked up the glass and went to one of the tables and made himself at home.

"Purty cold out," he began.

"Yes, sir," said one, while the old man took another gulp of his beer. As soon as the swallow had trickled down, he spoke again, waving his hand in a general way over the table.

"Drink her up, 'n have one with me."

They did.

"I just come from near Catlettsburg, Kentucky," he ventured.

"S that so?" encouragingly.

"Yes, 'n expect to do purty well here."

"That's good."

"Yes, me 'n my wife come up last night. We expect to do purty well."

"What are you going at?"

"Ain't going at nothing. Our old brindle cow on the farm had a heifer calf with two heads four weeks ago, 'n as the darned thing eats with one mouth 'n drinks with t'other, we thought we'd put her into a museum 'n take a look at the town while we're drawing her salary. That's purty good, ain't it? Have another."

A Precocious Bloomer.

The crocus is generally regarded as the earliest blooming of the flowers of Spring, but this year the daisy is ahead of it—a daisy in full, though modest bloom, was noticed to-day along the sidewalk on Hunter street, but it was a "Daisy" seeder from the Peter Hamilton Agricultural Works. It was resting in a farmer's wagon drawn up along the sidewalk while the horses were taking their mid-day lunch.

Called Away.

Miss Delaney was notified last night by telegram from one of the leading importers of millinery in Toronto, that there had just arrived a fresh shipment of novelties for the spring trade, and as Miss Delaney is always alive to the wants of her customers and is the first in Peterborough to show the leading fashions, she went to Toronto this morning to get the first selection from the second arrivals in millinary. She will be back to night, and her show room will be open every evening for inspection. 1d

A Pastoral Call.

A well attended meeting of the congregation of St. Andrew's church was held last night, presided over by Rev. Mr. White, moderator of the session. After religious service had been held, the question of selecting a pastor was discussed, and the choice fell unanimously on Rev. A. McWilliams, of South Mountain, Ont., in the Brockville Presbytery. Rev. Mr. McWilliams has preached several sermons in St. Andrew's church, and on Sunday last again occupied the pulpit. The congregation is pleased with him and have decided to extend him a call, which they feel confident will be accepted. A delegation was appointed to wait upon the Brockville Presbytery and request the transfer of Rev. Mr. McWilliams into this Presbytery. The delegation comprises Dr. Bell, Mr. John McClelland and Mr. Geo. Paton. The Peterborough Presbytery meets on the 14th inst., when the congregation of St. Andrew's will ask for leave to have Rev. Mr. McWilliams brought to Peterborough.

THE TOWN TAKES NO CHANCES.

The following report of the Market Committee was presented by the chairman, Mr. Kendry :—

Your Market Committee beg leave to report and recommend that the market tolls for the current year, until the first day of April, 1892 be let to Mr John Doherty at the same rate as last year, viz., $300 Mr. Doherty to pay the full amount whether the government reduce the existing tolls or not.

The report was adopted.

THE POLICEMEN'S SALARIES

The Committee on Appointments reported through their chairman, Mr. Kendry, recommending : (1) That the salary of the Chief of Police be increased $50 per annum ; also that Constable Joseph Stewart's salary be increased $50 per annum, your committee further recommend that no work outside the limits of the town be done by the police except on the written order of the Mayor.

On Mr. MOORE'S suggestion, it was added to the report that the Mayor's written order be filed with the Clerk.

Mr. CAHILL moved that Constables Adams and McGinty also have their salaries increased $50 each.

The motion was not seconded, the chairman explaining that no other applications for increase were received.

The report was adopted.

TAXES REMITTED.

Mr. Moore presented the report of the Court of Revision, containing a list of names of those whose taxes had been remitted by the court.

A HEAVY CHARITY BILL

Mr. WINCH, chairman, presented the report of the Charity Committee, showing the amount of relief given during the months of January, February and March, was as follow : No 1 Ward, $210 65 ; No. 2 Ward, $153 25 ; No 3 Ward $70 75 ; No. 4 Ward, $40 00— total, $574 00.

The MAYOR remarked that if this rate of expenditure was continued five thousand dollars would not cover the charity expenditures this year.

Mr. MELDRUM, chairman, read the following report :

Your License Committee beg leave to recommend that no change be made for the current year on the account of license fees.

Your Committee also beg to recommend that D Donovan, on account of eating house license, for which, he received no value, be refunded the sum of $5.

The report was adopted.

THE NICHOLLS' HOSPITAL BOARD.

Mr. MOORE brought up the matter with reference to the representation on the Nicholls' Hospital Trust. He explained the position of affairs. The Board asked for special legislation providing for the appointment of three life members upon the Board, Messrs. Richard Hall, C. McGill and B. A. Jackson. Then the town council, thinking that the town had a right to be represented in the management of the hospital, when the corporation had contributed so much to its support passed a resolution asking that the town be allowed the privilege of also having three members appointed. This suggestion was not entertained by the Board, and they reply that if the council presses its claim they will withdraw the bill. Mr. Moore contended that the council had a right to this representation if any changes were to be made, for there was no provision in Mrs. Nicholls' will for such a change.

Mr. DAVIDSON said the special legislation was asked for the purpose of appointing these gentlemen life members so that there would be no difficulty in getting a quorum. In the past the members of the Board did not attend the meetings, and the work was left to these gentlemen to do. He could not see why the town was anxious for representation on the Board now, for the endowment was much larger now than when the council took it over, and the hospital promised to be self supporting. Mr. Hall was a member of the Board, and Mrs. Nicholls during her life did not know but Mr. McGill was also on the Board, as it would be simply carrying out her wishes to confirm their appointment.

Mr. Kendry supported Mr. Moore's resolution.

The MAYOR said he saw no reason for the council meeting on having any more representatives on the Board, for the town would in future be called on for very little aid, and if it was found the hospital became an expense in the future than arrangements could be made for better representation. He thought this would be the last year the council would be called upon to pay a cent to the hospital. These gentlemen who are asked to be appointed life members have taken a great interest in the hospital, in fact so much interest that they alone attended all the meetings and did all the work ; and he thought it hardly fair for the town to put a stumbling block in their way. He had the utmost confidence in these gentlemen doing the best they could for the hospital and acting fairly with the town, and they considered the town's request disrespectful to them.

Mr. MOORE said no one had any intention of being disrespectful to them ; but it was not the council's proposal to change the board, but the proposal rather of three men who were not now on the board. Mrs. Nicholls during her life was willing to trust the management of the hospital to a board of gentlemen from the different churches ; since her death these three gentlemen took to have themselves made life members, without being responsible to anyone, and the town was perfectly justified in asking for the same privilege. These three gentlemen had no warrant whatever for their course of conduct, and he could not understand their taking umbrage at the action of the council. He introduced this resolution :—

Moved by Mr. Moore seconded by Mr. Dennistoun, that as the Board of the Nicholls Hospital have refused to permit a clause to be added to the Bill before the Legislature for representation by the town as desired, the Town Solicitor be directed to repeat the former request of the council for representation on the board.

Mr. DENNISTOUN in supporting the resolution thought it a very childish position to take, for these gentlemen to say they would withdraw the bill of the town passed its resolution. If the money involved was a part of the estate they would have some right to insist on this matter, but having no direct connection with it other than as private citizens, the could not justly claim any special rights. Mr. Dennistoun, however proposed three other men outside of the council to be appointed on the board.

Mr. Dennistoun moved in amendment that the words "from the members of this council" in the original resolution passed 15th December, in reference to representation on the Nicholls Hospital Board, be struck out and the words "three representatives" inserted.

Mr. E. H. D. HALL said these three gentlemen had taken an active interest in the hospital and the town could not afford to stand in their way. The hospital would, he believed, become self-supporting ; but if at any time it became burdensome the town might then take this stand. The Nicholls Hospital, he claimed, would not have received this money but for these gentlemen.

Mr. BRADBURN moved in amendment, seconded by Mr. MELDRUM —That a committee consisting of Messrs. Moore, Meldrum, Dennistoun and the mover be appointed to wait upon the members of the Hospital Trustee Board to endeavour to arrange the terms of the proposed bill for the appointment of the additional representatives of the Trustee Board.

Other councillors spoke, Mr. Kelly, Mr. Langford, Mr. Dawson and Mr. Cahill expressing their opinion, the former holding that it would be bad policy to antagonize these gentlemen ; the others, while regarding these gentlemen very highly, yet thought it only fair that the town should be represented on the Board if any legislative change was to be made. The hospital was town property, and as such ought to be looked after by the town council.

After some discussion Mr. Moore's resolution was withdrawn, and the two other resolutions adopted.

THE RAILWAY COMPANY.

Mr. HALL introduced a bylaw to lease the C P R Company a portion of Wolfe street on which their freight shed stands, and a portion of a town lot occupied by their track. The bylaw was given two readings.

Mr. Hall moved, seconded by Mr. Kelly, that this council requests the commissioners of the Peterborough Town Trust to convey for a nominal consideration to the Canadian Pacific Railway Co., the north half of lot 11, south of Rink street, and west of George street, in order to carry out the arrangement come to between the town and the railway company as to the Edison company's siding —Carried.

THE ITALIANS PEANUT STAND.

Moved by Mr. Moore, seconded by Mr. Langford, that the Chief of Police be directed to make arrangements for one or three years with Mr. May for the use of land for scavenger purposes at a rental of $60 00, on the understanding that Mr. May open the trenches and cover the same as required—Carried.

Mr. Moore moved that the Chief of Police be instructed to remove the Italian peanut stand from the corner of Hunter and George streets to the market square. Mr. Moore said a great nuisance was caused by the smoke from the Italian's little "cab."

Mr. Langford moved an amendment that the matter be referred to the Street and Bridge Committee with power to act.

The amendment was carried.

MISCELLANEOUS MOTIONS.

Mr. Bradburn moved, seconded by Mr. Kelly, that the town solicitor be instructed to take steps to collect from the Grand Trunk or Midland Railway Company the damages payable to property owners on Bethune street

The motion was allowed to stand over by mutual consent.

Mr. Langford moved, seconded by Mr. Kendry that the Street Inspector be allowed to purchase a scraper.—Carried

Mr. Cahill moved, seconded by Mr. Winch, that the Street and Bridge Committee be instructed to have built as soon as weather permits, a sidewalk on Reid street from Sherbrooke street to the Edison Works, and on Wolfe street from Rabidge to Reid street.—Passed.

The council adjourned.

The Spring Assizes.

The Town Case Not Yet Finished—No Bill Against Chas. Fox.

The Assize Court is dragging along wearily, and will not be concluded as early as was at first expected. The case of Leonard vs. the town of Peterborough is still in progress, and was not finished when the EXAMINER went to press. To-day will, however, likely finish it.

The petit jurors have been dismissed, His Lordship, after consulting with the counsel concerned, withdrawing the case of Youmans vs Young from their hands.

The Grand Jury returned no bill against Charles Fox, of Asphodel, accused of arson.

Following is a copy of the Grand Jurors' presentment :—

The Grand Jurors of our Sovereign lady the Queen present :

That they visited the gaol and found seventeen persons confined therein, two of whom are of unsound mind, and should, as speedily as possible, be placed where they can receive treatment suitable to their wants. The state of the jail itself reflects credit on the jailor.

The Jury availed themselves of the opportunity to visit the Nicholls and St. Joseph's Hospitals, and they have much pleasure in bearing testimony to the great value of these institutions to the people of the town and county of Peterborough and to the commendable liberality of those who have, of their own free will, contributed to their erection, furnishing and maintenance in their present state of efficiency.

Your Jurors desire to thank your Lordship for calling attention to the effect of recent changes in the criminal law as they believe your Lordship's observations will prove of value, not only to Magistrates but to the public at large.

JOHN CARNEGIE, Foreman.

Court House, Peterborough, April 7, 1890.

His Lordship replied briefly, concurring in their remarks, and dismissed the Grand Jurors.

BUTCHER'S LICENSE.

The Reeve, Mr. Burnham, read a largely signed petition from the ratepayers of Ashburnham praying that no change be made in the butcher's by-law.

Mr. Gould, one of the village butchers, addressed the council in reference to the matter, and said that he was satisfied with the by-law of the town of Peterborough, and after considerable discussion, the matter was let stand, Mr. Burnham promising to look up the town by-law.

THE SPRING FRESHET.

Mr. J. Munro, D. McGregor and Mr. Clarke, residents of the northern part of the village, sent in a bill to the council amounting to $27.00 in all, they having performed work on the creek that runs through the village, & during the late flood. Their dwellings were flooded by the freshet and they had hard work to reach their houses owing to bad culverts and other obstacles blocking the course of the water. These gentlemen worked late at night at the creek, the culverts at Stewart and Douro streets giving the most trouble. They claimed that the street inspector did not attend to the matter, but on being questioned by the Reeve they said that they did not let him or the council know of the trouble. This gave rise to considerable discussion, and on motion of Mr. Calcutt, seconded by Mr. Craig, Messrs. Wand, Throop and Craig were appointed a committee to enquire into the matter, and report to council.—Carried.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

It was moved by Mr. Calcutt, seconded by Mr. Craig, that the Board of Health for the village for the year 1891, be composed of the Reeve, Clerk, J. I. Wright, R. Tivey and Stewart Wright.—Carried.

PETITIONS AND REPORTS.

Mr. John Bogan appeared before the council and stated that he intended to rent one of the stores in the market building if the council would deal liberally with him with regard to rent, and also he asked the council to supply him with lumber with which to erect shelves, agreeing to leave said shelves if he should vacate the store. At the previous meeting of the council, the rent of the stores was fixed, and agreed to by the council and no exceptions were to be made, and therefore the prayer of his petition was not granted.

Mr. Smith's dam on the Ludgate property asked for culverts on street passing his house. The public in general would be benefitted by it. It was ordered to be built.

STREET SCRAPING.

It was moved by Mr Throop seconded by J. T. Craig, that Ely's back street be scraped as soon as it is in fit condition.—Carried. Council then adjourned.

A Little Child Shall Lead Them

Quite recently a little girl of eleven summers, the daughter of a Montreal merchant, was the means of directing to the fountain of health a well known lady of that city. The little girl accidentally hearing the lady complain to another about her nervous weak condition and headaches, immediately rushed forward and said : "Oh, dear Mrs. ——, won't you take Paine's Celery Compound for your sickness? Susie's mother has been using it, and now she is well and happy."

Mrs. —— was so impressed with the little girl's seriousness and manner, that acquiries were at once made about the matter, and every word was found true. Mrs. —— sent to her druggist for a bottle of Paine's Celery Compound and commenced its use. After using the first bottle she was convinced that she had found the proper remedy for her troubles, and desired to continue its use. In five week's time she was almost as strong as ever before, appetite good, slept well, and had increased in weight. Paine's Celery Compound accomplished all this in short a time that her friends were truly amazed and surprised.

Ladies, if you suffer as did Mrs. ——, remember that Paine's Celery Compound is able to do the same great work for you.

Miss Flanagan, of Kingston, who has been visiting with Mrs. O'Sullivan, has been very ill, but is, we are pleased to say, recovering. The Kingston Whig says :—"Miss Mary Boyd Flanagan, daughter of the city clerk, who has been living in Peterborough for many years, became very ill last week, and on Saturday her life was despaired of. A telegram called the city clerk to her bedside. He left on Saturday evening at midnight. A telephone message from Peterborough this morning states that Miss Flanagan is out of danger."

County Bridges.

Mr. Willoughby's Bill Referred to the Municipal Committee.

In the Ontario Legislature on Monday, Mr. Willoughby's bill to amend the Municipal Act deals with the question of county bridges, and provides that even though a bridge may be built a specified short distance from the line between two townships it shall be deemed a county bridge. Mr. Bernard objected that the bill was intended to affect only the case in Seymour Township, concerning which representations have been made to the Government and in which case he considered the effort is made to saddle Peterborough county with a share of the cost of the bridge to the relief of Northumberland and Durham, to which it properly appertained. Mr. Willoughby contended there were other similar cases in the Province. Mr. Whitney approved the bill, and Mr. Mackenzie referred to a difficulty in his own county in which the council was saddled with the cost of bridges over small streams which were never now since the county had been cleared up 100 feet in width, the judges having decided that the width of a stream was the distance between its well defined banks. Mr. Hardy said the case in Seymour township was not without difficulty, and said that information concerning such cases could be got before the committee. He advised that the bill should be allowed to go to the Municipal Committee. This course was adopted.

Dyspepsia

Intense Suffering for 8 years—Restored to Perfect Health.

Few people have suffered more severely from dyspepsia than Mr. E. A. McMahon, a well known grocer of Staunton, Va. He says: "Before 1878 I was in excellent health, weighing over 200 pounds. In that year an ailment developed into acute dyspepsia, and soon I was reduced to 162 pounds, suffering burning sensations in the stomach, palpitation of the heart, nausea, and indigestion. I could not sleep, lost all heart in my work, had fits of melancholia, and for days at a time I would have welcomed death. I became morose, sullen and irritable, and for eight years life was a burden. I tried many physicians and many remedies. One day a workman employed by me suggested that I take Hood's Sarsaparilla, as it had cured his wife of dyspepsia. I did so, and before taking the whole of a bottle I began to feel like a new man. The terrible pains to which I had been subjected, ceased, the palpitation of the heart subsided, my stomach became easier, nausea disappeared, and my entire system began to tone up. With returning strength came activity of mind and body. Before the fifth bottle was taken I had regained my former weight and natural condition. I am today well and I ascribe it to taking Hood's Sarsaparilla."

Opportunity.

Master of human destinies am I.
Fame, love and fortune on my footsteps wait.
Cities and fields I walk. I penetrate
Deserts and seas remote. And passing by
Hovel and mart and palace, soon or late
I knock unbidden once at every gate.
If sleeping wake ; if feasting rise before
I turn away ; it is the hour of fate,
And those who follow me reach every shore
Reach fame and conquer every foe
Save death; but those who doubt or hesitate.
Condemned to failure, penury and woe,
Seek me in vain, and unavailing implore ;
I answer not, and I return no more.

A Long Felt Want.

W. J. Morrow has now commenced to do a strictly cash business, after seeing the want of a first-class cash house in town. Persons wanting goods away down will do well to call. He will not be adding a large percentage to the cost of goods to pay for bad accounts, as is usually done by credit houses. All outstanding accounts must be settled at once. dw

CASH HARDWARE STORE.

On and after 1st April we shall do business on a Cash Basis.

To cover the inevitable losses attendant upon a credit business, which accrue from amount of time spent in keeping accounts, collecting, bad debts, interest account, and in numerous other ways, larger margins of profit must be asked.

In these times cash buyers ask, expect, and are entitled to close prices. A careful consideration of the subject convinces us that the time has come for a cash business done on smaller profits.

The only customers who may possibly be put to inconvenience are those who have had long credit. In more ways than one it will be to their advantage to pay cash.

For convenience of our old customers who consider their accounts due when presented, we will call 30 days cash and render all accounts the first of each month, and we wish to say that will be happy to do business with them on those terms.

As the new departure is something of an experiment, what would be considered a close cash price will be made all through the stock. Not a few leaders only, but a general reduction in everything from the fourth flat to the cellar.

Our idea is to perform more than promised rather than promise more than can be fulfilled.

Our stock is large and varied, consisting of Builders', Contractors', Household, Mechanics'. Painters', Shoemakers', Farm. Mill, Factory, Lumbermen's, Sporting, Threshermen's, Cabinet-makers', and other lines of Hardware.

THE WAR RUMORS.

ALARMING REPORTS CONTINUE, BUT THE BOURSES ARE FIRM.

The Doubling of the Strength of the Russian Forces on the Polish Frontier and the Activity Among the Troops Garrisoning the Principal Fortified Places in France Regarded as Omin ous.

LONDON, April 7.—Advices from the principal capitals of Europe show that the political situation is regarded as serious by leading statesmen and diplomats. Several significant moves have been made the past few days. The action of the Russian authorities in doubling the strength of the Russian forces in Volkyma is gravely discussed. The greatest activity prevails among the troops garrisoning the principal fortified places in France. The troops are being continually drilled in military tactics and have been subjected to a series of night alarms. The Posther Lloyd states that according to semi-official news from Berlin the general European situation is regarded in the German capital as threatening.

The North German Gazette to-day, referring to the rumors current, denies that internal relations are not pacific, adding, "Everything justifies the hope of the permanence of peace. The whole strength of the nations of Europe ought to be devoted to economic development."

The alarmist reports did not have much effect upon continental bourses to-day. At the opening the feeling was unsettled, but the markets closed firm.

Re-Cementing the Dreibund.

LONDON, April 7.—A Vienna despatch says the report that the Dreibund has been recemented is premature, though negotiations have been concluded for a five-year renewal on the original defensive basis without territorial changes, and the compact will be signed very shortly.

St. Petersburg and Jassy correspondence continue to report activity among the Russian troops, great numbers of which are being massed on the Austro-Hungarian frontier.

Will Not Recognise the Prince.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 7.—The Russian Government will take no diplomatic steps to prevent the reappointment of Prince Ferdinand to the vice-royalty of Eastern Roumania on the expiration of its present term of office, but will decline to recognise Prince Ferdinand in any capacity.

THE SEAL FISHERY.

Newfoundlanders Pleased Over the Best Results in Numbers for Many Years.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., April 7.—The steamship Neptune, the first of the fleet from the ice fields, brought with her 33,000 seals. It is seven days she was loaded. The following was her report of the catch:

	Seals.		Seals.
Hector	25,000	Aurora	11,000
Esquimaux	32,000	Terra Nova	35,000
Wolf	26,500	Leopard	16,000
Ranger	12,000	Walrus	5,000
Falcon	15,000	Kite	1,600
Eagle	2,000	Vanguard	20,000
Ireland	12,000	Greenland	25,000

As far as numbers go this will be the largest seal fishery for many years. When over 350,000 were taken at such an early date the chances are the total number will be between 400,000 and 500,000. Arriving so early steamers will make second trips in March; however, a serious drawback is the seals were taken before they had reached the proper age and were consequently not full grown. Had they been left to grow for another week or 10 days their value would have been increased 25 to 30 per cent. As it is, the average weight of fat yielded by each seal will not exceed 35 lbs., instead of 50 to 55 lbs. The season was very open and the steamers got among the seals by March 13. The young whitecoats are said to pile on fat at the rate of 4 lbs. a day. A number of old mother seals were killed—great injury to the fishery. A few more years like the present would reduce the seal fishery to small dimensions.

Mormon President Dilates Upon Alleged Miracles Performed by the Elders.

They were dressed in flimsy white material. A spark fell from a lighted torch held aloft by the goddess and fell on the dress of Irene Hays, who was fatally burned.

Nova Scotia Local Elections.

HALIFAX, N.S., April 7.—The indications are that the Government candidates were elected in all three counties in which local elections were held to-day. Owing to a heavy snowstorm in Cape Breton and Antigonish, a number of places have not been heard from, and in Hants county the contest is very close, but the belief is that the Liberal candidates were all returned.

Imperial Parliament.

Smith said that the Government had not received satisfactory communications from France regarding Egyptian occupation; it could not yet make a statement on the Newfoundland question.

PLOT TO KILL THE CZAR.

THE ASSASSIN SUSPECTED AND CAUGHT.

Caught Within a Few Feet of the Czar Armed With a Revolver and Provided With a Globule Supposed to Contain Poison.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 8.—An attempt was made on the Czar's life Monday, but the attempt was cleverly frustrated. It was a Russian holiday and the Czar and Czarina went to review the Imperial Guards at their quarters opposite the palace of the Grand Duke Nicholas. Invitations to the ceremony had been sent to an extremely select and limited number of persons. A man with a sallow complexion and of a Southern type was among those admitted by ticket. He took a place five paces distant from the place where the Czar was to stand. As the man continued to wear his overcoat he was requested to remove it, but declined on the ground that he was afraid of draughts. His refusal excited suspicion and he was again requested to take his coat off. This time he consented and retired to an anteroom. He was immediately arrested and taken to prison, when a revolver and a globule, supposed to contain poison, were found in his pockets. His name is Shameikin. He declares the globule simply contains medicine. The police effect to have known of a plot connected with Gunsberg's conspiracy and say they were watching for an assassin.

THE COUSIN OF THE CZAR,

Privately Marries a Daughter of the Duke of Nassau.

CANNES, April 7.—A great sensation has been caused here by the announcement that the Grand Duke Michael Michaelovitch, a cousin of the Czar, has been privately married to the Countess of Wersenberg, daughter of the Duke of Nassau, at San Remo. The Duke of Nassau and the young couple left Cannes a few days ago ostensibly for a visit to Genoa.

Powell followed the formation until he has now arrived at one of the richest gold mines that has ever been discovered. Free gold as big as wheat can be found projecting through the rock. The vein is now 20 feet wide between the walls and is 15 feet deep, and is widening out as they go down.

Rioting in Hamburg.

HAMBURG, April 7.—The police to-day dispersed a socialist meeting held in a hall at Bergdorf, a town belonging to Hamburg. This action was taken in consequence of the anti-Semitic element in the meeting indulging in rioting. The fighting was continued in the street and a battle with [illegible] took place between the opposing factions. All the windows in the vicinity, including those in the railway station, were broken by the flying missiles. Several rioters were arrested.

DROWNED HER GRIEF INDEED.

A Peculiar Poisoning Case Which Results in Three Deaths.

PARIS, April 8.—A correspondent telegraphs that Rainey, a town in the Department of the Seine-et Oise, is in a state of great perturbation over a poisoning case. A few days ago a widow died of consumption, and on returning from the funeral to the house some of her neighbors espied a bottle of quinine wine. Some one suggested that the mourning friends might revive their spirits by emptying the bottle, and the proposition was accepted with alacrity. Three persons partook of the wine. The first to suffer was Madame Goualin, the wife of a railway employe, who was also present. A quarter of an hour after she had taken her glass she was seized with violent pains, and expired soon afterwards. Her husband, overcome with emotion, filled a large glass with the wine and drank it off. He was at once taken ill in his turn, and in the meantime a friend—also in the service of the railway company—and rushed upstairs to his room on the upper floor howling with anguish. The doctor, speedily recalled, saw at once that these poor people had taken poison and despatched a messenger to the police station. In spite, however, of all the efforts made to save them the two men died.

Yesterday morning the daughter of the poor woman, who had given her the bottle, was interrogated at Rainey by the judicial authorities, and said that after she had purchased it her husband had tasted its contents and had been taken ill, but her brother remembered that his mother had asked him to empty the powder into it. Where this powder had been procured he could not say. So far it would appear that the powder added to the bottle of quinine wine was the cause of the catastrophe.

P. T. BARNUM IS DEAD.

THE PRINCE OF SHOWMEN PASSES AWAY AT BRIDGEPORT.

His End Peaceful and Happy—Scenes at His Bedside—Directions as to the Funeral Arrangements—History of the Originator of the Greatest Show on Earth.

BRIDGEPORT, Ct., April 7.—Phineas T. Barnum, the prince of showmen, died last night. The immediate cause of his death was la grippe, from which he had been suffering for some days past. Mr. Barnum was born at Bethel, Conn., July 5, 1810, his father being an innkeeper. When 19 years of age Barnum became editor of The Herald of Freedom, published in Danbury, Conn. In 1835 he made his first venture in the show line by exhibiting a colored woman named Joyce Heath as the nurse of George Washington. The receipts soon amounted to $1500 a week. He continued in the show business with varying success until 1842, when his discovery and exhibition of Charles S. Stratton, known as "Tom Thumb," brought the great showman into world-wide repute. Barnum was the originator of the far-famed "woolly horse." He brought Jenny Lind to America in 1850 and the receipts for this venture amounted to $700,000. Since then he has been the best known showman in the world. He was a writer of no mean ability and contributed letters to the press as recently as last week. Among his published works are "The Humbugs of the World," among whom, he proudly boasted, he was the greatest. The American nation pointed to Phineas T. as one of the grandest products of the country. He leaves many imitators, but there never was but one Barnum.

Mr. Barnum died at 6.23 o'clock in the presence of his grief-stricken family. During Mr. Barnum's illness, which began 21 weeks ago last Friday, there were frequent fluctuations in his condition from each of which he rallied, although in each instance with slightly lower vitality. He seemed to realize he could not live much longer and spoke of the approaching end with calmness. Barnum wished his funeral to be private and unostentatious. He directed that the interment should be in the Mountain Grove Cemetery, where several years ago he erected a monument.

The doctors attending Mr. Barnum had been careful about administering sedatives through fear they might produce ulterior ill-effects. Last night Mr. Barnum said, when all hope was gone, he wished to be given sedatives, which would allay his pain and make his death as peaceful as possible. The first sedative was given at 10.10 o'clock this morning. It was understood by the patient and his family to mean that the end was near. Mrs. Barnum remained at her husband's side throughout the night. It alternats spells of dozing and in conversation, which showed his brain to be as clear as ever, Mr Barnum passed the hours until about 4 o'clock this morning when he sank into a condition of stupor. To rouse him from this was difficult, a faint gleam of recognition alone indicated that he had knowledge of his surroundings or knew the faces about him. Thus matters went on until 10 o'clock this morning. He was again aroused and his mental faculties appeared brighter than at any time during the several hours previous. Among those in the room were: Mrs. Barnum, Rev. L. B. Fisher, pastor of the Universalist Church, Mrs. D.W.L. Thompson his daughter, Mrs. Clarke of New York, a grand daughter; Miss Ray Ried, his neice; Mrs. W. H. Bushtell of New York and daughter; Clinton H. Seeley, his grandson and principal heir; Benjamin Fish, Mrs. Barnum's brother, and Dr. Hubbard. Mr. Barnum was fully conscious, although his nearly exhausted powers made it impossible for him to talk. The message he conveyed with his eyes were more expressive than words. With the exception of [illegible] there is to be [illegible] The funeral will be conducted by the Rev. [illegible] Fisher Friday afternoon in the Congregational Church. Mr. Barnum had an intense horror of embalming or of having his body placed on ice after death. The remains will be therefore kept in a dark, cool room in the house. The body will then be enclosed in a hermetically sealed metallic casket.

A Duck That Lays Black Eggs.

Mr. Williams exhibited a duck egg here the other evening that was as black as ink. The duck has laid four eggs, and all of them are as black as the one shown.

Shouted "Let Her Go Gallagher" and Perished.

SAULT STE. MARIE, April 7.—An unknown Canadian attempted to cross the ice in the channel. There were four men on this side of the open water in the act of putting a boat in the river, and they called to the young man to go back or he would go through. He answered back and said, "Let her go Gallagher." At that instant he went through and was swept under the ice. The body has not been recovered.

AFFECTING SCENE

On Occasion of Retirement of J. F. Stephen From the Bench.

LONDON, April 7.—An affecting scene took place to-day in the Queen's Bench division of the High Court of Justice, when James Fitz James Stephen, the justice of the Queen's Bench, whose health is said to have become seriously impaired, as a result of the worry he was compelled to endure during and after the trial of the Maybrick poisoning case, retired from the bench. All of Justice Stephen's fellow-judges, including the lord chief justices of England, were present standing, when Justice Stephen, seated on the bench, replied in a broken voice to the tribute paid to his honor, integrity, ability and past services by the Attorney-General, Sir Richard Everard Webster, Q.C. All present were profoundly impressed by the sad scene, and considerable emotion was displayed, as Justice Stephen, in low tones, thanked his colleagues for the good feeling shown towards him, and the tears welling into his eyes, as well as into the eyes of many other there, wished them goodbye and left the bench for the last time. Justice Stephen's wife and the other members of his family who were present were also overcome with emotion as the veteran judge expressed his thanks for the kindness which cheered his retirement from the high position he had so long held.

A CELESTIAL DISPLAY.

Solar Halos Encircling the Heavens Accompany a Change of Temperature.

WATERLOO, Iowa, April 7.—A wonderful display of solar halos was witnessed here yesterday afternoon. About 4 o'clock a circle of white light, in the plane of which was the sun, appeared, encircling the heavens parallel with the horizon. At two points which, with the sun, divided this circle in three equal parts, were two other representations of suns, except that they had no brilliancy. Another circle surrounded the sun and extended nearly to the zenith. The portion of the circle which was nearest the zenith was a brilliant rainbow, and at its highest point a reverse circle, also displaying the prismatic colors, joined it. Inside the circle was another which was of a fainter light. Brilliant sun dogs were also visible on either side of the sun. This display lasted about an hour. The sky was clear at the time, but the temperature became noticeably cooler during the display, and the mercury registered 30 deg. above.

HER LIFE FOR HER LOVE.

A Pretty Actress Was the Victim of Her Jealousy.

BERLIN, April 8.—Royalty played a leading role in the romantic suicide of Anna Hagimann, the most beautiful actress in the Empire, which occurred yesterday in Munich. She had been driven from the Berlin stage by the brutality of her husband and had been wooed and won by a well-known actor named Boun. They lived at the same hotel, were engaged to be married and seemed happy. The other day after dinner Anna walked to her room and, drawing a revolver, sent a bullet through her heart. The facts developed since her death are interesting. A royal duchess, grandmother of the royal princes and princesses was also in love with Boun. She used all her artfulness to draw Boun away from his pretty actress. After awhile he listened to her so faithfully that he grew cold towards Miss Hagimann and in her remorse she ended her life.

READABLE IRISH NOTES.

Captain O'Shea Denies an Assertion of Parnell About His Family Expenses.

LONDON, April 7.—Letters from Captain O'Shea are published relative to the assertion made by Parnell, in Committee room 15 of the House of Commons, to the effect that Captain O'Shea did not pay the expenses of his family while the latter were residing at Elsham. The captain declares that the late Mrs. Wood, Mrs. O'Shea's aunt, under a [illegible] arrangement, paid £3000 yearly.

DUBLIN, April 7.—The tide of Irish emigration is unabated. Six liners during the past week took 1246 emigrants, mostly of the farming class, but including a few mechanics or tradesmen from Munster and Connaught. The prospect is that for the next three months the number of emigrants will fully equal that of 1890.

LONDON, April 7.—The lady to whom Mr. Parnell is said to have been privately married since the O'Shea divorce suit is the eldest daughter of Mrs. O'Shea. The extreme privacy with which the ceremony was performed is attributed to the fact that the young lady is a ward in chancery. Although she is 21 years of age the marriage could not be lawfully solemnized without the assent of the court, and by his action Mr. Parnell lays himself open to prosecution. Captain O'Shea's friends treat the story as a stupid canard.

The Countess of Zetland, wife of the Viceroy of Ireland, and Miss Balfour, sister of the Chief Secretary for Ireland, have started on a tour of the distressed districts of the western part of the country. Both ladies have been very active in the collection and distribution of funds for the relief of the suffering poor.

At a meeting of the Cork leadership committee the Mayor announced that Mr. Parnell had expressed his willingness to resign his seat in Parliament, but that he (the Mayor) had taken the responsibility of dissuading him from doing so.

Mr. Parnell visited Mr. Kenny at the offices of the National League, Dublin, yesterday, and afterwards returned to London. His next speech in Ireland will be delivered April 19.

The first public meeting of the National Federation was held yesterday in Dublin. Mr. Sexton, who presided, made a speech in which he dwelt upon the rapid and enormous growth of the federation which, he said would soon embody the political strength of Ireland. Michael Davitt, who was appointed secretary of the council, said they must gird themselves for a hard fight with the Tory-Parnellite alliance. T. M. Healy said Mr. Parnell had been reckless enough to stand amid smouldering ruins of his country in order to satisfy his ambition, and that it was impossible to suppose that the extremists, who had always hated him, could continue to support him now unless he was potent enough to drop the constitutional movement.

Proposed Exhibition of the Genus Homo.

PARIS, April 7.—Government consent is about to be asked to the holding of the Champ De Mars in 1892 of an international ethnological exhibition, including specimens of the human race throughout the world, with the exception of France. For Impersonating One of the Finest.

HAMILTON, April 7.—Yesterday afternoon Detective Reid arrested Alfred Wright, bartender at the Lafayette House, on a charge of impersonation, and was taken to Cayuga. The charge against Wright is that he impersonated a Toronto policeman named Hyde on Haynes at the last Dominion election in Haldimand.

Suing For Damage.

BELLEVILLE, April 7.—George Martin has entered suit against the corporation claiming $3000 damages for the drowning of his son in a drain in Coleman-street.

The Spring Medicine.

The popularity which Hood's Sarsaparilla has gained as a spring medicine is wonderful. It possesses just those elements of health-giving, blood-purifying and appetite-restoring which everybody seems to need at this season. Do not continue in a dull, tired, unsatisfactory condition when you may be so much benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla. It purifies the blood and makes the weak strong.

AT

TURNBULL'S.

The styles this season are such a decided change, and unusually pretty, we want all to see them to the best advantage, and naturally to leave the impression that for decidedly new and cheap goods, Turnbull's is the right place to go for a large selection, since our store has been thoroughly renovated.

While passing through the store, even when not intending to buy, you are compelled to stop and price some of the articles on display.

Pretty print blouses from 50c. each, up to those of figured wool delaine at $1.75. Neat patterns in light prints, narrow, but warranted to wash, at 5c. a yard. Novelties in pearl bead frillings, at 5c. a frill. White embroidered apron lawns at 20c. a yard. Cream and white curtain nets, taped edge, at from 15 to 25c. a yard.

Fine Navy Serges for boys' wear, at 35 40 and 50c. a yard. Handsome patterns in Tweed at 50c. a yard. Nice Cream Damask Table Linen at 30c. a yard. Black and Red Brocade Flannelette just suitable for baby, at 15c. a yard. You pass the Dress Goods counter, but have to ask what that shimmering, shining material is that is hard to describe. Everybody falls in love with it, and no wonder. Manufacturers call it Gloreeia.

On reaching the archway leading into the Simcoe street store, you are struck with amazement, and almost think you have got into midsummer, and begin to look around for the bumble bees and humming birds among the flowers. Some of the leading colors are the new Shades in Heliotrope and Lavender, French Gray, Buttercups and Black Combined. Most of the Bonnets are Small, Toque Shapes, flat, and trimmed at the back with pretty little Forget-Me-Not Flowers, Jewelled Ribbon and Lace to match. There is something very pretty for children in Leghorn Hats, trimmed with ruchings of silk and lace.

We have just received a choice lot of very pretty shapes in Hats and Bonnets; also the latest in Flowers from Glasgow. These styles will not be shown elsewhere.

THE RECIPROCITY BUNGLE.

The remarks that appeared in the EXAMINER yesterday were founded on the assumption that Sir Charles Tupper was not engaged in "stretching" when he stated that he had completed arrangements for a conference with the United States authorities in reference to the establishment of reciprocal trade relations between that country and Canada. But he seems he had made no such arrangement, and the visit of the Canadian envoys to Washington was, to all practical purposes, a fool's errand. Sir John Thompson, Sir Charles Tupper, and the Hon. Mr. Foster had, it appears, just three minutes' interview with the United States Secretary of State, Mr. Blaine, and though arrangements had been made for a stay of a week the Canadian ambassadors left the city in a few hours. The course of Sir Charles in this matter is inexplicable. Why should he be neglecting his duties in London, interfering in a national contest—bribing provinces, bulldozing our cabinet, and playing practical jokes with the highest trade interests of country? In view of the imbecile visit of the two ministers and the decoy duck to Washington on a bootless errand, the Globe offers these remarks:—

This is a condition of affairs which every citizen of Canada must deplore. The Liberal party have stood for free trade relations between Canada and the United States, but they have more than once declared through their leaders that in the interest of the country they would gladly accept reciprocity at the hands of their opponents. It seemed, however, to be the democratic policy of the Macdonald Government to make bad blood between the Dominion and the Republic. We do not hold our neighbors blameless, but the Tory press and the Tory politicians of Canada have persistently treated the Americans in what Mr. Blake has called "a boastful Jingo spirit far enough removed from true manliness." The last election campaign was one long series of bitter and unworthy attacks upon the people and institutions of the United states. Their flag was held up to contempt. Their President and leading statesmen were caricatured on every billboard. The leaders of the Liberal party were mercilessly slandered and hounded because they spoke for better relations with the neighboring people. Who can doubt but all this had its effect upon the temper of the Administration at Washington? Then Mr. Blaine, who would be a cow to speak in such a matter except he were speaking the views of the President and the Cabinet, had read over his signature that he would not consider a natural reciprocity treaty, and the leaders of both of the great parties in the United States had declared that they would accept nothing short of complete free trade in both natural products and manufactures. Sir John Macdonald himself has asserted the impossibility of negotiating a treaty of reciprocity in natural products only. The N. P. was introduced to force full reciprocity from the United States. For twelve years it has been thoroughly understood that upon no other basis could a treaty be negotiated. But in the face of all this the Canadian commissioners were sent to Washington to ask for a limited reciprocity with the language of denunciation still upon their lips. The result is a humiliating failure. The last hope of access to the markets of the United States through a Tory Government seems to have disappeared, and Canadians must resign themselves to the folly, virulence and bungling of their rulers, and of the Canadian administration of a Government which does not move beyond the limits fixed by the restrictionists.

Sports and Pastimes.

The P.A.A.A. Directorate Organize—The Otonabee Canoe Club Follows Suit.

A meeting of the directors of the Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association was held Tuesday afternoon for organization. Some changes have been made among the officers. Mr. R. B. Rogers, after a year's tenure of the Presidency, retires and is succeeded by Dr Burnham, the "old reliable" of the Association, who has been in office with the exception of a brief interruption and holds the office for a number of years. He has again been honored with the position of President and will no doubt, do more good than ever on behalf of the Association. The importance of the increased prominent of the Association has also been recognized in the placing of two directors from the business men, important positions. Both gentlemen, though new to the Association, are ardent sportsmen and will make efficient and interesting officers. Lacrosse in particular will be boomed this year. Following is the list of officers:—

PRESIDENT—D. Burnham.
FIRST VICE PRESIDENT—J. L. Gowe.
SECOND VICE-PRESIDENT—W. A. Sanderson.
SECRETARY—W. E. Loch.
TREASURER—Geo. A. Scofield (re-elected)

The directors of the baseball and lacrosse clubs have not yet been appointed, so that the Board of Directors is not complete.

The directors adjourned for a week in order to solicit patrons and patronesses, and receive notice of appointment of directors from the above clubs.

The outdoor committee also met and finally fixed the date of the entertainment in the opera house for April 28th. This will give more time to arrange the first-class programme it is intended to present. The best local performers and some foreign talent will be procured, among them Prof. Arlidge and son, the former of whom is an accomplished flautist and the latter a charming boy soprano singer. The concert will be worthy of patronage.

OTONABEE CANOE CLUB.

The annual meeting of this live organization was held Tuesday evening at the office of the Commissioner, W. R. Hill. There was a good attendance, and the reports of the secretary and treasurer were highly satisfactory. With all liabilities paid there is a substantial balance on hand. The club has a commodious boat house containing over forty racks, all or nearly all in use, and the members are active canoeists who take an interest in the sport and their mutual associations. These officers were elected:—

HONORARY COMMODORE—W. H. Hill.
COMMODORE—H. W. Stock.
VICE COMMODORE—T. Barrie.
SECRETARY-TREASURER—E. Dixson.
ASST. SECRETARY—C. H. Allison.
TRUSTEE—A. Clegg.
COMMITTEE—A. E. Dixon, J. H. Smith, and J. Tucker.

This year the boat house will be placed in better shape than ever. It is proposed to have an incandescent electric light for the benefit of those boating in the evening. The secretary was also instructed to correspond with the Lindsay and Bobcaygeon clubs and if possible arrange a joint meet, to be held during July or August at some convenient spot in the vicinity of Pigeon Lake. If this can be accomplished an excursion will be run from Peterborough by the Otonabee Canoe Club, a regatta will be arranged and a delightful day on the the water made possible for all canoeists and their friends. It is perhaps rather early to prepare such plans, but the canoeists are looking forward to the opening of the boating season with unrestrained enthusiasm.

Frazerville.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The opening month is now at hand, the farmers are expecting as soon be at work again and an early seeding is looked for.

Messrs. McDonald and McCallum, local agents for the Chatham fanning mill, visited this village a short time ago, with a view of supplying the young farmers of the neighborhood with one of their highly commended fanning mills, which they did. The Peterborough and other grain markets may expect a good sample of well cleaned grain from the section the coming season, as the above mills are highly recommended by all.

On Thursday last your correspondent being a short distance north of the village learned that on Easter Monday the trustees of Cairo school gathered a few of the farmers of the section together for the purpose of erecting the new hall. After a few hours hard work they completed their task, then each man enjoyed himself for a while by pulling the ball-rope and letting the surrounding citizens know what they had been doing. The sound of this, together with the hum of the many circular sawing machines, made quite a noise.

Mr. William Bothwell, who has been sawing wood with his circular saw for the past couple of weeks, is worthy of great commendation for the way he handles the machine.

Mr. James Fisher, of this place, is now under medical treatment with an attack of bilious fever. We wish him a speedy recovery.

Mr. John Ward, of Needler's Mills, left on Tuesday last for Manitoba.

We notice in the budget of news sent to your last weeks edition by the South Monaghan correspondent, that they had a new store in Centerville and that the same was wanted in Frazerville. Now I think the correspondent made a mistake for we have two first class general stores in the village, and it was remarked by a stranger a few days ago that all we needed now was the electric light. However, when Centerville grows to the size of Frazerville he may then say it is improving.

How to Become Rosy-Cheeked Women.

The political battle is over, but the battle with disease must be constantly and unceasingly waged ere the grim reaper will come our victorious, and loved ones will be gathered to their long home. On all sides may be seen pale and listless girls who should be enjoying the health and glow of rosy youth. Everywhere we are met with women young in years, yet prematurely old, who suffer in silence almost untold agonies, the result of these ailments peculiar to the female system. To all such, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills come as a blessing. They restore wasted vitality, build up the nervous system, enrich the blood, and transform pale and sallow complexions into glowing, rosy cheeks that along follow perfect health. In a word they are a certain cure for all these distressing complaints to which women and girls are peculiarly liable. A trial of these pills will convince the most sceptical of their wonderful merit. For suffering men Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are equally efficacious. For overwork, mental strain, loss of sleep, nervous debility, and all those diseases that lead to broken-down manhood, they are a certain specific, stimulating the brain, reinforcing the exhausted system and restoring shattered vitality. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are nature's restorative and should be used by every weak and debilitated person. For sale by all dealers or sent, post paid, on receipt of price (50 cents a box), by addressing the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

"Like Magic,"

THE effect produced by Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Colds, Coughs, Croup, and Sore Throat are, in most cases, immediately relieved by the use of this wonderful remedy. It strengthens the vocal organs, allays irritation, and prevents the inroads of Consumption; in every stage of that dread disease, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral relieves coughing and induces refreshing rest.

"I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for thirty years and have always found it the best remedy for croup, to which complaint my children have been subject."—Capt. U. Carley, Brooklyn, N. Y.

"From an experience of over thirty years in the sale of proprietary medicines, I feel justified in recommending Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. One of the best recommendations of the Pectoral is the enduring quality of its popularity, it being more salable now than it was twenty-five years ago, when its great success was considered marvelous."—R. S. Drake, M. D., Beliot, Kans.

"My little sister, four years of age, was so ill from bronchitis that we had almost given up hope of her recovery. Our family physician, a skilful man and of large experience, pronounced it useless to give her any more medicine; saying that he had done all it was possible to do, and we must prepare for the worst. As a last resort, we determined to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and I can truly say, with the most happy results. After taking a few doses she seemed to breathe easier, and, within a week, was out of danger. We continued giving the Pectoral until satisfied she was entirely well. This has given me unbounded faith in the preparation, and I recommend it confidently to my customers."—C. O. Lepper, Druggist, Fort Wayne, Ind.

Goughs' Grandest Go!

UNPARALLELED STROKE OF ENTERPRISE:—THEY CHARTER A SPECIAL SPRING POET

During the past few months, GOUGH BROS. have been making Immense Improvements in their Shops, till now—in their Spring attire—they have the Nobbiest, Brightest, Neatest Establishment in the District.

Having laid in a Superb and Unrivalled Stock, they cast about for some special means to make it known to the public, and at enormous expense they captured a Genuine Genius in the Poetical line, whom they christened "Gough Bros. Special Spring Poet." They fitted up the office as a box-stall and turned the poet loose in it and he proceeded to let himself loose in the following manner:

O, beauteous, sloppy, balmy spring,
You are a bright and welcome thing;
You bring us sunshine—check the mumps,
And make the people stir their stumps.
(To "stir their stumps" they must have boots,—
And Goughs have just the stock that suits.)
You clothe the world in garments new—
Your bright example Goughs pursue;
They deck their shop with brightest hues,

And give the public chance to choose
From 'mongst the biggest stock on earth—
In no department is their dearth—
From head to foot, from top to toe,
The great Goughs' lines of great goods go.
They've nobby tiles for brainy heads,
They've dandy boots for dainty treads;
They—they—they—

At this point a loud groaning was heard in the poet's lair, and a visit showed him tearing his hair, the very picture of despondent despair. He was in a state of collapse. He was sent to the hospital, and a sane man employed to make the simple statement that GOUGH BROS.' Superb Spring Stock of HATS and CAPS, BOOTS and SHOES, and CHOICE SPRING CLOTHING

I beg to announce to my late customers that I have sold out my business to Messrs. Hilliard & Peplow, and I would bespeak for them the same support as has been accorded me.

C. N. BROWN.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

For some time past we have thought a strictly cash business in Flour, Feed and Provisions could be successfully carried on in Peterborough, and to test this question, we have purchased the above business from Mr. C. N. Brown who will still continue as manager in Flavelle's old stand, Simcoe street.

In order to be successful we intend to make it the interest of everyone to pay cash with order by selling at wholesale prices.

We will positively give no credit and cash customers will not have to keep up the losses made by others on the credit system.

We will keep a full supply of the very best quality of Flour, Feed, Chop, etc., and our customers need not fear that the quality of the goods will be lowered to make up for the reduction in prices. We are simply giving them the benefit of the margin necessary to cover losses and interest charges incurred on the credit system.

Goods delivered to any part of the town or Ashburnham.

Nine Persons Burned to Death at Rochester, Pa.—The Horrors of a Tenement House Fire.

ROCHESTER, Pa., April 6.—A large frame structure in New York-street, belonging to John F. Smith, in which were located the tea and coffee store of George Edwards, the millinery store of Mrs. Hall and the shoe shop and residence of E. J. Keene, was burned last night. An Italian family lived over the millinery store. There were ten persons in the building, and the only person who escaped was Mary Tecchio, aged 17, who jumped from the second-story window. The dead: C. J. Keene, aged 40; Walter Keene, his son, aged 9; Baptiste Tecchio, aged 40; Annie Tecchio, aged 35, his wife; Yesef Tecchio, aged 18; Rosa Tecchio, aged 8; Annie Tecchio, aged 3; Victoria Tecchio, aged 37, brother of Baptiste; Joseph Rasma, aged 35.

The rescued girl talks incoherently and seems to remember but little of the fearful struggles of her kinsmen. She says that when she awoke the fire was burning below and their rooms were filled with smoke. She slept in the back room, her mother and the children in the middle room and her father and his brother Victoria Tecchio, and Joseph Rasma, both visitors, occupied the front room. Mary tried to rouse her people, but they were already asphyxiated. All the bodies have been recovered. Each is burned beyond recognition. Annie, the baby, had one foot and an arm burned completely off. The others are all fearfully mutilated. It is thought the fire was caused by the explosion of a lamp in Mr. Keene's kitchen. The loss is $6000.

INNOCENCE AND CRIME.

Two Children Frightfully Hack a Baby with a Razor.

WASHINGTON, N.J., April 6.—Mrs. James MacNerney of Karnsville left her three children, aged 9, 7 and 2 ½, the youngest a girl, at home while she went to the store yesterday. When she returned she found the baby lying on the floor in the kitchen covered with blood. A razor was by its side. The child was not dead, though she was very weak from the loss of blood. Her little face was one mass of cuts and on the neck was a huge gash that barely missed the jugular vein. The other children were not to be found for a long while. They were finally discovered in a closet fast asleep, their little hands covered with blood. They explained to their mother that they had been playing barber with the baby, who would not keep still, and so was cut. They became frightened at the blood and hid themselves.

A MOTHER'S DESPAIR.

A Misused Wife Hangs Herself to a Hook in the Wall—Found Dead by Her Husband.

FREDERICTON, N.B., April 6.—This morning Patrick Murphy, a laborer, having had some words with his wife left the house. Returning shortly after 8 he discovered his wife had twisted a small piece of her child's dress around her neck and fastening it to a hook in the wall had pushed aside the box on which her feet rested. The husband immediately cut her down, but life had departed. It is said Murphy frequently struck his wife and that the deceased made three previous attempts on her life in consequence. She was 21 years of age and leaves one child.

The Brockville Murderer is Allowed to Talk to His 5-year-old Daughter

PITTSBURG, April 6.—Lucy Fitzsimmons, the 5-year-old daughter of the murderer of Detective Gilkinson, visited her parents yesterday for the first time since the day after they were arrested. The child had been sent to board with a private family and was brought in by her protectors. She is said not to know that her parents are in jail, but to believe her mother is being treated in a hospital for her wounded arm. The matron says the child is wonderfully innocent, although remarkably bright. Among her attainments are a number of gospel hymns. She spent the time passed with her parents yesterday in telling them, particularly her mother, about what she had seen since her separation from them.

The trial of Fitzsimmons will take place in June. His counsel says the stories of a gang of burglars working with Fitzsimmons are all bogus.

The Crushed Cabby Will Turn.

LONDON, April 6.—A mass meeting of cabmen was held at Hyde Park this afternoon. John Burns presided, and in referring to the strike of the drivers of the Shrewsbury-Talbot Company said that it might be necessary to have a cab strike all over the country. Resolutions approving the action of the strikers and pledging support, and another calling upon all drivers of other yards to remain any increase in cab hire from Monday next were carried unanimously. There are great fears of a general strike and the feeling is expressed that the cabbies are harshly treated.

A Pin in His Throat.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Peter McCabe was assisting his wife to dress their children preparatory to taking them out. He placed several pins in his mouth. He was taken with a fit of coughing, during which one of the pins went down his throat. The physicians found that the pin had become lodged across the throat channel. The chances for McCabe's recovery are very slim, as the physician will be compelled to force the pin into the lungs and take chances of its passing through without serious injury.

The Iron Cross Drummer

Alexander Wycisk, the only drummer who has worn the iron cross, killed himself in Ratibou, Germany, a short time since. He went to the Franco-Prussian war with the Twenty-third Infantry. One afternoon he lay with his comrades behind the wall of a courtyard which the French were trying to take by storm. In the heat of the struggle he threw away his drum, snatched a rifle from a dying comrade, punched a hole in the wall with a bayonet, and began firing at the enemy. When the order to advance from the courtyard on the attacking force was given, Wycisk could not find his drum. The Germans broke over the wall, and were immediately within but a few rods of the enemy. Wycisk sprung far ahead, seized a French drummer by the waistband, wrested from him his drum and sticks, and began beating the "double quick." For this deed he received the order given only for bravery on the field of battle. Poverty and inability to find work were the causes of his suicide.

How Life May be Prolonged.

Poets and novelists go into ecstacies over what they romantically call "beautiful spring," and "gentle spring," and while, no doubt, everyone is glad to see winter release its icy grasp, "beautiful spring" is after all one of the most deadly seasons of the year. Sudden transitions from warmth to extreme cold, with piercing chilling winds; from dry to sloppy, "muggy" weather, all combine to make the season a most trying one, even to the hardiest constitutions, while to those with weak constitutions the season is one of positive danger. Undoubtedly the greatest danger at this season of the year is from cold in the head, which very few escape, and which if not properly and thoroughly treated, develops into catarrh, with all its disagreeable and loathsome effects. Catarrh, neglected, almost as certainly develops into consumption, annually destroying thousands of lives. At this trying season no household should be without a bottle of Nasal Balm. In cases of cold in the head it gives almost instant relief and effects a speedy cure, thus preventing the developments of catarrh. When the latter disease has already secured a hold it is equally efficacious, and with a persistent use will cure the worst case. From the outset it sweetens the breath, stops the nauseous droppings into the throat and lungs, dispels those dull headaches that afflict the sufferer from Catarrh. Nasal Balm is not advertised as a cure-all—it is an honest remedy, which never fails to cure cold in the head or catarrh when the directions are faithfully followed, and thousands throughout the country have reason to bless its discovery. Nasal Balm may be had from all dealers, or will be sent on receipt of price, (50 cents small, or $1 large size bottle) by addressing Fulford & Co., Brockville, Ont.

Death's Busy Hand.

The EXAMINER records with regret the death of Mr. Frank Parker, bookkeeper for Mr. John Marvin. Deceased whose home was in Norwood was an estimable young man and actively associated with the Y. M. C. A. He was attacked with mumps and diphtheria supervening, the fatal issue followed last night.

Mr. W. H. Budden will receive very great sympathy in the sad death of his little daughter seven years of age.

"She Who must be Obeyed."

A young lad named Gouya has been summoned before the police magistrate on a charge of throwing a stone and hitting another boy. Gouya's case was so hotly contested on Tuesday, but he did not appear and the trial was deferred till Thursday morning at nine o'clock, when, if he is not present to answer to the charge, a warrant will be issued for his arrest. Her majesty's commands, as issued through her officers, must be obeyed.

Farming in Manitoba

Before leaving Peterborough for the northwest, Mr. Wm. Turnbull promised to drop the EXAMINER a few lines occasionally concerning his new home. In a letter just received from Hartney, Man., dated March 30, he says among other things:—"A week ago to day the ground was covered with snow, and people were drawing out grain on sleighs. To-day we are busy seeding, the ground is in fine order, and dust is flying. Wheat is 80c., oats 25c. The weather is fine and sad spring like."

An Unfortunate Son.

Mr. Alf. Lancashire, in Mr. J. C. Turnbull's dry goods store, was called home suddenly to attend the funeral of his father, whose sensational suicide at Millbrook Monday night was reported in Tuesday's EXAMINER. The affair was a great surprise to everyone, to the family as well as the general public. Mr. Lancashire senior was a prominent citizen of Millbrook in good circumstances and generally respected, and no cause has yet been assigned for the rash deed. He was quite well known in Peterborough and had other relatives here who are deeply pained at the inexplicable circumstance.

Several Important Matters Dealt With—A New Member—The High School Inspector's Report—Memorials re the Memory of a Deceased Member—A Constitutional Amendment as to the Election of Chairman.

The regular meeting of the Board of Education was held on Tuesday night. There were present:—Mr. W. H. Wrighton, chairman, and Messrs. D. W. Dumble, John Corkery, T. B. Beatham, Peter Hamilton, W. G. Ferguson, H. Deane, Dr. Boucher, W. H. Hill, Dr. Burnham, James Stevenson, J. J. McBain and Jas Kendry.

COMMUNICATIONS

were received:—

From John Miller, Deputy Minister, in reference to the report of the High School Inspector of his late visit to the Collegiate Institute. The report dealt in detail with the several conditions of the Institute in matters of equipment, teaching staff, discipline, etc. The number of pupils was too great for the accommodation and the report suggested the probable early necessity of the employment of a sixth teacher. The school had improved wonderfully since the last visit of the inspector, and the staff promised soon to be among the best in the Province.

From Miss E. Jenkins, Miss D. Hall and Miss M. A. Nicholls asking an increase of salary.

From Sergt.-Major Randle asking an increase of salary. Though he did not complain of the amount of work, the salary was inadequate, and he asked an increase of salary to $600.

From Mr. John Sterling, headmaster of the South Ward School, asking an increase of salary. These applications were referred to the Committee on Appointments.

From Geo. C. Robb, boiler inspector.

From J. G. McDonald, notifying the Board officially of the election of Mr. J. J. McBain.—Received.

COMMENTS ON THE INSPECTOR'S REPORT.

Mr. STEVENSON said he was surprised at the report of the Inspector, because what had already been done at his suggestion at a large expense is now what is not wanted. The report practically demanded a new school building but he (Mr. Stevenson) resented any body forcing such a thing upon the town. The inspector has suddenly discovered that the town is a rich one. Mr. Stevenson said he would like to know who told him that. Somebody had evidently prompted him and who it was, Mr. Stevenson darkly hinted, time would tell.

Mr. Kendry agreed with Mr. Stephenson, and suggested that the secretary should read the previous report of the inspector.

Mr. DUMBLE said that no one would say that the condemnation of the old building was uncalled for, nor say that the improvements made did not represent money well spent. He thought the Board should thankfully take the good parts of the report, and take the others philosophically, but he (Mr. Dumble) did not understand why the inspector condemned the school grounds, which were good for a town, especially when we took into account the adjacent park, the fine air at the door of any high school in the country. The underground rooms in use were highly objectionable. He thought the whole central school buildings should be devoted to the Collegiate Institute.

Mr. STEVENSON said the people were complaining of the expense of the schools, but it was plain that the matter of devoting the whole central building to institute purposes had to be faced, and new public school buildings provided.

DEALING WITH THE REPORT.

Dr. BOUCHER moved, seconded Mr. DUMBLE, that the report of the inspector be referred to the following committee, to report at the next meeting of the Board: Messrs. Hamilton, Burnham, Stevenson, Dumble and the mover.

An amendment, moved by Mr. Kendry seconded by Mr. Rutherford that the committee be composed of the Committee on Appointments was carried.

THE LATE WILLIAM ENGLISH.

Moved by MR. DUMBLE seconded by Dr. BOUCHER that this board deeply laments the recent death of Mr. William English who for some years was so faithful and efficient in discharging his duties as a member of the Board of Education. Mr. English as chairman of the property committee had heavy and responsible duties; these he performed with much skill and painstaking care and in everything connected with the board feels that he could do the best that could be done. His pleasant and courteous bearing and his thorough honesty so endeared him to all that his loss will be keenly felt. We enter our tribute to his worth upon the minutes and direct the secretary to transmit a copy of this resolution to the bereaved widow with an expression of our heart felt sympathy in her bereavement. The motion was adopted.

On motion, Mr. J. J. McBain was placed on the committee upon which the late Mr. English had a place, and Mr Stevenson made Chairman of the Property Committee.

AN ELECTION IMPROVEMENT.

Mr. DUMBLE said the present chairman of the Board was appointed as the oldest member of the Board, when as a matter of fact he was not the oldest member by thirteen years. He did not object to the present incumbent; on the other hand he thought he was a good man, but he favored a better and more intelligent mode of electing a chairman, and he would move that hereafter the chairman of the Board be elected by ballot without nominations, and that a majority of the whole Board be necessary to the election of a chairman.

WAYS AND MEANS

Dr. BURNHAM moved, seconded by Mr. FERGUSON, that the chairman and secretary-treasurer of the Board be authorized to borrow from the Ontario Bank a sum of not more than $20 000 to meet the expenses of the Board.—Carried.

REMARKS APROPOS.

Dr. TILLEY said he was engaged in inspecting the schools and he should like to have any member of the board, who chose to do so, accompany him in his visits. He also wished the board to provide honour certificates for those who made a certain percentage at the promotion examinations. He had also arranged for grade conventions, that is an interchange of visits between teachers in the same grade and hoped the board approved of this arrangement.

Mr. FESSENDEN said that, with Mr. Seath, the inspector, he had examined the Central School buildings, and Mr. Seath had expressed the opinion that if the board contemplated devoting the whole of these buildings to Collegiate Institute purposes, the matter could be arranged to mutual satisfaction, and the question of accommodation be thus settled.

SCHOOL LAW AMENDMENTS

Mr. Stephenson referred to the school law amendments now before the local legislature. There were to him two objectionable features in these amendments, the first was that no member of the town council could be elected or appointed a member of the board; another was that a majority of either branch of a union school board could dissolve the union.

Mr. DUMBLE said he thought the board could spare one member of the town council on the school board but not two. He had expressed himself to this effect, to the Minister of Education and to strengthen the latter's hands he would move, to elicit an expression of opinion from the board, that in the opinion of the board the council should have one representative on the school board. As to the general feature of the bill they were good and a step in the right direction. The motion was agreed to.

MORE MOTIONS.

Motions were adopted to provide honour certificates in accordance with Inspector Tilley's recommendation and the property committee was instructed to put city water into the North Ward School.

The board adjourned.

High School Inspector's Report.

Report of Inspector Seath Upon the Collegiate Institute—The Full Report—An Interesting Document—High Character of the Work Done—The Buildings Inadequate.

The following is an extract from the report of Inspector Seath on his visit to the Peterborough Collegiate Institute in February last. It will be well to note that the grading under is represented by Roman numerals thus; I (good); II (fair); III (poor); and IV (bad):

ACCOMMODATIONS

Water closets, 0; water supply, II; school grounds, 0; school buildings, IV; class rooms, IV; halls, III; waiting rooms, 0; cap rooms, 0; teachers' private rooms, 0; desks, II; blackboards, II; lighting, IV; heating, I; ventilation, IV. Owing to the increase in the attendance an additional teacher and class room have been provided. The class room is in the basement of an adjacent public school building and is quite unsuitable; its ventilation is exceedingly bad.

EQUIPMENT.

Value at date of last inspection:—Library, $526.25; apparatus, $479.84; maps, globes, etc., $150 00; gymnasium and equipments, (a) $575, (b) $115.

Value of additions since made:—Library, $17; apparatus, $180.65; gymnasium (equipment) $80.

Present value:—Library, $543 35; apparatus, $660.49; maps, globes, etc., $150 00; gymnasium and equipments, (a) $575, (b) $175.

Condition:—Library, I; apparatus, I; maps, globes, etc., I-IV; gymnasium and equipment, (a) see remarks, (b) I.

About half a dozen microscopes are needed for the use of the pupils. No provision has been made for ventilating the gymnasium, and as it is lower than part of the surrounding ground, water runs in upon the floor. In its present condition, it is, I believe, unfit for the purposes of physical instruction especially as it is now always occupied by classes while the school is in session. The equipment should be recatalogued. The present catalogue is in bad condition.

STAFF.

All legally qualified.

DISCIPLINE.

Excellent in the main building, and very fair in the outside.

ORGANIZATION.

Subjects on the programme not taught; zoology and the optional subjects except music and phonography.

Provisions made for teaching:—writing:—The required provision for these subjects had not been made before my visit, but the head master has since complied with the regulations. This provision must be made all the year round.

Drill calisthenics and gymnastics:—Scarcely the minimum required by the regulations, but in the present condition of the school and the accommodations all that can be expected for this half year.

Divisions of duties among teachers:—As satisfactory as can be expected. After the mid-summer holidays Mr. Rutherford will become a department master—a very desirable change.

Ratio of pupils to teachers:—The number of pupils in each form is, in some subjects, too large for the number of teachers The day is not far distant when an additional master will be needed.

CHARACTER OF THE TEACHING.

English, I-II; mathematics, I; science, I; classics, I-II; French and German, I-II; commercial, I-II; drawing, I; drill, calisthenics and gymnastics, I.

[In the above grading I have not considered the fact that the number of pupils in some of the forms is too large for really effective work, as probably the number will be smaller after Easter and in the fall; nor have I taken into account the work done by Mr. Rutherford, who teaches at present in all the departments. I am happy, however, to report that, while he is inexperienced, he bids fair to become a good teacher.]

Last class of entrants:—Of 44 examined I rank 23 grade II; 17 grade III; and four grade IV; the last grade might properly have been rejected; I report especially the fact that the boys from the Separate school are bad readers: the proper authorities should have their attention call to this serious defect.

Writing:—Some are fair writers but too many are poor. All require continued systematic instruction.

Other pupils:—Reading:—of 116 examined I rank 6 grade I; 23 grade II; 67 grade III; ten grade IV. This is a very poor record and shows the necessity for systematic and continued instruction.

Writing.—Generally fair; some are excellent writers and some are very poor; an average class.

Drawing:—Generally good.

Book-keeping:—Generally good.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Attendance:—All regularly admitted, except four girls who had been taking advanced work at the convent before the work was discontinued there.

Text books:—All authorized.

Registers:—Daily satisfactory; general not yet filled up.

Supplementary reading in English:—No provision.

The library is simply one of reference this defect should be remedied.

Primary examination, June 1891:—Book-keeping. Standard satisfactory except that those in grade III, all of whom might have been rejected. Drawing:—Standard satisfactory. Reading:—Three pupils present. Standard satisfactory.

GENERAL REMARKS.

The condition of this school has improved markedly since my last visit of inspection. Under its present management, it will in a few years be one of the best, so far as the staff is concerned. On the subject of the accommodations, I have made a special report to the Minister.

SPACIAL REPORT

re accommodations of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute.

The following are the defects of the existing accommodations:—

(1) The Public School is in the same building and Public School pupils use the same lower hall.

(2) The play ground is a poor one and is used by Public School pupils as well. Practically there is no play ground for High School pupils.

(3) The water closets are so poor and kept in such condition that they deserve no recognition in the grading.

(4) Owing to the presence of Public School pupils in the main building and the increase of the High School attendance, one class of High School pupils is in a badly constructed and badly ventilated basement room of one of the town Public Schools. The air of the room was poisonous when I inspected it.

(5) There are no cloak rooms for boys and girls, and the room in which the library is kept is unsuitable for a teacher's private room.

(6) Owing to there being no provision for ventilating the gymnasium and to its low situation in the grounds, as well as the fact that it is used also for Public School classes, physical education is now taken up under conditions that cannot but injure the health of the pupils.

(7) No assembly room has been provided; so that it is not possible for the head master to organize his school so as to utilize to the full the services of his staff and the time of the pupils.

All the foregoing defects, except 4 and 6, have existed for some years, but have been tolerated by the Department owing to the conditions under which the Collegiate Institute was established and the circumstances of the town; the result being that the accommodations of this institute are now amongst the worst in the Province, although Peterborough is one of the richest towns.

In fact no high school would now be established if such accommodations were proposed for its occupation.

The growth of the Peterborough School, and the consequent emphasis of its defects, make it necessary for me to ask the Minister to bring the subject specially under the notice of the board with an intimation that the time has come when it is the duty of the board to provide suitable accommodations and of the Education Department to see that such provision is made.

THE COURT CONCLUDED.

The Town Case Deferred for Further Argument.

A Digest of the Suit and Evidence Offered—An Old Case Again in the Court—Only One Case Tried.

The Assize court was concluded Tuesday evening, only one case of the five on the docket being tried.

The case of Leonard vs. the town of Peterborough was finished, as far as the present assizes are concerned. This case is of considerable interest to every ratepayer, and those who have read the papers will be quite familiar with the circumstances. The action was brought by Mrs. Catherine Leonard, who claims damages for trespass upon her property just below the C. P. R. track on George street. Last fall the town council passed a by-law for the opening of Water street between the southern limits of the right of way of the C. P. R. and Wolfe street. The plaintiff served notice of injunction to stay proceedings after work had been carried on for about ten days, and the action was then instituted, Messrs. Robb. Pope, street inspector and T. M. D. Croly being made parties thereto. Mr. Watson, Toronto, and Dumble & Leonard conducted the case for the plaintiff; Mr. E. B. Edwards, Town Solicitor, the defence. In the plaintiff's statement of claim it was held that the plaintiff was on the 19th of November last, (when work was begun on the opening of the street) and still is the owner and occupier of that parcel of land lying between lot 1, east of George street and north of Wolfe street on the banks of the Otonabee river, the claim being made to cover to the water's edge. In the defence of the town it was set up that the original road or allowance for road known as Water street was laid out in the original survey of Peterborough along the river bank in front of plaintiff's property; and that this road had by by-law of the town, after notice had been given to the plaintiff,

HAD BEEN FORMALLY OPENED

In the reply of the plaintiff, the plaintiff for the purposes of this suit admits there was an original reservation along the banks of the river and that the land originally laid by for road allowance was, long before the trespass complained of, largely washed away by the waters of the Otonabee river; and the defendants, ignoring this fact, entered the plaintiff's land lying west of this original reservation and committed the trespass.

The court was occupied two days in considering the plans put in evidence, and hearing witnesses. An officer of the Crown Lands Department produced original instructions to Surveyor Birdsall, in 1825, and original plans made by Surveyors Birdsall and Huston, besides recent surveys and numerous documents.

The first survey of this old mill reserve property appears to have been made by John Huston in 1821, and contained an allowance for a road along the river bank. Mr. Birdsall, who made the general survey of the town in 1825, did in fact lay out a street at the point in dispute, the course of which, according to his field notes, was this: After giving the route and courses as far as Sherbrooke street, the street was continued to "within one chain of the banks of the Otonabee river, then following the winding of said river; this street or road was given this course so as not to interfere with the present mill site." In 1832 this was patented to John Brown, part of the description on his patent being as follows:—"Then east along the southern limit of King street to the western limit of Water street, then southerly along the western limit of Water street till intersected by Wolfe street, then west to place of beginning." In 1836 John Brown conveyed this property to Joseph Wallis, according to the plan made by John Huston and know as Brown's survey. In 1871 a plan was registered in the Registry office, founded upon this survey, showing Water street continued to Wolfe street. The maps in the Crown Lands Department all show the line of the same street, although the words "Water street" are not written upon that part of it south of Sherbrooke street. The contention of the town has always been that this was an original road allowance and that they were entitled to open it when it became necessary. The plaintiff, Mrs. Leonard, bought her land about 1874, and in the deed to her the land was described as being lots one and two, in block C, east of George street and north of Wolfe street, according to the plan made by Geo. Huston, D.P.S. (the plan above referred to) Mrs. Leonard built her fences out to the water's edge, and the by-law was passed the immediate cause of which was the necessity for building a wharf, for which the Government had made an appropriation.

TO OPEN THE STREET.

Of all the surveyors examined, some claimed that the street as opened out encroached six feet or less on Mrs. Leonard's property, according to Mr. Birdsall's plan in 1825, but that the defendants had not come within 20 or 30 feet, according to the plan in the registry office.

The evidence as to the washing away of the bank of the river was conflicting, some claiming that six feet had been washed away and others that there had been no wash at all.

After a part of the evidence had been given Mr. Watson, for the plaintiff, moved for leave to amend the reply to the defendant's statement of claim, by striking out the admission that there was an original road allowance. Mr. Edward's opposed this, inasmuch as the admission having formally been made on the pleadings, it would be unfair to the defendants to strike it out at that stage. The Judge decided to allow the amendment but on condition that the defendants have the privilege of giving further evidence confirmatory or proving the admission by evidence from the Crown Lands Department and from Ottawa. The case was postponed to the Ottawa court.

A TEST CASE

Mr. Dumble, one of the counsel for the plaintiff, says the case is an important one, as being the first test case brought into court to determine the question as to whether the council has control of these reserves along the river bank. A number of mills have built along the river bank on this supposed street reserve, which it is claimed is one chain in width and runs from Smith to Wolfe street. This case may determine a question not contemplated by either party when the suit was commenced.

OTHER CASES.

Yomans vs. Young, and Askwith vs. Henry et al, have been put over until the Chancery Sittings, which will be held here next month.

In the case McGee vs. Lytle no person appeared for the defence. This was an action to secure judgment in this court against George Lytle on several judgments which have been obtained against him, one of which was for seduction and maintenance of child. Lytle is now in Manitoba, and after evidence had been taken to prove that he is the same person who resided here, judgment was entered for the plaintiff, allowing the sum of $576.80 and full costs. Mr. E. B. Edwards appeared for plaintiff.

This concluded the business of the court.

McMahon, J., left for Toronto last evening.

A Trick That was Played Once Too Often.

Police Magistrate Kimmon held court in the county council chamber Tuesday afternoon, when the boy William Robertson, arrested by Constable Cochrane at Keene Saturday, was tried on a charge of larceny. The complainant was Mr. Robert English, merchant, of that village. Mr. R. E. Weed, C.C.A., conducted the prosecution.

The circumstances of the case as outlined by the prosecution were these: Mr. English has recently missed sums of money from his till, and he suspected some boys who frequented his store. So he set a trap that "caught on" wonderfully well. He left a number of marked bills in the money drawer, and went out for a few minutes, as was his wont when business was slack. In his absence young Robertson entered, and on Mr. English returning, one of the marked bills for $2 was gone. The theft was traced directly to Robertson, who went into the next store and got the bill changed, hence his arrest.

The boy pleaded guilty, but his brothers, who were present in court, asked the court to be lenient, and on their agreeing to enter into recognizances of $500 each, guaranteeing the future good conduct of the boy, judgment was reserved. The boy remained in gaol until to-day, when the papers were made out.

It is hoped that this case will be a salutary lesson to young Robertson, and all other boys who have not yet learned to respect the eighth commandment.

The Old Stage Coach and the Railway.

"I am compelled to go to a town thirty miles from where I reside, and have to choose between to modes of conveyance—one the old-fashioned stage coach with all its drawbacks, and the other a fast railway train. I find that with a stoppage for dinner the stage coach will cost me as much as the fare charged by the Railway Company, and that I must be the whole day on the road. Taking the train I reach my destination in an hour. Surely I cannot hesitate long about a decision. In like manner when I have dyes to buy for my home dyeing, I at once select those that operate quickly, and give the best results and greatest satisfaction, and my choice is at all times the 'Diamond Dyes.' I have seen sufficient of many of the crude dyes to cause me to pass them by and leave them for others, who do not know the value of Diamond Dyes."

Dyspepsia

Intense Suffering for 8 years—Restored to Perfect Health.

Few people have suffered more severely from dyspepsia than Mr. E. A. McMahon, a well known grocer of Staunton, Va. He says: "Before 1878 I was in excellent health, weighing over 200 pounds. In that year an ailment developed into acute dyspepsia, and soon I was reduced to 162 pounds, suffering burning sensations in the stomach, palpitation of the heart, nausea, and indigestion. I could not sleep, lost all heart in my work, had fits of melancholia, and for days at a time I would have welcomed death. I became morose, sullen and irritable, and for eight years life was a burden. I tried many physicians and many remedies. One day a workman employed by me suggested that I take Hood's Sarsaparilla, as it had cured his wife of dyspepsia. I did so, and before taking the whole of a bottle I began to feel like a new man. The terrible pains to which I had been subjected, ceased, the palpitation of the heart subsided, my stomach became easier, nausea disappeared, and my entire system began to tone up. With returning strength came activity of mind and body. Before the fifth bottle was taken I had regained my former weight and natural condition. I am today well and I ascribe it to taking Hood's Sarsaparilla."

CASH HARDWARE STORE.

On and after 1st April we shall do business on a Cash Basis.

To cover the inevitable losses attendant upon a credit business, which accrue from amount of time spent in keeping accounts, collecting, bad debts, interest account, and an numerous other ways, larger margins of profit must be asked.

In these times cash buyers ask, expect, and are entitled to close prices. A careful consideration of the subject convinces us that the time has come for a cash business done on smaller profits.

The only customers who may possibly be put to inconvenience are those who have had long credit. In more ways than one it will be to their advantage to pay cash.

For convenience of our old customers who consider their accounts due when presented, we will call 30 days cash and render all accounts the first of each month, and we wish to say that will be happy to do business with them on those terms.

As the new departure is something of an experiment, which would be considered a close cash price will be made all through the stock. Not a few leaders only, but a general reduction in everything from the fourth flat to the cellar.

Our idea is to perform more than promised rather than promise more than can be fulfilled.

HORROR AT PETROLEA.

A NITRO-GLYCERINE FACTORY BLOWN UP.

All the Workmen Killed and Their Remains Scattered Over a Five Acre Field A Hole in the Ground Marks the Site of the Factory.

PETROLIA, April 8.—About 6.15 this evening an explosion occurred in Bradley's glycerine works, which are situated about half a mile from town towards Marthaville. How the explosion occurred will never be known, as the three workmen, named Albert Bradley, James Chambers and D. McDermand, were instantly killed. Sufficient of their remains have been found to positively identify them. The side of the head and part of the legs of one of them were found about 500 yards from the scene of the accident. How many more were in the building at the time is at present unknown. The five acres on which the building is situated is literally covered with small pieces of bones and flesh and the remains of the three killed, already identified, could be put in a bushel basket. Such an accident has never occurred in Petrolia before, and the scene of the accident is covered with people rendering all assistance possible. Where the building stood is marked by a hole about 15 feet deep and 30 feet across, caused by the force of the explosion of 30 quarts of glycerine. Dr Lougheed, the coroner, was summoned and will hold an inquest on the remains to-morrow morning.

G. W. Porter Deserts His Wife, Elopes With a Belle and Takes Oronhyatekha Mourn.

TORONTO, April 9.—The members of the Independent Order of Foresters were pretty well excited yesterday, and all on account of the manœuvres of a gay young man in Kansas City, G. W. Porter by name, who has been a moving spirit in the organization of courts in the Western States. The chief strength of the order is in Canada, the headquarters being in this city, but it has been gradually spreading westward owing greatly to Porter's zeal. He induced a large number of young men to join and was always on the lookout for proselytes. His labors were rewarded by his being elected High Chief Ranger of the court in Missouri, but the tempter came in the person of Pearl Johnson, a veritable belle, who, a few days ago, induced Porter to leave his home and his wife and to follow her to the east. He appropriated considerable of the court's funds, and the pair have not since been heard from. The matter was reported to Dr. Oronhyatekha, supreme chief ranger of the order, whose offices are in the Dominion Bank chambers. A telegram was sent ordering Porter's arrest for embezzlement, and every effort is being made to capture him. Dr. Oronhyatekha was seen yesterday in connection with the affair. He seemed very troubled over the downfall of such a high officer in the order. "You see," said the Doctor, "Porter has been marrying on the European plan, and this is not allowed by the laws of the land, much less by the rules of our order. His defalcations can't amount to very much, for the financial department of the whole order is managed here in my office. We, of course, feel keenly the stigma which results from his action. There is no question about his immorality, and he will be expelled from the order at the first meeting of the executive."

Mrs. Porter is now seeking to find whether her husband has applied for a divorce from her.

Doctors to Have the Right of Way.

BERLIN, April 8.—The city will soon witness the universal adoption of a white hat for the coachmen who drive the carriages of doctors. This fashion has been adopted in order to prevent the delay of the occupant while going through crowded streets, as the new headgear will be a signal which will demand and obtain the right of way at all times.

FROM OVER THE SEA.

MORE BRITISH OFFICERS KILLED IN INDIA.

A Preacher Insults the Queen at a Banquet—The Italian Press on America's God Interesting Irish Items Death of a Hero General Foreign News.

SIMLA, India, April 8.—A letter has been received here from the leader of the Manipuris, declaring that Chief Commissioner J. W. Quinton and all his colleagues, who were taken prisoners at the time of the attack upon the British residency at Manipur, have been murdered. This news is believed here. There has been further fighting near Manipur, and another British officer has been killed. It is presumed this officer is either Lieutenant Grant, who commanded the British force, which recently captured Fort Thaba, or Captain Presgrave, who commanded the detachment of British troops sent to Grant's relief.

Anxiety in Afghanistan.

CALCUTTA, April 8.—The Miranza disorders are spreading and the Afghans are becoming excited. The conduct of the Ameer of Afghanistan is considered suspicious.

HER MAJESTY'S HEALTH.

Remarkable Scene at an English Banquet—The Queen and the Dissenters.

LONDON, April 8.—At a dinner given last evening by the Devon Congregational Union at Tavistock a sensation was caused by the presiding minister, Mr. R. Davis, who said he could not propose the toast of "The Queen" and that he would, therefore, call upon Rev. Mr. Johnson to perform this task. Mr. Davis added that Johnson might also toast the Prince of Wales and all the gamblers if he chose to do so. Mr. Johnson consequently proposed the toast "The Queen," saying Her Majesty had no more loyal subjects than the dissenters. Thereupon the assemblage, with the exception of the Rev. Mr. Davis and his wife, rose to their feet and sang the National Anthem.

FAVA'S RECALL.

ROME, April 8.—In the Chamber of Deputies to-day King Humbert said he entirely approved of the conduct of the Italian Government in the matter of the recall of Baron de Fava, adding at the same time that he hoped and desired that an agreement should be arrived at.

Contrary to the foregoing many well-informed people here declare that the Fava recall incident was precipitated on account of the New Orleans affair, in order to afford the Italian Ministry reasons for its failure to affect the promised reductions in the army, navy and other national expenditures.

The Italia expresses the opinion that Americans have but one god—their strong box. It says further: "In this strong box we must strike them, demanding the largest possible indemnity. On their tongue there is but one word, 'dollars.' Let us take advantage of it."

A Model for the Masses.

LONDON, April 8.—The German Socialists are highly indignant over the fact that their great leader Bebel is living in high luxury in Berlin. It is said that Bebel, not satisfied with a house grandly furnished and a select and abundant larder, has one of the finest wine cellars in Berlin and indulges with his friends in the choicest champagnes, tokay and other beverages, while he makes a business of denouncing the luxury and extravagance of capitalists and holding himself forth as a model for the masses.

NEWFOUNDLAND TRADE.

What the Treaty Between the Colony and the United States Contemplated—Reciprocity in Various Products.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The full text of the treaty between the United States and Newfoundland for the improvement of commercial relations, which was all ready for signature and ratification when the suspension of negotiations was ordered from Great Britain owing to the protest of Canada, is made public. It gives American fishing vessels the same privileges of purchasing bait, trading and procuring supplies as are enjoyed by Newfoundland vessels, and allows the products of Newfoundland fisheries, with the barrels, boxes and cans, etc., in which they are carried, to be admitted into the United States free of duty: "Green" codfish, however, is not included in these products. Under this treaty the duties levied upon the following merchandise imported into Newfoundland from the United States shall not exceed the following amounts, viz.: Flour, 25c. per bbl.; pork, 1½c per lb.; bacon and hams, tongues, smoked beef and sausages, 2½c. per lb. or $2.50 per 112 lbs.; beef, pig's heads, hocks and feet, salted and cured, ½c. per lb.; Indian meal, 25c. per bbl.; peas, 30c. per bbl.; oatmeal, 30c. per bbl. of 200 lbs.; bran, Indian corn and rice, 12½ p.c. ad valorem; salt in bulk, 20c. per ton of 2240 lbs.; kerosene, 6c. per gallon.

Newfoundland is to admit the following articles imported from the United States free of duty: Agricultural implements and machinery imported by agricultural societies for the promotion of agriculture; grinding mills for mining purposes; raw cotton, corn for the manufacture of brooms, gas engines protected by patent, plows and harrows, reaping, raking, plowing, potato-digging and seed-sowing machines to be used in the colony, printing presses and printing types. The treaty provides that if Newfoundland reduces the rates of duty upon the articles named above as dutiable the reduction shall apply to the United States. The treaty is to take effect as soon as the laws required to carry it into operation have been passed by Congress, the Imperial Parliament and the Legislature of Newfoundland. It is to remain in full force for five years from the date at which it comes into operation, and further until 12 months after either contracting party gives notice of its wish to terminate the same. It is provided that ratifications of treaty shall be exchanged on Feb. 1, 1891, or as soon thereafter as practicable.

Newfoundland has appointed Mr. Francis H. Evans, M.P. for Southampton, special commissioner with unlimited power to negotiate with Her Majesty's Government a settlement of the differences between them in regard to the French fishery claims. Mr. Evans has been advised by the Newfoundland authorities that it is necessary to secure an immediate concession of some kind to allay the public feeling in the colony

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

DISCUSSION IN THE HOUSE ON MINING REGULATIONS.

An Act Which Provides for the Establishment of a Department of Mines—The Scheme Which it is Proposed to Adopt—The License Question.

TORONTO, April 9.—Mr. Hardy introduced to the Assembly yesterday the amendments to the Acts concerning the mining lands. In doing so, he said, he would not go into particulars of the bills but would indicate the general direction of the Government policy. Their principles were:

1. That the Government shall not readily part with the ownership of their public lands without receiving some adequate consideration for the general uses of the Province, and that when sold it shall be for the bona fide purpose of mining rather than for speculative purposes.

2. To secure as early and rapid a development of the lands as may be possible.

3. To secure a revenue to the province, 1st, by the sale or rental of the lands; 2nd, from the actual workings of the mines by way of royalty. It is sought to secure these ends: (a) by fixing a higher price for the land when sold, and (b) by requiring development within a limited time.

4. To introduce the option of leasehold at an annual rent instead of a grant in fee simple, this retaining the fee in the crown.

5. In making grants of lands for agricultural purposes to retain the ownership of the minerals in the Crown.

6. The establishment of a bureau of mines and the appointment of a director of mines.

With regard to the last point the Government had considered carefully the representations of the mining convention. It was not probable that the Government would at present be increased by an additional member. There might be arguments in favor of it, but the convention had considered less the general question than the single one of developing the mining interests. The question was too serious a one to rush into. But if the bureau is established the officer in charge would have a position similar to that of Mr. Blue of the Bureau of Statistics. There would also be a mining inspector thoroughly conversant with mining matters and who would eventually become a permanent officer. The director and inspector would have salaries equal to that of a deputy head.

The administration of the license laws was thoroughly ventilated upon the motion of Mr. Willoughby for a return giving minute details by license districts of the amounts collected and expended and the proportion of the license fund to which the municipalities were entitled and the amounts which were actually paid them, all for each year from 1878 to 1890.

Mr. Awrey's bill to amend the Municipal Act by allowing cities, towns or villages to place lands actually used for farm purposes, outside of the limits of such municipalities, met with cruel treatment in spite of his three speeches in its favor. First Mr. Meredith opposed it. Then Mr. Fraser said, in his chilling tones, that Mr. Awrey did not know how far-reaching his bill was. Mr. Awrey said he did. Mr. Fraser replied, still more coldly, that Mr. Awrey in that case concealed the importance of the bill from the House. Next Mr. Hardy remarked that the bill required a thorough overhauling. The motion for a second reading was greeted with shouts of "lost," but was declared car ried on division.

The Speaker entertained at dinner last night these M.P.P.'s: Hon. C. F. Fraser, Mr. McCleary, Mr. Dack, Mr. Connee, Dr. McKay, Mr. Glendining, Mr. Kerns, Mr. Carpenter, Mr. Hudson, Mr. Guthrie, Mr. Hammell, Mr. H. Mackenzie, Mr. Tooley Mr. Biezard, Mr. Mack, Dr. Barr, Mr. O'Connor, and also Mr. Tully, Mr. Cameron, Mr. Christie, Mr. W. F. Maclean and Dr Chamberlain.

HIS REASON MAY COST HIS LIFE.

From a Maniac's Cell to a Prison Dock

CAYUGA, April 8.—Joseph Locia, an Italian, will be placed on trial at the assizes here to-morrow under circumstances without a parallel in the annals of crime. Three years ago Locia was in the employ of a farmer near this town, and during the absence of the farmer his house was set on fire and the farmer's wife and two children were burned to death. Locia was arrested, but went violently insane and made several attempts to beat his brains out on the cell walls. Finally he was sent to Hamilton asylum. Under the treatment he has received Locia has improved, until a few weeks ago he was pronounced by the resident surgeon as completely cured. He was brought here today heavily handcuffed, and will be placed on trial to-morrow. The trial of Locia will be an interesting one, because it is seldom that a prisoner who commits a crime and is sent to the asylum because of insanity recovers and is put on trial. Locia does not realize that he is to be tried for a terrible crime. He is about 35 years old, swarthy like all Italians. There are three charges of arson and one of murder against Locia.

HARRISON OPPOSED TO IT.

The Reason Why the Reciprocity Negotiations Were Postponed.

NEW YORK, April 8.—A Washington dispatch to The Herald says: There will be no reciprocity with Canada under this administration. That much is certain, and the certainty of it is just as well appreciated by one side as the other. Last Thursday Mr. Blaine told Sir Charles Tupper that he would be ready yesterday to open an informal discussion of the matter with Sir Charles and his colleagues. The three gentlemen promptly appeared at the appointed time, only to hear that the President had laid an interdiction to any present consideration of the subject, either formal or informal. The Canadians thereupon left town as promptly as they came, and in high dudgeon. Their return is neither expected nor desired by the President. The action of the President was based upon the consideration that, as there was not the remotest chance of an agreement, nothing was to be gained by the administration of the country by carrying on the semblance of negotiations. Apart from his own reasons for not letting down the McKinley barriers against the introduction here of Canadian live stock and farm and dairy produce, the President had excellent grounds for believing that the Senate would not ratify any reciprocity treaty made with Canada. As soon, therefore, as he learned that Mr. Blaine had agreed to enter upon the discussion of the basis of a treaty he put a veto on the whole business and left Mr. Blaine to invent whatever explanation he deemed proper for postponing the affair indefinitely.

Death of the Famous Iconomy.

LONDON, April 8.—Turfmen all the world over will hear with regret the news of the death of the famous stallion Iconomy. He was bought in 1876 for the small sum of 360 guineas and turned out to be one of the greatest horses of his day. It was in the years 1878 and 1879 that his greatest records were won. In the former year as a 3-year-old, he won the Cambridgeshire, and in the latter he won practically all the great cup races, among them the Ascot cup, the Goodwood cup, the Doncaster cup and the Queen's vase; while in 1880 he was again victorious in the Ascot cup. His performances so increased his value that when he was sold for stud purposes in 1883 he fetched the sum of 9000 guineas.

The International Is Now the Eastern.

ALBANY, April 8.—The International League meeting adjourned at 2 a.m. yesterday to meet at the Kenmore Hotel in this city on Saturday evening. The Schedule Committee remains in session and will report on Saturday. The name of the league was changed to that of Eastern Association. The matter of an eighth club was referred to a special committee.

THE PLOT ON THE CZAR'S LIFE.

Further Particulars of the Affair from St Petersburg.

LONDON, April 8.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of The Daily Telegraph wires from St. Petersburg the following additional particulars of the attempt on the life of the Czar:

"On this Tuesday morning a fresh attempt on the life of the Czar was frustrated, whether by mere accident or by the cleverness of the police is uncertain. To-day is the 25th of March in the Russian calendar and one of the greatest holidays of the year. It is also a great feast day with the Imperial Horse Guards and the Cavalier Guards, which it is customary for the Czar and Czarina, their respective chiefs, to review in the riding-school opposite the palace of the Grand Duke Nicholas. Except the members of the Imperial family no one is admitted to this review without a special invitation issued personally and by name by an aide-de-camp of either regiment. The number is limited to people known to the aides-de-camp or the officers of the regiment. All the military appear in gala uniform and civilians in evening dress.

"There are two small stands erected on either side of the portal through which the Czar and Czarina enter. They are occupied by the guests in the order of their arrival. Those who stand at the end near the door are in very close proximity to His Majesty as he walks into the riding school, and he approaches this entrance twice during the review.

"At 10.30 o'clock this morning a man of middle height and sallow complexion, of Southern type, presented a ticket and took a seat at the extreme end, where the distance between the Czar and himself would not be more than five paces.

"The fact that this man was the first to arrive, that he took this particular stand and did not divest himself of his greatcoat, aroused suspicion. His card of invitation was examined, and doubts arose as to whether a ticket had been issued to any person of his name.

"He was then requested to remove his greatcoat. At first he begged to be excused on the ground that there were very strong draughts in the riding-school, which was true, but immediately afterwards he consented and retired to an ante-room for the purpose of taking it off.

"Here he was arrested by a detective police officer in plain clothes and conducted quietly to prison, where a Smith & Wesson revolver was found in his pocket, together with a globule containing what was supposed to be some powerful poison which the prisoner, whose name, real or assumed, is Skeamelkin, declared to be merely a well-known medicine.

"About three-quarters of an hour after the arrest of Skeamelkin the Czar made his appearance walking slowly up the passage between the stands where, had not the would-be assassin been removed in time, His Majesty must surely have been killed."

The correspondent goes on to say: "I have just heard, but do not know whether the statement is worthy of credence or not, that the police expected the arrival of Skeamelkin, although his whereabouts was unknown. He is said to have come from some provincial city for the special purpose of attempting the life of the Czar, and the plot is believed to be a continuation of the conspiracy founded by Sophia Gunsberg."

In the foregoing instance history has been almost on the point of repeating itself as to time and place in a Czar's assassination, for it was on March 1 (13), 1881, that the Czar Alexander II., the father of the present Czar of All the Russias, was assassinated near the Manege or riding school. A bomb was thrown, which exploded in the rear of the carriage, injuring several soldiers. The Czar alighted, when a second bomb was thrown, which inflicted frightful and fatal wounds, he living only about two hours after his removal to the palace. One of the assassins was arrested and he and several accomplices were hanged, and the second, who threw the last bomb, was himself wounded by its explosion and died in the hospital without declaring his name.

Sophia Gunsberg, who is credited with being the originator of recent attempts on the present Czar's life, was tried in November, 1889, together with several others, she being charged with being the chief actor in a plot to murder the Czar. She was sentenced to be hanged, but the sentence was not carried out. She is now said to be lingering in a cell in St. Petersburg. It has also been stated that she has died in prison, but of course nothing definite can be known on this head by the outside world.

FOSTER HAD THREE WIVES.

The Son of an Elgin Hotelkeeper Poses as a Professor and Marries Three Wives.

SIOUX FALLS, S.D., April 8.—"Prof." Albert E. Foster was arrested here to-day on a charge of bigamy. Foster during his residence here was counted as one of the "four hundred." His case as developed before Justice Stickney to-day is a marvel. He is he son of George Foster, a hotelkeeper at Fingal, Elgin county, Ont., and a few years ago married Carrie Windom, daughter of a farmer in the township of Delaware. He then left for the States, his wife remaining in Canada with Foster's parents. Foster settled in Peru, Ind., where in 1887 he was married to Florence Day. Two years afterwards, in 1889, he appeared in Newport, Ky., where he gained entrance in the best circles. In September last he induced one of his pupils, the 16-year-old daughter of Captain Knight, a prominent and wealthy merchant, to elope with him, and they were married. The elopers went to Canada, and to the home of Foster's parents, actually living in the same house in which wife No. 1 was domiciled, but through a plausible story told by Foster the relationship of the couple was not suspected. Miss Knight's father traced the couple to St. Thomas, Ont., in November last, but word of his talented visit had reached Foster and he fled, coming direct to Sioux Falls. His discarded child-wife was found by her father at Iona and was taken back to Newport. Foster arrived here in December, and has been doing all he can to secure wife No. 4. His arrest was caused by the father of No. 3, who announces his intention of placing the oft-married professor behind the bars. A requisition has been applied for and he will be taken to Newport, Ky., for trial.

The Federal Parliament to Fix and Control the Customs.

SYDNEY, N.S.W., April 8.—The Federation Convention have adopted resolutions that the Federal Parliament shall fix and control the customs and that the present tariffs shall remain unchanged pending adoption of a uniform tariff with free trade throughout the federation. A proposal to define the consolidation of the public debt on the basis of £40 per head of the population was rejected, and it was decided to leave that matter to be dealt with by Parliament. The local powers of the Colonial Parliaments have not been touched, but there is a proviso that in the event of laws clashing the Federal Parliament shall prevail.

Capt. Hubley Drowned.

HALIFAX, April 8.—Captain Hubley of the schooner British Queen, lying at Boak & Bennett's wharf, stayed on board the E. W. Forrest until midnight, when he left to go to his own schooner. This morning the captain's body was found floating in the dock.

Novelties in pearl bead frillings, at 5c. a frill. White embroidered apron lawns at 20c. a yard. Cream and white curtain nets, taped edge, at from 15 to 25c. a yard.

Everybody falls in love with it, and no wonder. Manufacturers call it Glorosia.

On reaching the archway leading into the Simcoe street store, you are struck with amazement, and almost think you have got into midsummer, and begin to look around for the bumble bees and humming birds among the flowers. Some of the leading colors are the new Shades in Heliotrope and Lavender, French Gray, Buttercups and Black Combined. Most of the Bonnets are Small, Toque Shapes, flat, and trimmed at the back with pretty little Forget-Me-Not Flowers, Jewelled Ribbon and Lace to match. There is something very pretty for children in Leghorn Hats, trimmed with ruchings of silk and lace.

We have just received a choice lot of very pretty shapes in Hats and Bonnets; also the latest in Flowers from Glasgow. These styles will not be shown elsewhere.

The Necessity of Tree Planting.

The Penalty of Reckless Destruction of Timber.

The Forestry report for 1889-90 contains an article in which Mr. Phippe sketches out a plan for the preservation and renewal of forests. He considers that a large public nursery, where trees might be obtained free of cost, would be a strong inducement to land-owners to plant, and that under a system of free saplings twenty times as much planting would be done as at present. This proposition involves an expenditure of public money, which Mr. Phippe justifies in this way:—"The work is national; it is the nation that desires the farmer to plant the trees; it was the fault of the nation that he was ever allowed to obtain public land at first without an agreement to retain a certain portion in trees." The great error of the original settlers, he says, was taking hill and hollow, mountain and vale, indiscriminately, with the result that many mountain tops were cleared, farmed and ruined by the washing away of the soil. "That the mountain should be wooded and the sloping valley cropped, is the very A B C of forestry." The result of the indiscriminate destruction of forests in the United States is described by Capt. Eads in a vigorous and picturesque phrase: "The United States is tearing out the heart of the country with her gang ploughs and throwing it into the Mississippi river." On the question of making forest reservations, Mr. Phippe writes like a true lover of the woods: "Forest reservations of 20 or 30 miles square should be left at those places, found in most countries, where the sources of many streams arise, that the rivers which pass through the rest of the country may be preserved. These will form reserves where timber will grow to be thinned, not cleared, at maturity; they will also give shelter where birds and animals, otherwise in danger of extirpation, may still live, and, as the country around is cleared, they will be invaluable for summer resorts. These would if cared for, remain beautiful remembrances of the pristine forest, full of sylvan glades and delightful groves, retaining the undergrowth, the wild flowers, the deep leaf bed, the present freshness of the virgin forest." Another means of encouraging forestry has been to give sections of prairie country to settlers on condition that a certain number of acres, usually ten, should be planted with trees and kept in good condition for a certain period. The system, Mr. Phippe says, is a good one, but must be carried out by firm and competent inspectors; else, as has been the case in the Western States, frauds will be committed by planting worthless trees. In regard to the forests in which timber is being cut, an opinion is expressed in favour of the adoption of the system which obtains in Europe, where the wood-buyer is not allowed to cut at his pleasure, but is carefully instructed as to what portion he may clear or thin, while as soon as the ground is ready it is planted again, or the gaps filled. Even more important than the preservation of these northern forests he considers the preservation of the small portions of forest yet remaining in the older districts of Ontario, and by replanting places which have been denuded of trees. By these means, he believes, something can be done towards bringing back the old climate of Ontario. The testimony of 200 farmers upon this point was that years ago, when there was still much timber standing, most crops gave a far better return than since more has been cleared. The woods acted as wind-breaks, so that throughout spring, summer and autumn there were frequent mild and fertilizing showers; while now the seasons are characterized by periods of drought, alternating with heavy, sudden downfalls of rain, beating the young plants into the ground, causing the grain to lodge and washing away the rich soil. From these remarks it will be seen that the preservation of forests is a matter not merely of sound and empty sentiment, but of dollars and cents.

Cold Springs, Otonabee.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

HONOR LIST.—The following is the honor list of S. S. No. 16, Otonabee, for the month of March:—

Fourth Class—Charley Stewart, Willie Welch, Nettie Stewart. Senior Third—Annie Guthrie, Ada Rose, Alex. Huston. Junior Third—Henry Rose, Herbert Mitchell, Jenny Huston. Second Class—Bert Huston, Oasis Mitchell, Gordon Douglas. Part Second—Stephen Rose, Edie Guthrie, Audrey Spears. Senior First—Frank Stewart. Junior First—Rosy Spears, Willie Huston, John Graham.

All of the foregoing, except the first class, and the following, deserve special mention for good conduct: Mary Brooks, Mary Devell, Marvin Kennedy, Frank Downer, Lorne Brooks, Ernie Welch, Fred Kennedy, and Roy Spears.

THE WEATHER.—The snow is fast disappearing, and the roads are drying fast. The sooner real spring weather comes, the better all will be pleased. Those engaged in making maple sugar are wishing for warm days, and frosty nights.

HEALTH NOTES.—Several in this neighborhood have been "enjoying" the measles, but their "pleasure" is, happily, pretty nearly all at an end in this respect.

BRICK MAKING.—The most of those who are to assist in the manufacture of brick have been engaged for the season, and the proprietors of the various yards are looking forward to a good summer's work. So if any of your readers should be in need of first-class brick, no doubt Messrs. Spears and Rose, Mr. Welch, or Mr. Rose, sr., can supply their wants.

SUNDAY SCHOOL HALL.—The discussion which has been going on for the past few months in regard to the erection of a building for Sunday School purposes seems to be taking a somewhat definite shape. Quite a sum has already been subscribed. Mr. John Burnham, M.P., has very generously offered a free site, trustees have been appointed to attend to the necessary business, and we hope to see it erected in the near future. Such a building is very much needed in this neighborhood.

Nearly all Done by the Ladies.

One of the best known, and most experienced advertisers on this continent asserts, that the ladies buy 85 per cent of all goods used and consumed in the home. This is an indication of better judgment, and superior knowledge of the article bought by them for home consumption. Ladies are much quicker than men in detecting faults and weak points in any household articles. It is owing to this care, good judgement and close scrutiny, that Diamond Dyes now hold such an exalted position. They have been tested and tried year after year, and have never failed; they are always sure and certain, as night follows day. Other makers vainly attempt to imitate, but their efforts prove futile and barren.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The Board of Directors held their monthly meeting Tuesday evening the attendance was good, Mr. Early president presiding after devotional exercises, encouraging reports were presented from the following committees:—Devotional, Finance, Invitation Reception also the Rescue Brigade and General Secretary, which showed our work was growing in influence and power among the young men and that our citizens were showing their confidence by their generous subscriptions for current expenses. A large amount of important business was dispensed and transacted. We are preparing for our building canvass which will take place this month, Mr. T. S. Cole, Traveling Secretary coming to assist us in securing the amount necessary to complete our new "Home" free from debt. We praise God for the past and are trusting Him for the future.

He is Now a Happy Man.

It is astonishing how rapidly the troubles of men and women are removed, and the drags of old maladies effectually eradicated. A gentleman well known in Allandale, Ont., and a Grand Trunk Railway Fuel Inspector, writes strongly in favor of Paine's Celery Compound.

Mr. R. Sullivan David says:—"I duly received the two bottles of Paine's Celery Compound, and I cannot speak too highly of its efficacy. At the time of their receipt I was very much troubled with my right kidney—the remains of "La Grippe" a year ago, and before I completed one bottle I was completely free from all ills, I am pleased to say. I still now and then take a dose or two for "Auld Lang Syne" solely. I sincerely trust that you may have success with this grand medicine."

The drug trade of Canada positively assert that Paine's Celery Compound is the leading remedy of the times, and that its value is so firmly established that it has become the great remedy in every home.

"A Great Spelling Match."

The greatest spelling match on record is that offered by Our Homes Publishing Co., in which they will award the following magnificent CASH PRIZES:—One prize of $200; one prize of $200; two prizes of $100; four prizes of $50; eight prizes of $25; twenty prizes of $10; forty prizes of $5; one hundred prizes of $2; and two hundred of $1. These prizes will be awarded to the person sending in the largest number of correctly spelled words found in the advertising pages of the February number of Our Homes, in which no letters occur but those found in the sentence: "Our Homes is unrivalled as a Home Magazine." Special cash prizes will be given away each day and each week during this competition, which closes April 25th, 1891. People Wonder

WHEN they find how rapidly health is restored by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The reason is that this preparation contains only the purest and most powerful alteratives and tonics. To thousands yearly it proves a veritable elixir of life.

Mrs. Jos. Lake, Brockway Centre, Mich., writes: "Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony. I was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an in my condition, my appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life, and I cannot thank you too much."

"We, the undersigned, citizens of Brockway Centre, Mich., hereby certify that the above statement, made by Mrs. Lake, is true in every particular and entitled to full credence."—O. P. Chamberlain, G. W. Waring, C. A. Wells, Druggist.

"My brother, in England, was, for a long time, unable to attend to his occupation, by reason of sores on his foot. I sent him Ayer's Almanac and the testimonials it contained induced him to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using it a little while, he was cured, and is now a well man, working in a sugar mill at Brisbane, Queensland, Australia."—A. Attewell, Sharbot Lake, Ontario.

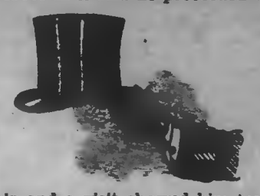
Goughs' Grandest Go!

UNPARALLELED STROKE OF ENTERPRISE:—THEY CHARTER A SPECIAL SPRING POET.

During the past few months, GOUGH BROS. have been making Immense Improvements in their Shops, till now—in their Spring attire—they have the Nobbiest, Brightest, Neatest Establishment in the District.

Having laid in a Superb and Unrivalled Stock, they cast about for some special means to make it known to the public, and at enormous expense they captured a Genuine Genius in the Poetical line, whom they christened "Gough Bros. Special Spring Poet." They fitted up the office as a box-stall and turned the poet loose in it and he proceeded to let himself loose in the following manner:

O, beauteous, sloppy, balmy spring,
You are a bright and welcome thing;
You bring us sunshine—check the mumps,
And make the people stir their stumps.
(To "stir their stumps" they must have boots,—
And Goughs have just the stock that suits.)
You clothe the world in garments new—
Your bright example Goughs pursue;
They deck their shop with brightest hues,



And give the public chance to choose
From 'mongst the biggest stock on earth—
In no department is their dearth—
From head to foot, from top to toe,
The great Goughs' lines of great goods go.
They've nobby tiles for brainy heads,
They've dandy boots for dainty treads;
They—they—they—

At this point a loud groaning was heard in the poet's lair, and a visit showed him tearing his hair, the very picture of despondent despair. He was in a state of collapse. He was sent to the hospital, and a sane man employed to make the simple statement that GOUGH BROS.' Superb Spring Stock of HATS and CAPS, BOOTS and SHOES, and CHOICE SPRING CLOTHING

CHANGE IN BUSINESS.

I beg to announce to my late customers that I have sold out my business to Messrs. Hilliard & Peplow, and I would bespeak for them the same support as has been accorded me.

C. N. BROWN.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

For some time past we have thought a strictly cash business in Flour, Feed and Provisions could be successfully carried on in Peterborough, and to test this question, we have purchased the above business from Mr. C. N. Brown who will still continue as manager in Flavelle's old stand, Simcoe street.

In order to be successful we intend to make it the interest of everyone to pay cash with order by selling at wholesale prices.

We will positively give no credit and cash customers will not have to keep up the losses made by others on the credit system.

We will keep a full supply of the very best quality of Flour, Feed, Chop, etc., and our customers need not fear that the quality of the goods will be lowered to make up for the reduction in prices. We are simply giving them the benefit of the margin necessary to cover losses and interest charges incurred on the credit system.

LAWRENCE BARRETT.

A NOBLE TRAGEDIAN OF HIGH CHARACTER AND IDEALS.

Sketch of the Career of a Man Who Began as a Supernumerary and Ended as a Triumphant Star—What an Indomitable Will Accomplished.

Lawrence Barrett who, next to Edwin Booth, was the most eminent tragedian on the American stage, died on the 20th March of heart failure. His real name was

LAWRENCE BARRETT.

Lawrence Brannigan, and he took the name Barrett when he went on the stage. Mr. Barrett was born in Paterson, N. J., on April 4, 1838. He made his first professional appearance as an actor in Detroit, where he had been working as a clerk in a dry goods store. This was in 1853. His first part was that of Murad in The French Spy. After a year's experience in minor parts he went traveling, and acted in Pittsburg, St. Louis, Chicago and other cities until 1856, when he got a permanent engagement at the Chambers street theatre in New York. The two following years he acted under the management of Mr. Benton, supporting Charlotte Cushman, Edwin Booth and other prominent actors. On the outbreak of the civil war Mr. Barrett accepted a captaincy in the Twenty-eighth Massachusetts infantry, and served for a time with distinction. During the war he speedily rose to prominence as a tragedian, his impersonations of Othello, Cassius, Richelieu, Hamlet and Shylock being thought worthy of comparison with those of the greatest actors. In 1867 he became manager of the California theatre in San Francisco, but in 1870 returned to New York, and acted with Mr. Booth at Booth's theatre. In 1871-2 he managed the New

BARRETT AS HAREBELL.

Varieties theatre in New Orleans. During 1873-4 he made successful tours of the United States as a star tragedian, and in 1875 he increased his fame by magnificent revivals of Julius Cæsar and Lear. Since then Mr. Barrett spent much time and money in producing new plays, and probably did more than any one man to encourage American dramatic literature. The most noteworthy drama by a native author which was produced by him was Francesca di Rimini, by Boker. Mr. Barrett played successfully in England in 1867, 1881, 1883 and 1884. During the last three seasons he and Edwin Booth have been playing together under Barrett's management. Mr. Barrett was the author of a life of Forrest and other works pertaining to the drama. Probably no actor in the world is more universally respected than he.

THE TRIBUTE OF THE PRESS.

New York Sun: Lawrence Barrett was self-made in a sense that can disregard material success, yet to which that same success adds something. He was an actor in grain; his art entered into and informed his being. He was a man without vices, agreeably human in his foibles, and a shining example of energy, tenacity of purpose and high aims. His was a character whose full story, if written, would profit men of other professions than his own to read.

New York Tribune: The laurel wreath of a well spent life, like that which was wont to be placed upon his brow as the heroic Cassius, has been twined, though invisibly, around the marble forehead, garnished with loving tributes from family, friends and the great world, whose honest servant and teacher he ever was until the end.

William Winter says of him: Lawrence Barrett was a man of high principle and perfect integrity. He never spoke a false word, nor knowingly harmed a human being, in all his life. Although sometimes he seemed to be harsh and imperious, he was at heart kind and humble. Strife with the world, and in past times uncertainty as to his position, caused in him the assumption of a stern and frigid manner, but beneath that haughty reserve there was a great longing for human affection and a sincere humility of spirit. He never nurtured hostility. He had no memory for injuries, but a kindness he never forgot. His good deeds were as numerous as his days—for no day rolled over his head without its act of benevolence in one direction or another.

Nym Crinkle, the able critic of the New York World, says:—Personally Mr. Barrett rose by sheer force of character above the level of his profession. His latter career exacts now a tribute of respect both from his private associates and his public admirers. He has left no small beer volumes recounting his cafe conversations and his practical jokes. The stories that will circulate in the wings and in the hotels will be accompanied by a recognition of the seriousness and exclusiveness of his life. What he did was nobly intended, and if he strayed over into literature, it was to do justice to a great contemporary or to help on the cause of an admirable art. Those of us who knew him, knew how much he endeavored and how much he suffered. And those of us who looked into that ashen face suddenly smitten will remember that no suffering and no disappointment ever for one moment dismayed that dauntless spirit. Fate had to summon her chief misfortune to conquer that will.

INDEFINITELY POSTPONED.

NEW YORK, April 7.—The Canadian delegates arrived here last night and confirmed the statement that President Harrison is anxious to be in Washington when the negotiations are in progress. As he is about to take an extended trip west it has been decided to postpone the matter for the present. When the administration at Washington is ready to meet the Canadian delegates and discuss the proposition Secretary Blaine will notify the Dominion Government and negotiations will be resumed.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The Post says: While the conferences will doubtless be characterized by more or less secrecy, their progress will be watched with interest. The whole question of the tariff will be thoroughly discussed and Sir John Macdonald has already given his promise that Canada will abolish the customs duty on coal, ores and lumber imported from the United States whenever Congress makes these articles free of duty. The Canadian Government some time ago authorized Sir Julius Pauncefote to state to the United States Government that it would be prepared to take off all import duty on log, whenever Canadian lumber is admitted into the United States market at a reduced rate.

A Mother's Joy.

OTTAWA, April 7.—The Minister of Justice has decided to pardon Goodwin and Brock, who, six years ago, were sentenced to life imprisonment for rape and of whose guilt there has always been considerable doubt. When informed of her son's release to-day Mrs. Brock went wild with joy.

Wouldn't Pay Duty on Bears.

NEW YORK, April 7.—Two Italians were arrested here on the steamer Italy to-day with three performing bears. The men refused to pay duty on the bears and decided they would return to their native land.

Wants Money for His Monkey.

LONDON, April 7.—A peculiar interustions question has arisen at a place called Hufeu on the Swiss-German frontier. An Italian who had traversed Switzerland with a performing monkey and a barrel organ crosses the line into Germany. He was arrested for the want of a passport. While he was in prison his monkey, not being properly confined, got loose and injured a child by biting The monkey was killed. The Italian was released, but now demands compensation for his monkey.

Several Stores Burned.

SCHOMBERG, April 7.—Flames broke out this morning in Kitchen's hardware store, which was destroyed together with two frame buildings, the property of A. Widdifield and Frank Whitlock. The loss is $7000 partly covered by insurance.

Dynamite in a Carpet Bag.

MONCTON, April 7.—Two St. John men named Storms and Corbitt have been arrested for carrying dynamite on Inter-Colonial passenger cars. They had fifteen pounds of the explosive in a carpet bag.

A Spring Medicine.

There are few who do not at this season feel the need of a spring medicine, and to all such we recommend Lane's Family Medicine as the best. This is a pleasant herb drink made by pouring boiling water on the dried roots and herbs. Druggists sell the packages at 50c. and $1. It is the best as well as the pleasantest cure for constipation and headache. dw

Ask Your Friends About It.

Your distressing cough can be cured. We know it, because Kemp's Balsam within the past few years has cured so many coughs and colds in this community. Its remarkable sale has been won entirely by its genuine merit. Ask some friend who has used it what he thinks of Kemp's Balsam. There is no medicine so pure, none so effective. Large bottles 50c. and $1 at all druggists. dw

A True Bill.

Wm. Gillespie, Wolfe Island, Ont., says: I had indigestion and stomach cough for three years. Was treated by best physicians and used numerous patent medicines without success, when two bottles of Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil cured me. I have great pleasure in recommending it. For sale by all druggists. dw

A Great Blessing.

Sirs—I have taken three bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters and find it a good medicine for constipation and poor appetite. I will continue taking it as it is a great blessing and I feel a great change in my health since taking it. Mrs. J. V. GREEN, 5 Sydenham street, Toronto, Ont. 2w15d

Sit Down and Think.

Sit down and think: 1st, that dyspepsia is caused by wrong action of the stomach; 2nd, that Burdock Blood Bitters is designed to correct and regulate the stomach; 3rd, that it always cures dyspepsia and costs less than a cent a dose. Can you afford to be dyspeptic? 2w15d

THE TRENT VALLEY CANAL

The Government to be Held to its Promise.

A Large Deputation to Visit Ottawa in Behalf of the Canal—Popular Opinion Strong on the Subject—A Large and Influential Meeting.

A meeting of the Trent Valley Canal Association was held in the town council chamber Wednesday afternoon. There was a large attendance, and all the speakers were unanimous in the opinion that the government was bound to the completion of the work and the people of this section should force it on them.

Mr. Jas. Stevenson, M.P., president, occupied the chair. Mr. John Carnegie, secretary, and a large number of delegates were present from different municipalities along the route of the canal. Among them were, from Victoria county, J. A. Barron, M.P., A. Stabbock, Warden, Col. Deacon, P. Fisher and Reeve Kylie, of Lindsay, and Capt. Bottum, Bobcaygeon; from Trenton, A. W. Hawley, Mayor, G. W. Ostrom, ex-M. P. P., D. E. Murphy, and Jas. H. Peck; Col. R. Z. Rogers, Grafton; J. B. Horrell, Mayor of Midland; T. S. Graham, Bradford; M. J. Frawley, Barrie; F. W. Fowide, Hastings; R. C. Strickland, J. P. Strickland, Lakefield; Frank Madill, M.P., Beaverton; John Burnham, M. P., Ashburnham. From the county of Peterborough — Warden F. Elmhirst; Geo. Stewart, Reeve of Otonabee; J. Molloy, Reeve of Douro; W. H. Casement, Reeve of Lakefield; A. R. Kidd, Reeve of Dummer, and County Treasurer Pearce. Peterborough Board of Trade—W. H. Moldrum, president, J. H. Burnham, secretary; George Hilliard, ex-M. P., D. W. Dumble, MacFarlane Wilson, H. Phelan, R. Fair, W. H. Law, F. H. Dobbin and R. Mulholland; Town Council — T. Cahill, Thos. Kelly, E. H. D. Hall, W. H. Moore, T. E. Bradburn, Town Solicitor Edwards, A. P. Ponsonby, Q.C., J. E. Belcher, C.E., Geo. Rumney, C.E., R. B. Rogers, C.E., J. M. Irwin, C.E., H. T. Strickland, John Green, E. Phelan, E. A. Peck, W. H. Robertson, T. Cavanagh, E. Green, C. Wynne, and others.

Printed copies of the Commissioners' report were distributed to the delegates.

A letter of regret was read from Mr. Fairbairn, M.P.

The CHAIRMAN opened the meeting and briefly outlined the object for which the meeting had been called. The secretary explained at fuller length the steps it was proposed to take, and pointing out the importance of the canal to the people of the Dominion, as well as of this section. He considered the report was very encouraging.

Col. DEACON said the county of Victoria was in earnest in this matter and was willing to join with the others in impressing the importance of this work upon the government.

Mr. BARRON, after a few preliminary remarks, stated that if the Government went honestly to work in the matter of the canal, it would upon this question, receive in the future, as it had done in the past, his hearty support, and that of several other members on his side of the House. In connection with this important project, he (Mr. Barron) had laid aside his party politics, and he thought it would be wise for the Government's supporters to also lay aside their party politics, and when they find the Government disposed to trifle with this matter, they should show their teeth (cheers) and forget their party loyalty and remember their loyalty only to the Trent Valley Canal scheme. They should reflect that Ontario has been made to pay through the nose for public works in the maritime and other provinces that were in no degree as much of a national character as our canal, and certainly this was good grounds for the supporters of the government from this province standing firm and insisting that justice should be done to Ontario, which furnishes by far the greater share of the public funds, and should therefore receive at least a fractional share of the expenditure of public money, especially when the construction of important public works was concerned. If the Government members, especially from this district, took such a stand, then the canal would be constructed. Mr. Barron thought that the Government would feel more inclined to go gently, and put under contract some cheaper portion of the work, and thus minimize the hostility that would almost certainly follow the proposition of a very large expenditure. Mr. Barron suggested that it was not wise to leave the matter entirely with the government. If a strong committee, representing the different sections through which the canal passed, should decide as to what section it would be advisable to build and to be unanimous in pressing this decision upon the government, the latter would have their hands very much strengthened. Mr. Barron said he would be happy in and out of parliament to do all for the promotion of this work it was in his power to do.

Printed copies of the Commissioners' report were distributed to the delegates.

Mr. D. R. MURPHY, of Trenton, expressed his faith in the canal and felt confident the government would go on with the work. The report was satisfactory, but the people of this district had still something to do, and a large and harmonious delegation should go to Ottawa to press it upon the government. He was pleased to see Mr. Barron take the stand he did and rise above politics for the good of the country. Mr. Murphy thought some scheme should be formulated here which a delegation ought to lay before the government, and ask a million dollars to be expended on the canal, which he proposed to divide among the sections as follows:—$250,000 for the western section, $375,000 for the central and $375,000 for the eastern. Mr. Murphy read a telegram he had received from Sir John Macdonald, similar to the one received here a couple of days before the election, stating that parliament would be asked for a grant next session.

Mr. DUMBLE said he had read the report of the Trent Valley Canal Commissioners, and did not feel so confident as the other gentlemen that it was decidedly favourable. He interpreted it by reading between the lines. The report was very carefully worded and non-committal. There was no mention of a through route whatever, no reference to an outlet in Georgian Bay, no comparison of through freight rates with trunk lines of railways or canals. The Commissioners evidently looked favorably upon it from a local point of view, and Mr. Dumble thought it would be wiser to accept the report in that light and at first urge the construction of the recommended sections as a local work; then, having our internal water connected, there would be no difficulty in getting the canal right through. By following it up as a local work they would disarm the opposition which was sure to be aroused from the great railway and canal corporations if it was pushed as a through route. As a local work the project would meet with better support and less opposition, though the end would be none the less sure of attainment.

Mr. CARNEGIE held that the canal ought to be pushed as a through route. Peterborough's interests, nor the interests of any municipality along the route, would never be served by having a local connection only. Let us, he said, keep the grip we have in this commissioners' report and demand the completion of the whole work recommended. Mr. Carnegie said that there was nothing unfavorable in the report to the completion of the whole route.

Mr. MURPHY said numerous new schemes, such for instance as the ship railway from Collingwood to Toronto, were being proposed because the Trent Valley Canal had been so slow in materializing that the public had come to the conclusion the people of this section were not pushing it and did not want it. Now was the important time to press our demands.

Mr. John Burnham, M.P., thought it better to ask the government to let the contracts for the work than to ask for the expenditure of a certain amount, as Mr. Murphy had proposed.

Mr. FRAWLEY, of Barrie, said he regretted the Mayor of his town was not here, but at a meeting held in that town a short time ago the opinion was unanimously in favor of the canal as a whole being completed. They did not care much which section was finished first, but earnestly wished for the continuance of work until it was completed.

Mr. BURNHAM introduced a resolution, which was carried, expressing the voice of the meeting that it was the general desire that the government should go on with the work to completion as soon as possible.

After considerable discussion concerning the wording of a resolution, the following was passed unanimously:

Moved by Col. Deacon, seconded by Mr. Moldrum, that the chairman and secretary request by circular that the Wardens of the counties of Simcoe, Ontario, Victoria, Peterborough, Prince Edward, York, Northumberland and Hastings, the Mayors and Reeves and Presidents of the Board of Trade of the several municipalities in the said counties, to form a deputation to proceed to Ottawa for the purpose of urging upon the Minister of Railways and Canals the expediency and necessity of placing under contract the portions of the proposed Trent Valley Canal as recommended by the report of the Commission, including the Balsam Lake section, and arrange for a day for the deputation to go to Ottawa.

The meeting then adjourned.

Legislative Matters.

Some Subjects of Local Interest—The Nicholls Hospital Bill Introduced.

In the House on Tuesday Mr. STRATTON asked the permission of the House to introduce a bill to incorporate the Nicholls Hospital Trust. He explained that he did not know earlier in the day that that was the last day for the introduction of private bills; he had been under the impression that there was one more day for their introduction.

Mr. MEREDITH raised an objection. The government had changed the whole policy of the House by refusing to allow two bills, one introduced by the member for Lincoln and another by the member for South Wentworth, to come before the House for discussion. If the government was going to take such a course he would protect himself by objecting to the introduction of Mr. Stratton's bill in this irregular way.

Mr. STRATTON explained that his bill had passed the Standing Orders Committee and gone through all the forms required before introduction to the House.

Mr. MOWAT said, in reply to the remarks of the leader of the Opposition, that members on both sides of the House would receive the same treatment from the Government.

HON. MR. GIBSON pointed out that there was in Mr. Stratton's bill nothing objectionable, and there was not therefore a similarity between it and the bill of the member for Lincoln.

Mr. Meredith withdrew his objection and Mr. Stratton's bill was read.

PUBLIC SCHOOL AMENDMENTS.

The Globe reports Mr. J. R. Stratton thus on the debate on the second reading of the bill to amend and consolidate the public school law:

Mr. Stratton made a thoughtful review of the education legislation and dealt with the subject in the broad spirit of a liberal educationist. He referred in a congratulatory way to the fact that after two elections had been fought about his department, yet so little fault was found with the bill the Minister of Education now brought down. He was glad so much was being done in the school system to give children a commercial education. He was pleased that a clause in the bill stopped dual representation on Municipal Councils and Boards of education. He had some sessions ago brought in a bill to effect this reform. He would have liked to see a provision that High School trustees be elected by the people. He hoped such a clause might yet be put into the bill. He supported the additional grant which it was proposed to give pioneer schools.

An Impending Danger.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—May I ask the use of your columns to call the attention of our municipal authorities to a well known public danger which has thrust itself upon me so urgently and so repeatedly that I can no longer keep silent?

I refer to the drainage of the town. The urgent need of this has been long felt and privately spoken of on all sides; and in public we have heard of schemes, deputations, and vague indications that some time in the future something will be done. And yet what is the sanitary condition of Peterborough to-day? It is well for the town's good name that the answer cannot come from unnumbered deposits of liquid and solid impurities festering with disease-germs, and now being quickened into destructive life and action by the warm rays of spring sunlight!

But if our people will persist in keeping these unpleasant things out of sight and out of mind, another answer will yet make itself heard. Yes it is making itself heard this week from beds of suffering and from open graves. Standing by one of these graves yesterday, a leading physician remarked: "The day is quickly coming when this town will suddenly awake to the fact that some people have terribly neglected their responsibilities." I do not intend this letter as any sweeping criticism of our civic legislators. Greatly do they deserve our gratitude for the enterprising steps which they have taken to increase the town's resources and population; but I would respectfully suggest that they have also an immediate duty in providing for the health of present citizens. It may be that they are now preparing to take steps in this matter. If so, cannot these steps be hastened? There are such words as too late. England found this out after taking carefully-considered steps towards the rescue of General Gordon.

I am, yours, etc.,
J. C. DAVIDSON.

Walking Interogation Points.

How the Census Takers are Progressing—Two Sides of the Picture.

The census enumerators are now well on in their work and they have some amusing as well as sad experiences. Under one arm each man carries a portifolio enclosing the schedules which have to be filled. In the other hand a neatly sharpened leadpencil and they are ready for work. They have been instructed to be most polite in their interrogations and they will probably fulfil these conditions. Commissioner Stapleton is kept busy looking after his subordinates.

There are a great number of French and Italian residents of the town, and in case they are unable to speak English an interpreter has to be employed. The other day one of the census fiends had trouble with an Italian woman. He could not make himself understood, and, after the woman got so angry she threatened to scald him with hot water and slammed the door in his face, he secured an interpreter and the atmosphere cleared at once. None of the enumerators have yet found it necessary to carry a club or a revolver.

There is one schedule in the list that will be the hardest to fill out of the lot. "Are any members of your family dead?" the enumerator will ask. It may be that a child, wife or husband has just gone over the great divide, and has been laid at rest under the green sod. In such cases the question will come with cutting force. Nor can he stop at that. He must make the wound ragged and rough. "How old was he?" "When did he die?" "What did he die of?" All these must be asked, and that one page will have a tear in every letter written on it.

And then again they have some funny experiences. We will enumerate a few:—

Census taker (to lady of house)—How many children?

Lady—Twelve.

C. T.—Are you married?

Lady—O course.

C. T.—Is your husband living?

Lady—No.

C. T.—How long dead?

Lady—About four years.

C. T.—What is your age?

Lady—Twenty six.

High School Legislation.

Hon. Mr. Ross' Explanation of the Bill to Consolidate the High School Laws.

The following is a summary of the remarks of Hon. G. W. Ross Minister of Education on his proposing the second reading of the bill to consolidate the High school laws. Hon. Mr. Ross on rising was received with cheers. He reminded the House that six years ago when he proposed some important amendments to the High School law he had expressed the hope that the act would then be so complete that further changes would not be required for five years at least. He had not been able quite to live up to that idea, but the changes made were not of a very grave nature. After the lapse of six years he came before the House again with amendments which it seemed to him important to have made. He then went rapidly over the principal changes proposed under the bill, giving brief explanations of their character and the main reasons for them. The first change is as to the mode of dissolving union boards, commonly called Boards of Education. Formerly dissolution could be carried only by majority vote at a meeting specially called to consider the question. This is regarded as a hardship and in future a two-thirds vote of either section of the board (High and Public School sections) will be sufficient to carry the dissolution. As the law is now, no High School can be established except on resolution of the County Council, concurred in by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council. It is said High Schools have been established in too many cases. He would not give that as his view, but it would be strange if High Schools had not been established in some cases in which there was not sufficient to maintain them in efficiency. The changes proposed in the curriculum of collegiate institutes were such as he had indicated the other day. Under the old act four specialists were required in a school; but it was intended to establish a department for the study of commercial subjects, so that hereafter five specialists would have to be engaged. It was intended in the case of High Schools to make better provision for the study of commercial subjects. Section 11 makes some change in the mode of appointing High School trustees. Where the High School district is composed of one municipality that municipality appoints three trustees; where of two, each appoints two, and where it is more than two each municipality appoints one. There was no special virtue in the number "six," the Minister said, to cause them to overlook the sound principle of representation by population. If a High School in a city or town, separate from the county, refuses to accept county pupils, there is no reason why the county should be represented on the Board. Where they do receive them, the County Council is to appoint three additional trustees. Under the old act the County Council and City Corporation could agree as to the amount to be given by the county to the city, and in that case the county might appoint three trustees. Under this bill the voluntary principle is preserved, and the possibility of confusion is avoided. Under the bill the right of representation on the High School Board now possessed by the Separate School Board will be extended to the Public School Board. The rule of the Municipal Act against municipal councillors being High School trustees is practically evaded in case of Boards of Education by municipal representatives being elected to the School Board. The bill bars municipal councillors from being members of the School Board. It has been found that persons are appointed to the High School Board, not for merit, but as a solatium for defeat in municipal elections. The bill prevents this by leaving the appointment with the outgoing instead of the incoming council. The process by which High School trustees can alienate property is now very cumbrous, and this bill reduces it to its lowest terms of simplicity as provided in the Public School law. The clauses relating to the assistance given by County Councils to High Schools are among the most important in the bill. The present law provides that the County Council shall contribute the equivalent of the Government grant. With the growth of Public Schools and the increase of county pupils this is found not to be a fair equivalent, so it is provided that the county shall pay according to the proportion the county pupils bear to all those attending the school, fees from county pupils being allowed for. The tendency of late in High Schools is to charge fees, the increase being from $16,000 twenty years ago to $70,000 last year, an average of $4 per pupil. The county council would have it in its power through these fees to make the county pupils bear up to half the amount to be expected from the county. The limit of fees allowed is $10. The bill provides for the fair distribution of the cost where debentures have to issue in a High School district composed of more than one municipality. Hitherto this has been done usually by the municipality in which the school was situated issuing the debentures and getting allowances from the others as best it could. The time during which school debentures may run is extended from 20 to 30 years, making them the same in this respect as municipal debentures. The law respecting examiners for entrance examinations is changed so as to provide that the board shall be composed of the High School inspector and the principals of the High Schools of the county. This, it is believed, will lead to the maintenance of a higher standard than at present, not only in the High Schools, but in the higher forms of the Public Schools. The expense would not be more, but perhaps would be less than the present system. In others matters the system of examination is to be improved. Mr. Meredith called attention to a section allowing appeal from the decision of the examiners to the Minister of Education with regard to reading and valuation of papers, all other complaints to be made to the Public School inspector and by him submitted to the chairman of the Public, High and Separate School Boards. Mr. Ross said there was little now in this section, and pointed out the value of a local adjudication of minor questions so that local circumstances could be given their due weight, the questions which could be better judged from the papers to be left to the Minister. Under the old law the High Schools opened 7th January and closed the first Friday in July, Good Friday and Easter Monday being the only break. It is proposed now to make the term begin 3rd January to the Thursday before Easter, recommencing the second Monday after Easter and end 30th June. This will make a welcome break in the long term which under present conditions is apt to become wearisome and to tend towards breaking down both pupils and teachers. It will also give a needed opportunity for the teachers' associations to meet at Easter, at a time when they can get the benefit of the presence of university professors and others who now are often absent on vacation in the summer when these meetings are held. As to the length of holidays, the increase would be very little at any time and in some years none at all. The present bill changes the academic year to make it coterminous with the High School curriculum. The course of study now begins 1st September and ends 1st July. In closing his address the Minister said there had been no wanton changes, and he hoped that before it passed the house the bill would be made so perfect that further amendments to the law would not be required for five years at least. (Loud cheers.)

Society Funeral.

The funeral of the late Frank Parker took place this afternoon. The Orangemen, True Blues and Prentice Boys of the town attended in a body, deceased being a member of the Prentice Boys' Association. The Y. M. C. A. band led the cortege, and played suitable funeral music. Some of the officers and members of the Y.M.C.A. also attended out of respect to their late fellow-member, who was popular among all his associates.

Each Had an Eye to Business.

An encounter which occurred at the corner of George and Simcoe streets to-day, between two prominent citizens, has been reported to the police. It seems that one of the combatants was undertaking to supply a subject for a first-class funeral, but the proposed victim threatened retaliation with legal prosecution, and though coats were off and orders had been sent in for an unlimited supply of court plaster and bandages, the affair was called off.

CASH HARDWARE STORE.

On and after 1st April we shall do business on a Cash Basis.

To cover the inevitable losses attendant upon a credit business, which accrue from amount of time spent in keeping accounts, collecting, bad debts, interest account, and an numerous other ways, larger margins of profit must be asked.

In these times cash buyers ask, expect, and are entitled to close prices. A careful consideration of the subject convinces us that the time has come for a cash business done on smaller profits.

The only customers who may possibly be put to inconvenience are those who have had long credit. In more ways than one it will be to their advantage to pay cash.

For convenience of our old customers who consider their accounts due when presented, we will call 30 days cash and render all accounts the first of each month, and we wish to say that will be happy to do business with them on these terms.

As the new departure is something of an experiment, which would be considered a close cash price will be made all through the stock. Not a few leaders only, but a general reduction in everything from the fourth flat to the cellar.

Our idea is to perform more than promised rather than promise more than can be fulfilled.

Our stock is large and varied, consisting of Builders', Contractors', Household, Mechanics', Painters', Shoemakers', Farm, Mill, Factory, Lumbermen's, Sporting, Threshers', Cabinet-makers', and other lines of Hardware.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

A PETITION TO THE QUEEN RESPECTING EDUCATION.

Mr. Campbell of Durham Wants Such Change in the B. N. A. Act as Will Place Education Completely Under the Jurisdiction of the Legislature.

TORONTO, April 10.—In the Ontario Legislature yesterday Mr. Campbell (East Durham) introduced this notice of motion: 1, that legislation respecting denominational schools in Upper Canada was adopted by the Parliament of the late Province of Canada at a time when Upper and Lower Canada were joined in a Legislative Union; 2, that this legislation was adopted by the Parliament of Canada against the wishes and opinion of a large majority of the representatives of Upper Canada in the Legislative Assembly; 3, that by the passage of the British North America Act, 1867, the Imperial Parliament imposed on certain Provincial Legislatures restrictions in dealing with education; 4, that in consequence of these restrictions the people of Ontario are not free to make such laws respecting education as they may from time to time deem necessary and prudent that such restrictions are contrary to the principles of proper responsible government as conferred on the Dominion of Canada and on the several provinces composing it and to the autonomous powers which were in other respects granted to the Provincial Legislatures; 6, that the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec are the only provinces of the Dominion of Canada which are so restricted; 7, that in opinion of this House the interests of the country require such change in the British North America Act, 1867, as will place education under the jurisdiction of the Ontario Legislature as completely as the various subjects assigned to provincial jurisdiction under section 91 of that act; 8, that a humble address be presented by this House to Her Most Gracious Majesty, embodying the foregoing resolutions, and praying that she will be pleased to have them brought to the notice of the Houses of Parliament with a view to securing the change desired.

The High Schools Bill, which occupied the attention of the Assembly all afternoon, contains one clause abolishing preparatory classes after July 1.

Struck by a Train.

ALLANDALE, April 9.—As the "Soo" express was coming into Allandale station a man named John Hazley, who has been working in Barrie for the past year, was noticed walking on the track. The whistle was blown several times and the bell rang, but without any effect as the man still kept the track. The engine was reversed, but too late and the man was struck on the right arm and shoulder and thrown off the track insensible. He may recover. He was the worse of liquor when struck and hardly knew what happened to him.

Trainmen Parbuiled.

MILWAUKEE, April 9.—The engine of a freight train, north bound, on the Wisconsin Central road, jumped the track near Vernon to-day and tipped over, pinioning Dan McMullen, engineer, B. A. Moore, fireman, and Peter Seipp, brakeman, beneath the wreck. All were terribly scalded. Moore is dead; the others will die.

Dropped Its Money in the Slot.

ORILLIA, April 9.—One day lately the 4-year-old child of Mr. Thomas Wood, carter, swallowed three cents. Mr. Wood, observing the distress of the child, succeeded in getting one of the coppers out of its throat. The other two had passed beyond recovering. They tore the throat severely and the child is still suffering distressingly from the mishap. It is hoped its life may be preserved, however.

A Bright Fruit Outlook.

GRIMSBY, April 9.—An examination of the condition of the fruit trees in this neighborhood this week shows that the prospects are bright for an almost unprecedented crop of various kinds of fruit this year. The continued cold weather has prevented the buds from coming out and nothing has, therefore, suffered from the frost or ice. The fruit growers are greatly encouraged at the outlook.

Brothers Seek Death Together.

LANCASTER, Pa., April 9.—Milton Kauffman died ten days ago under mysterious circumstances, and last night his brother Harry died from the same symptoms, which resembled arsenical poisoning. Their father to-day stated that Harry had confessed to him that he and his brother had taken poison with the object of dying together. The boy would give no explanation of the act.

LANCASTER, Pa., April 9.—Mrs. John Chamberlain, aged 80 years, and her sister, Miss Rachel Hood, 75 years old, living in the same house, died within seven minutes of each other yesterday.

The Newfoundland delegates will be allowed to state their case at the bar of the House of Commons. Their arguments will thus gain great publicity.

IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

THE IRISH LAND BILL CALLS FORTH WARM DISCUSSION.

Another Rising at Oporto—Military Called Out to Quell the Outbreak They Charge the Mob, Injuring Many.

OPORTO, April 9.—This city, recently the scene of a violent Republican outbreak, was to-day disturbed by Republican rioters. The trouble arose from the arrest during a fair of several thieves who were mistaken by the crowd for Republican agitators. A riot followed, which the military were summoned to quell. The soldiers were stoned by the rioters and were forced to charge upon the mob, injuring many. They finally quelled the disturbance, but extra precautions against future disorder are being taken by the authorities, who are cognizant of latent agitation.

Revolutionists Indicted for Murder.

BERNE, April 9.—The Court of Indictment has decided to try Castroni on the charge of murdering Councillor Rossi in the revolution in the canton of Ticino in September last and 21 other Ticinese who took part in the insurrection.

IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

The Land Bill up for Discussion—A Lively Debate.

LONDON, April 9.—In the House of Commons this evening in committee on the Irish land bill Henry Fowler (Lib.) moved that the salaries of land commissioners be placed in the estimates and thereby be controlled by Parliament. Mr. Balfour, Chief Secretary for Ireland, contended that the land commission ought, like the judges, to be paid out of the consolidated fund and not be subject to the control of majorities swayed by party influences. If the commission, he said, became the slaves of Government it would be impossible to command the respect of all classes in Ireland.

Mr. Healy held that the proposal was a vital one. The Government had rigged up a commission out of Tory nominees and attaches of the House of Lords, the permanent landlords' barracks. The only chance the tenants had rested in the control of the commission by Parliament.

Mr. Morley said the proposal of the government was a mischievous blow at the soundest principle of the Constitution and Parliament.

Fowler's motion was rejected, 180 to 142.

The House presented an air of liveliness this evening. There was a goodly muster of members and the galleries were well filled. All the Irish leaders except Parnell were in their places when the House was called to order, an unusual scene lately on Irish benches. Mr. Gladstone occupied his accustomed seat. Mr. Balfour was apparently happy in the thought of the House having at last reached the Irish land bill. The Irish members looked rather solemn, being affected by their knowledge of the difference of opinion existing in their ranks regarding the measure, Parnell and his followers favoring the rapid passage of the bill.

During the proceedings Tim Healy assailed Messrs. Nolan and Thomas W. Russell for supporting the Government against a qualifying amendment offered by Healy. The Speaker finally ended the matter by calling Healy to order for prolixity and Nolan for using unparliamentary language.

Parnell arrived at a late hour. He met Maurice Healy on entering the House, but did not speak to him.

NAMING THE MAN.

When He Stated Gladstone Had Granted Audience to American Dynamiters.

LONDON, April 9.—In connection with the charge made by Mr. Parnell at the meeting in Phœnix Park, Dublin, recently that Mr. Gladstone had received American dynamiters at his residence at Hawarden, The St. James Gazette publishes a story to the effect that Mr. Atkinson of Detroit, Mich., and Dr. O'Reilly visited England in 1889 as emissaries of Alexander Sullivan and as representatives of the Irish-American extremist party, and that while in England upon the occasion the two gentlemen named visited Mr. Gladstone. The St. James Gazette adds that, as Dr. O'Reilly's name was one of the most notorious names in connection with dynamiters, Mr. Gladstone could not have received him or Mr. Atkinson without knowing their true character.

Deplorable Prospects for McCarthyites

DUBLIN, April 9.—Yesterday at the first public meeting of the National Federation, which was presided over by Thomas Sexton, the announcement was made that the account standing in the name of John Dillon had been overdrawn to the amount of $15,000. Other urgent liabilities, amounting to $40,000, were also reported. A resolution was adopted to call upon Parnell and McCarthy to at once release from the fund a sum sufficient to meet present and future liabilities.

A Gory Hued Circular.

ROME, April 9.—The Socialists throughout Italy are organizing a demonstration for May 1. As a preparative for the demonstration they have issued a sinister manifesto printed on red paper, which is being secretly distributed among working men. This circular calls upon the Neapolitans to meet in Naples on May Day.

A Serious Riot at Hof

MUNICH, April 9.—News has reached this city of a serious riot at Hof, in Upper Franconia, on the Saale. Polack workmen were fiercely attacked by unemployed Saxons and Bavarians and a desperate struggle ensued. Twenty-five men were more or less seriously wounded. The police were unable to cope with the enraged workmen, and it was found necessary to call on the troops of the garrison for assistance in restoring order.

Female Police Justices.

ATCHISON, Kan., April 9.—At the recent election Mrs. Mary T. Burton, formerly editor of The Kansan and at present postmistress, was elected police judge at Jamestown. Mrs. Jessie McCormick was elected police judge at Burr Oak. Both are strong prohibitionists. Mrs. Burton is the widow of a prominent politician who died from the effects of strong drink.

The Cokedom Shooting.

MT. PLEASANT, Pa., April 9.—This afternoon Capt. Loar and 13 deputies were arrested on charges of murder for shooting the strikers at Frick's Coke works last week. They were taken to Scottdale, where they will give bail.

LANSDOWNE RESIGNS.

INDIA'S VICEROY TO RETURN TO ENGLAND.

A Three Hours' Battle With the Manipuris in Which the Latter Were Put to Flight and Several of Their Leaders Killed.

SIMLA, April 9.—Advices have been received here of a brilliant success for the British forces near Manipur. The Manipuris made a fierce attack upon the slender force of Goorkhas commanded by Lieut. Grant, which recently captured Fort Shabat, driving out an overwhelming force of Manipuris at the point of the bayonet, after playing and having in their ranks by a well-directed rifle fire. The Manipuris' attack was stubborn and determinedly made, and they pushed forward in spite of the destructive fire with which they were received. The enemy fought gallantly for every foot of ground, the attack lasting three hours, during which some superb fighting was witnessed on both sides. Finally the Manipuris were repulsed, the usurping Rajah and two prominent chiefs, all three of whom displayed remarkable bravery in leading the tribesmen to the attack, being killed during the onslaught. The loss of the tribesmen in addition to the killing of their leaders was very heavy.

Captain Peragrave has arrived at Fort Shabat with much-needed reinforcements. This, combined with Lieut. Grant's victory, has disheartened the Manipuris that they announce they are ready and willing to recognize the authority of the British officials directly the British troops re-enter Manipur. Additional bodies of troops are on the way to Manipur, where the massacre of Goorkhas and the subsequent fate of Chief Commissioner Quinton and his party will be thoroughly investigated.

CALCUTTA, April 9.—In the letter which was yesterday received from the chief of the Manipuris he says: The British attacked my palace, massacred my soldiers and their women and children; they threw living women and children into the flames of their burning homes and desecrated the temples. Therefore, I killed the whole party.

The letter from the Manipur leader also contains the following: "I deeply regret the sad event, which was wholly due to the rashness and indiscretion of the British officers."

A second letter here says the surviving British subjects, with the exception of the clerk and interpreter, were all raised before the demand made by the British Government for their release had been received.

Lord Lansdowne, in forwarding the two letters to the home government, says he fears it is true that the officers were killed, but that it is evident the story was concocted to shield the Manipur regent.

Lansdowne Resigns.

LONDON, April 9. The Chronicle says: "The Marquis of Lansdowne has intimated to the Government his desire to resign the viceroyalty of India on account of ill-health and for other reasons."

WAR PORTS CONTINUE.

Austria Concentrating Large Bodies of Troops on the Galician Frontier.

LONDON, April 9.—A Vienna despatch says that the Austrian Government, not being reassured by Russia's denial of unfriendly designs, has already concentrated large bodies of troops at Tarnopol and Brody to watch the Galician frontier. The 10th corps under Reinlander has been reinforced by a portion of the 1st corps and Prince Windisch-Graetz of the 11th is watching the frontier with a large force of cavalry. Count Hartenau, formerly Prince Alexander of Bulgaria, who is now an officer in the Austrian service, has, it is stated, been called into consultation at the war office with the view of utilizing his services in an important command.

The Austrian authorities have great confidence in the abilities of the Prince, which were proven in the war between Servia and Bulgaria. It is said that the Austrian Government has important secret information from Russia which is the basis of its warlike preparations.

The German Kaiser has laid out a personal program which apparently does not take into account an early declaration of hostilities. On the 22nd he is going to Wartburg for some black cock shooting, and after spending a few days there he will proceed on a visit to Count Goerz in Upper Hesse, to shoot on his estates. The Emperor will not, as has been expected, go thence to Alsace-Lorraine. If he pays a visit to those provinces at all this year it will not be before September. It is to be noted, however, that twice as many officials have been detailed as during the Kaiser's shooting trip to Silesia as messengers to carry any information from the Chancellor to the Kaiser during the absence of the latter from the capital, state secrets not being entrusted either to the post or telegraph.

Apparently by some understanding with Austria, Germany has suddenly begun to increase the forces near the Russian frontier and to hasten the completion of works intended to facilitate the transportation of troops. All indications go to show that a Russian invasion would be met by formidable armies of the allies, whether first directed against Austria or Germany or both countries at once. On the French side Germany has a series of fortresses that could not fail to delay invasion long enough to give ample time for the concentration of the army.

At 71 She Has Had Two New Jaws, New Hands, Arms, Etc.

GREENVILLE, Tenn., April 9.—A woman 71 years of age, who has twice expolisted or shed many of the bones from her body and had new and sound ones grow in their stead, has, through the mediumship of Dr. Bell of Parrottsville, set the East Tennessee Medical Society guessing as to how and why she does it. She is Miss Sarah Lees of Coney's Branch, Tenn., and there is abundant proof that she has shed and given as souvenirs to friends 100 pieces of bone. This expoliation, marvelous as it may seem, has included the shedding twice of Miss Lees' entire jaw bone; yea all the teeth but two in her new jaw are intact.

During the last 21 years she has twice shed in addition to the jaw the bones of the hand and forearm, arm and shoulder-blade, and this without leaving any deformity and without suppuration and with entire consciousness of the change on the aged patient's part. Her health is good.

Insane From Remorse.

WALKERTON, April 9.—An insane man, at present in jail, was one of the jury who convicted McLeod of arson, for which he was sentenced to 14 years in the penitentiary. It seems that something like remorse has taken possession of him and deprived him of reason.

The Letter Explained all.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 9.—Mrs. Florence Long committed suicide last evening by swallowing an ounce of morphine. When discovered she held in her hand a letter from her son in Texas, which stated that he was a prisoner in the state penitentiary. The letter expressed the deepest contrition for the act which brought about the writer's arrest and pleaded to the mother for her forgiveness.

The New Dominion.

SYDNEY, N.S.W., April 9.—At yesterday's session of the Federation Convention the delegates adopted the constitution bill and the sessions closed amid a scene of great enthusiasm.

SENSATIONAL TRIAL IN ITALY.

170 Members of a Murder Society in the Dock.

ROME, April 9.—The trial at Bari of 197 members of the Mala Vita Society excites intense interest. The accused occupy two galleries secured by strong iron bars. Most of the prisoners are masons and coopers and are young and well-dressed, but many are well-known criminals. Strong police and military forces preserve order in the precincts of the court. The examination of 207 witnesses for the prosecution and 425 for the defence commences Monday and will last a whole week. The majority will plead absolute ignorance of the society. A few admit they wounded certain persons by order for fear of death.

A Neapolitan, who said he had been asked to pay to keep his name from the list of informers, revealed the names of many members of the society, including the president.

A prisoner named Passaquindici denounced 70 members, and declared there were 230 more not yet arrested. He described the society as divided into Camorristi, Picciotti and Giovanotti, the lower grades being subject to the higher. This evidence and that of other informers caused great excitement in the court.

The prisoners shouted and gesticulated to their friends in the court, and the uproar that ensued amounted almost to a riot. Seven of the prisoners are tattooed with curious devices. Thirty counsel are employed for the defence.

ELOPERS CAUGHT.

The Woman Escapes Punishment, but the Man Must go to Jail.

BARRIE, April 9.—In January last a man named Richard James and Mrs. White of Linden Valley, near Lindsay, eloped, both leaving families behind. Detectives were placed on their track, but lost them. They went to Allandale and boarded a while and finally took up housekeeping in Tollendal, James taking the assumed name of Dr. Nichol, which was Mrs. White's maiden name. On Good Friday James was walking along the road when he was thunderstruck upon meeting one of his Linden Valley neighbors driving. The neighbor wrote home and on Friday two of the woman's brothers and Constable Sweeney proceeded to Tollendal and arrested the pair. They were brought before C. H. Ross, J.P. Mrs. White was let off to appear when called upon and James will hear the sentence of the court next Saturday.

DEATH OF A HERO.

Death of Colonel di Quaregna Announced from Sardini.

LONDON, April 8.—A letter from Sardini announces the death at an advanced age of Colonel di Quaregna, an Italian, who distinguished himself by a memorable act of heroism during the Baraguayian war in South America. The tyrant Lopez was trapped in the town of San Pedro di Robi, surrounded by a strong force of the allies, and defended only by about 300 men under the command of Colonel di Quaregna. The garrison was reduced to straits and the besieging force sent word that all could march out free provided they would surrender Lopez.

Di Quaregna thought of a stratagem which would probably mean death to himself but might result in saving the despot. He arranged that Lopez, disguised in his uniform, should ride out at the head of his men, as if in fulfilment of the agreement, while Di Quaregna, in the well-known attire of Lopez, whom he somewhat resembled in stature and appearance, should give himself up to the Brazilians. The scheme worked admirably, and Lopez departed at the head of his garrison. Upon arrival of the pseudo Lopez at headquarters the deception was quickly discovered. The enraged Brazilians with difficulty restrained themselves from killing Di Quaregna on the spot. Counsels, however, prevailed, and after being imprisoned until the end of the war he was permitted to go back to Italy.

Disastrous Fire in Toronto.

TORONTO, April 9.—A destructive fire occurred here to-night in Heintzman's piano warerooms, 117 King-street west. The entire fire brigade was on hand and in time subdued the flames, but not before great damage was done. Heintzman & Co. fix their loss at $30,000, Mr. Quinn, the shirt man, puts his at $16,000, while W. Goldstein's loss is not known, though large. The loss will probably total $50,000. The flames damaged the Rossin House adjoining, but only to a slight extent. This is the worst fire that has visited Toronto since the University went up in smoke.

Mutilating Dominion Bills.

OTTAWA, April 9.—The attention of the officers of the Finance Department has been called to a practice which is being indulged in by some smart individuals in Western Ontario. Dominion bills have been mutilated by scissoring out certain portions of one dollar bills and then, by carefully pasting the pieces together, an entirely new bill has been made. Thus, five single dollar bills have been converted into six bills and the Government cheated to the extent of $1 in six. The Assistent Receiver-General at Toronto has been requested to communicate with the different banks on the subject, and it is probable that prompt steps will be taken to stop the practice.

Wright the Wrong Man.

HAMILTON, April 9.—Alfred Wright, who was arrested here on the charge of impersonating a voter named Hands, a Toronto policeman, at the last Dominion elections in Haldimand, was taken to Cayuga by Constable Farrell. He had to pay his own expenses at the hotel. Wright was tried before two magistrates at Cayuga yesterday, when the magistrate discharged Wright, as there was no evidence against him. He says that he was not near Cayuga on election day. Wright is going to see if he can't obtain redress.

Fever on Shipboard.

GLASGOW, April 9.—The Anchor line steamship Circassia, which left New York March 18 and reached Greenock yesterday with fever on board, is detained at quarantine. The sickness reported is even more severe than at first supposed. The second engineer died from the fever during the voyage and seven others of the Circassia's crew are suffering from the same malady. The nature of the fever is not stated.

Suicide at Galt.

GALT, April 9.—Albert Chatwin, a married man, aged 45 years, committed suicide here to-day by taking a dose of "Rough on Rats." Deceased was an Englishman and had been drinking to excess lately.

Still a Tie.

ROCHESTER, April 9.—To-night's scores in the bicycle race: Clark, 360 miles 6 laps; Reading, 360 miles 6 laps; Ashinger 325, Appel 323, Desmond 301 miles.

The First Engine Through the Tunnel.

SARNIA, April 9.—The first locomotive to pass through the G.T.R. tunnel under the St. Clair River here did so this evening, making the run through the tunnel from the Canadian to the United States side and then returning, having a flat car attached to it. The run back from the United States side was at the rate of 15 miles an hour. The track was in first-class shape and everything worked smoothly.

The Man Who Swallowed a Pin.

BROOKLYN, April 9.—Peter McCabe has swallowed himself into fame. The pin which he took into his system on Sunday has been pushed out of harm's way for the present by the probing which was inserted into his œsophagus four times, and the pin was pushed down. McCabe took his first meal on Monday night, and the bill of fare was as long as a Chinese prayer.

What it Costs.

Must be carefully considered by the great majority of people, in buying even necessities of life. Hood's Sarsaparilla commands itself with special force to the great middle classes because it combines positive economy with great medicinal power. It is the only medicine of which can truly be said, "100 doses One Dollar," and a bottle taken according to directions will average to last a month.

AT

TURNBULL'S.

The styles this season are such a decided change, and unusually pretty, we want all to see them to the best advantage, and naturally to leave the impression that for decidedly new and cheap goods, Turnbull's is the right place to go for a large selection, since our store has been thoroughly renovated.

While passing through the store, even when not intending to buy, you are compelled to stop and price some of the articles on display.

Pretty print blouses from 50c. each, up to those of figured wool delaine at $1.75. Neat patterns in light prints, narrow, but warranted to wash, at 5c. a yard. Novelties in pearl bead frillings, at 5c. a frill. White embroidered apron lawns at 20c. a yard. Cream and white curtain nets, taped edge, at from 15 to 25c. a yard.

Fine Navy Serges for boys' wear, at 35 40 and 50c. a yard. Handsome patterns in Tweed at 50c. a yard. Nice Cream Damask Table Linen at 30c. a yard. Black and Red Brocade Flannelette just suitable for baby, at 15c. a yard. You pass the Dress Goods counter, but have to ask what that shimmering, shining material is that is hard to describe. Everybody falls in love with it, and no wonder. Manufacturers call it Glorosia.

On reaching the archway leading into the Simcoe street store, you are struck with amazement, and almost think you have got into midsummer, and begin to look around for the bumble bees and humming birds among the flowers. Some of the leading colors are the new Shades in Heliotrope and Lavender, French Gray, Buttercups and Black Combined. Most of the Bonnets are Small, Toque Shapes, flat, and trimmed at the back with pretty little Forget-Me-Not Flowers, Jewelled Ribbon and Lace to match. There is something very pretty for children in Leghorn Hats, trimmed with ruchings of silk and lace.

We have just received a choice lot of very pretty shapes in Hats and Bonnets; also the latest in Flowers from Glasgow. These styles will not be shown elsewhere.

THE STATE OF PARTIES.

THERE will be, of course, difference of opinion as to the state of parties in the Dominion parliament. However, a dispassionate reckoning of the party fealty of the representative forces of the Dominion will show the result as given below. This is assuming that Algoma, for whose representative the election does not take place till May 18th, will go Conservative.

	Gov.	Opp.
Ontario	48	44
Quebec	27	38
Nova Scotia	16	5
New Brunswick	13	3
P. E. Island	2	4
Manitoba	4	1
Northwest	4	0
British Columbia	6	0
	120	95

This gives the Government a majority of 25, including several independents. It is to be noticed that in the chief provinces of the Dominion, Ontario and Quebec, which contain at least five-sixths of the wealth and population of the Dominion, there is a clear majority against the Government—a clear case of the tail wagging the dog. The undoubtedly venal support of the outlying fringe of provinces constitutes the frail ligament that connects the Conservative party to the Treasury benches. Add to the consideration of the situation the fact that many of the supporters of the Government on their general administrative policy, are pledged to support propositions for enlarged trade relations with the United States; add also the fact that, on the opening of Parliament, there are several ugly political sores to be dressed by whilom bosom friends and open foes of the Government, and it will be seen that the place of the cabinet ministers is not exactly a bed of roses.

AN exchange points out that the amount of sugar consumed annually in Canada is said to be, in round numbers, 220,000,000 and adds that it is plain, therfore, that if Canada had free trade with the United States in sugar the Government would lose a revenue of about $2,850,000 per annum, but the people of Canada would save $4,400,000 As the United States still has a duty of half a cent per pound upon refined sugars, it is fair to assume that without that protection granulated sugars would sell half a cent per pound lower, so that if Canada had free trade with the world is sugars the price here to-day would be four cents per pound, and on the whole amount consumed the people would be $5,500,000 in pocket, or, in other words, would be able to contribute the $2,850,000 to the revenue and would save over and above $2,648,000.

AS a result of the abolition of the duty on sugar, that article, which was a few days ago selling at 7½ cents, is now being retailed in the United States at five cents per pound. Yet says the Ottawa Free Press some foolish Tory organs pretend that the price of of sugar in Canada is not increased by the duty levied upon it by the Foster tariff. Abolish the duty and see how quickly the price will drop. The American papers say that owing to the abolition of the sugar tax the poorest families in the United States "can now enjoy the luxury of dipping their spoons in bowls of clear white sugar." But, thanks to the Tory government and the combines the Canadian poor cannot enjoy any such luxury. A dollar will buy twenty pounds of granulated sugar in Boston, but in Canada a dollar will pay for thirteen or fourteen pounds.

The Wolf Turned Shepherd.

It is fabled, that once upon a time a wolf finding his tithes few and scarce, determined to turn shepherd; and for this end provided himself with hat, cloak, crook, and the pastoral pipe. To call the flocks, he was obliged to imitate the shepherd's voice. In doing so his true character was discovered, and he lost his life. Diamond Dyes for dyeing guarantees the protection of all fabrics, and give the consumers all that can be desired in beauty, brilliancy, fastness and durability of colors. Common, crude dyes, outwardly are dressed to imitate the genuine Diamond Dyes, but their effect when used causes consternation and ruin. As the wolf's voice betrayed his true character, so will the use of inferior dyes no matter how clothed, reveal the disastrous composition.

RACING IN CALIFORNIA.

What a Well Known Authority Has to Say on the Subject.

CHICAGO, April 8.—David Tenny Pulsifer is in the city. He has been putting in about a month in California.

"What about the California horses?"

"Of course I saw a great many. Racine is now a very grand young horse and has grown and improved. If appearances go for anything he will add to his reputation this year. I looked over Baldwin's horses at Santa Anita. He has a very superior lot of 2-year-olds about ready for shipment east, the best probably that he has had for several seasons past.

"I have never seen anything to equal Haggin's Rancho del Paso breeding establishment. He has two, and this one is an estate of something like 47,000 acres. The other is a modest farm of a trifle over 600,000 acres. At Rancho del Paso I saw over 100 thoroughbred yearlings that are to be sold in New York next June, and a better-looking lot were never inspected. It is no use to enter into particulars, for the stallions and brood mares at this place have often been described. I paid a visit to my old friend Salvator. He has put on flesh since retirement from the turf and is now one of the most magnificent looking horses imaginable."

Asked about Tenny, Mr. Pulsifer said that he had received a letter from his trainer within a few days saying that the horse was in good health, but beyond that nothing much could be said. "At Morris Park the track had been unfit for strong work as yet and Tenny has had none. Reports about fast galloping there are all nonsense. Tenny and my other horses have had plenty of shed and walking exercise and will be ready for the races in due time. That is all I can say for them now."

FITZSIMMONS ARRAIGNED.

The Murderer Firm and Pleasant, While His Wife Was Haggard and Worn.

PITTSBURG, April 7.—That accomplished Canadian crook and desperado, Fred C. Fitzsimmons, was out of jail to-day long enough to hear Detective Murphy tell Coroner McDowell's jury how Fitzsimmons had murdered Detective Gilkinson a fortnight ago.

Fitzsimmons' face was pale, but he met the gaze of the crowd unflinchingly. He was dressed in a neat black suit, sack coat, wore a stand-up collar, black tie and black Derby hat wound with a band of crape, an emblem of mourning for his father, who recently died. His wife presented a strange contrast as she limped along on a heavy cane. She wore a dress of very plain faded black, a cheap black sailor hat, with scanty black trimmings, and a faded shawl of uncertain hue. As they were seated Fitzsimmons looked the dapper gentleman, with his well-combed hair slightly tinged with grey, and his closely cropped brown mustache. He is unmistakably intelligent, and after a few moments assumed a pleasant cast of countenance and frequently indulged in faint smiles. His wife was a weary, worn and faded old woman after she had calmed herself, and often leaned her head against the wall with her hands over her eyes as if to shut out the scene and fortify herself against dark misgivings. Near Fitzsimmons stood a neatly-dressed young man with fine face and jet-black mustache, who wore his hair pompadour. This proved to be the prisoner's brother, who had just arrived from Brockville, Canada. He remained during the hearing, and left with his identity known to only three or four persons in the room.

When Fitzsimmons stood up to hear the verdict it was plain that it required a great effort for him to maintain his composure. While the commitments were being made out he was the pleasantest person in the party of five prisoners, and chatted freely.

People Wonder

WHEN they find how rapidly health is restored by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The reason is that this preparation contains only the purest and most powerful alteratives and tonics. To thousands yearly it proves a veritable elixir of life.

Mrs. Jos. Lake, Brockway Centre, Mich., writes: "Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony. I was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an in my condition, my appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life, and I cannot thank you too much."

"We, the undersigned, citizens of Brockway Centre, Mich., hereby certify that the above statement, made by Mrs. Lake, is true in every particular and entitled to full credence."—O. P. Chamberlain, G. W. Waring, C. A. Wells, Druggist.

"My brother, in England, was, for a long time, unable to attend to his occupation, by reason of sores on his foot. I sent him Ayer's Almanac and the testimonials it contained induced him to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using it a little while, he was cured, and is now a well man, working in a sugar mill at Brisbane, Queensland, Australia."—A. Attewell, Sharbot Lake, Ontario.

Goughs' Grandest Go!

UNPARALLELED STROKE OF ENTERPRISE:—THEY CHARTER A SPECIAL SPRING POET.

During the past few months, GOUGH BROS. have been making Immense Improvements in their Shops, till now—in their Spring attire—they have the Nobbiest, Brightest, Neatest Establishment in the District.

Having laid in a Superb and Unrivalled Stock, they cast about for some special means to make it known to the public, and at enormous expense they captured a Genuine Genius in the Poetical line, whom they christened "Gough Bros. Special Spring Poet." They fitted up the office as a box-stall and turned the poet loose in it and he proceeded to let himself loose in the following manner:

O, beauteous, sloppy, balmy spring,
You are a bright and welcome thing;
You bring us sunshine—check the mumps,
And make the people stir their stumps.
(To "stir their stumps" they must have boots,—
And Goughs have just the stock that suits.)
You clothe the world in garments new—
Your bright example Goughs pursue;
They deck their shop with brightest hues,

And give the public chance to choose
From 'mongst the biggest stock on earth—
In no department is their dearth—
From head to foot, from top to toe,
The great Goughs' lines of great goods go.
They've nobby tiles for brainy heads,
They've dandy boots for dainty treads;
They—they—they—

At this point a loud groaning was heard in the poet's lair, and a visit showed him tearing his hair, the very picture of despondent despair. He was in a state of collapse. He was sent to the hospital, and a sane man employed to make the simple statement that GOUGH BROS.' Superb Spring Stock of HATS and CAPS, BOOTS and SHOES, and CHOICE SPRING CLOTHING

I beg to announce to my late customers that I have sold out my business to Messrs. Hilliard & Peplow, and I would bespeak for them the same support as has been accorded me.

C. N. BROWN.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

For some time past we have thought a strictly cash business in Flour, Feed and Provisions could be successfully carried on in Peterborough, and to test this question, we have purchased the above business from Mr. C. N. Brown who will still continue as manager in Flavelle's old stand, Simcoe street.

In order to be successful we intend to make it the interest of everyone to pay cash with order by selling at wholesale prices.

We will positively give no credit and cash customers will not have to keep up the losses made by others on the credit system.

We will keep a full supply of the very best quality of Flour, Feed, Chop, etc., and our customers need not fear that the quality of the goods will be lowered to make up for the reduction in prices. We are simply giving them the benefit of the margin necessary to cover losses and interest charges incurred on the credit system.

Goods delivered to any part of the town or Ashburnham.

THE REPRIEVE.

For 20 years Hamilton Duke was my client. In fact, it was to him that I owed not only a competent fortune but my position in society.

But for this I should never have undertaken his defence in this last case, my best feelings were so against him—not that I was an ingrate, but because I believed that he had murdered his wife.

Many things compelled my drawing such a conclusion.

He was well-bred, refined and cultured, while she was of common stock, the personification of ignorance and low breeding. For ten years he was all of chivalry and tenderness to her that a lofty nature could be, while she was always sullen, morose, dissatisfied.

It was claimed by their closest friends that he loved her the first few years of their united life, though I never believed this—it was such a manifest impossibility.

Anyway, he hated her cordially when her life came to its tragic close, and so he had for a considerable period prior to that event.

Being entirely in his confidence, he often came to my office, pallid and trembling, to tell me of some new vulgar violence of hers which had driven him nearly to the last extremity of desperation.

And so, one morning, when Mrs. Duke was found dead with an ugly stab through her heart, her husband standing over her with a reeking knife in hand, I naturally believed that he had killed her.

Later on, when I saw him, my suspicions seemed confirmed.

He was in a state of wild excitement when I entered the sheriff's office, in answer to his summons.

Until that moment, no one had succeeded in getting a word out of him about the murder.

"What does it all mean?" I asked, when we were alone.

"I don't know," he gasped. "I don't know whether it was I who killed her or not. But I don't want to die. I must not be allowed to die. You must defend me—you must save me."

Though I pitied him, I believed him guilty; and though I defended him, I felt that he merited death.

But my efforts were vain ones. The evidence against him was too conclusive.

An unusual noise in Mrs. Duke's room had attracted the butler's attention, the morning of the murder. On entering, he saw Mr. Duke rising up, knife in hand, from the prostrate body of his wife, as if he had just stabbed her.

That, and the fact that the Dukes had indulged in many bitter quarrels of late, was enough to win a disastrous verdict from any jury.

Mr. Duke was found guilty and sentenced to death. He was to be hanged in 45 days.

Reopening a case at that time was not the easy thing it is now, and I found it impossible to get him a new trial.

On and on those grace days swept, seemingly with lightning swiftness, until the time set for the execution was but 36 hours off.

I was desperate, Duke was frantic.

"You must go to the Governor," he cried at length. "You must get a pardon for me."

"Impossible," I answered. "There isn't enough time."

"Yes, there is. This is Wednesday morning, and I'm not to hang until Friday noon. The train goes in an hour. If you leave here at once you can make the trip and get back here in time."

"But on what pretext? Simply seeing the Governor will do no good. I——"

"You must think of a pretext on the way. Don't stay here and talk. You are wasting time and my life must be saved. Do go at once."

He was in such a wrought-up state that there was no use arguing with him, and so I went away, walking about the streets in sheer bewilderment.

By blind chance I went to the railway station, arriving just as the train rolled in. Dejected and reckless, scarcely knowing what I was about, I clambered on board at the last moment, and went whirling away toward the Governor's, bent on a wild, mad purpose, which I well knew could only prove entirely fruitless.

When the station next to my destination was reached, a woman came on board who instantly pounced on me and kissed me.

It was my niece.

"What under the sun is the matter with you?" she demanded.

When I told her of poor Duke's perdicament, her face became very grave, but the moment she discovered my business with the Governor, it brightened.

"How very fortunate!" she exclaimed, clapping her hands gleefully.

"What?" I demanded, nearly stupified with amazement.

"Leave it all to me," she said, "and I will save your friend. No I'm not crazy. Listen: Last night the governor proposed to me. Of course I love him dearly, but I didn't want to be too cheaply won, and so I refused to give him an answer. He dines with us to-night. After dinner, when his stomach is full and his heart cosy to get at, I'll promise to marry him on the condition that he pardons poor old Duke."

Then and there, on a public train though we were, I both hugged and kissed her.

She was as good as her word, and six hours later I was on board another train, homeward bound, and in my pocket was a reprieve for Duke—the case against him being so strong that the governor deemed a full pardon impolitic then.

The reprieve granted him another three months, though, and by that time popular sentiment was likely to cool down sufficiently to made a pardon feasible.

On the way home, I was fairly happy, and tried to picture to myself Duke's face when he knew he was safe.

This made me so comfortable that I fell asleep.

Nothing disturbed my slumbers until the trainman called out the name of the junction where I had to change cars for the branch road which ran through my town.

And there, to my consternation, I found myself unable to move. Mentally I was awake. Physically I was asleep. I was fully conscious of the stir and bustle made by those who were getting on and off the train; but I could not move a muscle.

With all my might I endeavored to throw off the trance-like spell which held me, but all to no purpose. The train moved on and took me with it.

Cold perspiration oozed out through every pore, and I think I would have gone mad, then and there, had not utter unconsciousness mercifully come to my rescue.

It was more than an hour before I regained possession of my senses.

By that time it was impossible to get back to the junction in time to catch the homebound train on the branch line.

Springing up, the moment I was conscious, I explained things to the conductor, offering him any price he chose to demand if he would run his train back to the junction and take me home.

That was out of the question. He could only do such a thing on the order of the general superintendent, and that personage could not be reached, because a storm, the day before, had blown so many wires down that all telegraphic communication was cut off.

All I could do, then, was to remain on board the train seven hours more, when by tramping 12 or 15 miles over a craggy, road-less mountain, I could probably get home by noon.

Though the "probably" discouraged me, I thanked the conductor for his advice, shut my teeth on my misery and tried to make the best of it.

That was the longest night of my life. It seemed to me that it would never end.

Day was just breaking when we reached the station where I was to leave the train and begin my foot journey over the mountain.

Hard as was the ascent of that trackless, precipitous mountain-side, it was a vast improvement on the train. I was in motion, myself, now—doing something, whether it would avail me anything or not.

Soon the sun was up. Altogether too soon it had accomplished half its journey from horizon to zenith.

It was then that I reached the mountain-top with a good seven miles of rough walking still before me.

Duke was to be hanged at noon, unless I was on time.

At ten o'clock I was but two miles away from him, and with all of the horrors of my journey presumably behind me, I smiled self-gratulatively at the thought of how easy the rest would be, and of how I would disappoint those who were even then gathering to see my client hanged.

A vine caught my foot, and threw me. Falling, I sprained my ankle, and the pain was so intense that I had to exert every atom of my will to keep me from going into a dead faint.

Breaking a forked stick from a sapling, presently, I extemporized it into a crutch, and hobbled on, as best I could.

At the end of an hour I had made but half a mile, and was so exhausted that I knew another fifteen minutes would bring my locomotive powers to a full stop.

Poor old Duke must die, after all. There was no help for it, and with an outcry of utter despair, I settled on the ground in a heap.

The mental anguish I suffered in the half hour which followed was enough to unseat a man's reason.

Watch in hand, I counted the fleeting seconds.

In 25 minutes more, my client would hang, for want of the reprieve in my pocket.

And then, joyful sound, I heard approaching feet!

A moment later, a negro appeared. He was old, dirty and stupid—entirely unable to understand me until I mentioned money. When I said: "I will give you $100 if you get this paper in the hands of the sheriff before twelve o'clock," with a yell like a fiend he snatched the reprieve out of my hand and darted away.

Again I sought my watch.

My messenger had 22 minutes in which to cover a mile and a half, a portion of his route being through thick underbrush. It was doubtful if he would make it.

The hour which passed before he returned, with help, seemed a hundred years to me.

"I done got dar," he gasped, nearly out of breath, "an' de gemman am all safe."

Probably it was unmanly, but I wept for joy.

They tried to make a hero of me for that exploit, but I am too commonplace and stolid for that. I had simply done my duty. I had saved my client. That was all.

However, I was rewarded more gloriously yet.

Before Duke's reprieve expired, his butler was taken seriously ill. Just before he died, he made a startling confession.

It was he who killed Mrs. Duke.

She caught him in the act of stealing her jewels and he killed her to escape punishment. Returning a moment later, to make sure that his victim was dead, he saw Duke beside the dead woman with the bloody knife, and so made capital out of this circumstance by swearing away his employer's life to save his own.

A Plumber's Luck.

Yesterday Mr. J. E. Noble was sent for from an hotel to investigate the cause of the obstruction of a waterworks discharge pipe. His investigation discovered a pocket book firmly impacted in the pipe and containing the sum of $200. Inquiry revealed the fact that the owner was a commercial traveller, who liberally rewarded the finder. The tales of the immense wealth of the typical plumber have generally been regarded as mythical, but when a plumber is able to collar $200 for a few moments work, they may well be believed.

An Absconded Hatter's

stock for sale, consisting of Cocksey's, Christy's and Stanley's stiff hats, and a large quantity of American and English soft hats, made to the order of S. The styles are the very latest English and American blocks fresh from the factories, and consist largely of fine goods. We are clearing the lot at prices which can not be maintained by us after this stock is sold out or touched by other dealers who have purchased their stock in the regular way. Shorthand Proficiency.

Master Ellis Glover, of Ashburnham, son of Mr. Peter Glover, about thirteen years of age, promises to be a lightning shorthand writer. He has taken a course at the Peterborough Business College (Rose & Blanchard) and has developed a speed of 140 words per minute, and his transcribing ability is on a par with his shorthanding ability. Master Glover was employed as amanuensis at the recent sitting of the Game Commission and gave such good satisfaction that the commissioners wished him to accompany them to their future sittings, but his parents thought him too young to leave home at present. This speaks well for Master Glover's aptness and also for the excellent character of the instruction imparted at this excellent business college.

At the Opera House.

A highly satisfied crowd of people left the opera house last night, bearing in their arms an assortment of household goods, comprising table ware, hams, sacks of flour, etc., which Zora Semon, faithful to his advertisement, had distributed among the hundred lucky ticket holders. The opera house was crowded on the opening night of Zora Semon's engagement, showing that he still a favorite in Peterborough, and the public rely on his promises to give them a good entertainment. They were not disappointed, either, for Zora Semon has a better company than ever before. The programme had lots of variety, and consisted of necromancy, juggling, singing, dancing, etc., and last of all the drawing for the prize. Mrs. Sweney drew the first prize, a dinner set, and a lad named F. Brown the chamber set. To-night a gold watch will be the principal prize. Saturday afternoon and evening Zora Semon will exhibit his famous marionettes.

Organ Recital.

In spite of counter attractions, there was a good attendance at the organ recital given by Dr. Davies in St. John's church on Thursday evening. It is unnecessary to say that in Peterborough an organ recital attracts the best of musicians and the programme presented was one suited to the appreciation of such an audience, both in the character of the selections and the splendid manner of their performance. The fine programme given below was faithfully carried out. The most meritorious selection performed in a manner worthy of its merit, was Mendelssohn's Sonata in C. Another gem was the overture, "Cosi Fan Tutte," by Mozart. Sudermann's Swedish Wedding March, in its sprightly ever-freshness, was a pleasing lead up to the magnificent finale of Panopka's Marcia Pompeso. This is the programme:

Sonata in C.....Mendelssohn
Nocturne.....Kohler
Overture, "Cosi fan Tutte."....Mozart
Andante Sercioso.....Wely
Choruses from "Judas".....Handel
{ "O Father whose Almighty Power."
{ "We worship God alone."
Hymn a St. Cecile.....Gounod
Swedish Wedding Music.....Sodermann
Marcia Pompeso.....Panopka

The Albo-Carbon Light.

This new system of gas lighting has just been introduced into Peterborough by Mr. J. E. Noble, plumber and gas fitter, who is sole agent for Peterborough. The crystal carbon gas burner, as it is called, combines superior lighting qualities with cheapness. It is said to produce the safest, steadiest and most brilliant light yet produced, and a nearer approach to sunlight than any other form of illumination. There is also an immense saving in gas by this process. From comparative statistics carefully compiled it is shown indisputably that the bill for gas when used in connection with this system is less than one half of what it is in the old form. These are important points to be considered in the matter of lighting, and will doubtless at once make the albo-carbon light popular everywhere. The cluster burners are not expensive, and in a few weeks more than save their cost. Mr. Peter Hamilton was the first to use the new invention in Peterborough, and others who have it in their offices and places of business are Mayor Stevenson, Dennistoun & Stevenson, M. R. Kidd, R. J. Kidd, T. Kelly, Foresters Hall, I. O. O. F. hall, the S. A. barracks (basement), and one is being put in the Prentice Boy's hall. All these lights have given satisfaction and fresh orders are coming in every day to Mr. Noble, who is sole agent for Peterborough. Mr. Noble keeps a dark room at his shop, 237 George street south, for the purpose of showing the light to patrons. Mr. Noble will be happy to exhibit the light and quote lowest prices to all who enquire.

A Cure for Diphtheria.

A friend sends the following to the EXAMINER for publication, with the request that other local papers will copy it.

R. Munch, proprietor of a drug establishment in Leipsic, Saxony, publishes in the Pharmacist, a medical paper, a remedy for diphtheria which has had surprising success. He urgently presses all physicians to try it for the benefit of all patients suffering from the disease, and also requests the press to publish it.

He says: My little daughter, 7 years of age, has had diphtheria twice within some weeks with severe fever, about 106 degrees Fahrenheit. We gave with success rectified oil of turpentine (oleum terebioth is rectificatum). Dose one teaspoonful in the morning and the same at evening.

Adults should take one tablespoonful. Afterward drink a little lukewarm milk to sally the burning in the throat.

For children the second dose can be mixed with milk which will render it easier to take.

The result is really marvelous. The inflammation of the abnormal diphtheritic spots in the throat grows lighter at the edges; and in this way they gradually shrink, until in twenty-four hours they disappear entirely, leaving no sign.

To quiet the inflamed tonsils the throat was gargled at first every two hours and then every three hours with the following gargle: One ounce chlorate of potash to forty ounces of distilled water.

This remedy has been used with perfect satisfaction both by adults and children, not one case ended fatally. The Milwaukee Volksblatt quoted this remedy from the German paper, and afterward received a letter from a subscriber in Mitchell county, Iowa, saying that the child in the writer's family was attacked by diphtheria, treated by local physicians and died; then four members of the same family were similarly attacked, treated by this remedy, and, I am happy to tell you, all recovered."

The Suffering Spring Hill Women and Children.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I wrote one or two letters to the Review in the interests of the Spring Hill disaster sufferers, and thought I should easily be able to get $100 for the fund, to supplement the $100 sent them by the town. As yet I have only $32. Perhaps some of your readers, who do not see the Review might like to help make up the $18. I shall forward all I have on the 23d of this month. be it much or little, and close the list, so that I should be glad if intending contributors would send me the money as soon as possible. I may explain that this fund is being invested for the benefit of the children who are too young to help themselves.

Yours faithfully,
F. J. LEWIS

NEW MEMBERS.

The following new members were elected: Messrs. J. E. Belcher, C. F., E. Green, Geo. Hutchinson, H. Thompson, W. G. Bain, H. A. Mulhern, F. Matthews, R. Mulholland, W. H. Manning, H. C. Stabler.

THE SUBJECT OF SANITATION.

COL. H. C. ROGERS said his attention had been attracted to a communication published in the press, pointing out the necessity of a system of sewerage for the town. This matter had been talked of before and nothing done, and it was time some definite action was taken.

Mr. HAY proposed that a committee be sent to the town council urging them to deal with the question.

The PRESIDENT thought the town was in a position to go on with this very essential work. Any action of this Board would strengthen the hands of the council.

Mr. FAIR remarked that the town was doing something towards better sanitation by appointing a scavenger.

Mr. MCDONALD suggested that a monster civic petition be presented to the council.

Mr. DUMBLE held it was foolish economy to put off the question of sewerage from year to year; but as it might be difficult to drain the whole town at once, as it involved a work too great perhaps to be completed in one year, he presented this resolution:—

Moved by Col. Rogers, seconded by T. A. Hay, that this Board would respectfully urge upon the attention of the town council the urgent need of sewers in the town; the Board recommends that a scheme of drainage be adapted and proceeded with; so that George street shall be at once supplied with the needful drainage, and other portions completed from time to time as the finances of the town will warrant.

The resolution was adopted.

THE CANAL AGAIN.

The president referred to the meeting of the Trent Valley Canal Association held here Wednesday, when a resolution was passed providing for a representative deputation from the different municipalities along the route. He thought it advisable that the Peterborough Board of Trade be represented.

On motion of Mr. Dumble, seconded by Mr. Phelan, a deputation consisting of W. H. Mulhern, R. Mulholland, Col. H. C. Rogers and George Hillard, were appointed to go to Ottawa with the general delegation in the interests of the Trent Valley Canal. —Carried.

Some further discussion took place on Trent Valley Canal topics.

ADVERTISING THE TOWN.

It was proposed to continue the effective system of advertising adopted by the Board of Trade last year, by means of illustrated catalogues or paper advertising, and a committee consisting of Messrs. Meldrum, Manson, Dumble and Hay was appointed to wait upon the town council and request a grant for the purpose of enabling the Board to properly advertise the town.

Messrs. W. H. Casement (Lakefield) and J. P. Hurley were proposed for membership, and the meeting adjourned.

Of Interest to Bicycle Boys.

A Two Clause Legislative Brake for a Two Wheeled Vehicle.

There is very little that escapes the amending hand of the legislator these days Mr. Davis, a member of the Ontario Legislature, has introduced a bill to regulate the use of "velocipedes" on public highways. With charming consistency, the bill, to correspond with the vehicle which it proposes to regulate, has only two wheels—that is clauses—which are given below:

"(1) In case any difficulty shall arise from any person using or propelling on any highway or bridge a bicycle, tricycle, velocipede or any other contrivance for travelling, in which the propelling or motive power is produced by the hands or feet of the person upon the same, in passing or attempting to pass any vehicle or mounted horseman upon the highway or bridge, it shall be the duty of such person to stop and in every reasonable way to assist such mounted horseman or the person in charge of such vehicle to pass him and proceed in safety.

"(2) Any such bicycle, tricycle, velocipede or other contrivance running after dark over any highway shall carry a bright red light in a conspicuous place, so that it may be seen by the person in charge of any vehicle or by any horseman approaching from behind or in the direction from which such bicycle, tricycle, velocipede or other contrivance is being propelled."

(From Our Own Correspondent)

On Tuesday evening last a very pleasant 'At Home' was given by the Christian Endeavor Society in connection with the Presbyterian Church. The object of the gathering was procure funds for the purchasing of a cantata to be give by the Presbyterian young people some time in the summer. Although the attendance was not what it might have been the collection was very gratifying to those who had it in charge. A sacred cantata, "Faith Triumphant" has been decided upon, and practice will be begun as soon as possible.

One of the interesting characters of the village Billy McDowell was found dead on the way side a short distance out of town. It was thought unnecessary to hold an inquest and the funeral was taken in charge by the village council. Deceased had passed his 80th year.

Since the advent of spring, the Footballers are again on the move. A special meeting was held on Wednesday last at which business of importance was transacted. Practice will be begun on Monday next. The secretary, Mr. F. D. Roxburgh, desires to hear from surrounding clubs with reference to arranging matches.

A very successful sugar social was held in the Baptist church on Monday night, April 6. Nothing was left undone that might have been done, to add to the enjoyment of those present.

The "Northern Lights" (aurora borealis), made a grand display last Tuesday night. We expect an electric light display for Thursday night.

The Public School Law Amendments.

The Pending Amendments to the Public School Law Now Before the Legislature.

The schools of the country constitute its most important interest, and there can be no more interesting subject of reading than official utterances in reference thereto. Ontario has perhaps the best school system in the world, but naturally it is not perfect, and it is only by experience that the sufficient or inadequate conditions of the law which the circumstances demand, can be determined. Hence the necessity of occasional amendments. Yesterday we gave the explanations of Hon. G. W. Ross, Minister of Education, of the scope and provisions of the High School Act, and below we give the Hon. Minister's explanations, in a similar line of the Public School bill:—

Hon. Mr. Ross rose to propose the second reading of the bill to amend and consolidate the Public School laws. He repeated the hope he had expressed in respect of the High School bill, that further amendments after the bill was passed would not be needed for years. The provision for dissolving union boards on two-third vote of either section is contained in this bill also, and in defending it Mr. Ross contended against the injustice of holding representatives of one or other section to account for their work while compelling them to work in association with those to whom perhaps a majority were opposed. As to the prohibition of municipal councillors becoming school trustees, Mr. Ross said experience had shown that the double relation was undesirable in the public interest. The principle of electing the servants of the people had its limitations even in the most democratic country, and the system of appointment in the case of the High School boards had resulted in getting upon the board many men whom it was most desirable to have. The school age is changed so that now all persons from 5 to 21 have a right to attend them. the kindergarten to be open to those of four years. It was believed, the Minister said that four years was a young enough age even for the kindergarten. The secretary-treasurer of the school board, though a member, is allowed to receive remuneration for certain services in the way of looking after the school premises, etc. In rural schools it is found a hardship to live up to the rule against payments, and members of the board, in view of the desirability of having one member who will see after the school premises and act in case of any matter which the teacher or a ratepayer desires to call to the attention of the trustees. Provision is made for insuring the Public Schools, and the permission given to trustees to furnish the school with proper apparatus is now made obligatory. Stability is given to the boundaries of school sections now liable to be disturbed, by providing that changes shall not be made within five years after they are made. The bill provides that school boards in cities, towns, and incorporated villages shall provide free text books. In this connection the Minister stated that the cost in Massachusetts of free text books was 64 cents per pupil per annum. In the Model School of Ontario where the system was in use the cost was about 97 cents, but with the introduction of some authorized book not yet used it would probably be reduced to 75 cents. The cost in Massachusetts was less than the pupils could supply themselves for. The trustees were able to buy books at wholesale, the books were handed down from child to child, and moreover, strange as it may seem, more care was taken of the books, because teachers and scholars felt a certain responsibility in the care of them. The maintenance of Public Schools is improved by providing that each township shall provide at least $100 for each school in the township, which, with an average grant from the Government of $150, would form a satisfactory basis for the Public School. This would equalise the school assessment, which now showed great variation in different localities, there being no just reason why one man should pay three or four times as much as his neighbor in similar circumstances towards the schools. The law fixing the minimum age of teachers is changed so that instead of the age of seventeen, young women must be eighteen before they enter the profession—the same age as is fixed for young men. It is deemed advisable to have advantage of the additional year of maturity on the part of the female teachers. Third class certificates will now be good for five years, instead of three, but will be confined to the county in which they are issued. The differences in local examinations and the tendency of examiners to be indulgent in granting certificates, made this change necessary. If the time were not limited third-class teachers would be apt to remain such, but knowing that his certificate would expire the tendency on the part of the holder was to keep up his studies and try for a higher grade. Another important feature of the bill is that it provides a leaving examination for the public schools, the object being to retain in the schools those who from poverty or other reasons could not attend the high schools, and who, but for some such means as this, would give up their studies. Regulations will have to be provided by the department, and these will contain the working details of the scheme. There is no change regarding county inspectors, but it is felt to be an injustice in the case of cities and towns separated from the county that the present system of complete local control should continue. The inspectors in cities are a part of the general machinery of education. The Education Department contributes towards the expense of inspection, and it should therefore exercise some control. He closed by moving the second reading of the bill.

The Kindergarten Cause.

The little folks are not too little to engage the attention of the "potent, grave and reverend seignors" of the Local Legislature.

In the course of the consideration of the educational estimates in the House on Thursday there was a very interesting discussion on kindergarten schools, arising out of the new item of a grant of $3,000 for those schools. In answer to Mr. Gibson, of Huron, Mr. Ross gave a brief but comprehensive statement of the principles underlying the kindergarten system and of the advantages presented by it. He also gave a general outline of the development of the system in Ontario, and pointed out how, under the law, any school board might establish a kindergarten.

Mr. STRATTON spoke of the kindergarten established in Peterborough, and said that the school was now one of the most popular branches of the Public School of that town.

Mr. MEREDITH wanted to know generally what class of pupils attended the kindergarten, suggesting that anything which made inroads upon the home life of the children more than the present system did was to be regarded with careful scrutiny.

Mr. ROSS said that the children who attended the kindergartens, so far as he knew, were of the same class as those who attended the Public Schools. The pupils who had attended the kindergartens made more rapid progress on their entrance into the Public School. One of the strongest arguments in favor of the kindergartens was the good they had already done.

A Narrow Escape

From a Burning Hotel—A Thrilling Story of a Fire Escape.

The following from the Toronto World regarding Mr. Geo. Ellis, the well-known "drummer," will be interesting to Mr. Ellis' many friends in town. Mr. Ellis is brother-in-law of Mr. W. H. Meldrum. The World says:—

The early morning fire of Tuesday in Listowel which resulted in the destruction of the Grand Central Hotel there placed several well-known Toronto travelling men in an exceedingly hot corner. Two at least lost all their personal belongings, and at one time it looked as if the blaze would consume, not only the hotel, but $25,000 worth of jewelry packed in the sample trunks of Mr. George Ellis, of P. W. Ellis & Co. There were besides in the hotel that night Mr. James Woods, who travels for the firm of Henry Smith, Bay street, Mr. James Swift, of Copp, Clark & Co., Mr. George Weston another Toronto drummer, and Mr. John R. Keston, of Barber, Ellis & Co. In addition to these there were a number of Hamilton drummers. The story of the fire and the narrow escape of the Toronto men, as told by Mr. Ellis, is rather interesting.

"I had just got to bed about 12 Monday night," said he, "having left my sample trunks in the sample room on the ground floor. They contained about $25,000 worth of gold watches, gold rings and watch materials. It was well on to three o'clock that the women screaming "Fire!" awoke me. I jumped into my pants, and opened the door leading to the corridor. It was full of smoke, and I could just see Jimmy Woods at the door of his room in his night shirt and with his pants in his arm. We tried the stairs but they were in flames, and he managed to stagger to the window, and fell fainting over the sill and had to be dragged out by the men on the ladders. I revived when I struck the ground, and moving to the rear of the building managed to smash in the window of the sample room and get out the three trunks. I lost, however, two sample cases, which, including my clothes, were valued at $300. I was glad enough, however, to get the big cases out safe. Jim Swift had a lot of Bibles among his supplies, and these he found scattered over the yard after the fire was over.

"Jimmy Woods lost a gold watch and money, the whole standing him $250. George Weston's case, however, was the worst of all. He saved his pants, necktie and one book, and left behind him his vest, which contained a $100 gold watch, a $150 diamond pin and $150 in bills. The girls who were in the fourth storey had a narrow escape. They had to get out by crawling along the mansard roof to the corner of the building. Just as I got out of the sample room with my last trunk the building fell in, but somehow I did not seem to mind it, I was so excited. The loss to the travelling men would have been much heavier only most of the boys had come in on the night train and had left their baggage and samples at the depot over night."

From all accounts the people of Listowel treated the burned-out strangers well and opened their homes for them.

In a letter to Mr. W. A. Saunderson, town, Mr. Ellis speaks thankfully of his providential escape. He expects soon to be in Peterborough.

CASH HARDWARE STORE.

On and after 1st April we shall do business on a Cash Basis.

To cover the inevitable losses attendant upon a credit business, which accrue from amount of time spent in keeping accounts, collecting, bad debts, interest account, and an numerous other ways, larger margins of profit must be asked.

In these times cash buyers ask, expect, and are entitled to close prices. A careful consideration of the subject convinces us that the time has come for a cash business done on smaller profits.

The only customers who may possibly be put to inconvenience are those who have had long credit. In more ways than one it will be to their advantage to pay cash.

For convenience of our old customers who consider their accounts due when presented, we will call 30 days cash and render all accounts the first of each month, and we wish to say that will be happy to do business with them on those terms.

As the new departure is something of an experiment, what would be considered a close cash price will be made all through the stock. Not a few leaders only, but a general reduction in everything from the fourth flat to the cellar.

Our idea is to perform more than promised rather than promise more than can be fulfilled.

Our stock is large and varied, consisting of Builders', Contractors', Household, Mechanics'. Painters', Shoemakers', Farm, Mill, Factory, Lumbermen's, Sporting, Threshers', Cabinet-makers', and other lines of Hardware.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

ALLEGED IRREGULARITIES IN CONNECTION WITH AN ELECTION.

End of the Lion Provident Association Its Corporate Powers Revoked by Order in Council — Recognition of the Volunteers of 1837.

TORONTO, April 11.— In the Assembly yesterday Mr. Hudson, member for Hastings, moved a resolution charging D. R. Leavens, returning office, and James McCready, one of the deputy returning officers in the last election for East Hastings, with gross irregularities and frauds in connection with the election and asking that the whole matter be referred to the Committee on Privileges and Elections for investigation. In doing so he charged that these officials made public the way in which the electors voted, comparing the names with the numbers on the ballots and thus intimidated electors; that Leavens purposely appointed himself a deputy returning officer in order to carry out his purpose better; that when counting the ballots at his poll Leavens refused to place the ballot box on the table where all could see it, but placed it under the table where none could see it but himself in order to take advantage of Mr. Hudson; that when the ballots at Leavens' poll were counted Mr. Hudson had only 71 although 74 electors have since sworn they voted for him, and the scrutineers counted on 85 votes which were clearly promised them. Turning to McCready, he claimed this official also put his ballot box under the table to the disadvantage of Mr. Hudson; that when the ballots at McCready's poll were counted there were only 95 for Mr. Hudson although 108 electors have since sworn they voted for Mr. Hudson. In another poll, the deputy returning officer, one Cavlor, permitted two men to vote although their names were not on the list and refused to administer the oath although requested. On a recount a number of ballots, marked on polling day for Mr Hudson and accepted as correct in the evening, were found to be marked with a second small cross and were rejected, thus nearly counting him out. He mentioned a number of other irregularities which were done with the deliberate purpose of defeating him.

Mr. Fraser refused to discuss the grave charges made, but declared that it was not proper to refer the matter to the committee. Mr. Hudson, who spoke so warmly, was himself on the committee and his friends who were also on the committee applauded the charges as if they were already proved. This was unseemly conduct on the part of those who would be judges if a reference were made. Was a reference to the committee necessary? Mr. Hudson has his seat, and even if the charges are proved the seat would not be affected. Moreover, a petition was filed in the courts against Mr. Hudson, who filed a cross petition. But the petitions were dismissed by the judge. Besides, the law provided that a charge of malfeasance could be made before a police magistrate, who could investigate the case free from the prejudice which would characterize the judgment of the committee. What necessity was there, then, for a reference to a committee, members of which cheered the charges made as if they were already proved?

Mr. Metcalfe and Mr. Wood (Hastings) repudiated the insinuation that they were biassed and not fit to pronounce an opinion upon the case in committee.

Mr. Meredith said the returning officer was an officer of the House, and it was the duty of the House to see that he performed his duties properly and, if necessary, punish him for wrongdoing, apart altogether from a criminal prosecution in the courts. A cross petition can contain no charges except personal ones against the opposing candidate, and therefore a cross petition cannot reach the wrongdoing of an official. A returning officer could not even be joined as a party in a cross petition. There was therefore no reason for refusing to refer the case to the committee. The charges included what is known as "stuffing" the ballot boxes. Was this not a charge which ought to be investigated by the House?

Mr. Mowat said there was no desire on the part of the Government to screen any officials if they were guilty. But the resolution did not specify the charges. It had therefore been impossible to obtain from the parties implicated their version of the case, although Mr. Mowat said he had tried to do so. Over-zealous or unscrupulous men are found everywhere. Before the matter went to the committee the parties charged, having heard today the specific charges made, ought to have a chance to make a reply. All the precedents which he had looked up indicated that the charges must be specific before a reference could be made. The resolution also alleged irregularities. But irregularities might be unintentional or without influence on the election. There was no need therefore to refer mere irregularities to a committee when the one who was injured by these irregularities already had the seat. If the charges of fraud are true, these officials are subject to a criminal prosecution. The only punishment the House could inflict was imprisonment during the session. The session, however, will end in a couple of weeks, perhaps before the prosecution on the part of the House would be finished. A judicial investigation was always more satisfactory than one by a committee more or less prejudiced. Moreover, there was no time for such an investigation by a committee of the House because the members were fully occupied by other business. Mr. Mowat in conclusion said he was there to see that no bad precedent was formed. Without actually refusing to allow a reference to a committee he moved the adjournment of the debate in order to consider what would be done, now that the charges were specified. The debate accordingly was adjourned until Monday.

Mr. H. E. Clarke moved his resolution asking for particulars of the fees charged and collected in the Toronto registry offices and the number of days the registrars worked full time (6 hours), half time and where absent altogether. Mr. Mowat consented to allow the resolution with certain amendments. For example, there was no record of the attendance in the office and therefore that part of it could not be supplied.

Notice is given of an order-in-council, dated April 3, revoking the corporate powers of the Lion Provident Life & Live Stock Association upon consideration of the report of the commissioner who investigated the concern. The World called attention to the peculiarities of this company last summer.

Among the notices of motion is one by Mr. Willoughby declaring it expedient that the Government should make some recognition of the services of the volunteers in 1837.

SENSATION AT ST. THOMAS

CALAMITY CITY'S LATEST SPICY SCANDAL.

A Woman's Tongue Responsible for the Resignation of the Respected Pastor of the First Baptist Church—As Usual There Are Two Sides to the Question.

ST. THOMAS, April 10.—For some weeks past the scandal-mongers of this city have been busy tearing to tatters the good name of Rev. A. H. Munro, pastor of the Centre-street Baptist Church, of which Rev. Elmore Harris of your city some years ago had charge. So fine a subject for attack has not been before them for a long time and they are making the most of it. All sorts of stories are afloat about him, with plenty of what is made to appear as strong circumstantial evidence back of them; and if half are true he is morally ruined beyond recovery. But there is no reason to believe that they are any of them true. The busiest tattlers have been one or two other clergymen who have long been jealous of the erratic parson's popularity, and it is found that wearers of the cloth are the quickest to accept as true and keep agoing the most extravagant tales of his immorality. They are like virtuous, seldom-tempted women, who have no mercy for the sister under suspicion, and condemn her, without a hearing, as fallen. Mr. Munro, it may be true, has acted indiscreetly, but it will require the strongest testimony direct and unanswerable to satisfy his staunch friends here that he has been guilty of the grave offences with which a female member of his congregation charged him and which a joint committee appointed by himself and the congregation pronounced not true. He has, however, so conducted himself as to invite criticism, and he cannot complain if the worldly who have followed him think they have good reason to look with suspicion upon his course. Unmindful of the fact that ministers are very generally regarded as open to the same temptations and subject to the same weaknesses as other men, while they are held up to a strict accountability, even if they are not watched, he seems to have lost sight of the admonition of St. Paul to the Thessalonians, that it was essential for the Christian disciple to "abstain from even an appearance of evil." Although a married man he had often been seen walking with pretty women who are members of his congregation. There was nothing wrong in all this, but those people who do not affect the ancient and superstitious reverence which formerly went far to save a member of the sacred calling from even a suspicion of evil, commenced to talk, and what otherwise might have remained hidden or reserved for ephemeral gossip is now public property.

The Woman in the Case.

The slough of despond in which the pastor now flounders had, as has been said, its genesis in a friendship with a well-preserved member of his congregation, a Mrs. John White, widow of a former merchant tailor, and during his lifetime one of the prominent officials of the church. While visiting some relatives Mrs. White told a circumstantial story to the effect that she had met her Faustus in her preacher, that although he had grown bald in the service of the Master his holy office had not whipped the offending Adam out of him, that in fact he frequently visited her home and instead of the time being occupied in meditation, prayer and the ministry of the Word according to St. Paul's injunction to Timothy, he rehabilitated "the kiss of peace," as practised by the early Christians at their agapes or love feasts.

Demanding an Investigation.

The story was not long in spreading. From whisperings in the closet it spread until it was heralded from the housetops, and finally reached the ears of the pastor. He promptly demanded an investigation. A committee was appointed selected from prominent members of the congregation and evidence was taken behind closed doors. It is understood that the preacher admitted that he had kissed the widow, but only in a spirit of platonic friendship. Mrs. White stuck to her story, supplementing her confession by explaining that her love for the pastor, like Aaron's rod, had a most consuming tendency. Numerous friends and relatives, however, testified that if not insane Mrs. White was given to strange imaginings and was laboring under an hallucination. The upshot was that the committee of investigation fully exonerated the pastor, who forthwith went gunning for his deacons, whom he said had been trying to undermine him.

But the report of the examining committee did not end matters. The congregation was not a unit in accepting the report of the committee as clearing the pastor of, shall we say, indiscretion, and the pew-holders became less numerous. The congregation became divided, and to add to the preacher's discomfort he received a letter from a son of Mrs. White intimating that upon a certain date he would arrive from British Columbia to shoot the destroyer of his mother's peace of mind, she having written to him making him acquainted with the "facts of the case."

The Pastor Resigns.

Finally, realizing that a house divided against itself was sure to fall, Mr. Munro sent in his resignation, which was to take effect on June 15. The majority of the congregation, however, felt that the usefulness of their pastor, so far as Centre-street Church was concerned, was at an end, and that to delay his departure until June would be to work unnecessary harm to the church. Accordingly the salary which would be due to Mr. Munro up to June 1 was Thursday tendered him, and in accepting the same he signed the following document:

$350. ST. THOMAS, April 8, 1891.

Received from the Centre-street Baptist Church three hundred and fifty dollars, in full of all claims and services as pastor of said church, in consideration of which I hereby and now give up charge of said church, with the privilege, however, of preaching there on next Sabbath.

As originally written, the agreement contained the words, "give up charge of said church and congregation." The words "and congregation" were objected to by the pastor and afterwards erased, a fact which confirms the statement made by a member of the congregation that a second Baptist congregation will be formed of those loyal to the preacher and will worship in the Congregational church.

A Clever Preacher.

Mr. Munro is perhaps 35 years of age. He is a man of talents—three of which he possesses in an unusual degree; He has intellectual ability, he has the gift of felicitous rhe-

[illegible] ... to say and expression ... [illegible] ... could be added that his judgment might be greatly improved—if, indeed, that is not almost wholly the gift of nature rather than the addition of grace. He appears equally indifferent to praise or censure, and sympathy for him would be thrown away. What the upshot of the affair will be cannot be predicted at present. Mr. Munro's mistake seems to have consisted in being too careless of his own reputation, unmindful of the fact that scandalous stories might easily be set afloat which it would be awkward to meet and perhaps impossible to wholly explain before a suspicious public. Conscious that he was "square," that he tried to live his life purely and clearly, "free from all breath of scandal," he failed to abstain "from an appearance of evil." His friends believed in him before the scandal; they believe in him yet, and if the result of the trouble shall lead him henceforth to consecrate his unquestioned abilities to the duties of his calling, and to that exclusively, putting platonic affection behind him, the lesson, severe as its cost has been, will not be learned wholly in vain, while the gain to the Christian pulpit will not be insignificant. A preacher cannot serve both the Lord and Plato, even if, arithmetically expressed, Plato gets only about one-tenth of one per cent. of his services. The moral is obvious. Let the minister stick to his pulpit as the cobbler to his last, and, even as Luther threw the ink-bottle at the devil, fight against the suggestion of the flesh for a display of spiritual love during pastoral visits.

The church will doubtless be crowded to the doors on Sabbath next, when Mr. Munro will deliver his farewell sermon, and that it will score sundry members who have set their faces steadfastly against him in this his hour of trouble goes without saying.

HER LIFE FOR HER SIN.

The Mother of the Murdered Bond-street Babe Dying.

ORANGEVILLE, April 10.—The mother of the infant found dead in a shed in rear of 18 Bond-street, Toronto, recently, belongs to this town and is now ill at the home of her parents in the neighboring township of Mono. She is being attended by Dr. Smith and is at present in a very critical condition. Her companion, who boarded with her at the house, is also in the vicinity. The unfortunate woman, who has ill at her home was at one time employed in a private residence in Mill-street, and later on at the Gordon House. About seven months ago she removed to Toronto and secured employment in some factory. Before leaving here she kept company with a young man of the East Ward who does not bear the highest reputation and who is believed to have been her seducer. This young man is also at present ill at one of the hotels, but whether his sickness is due to the prevailing la grippe or to remorse of conscience over his base treatment of the woman who trusted him, cannot be stated. It is believed the woman made away with the infant in the vain hope of hiding her shame. She is respectably connected.

THE DATE NAMED.

President Harrison Fixes the Date for the Discussion of Trade Relations.

OTTAWA, April 10.—Monday, Oct. 12, has been fixed by President Harrison as the date he and Secretary Blaine will meet the Canadian delegates in Washington to discuss closer trade relations.

No delay will be caused by the postponement, inasmuch as any treaty agreed upon will be required to be ratified by the Senate and that body does not meet until next December. There is not the slightest foundation for the statement that the Ministers were treated in a discourteous manner either by Mr. Blaine or the President.

SHOT DEAD BY A FISH.

A Canadian Youth's Peculiar and Fatal Accident.

WINDSOR, N.B., April 10.—James Harman, a pupil at the collegiate institute, was out fishing in company with some other youths. He had a gun with him, and it is said in the excitement of a heavy tug at the end of the line the gun fell and went off, the shot entering the leg of the boy, who died six hours later from the pain and loss of blood. The remains were taken to Halifax by the Windsor and Annapolis train last night en route to Boston, where his family reside.

A Passenger Deliberately Shoots a Railway Station Agent.

HALIFAX, N.S., April 10.—Stationmaster McKeen of Oxford Junction, I.C.R., was shot to-day by a passenger named Murray on the Quebec express train bound east. Murray stepped off the train at Oxford Junction, drew a revolver and fired at McKeen while he was passing him on the platform. The ball entered his breast and Murray attempted to fire again, but missed owing to McKeen holding his hand. It is thought McKeen will recover. Murray was arrested and taken to Truro. He has been living in Missouri for five years and was returning to his home in Pictou. He is thought to be insane through some family trouble in Missouri.

Among the Peasantry of Connaught.

DUBLIN, April 10.—Lady Zetland and Miss Balfour visited the islands of Inniskea, Clare, Inishturk and Innisboffin Wednesday. They entered many of the cabins, conversing with and giving money to the occupants, and adding many to the Castle relief list. The Clare boatmen presented a remarkable address, referring to the diversion by unscrupulous politicians of the funds sent from America for the assistance of the poverty-stricken people of Ireland and warmly thanking Mr. Balfour for the fund which he and the Earl of Zetland were instrumental in raising and the distribution of which was the means of averting starvation in the impoverished districts. All the islanders ran to the beach to meet the visitors when they arrived at Innisboffin. Bonfires were blazing and flags flying, and the fishermen literally carried the boat to the land. When the visitors landed the women of the place pressed around to grasp the hands of the ladies and called Heaven's choicest blessings on them. Lady Zetland was deeply affected by all she saw. The party resolved to march across the island, and the start was made with a guard of honor composed of a dozen stalwart fishermen in the van and the whole population following as a rear guard.

Result of a Burglar's Visit.

VANCOUVER, B.C., April 10.—A day or so ago a shooting accident occurred at Wellington, which was all but fatal in its results. A resident who had been disturbed the previous night by an attempted burglary, borrowed a 45-calibre bulldog revolver from a fellow-workman for use in the event of a second visit. While showing the weapon to a friend, a cartridge—the only one he had—exploded, the bullet entering his wife's arm and inflicting a painful wound. The lady was passing at the time, and had she been a few inches nearer the weapon the missile would have passed through her body.

Swallowed Half His Mustach.

LONDON, April 10.—Mrs. Langtry produced "Linda Grey" to-night, at the Princess's Theatre. During the performance, at the moment when Victor Broughton (Mr. Bernard Gould, Mrs. Langtry's leading man), rushes to embrace his wife, Linda Grey, (Mrs. Langtry), the actor swallowed one side of his drooping mustach, the other half stiff adorning his upper lip. He at last managed to splutter it out of his mouth amid the merriment of the audience, and quietly put it in his pocket. He then tore off the other half of his mustach and played the rest of the part as a smooth-faced man.

Poison Carries off Some But the Rope is the Favorite Means—A Prominent St. Catharines Freemason Among the Number—Accidents and Sudden Deaths

ST. CATHARINES, April 10.—Richard Ratcliffe, of the firm of Ratcliffe & Parnell, committed suicide this afternoon. When Parnell went to the premises at 2.15 he found the door locked. He unlocked it and went inside and half-an-hour later on going upstairs to the workshop found Ratcliffe suspended by the neck from the ventilator over the door, his feet just touching the floor. The body was cut down but life was extinct. Dr. Goodman did not consider an inquest necessary. Deceased was suffering from an acute attack of grippe, which brought on temporary insanity. A letter was found in deceased's pocket unsigned, but in Ratcliffe's handwriting, in which he clearly made manifest his intention to commit suicide. The religious allusions contained in the letter, together with its peculiar style and the unwarranted depression manifested, showed conclusively that deceased's mind was unbalanced. Ratcliffe, who was in comfortable circumstances, was about 63 years of age and leaves a wife and four young children. He was one of the best known Freemasons in the district. P. Leaped From the Ferry to Death.

DETROIT, April 10.—As the transfer Landowne was returning from the Canadian shore and neared the dock at the foot of 24th-street this afternoon, a mid lle-aged man wearing a dark suit of clothes and grey beard and mustach deliberately jumped into the river and sank. Life preservers were thrown, but he was drowned. The body was recovered. No one knew who he was and there was nothing to identify him.

The Knife and Carbolic Acid.

GLADSTONE, Man., April 10—Shore Woodside, living alone on a farm near here tried to take his life by cutting his throat. Not accomplishing this he swallowed carbolic acid. Neighbors who called to see him said he had his throat tightly bound up to prevent bleeding. He kept holding the bandages tightly in his hand and wouldn't allow anyone to examine his wound. His clothing was covered with blood. He is still alive.

A Boy Hangs Himself.

MORRISBURG, Ont., April 10.—John Leach, a boy from the Orphans' Home, was sent to clean a stable while his employer, Mr. Beckstead of Dunbar, went to a neighbor's to get his mail. When he returned he noticed the stable door open and went to see what was wrong, when he found the boy suspended from the upper floor by a rope that was used to hold a pole between the horses. He cut him down, but life was extinct.

Out of Work, He Sought Oblivion.

MONTREAL, April 10.—Thomas Davis, a young Englishman out of work and money, attempted to commit suicide. He appeared before the police court and was let off with a warning.

Drowned in a Mill Dam.

MILLE ROCHES, Ont., April 10.—An accident happened this afternoon at Hutchinson & Co.'s works on the Cornwall canal enlargement at this place by which one man was killed and another injured. They were working in an excavation when the bank gave way, burying one man named Portras and breaking the arm of John Cummings. The body of Portras was recovered in about half an hour, but life was extinct.

A Wife's Terrible Find.

HALIFAX, N.S., April 10.—At Laughlie's sawmill, Mahone Bay, yesterday, Mrs. Joseph Ernest found her husband's body in a standing position in the dam when she went to give him his dinner. His head was only a few inches under the water. The supposition is he was on a small raft getting a log to haul up and the raft parted and he went down feet first.

Caused by a Telephone Wire.

WOODVILLE, Ont., April 12.—James Wilson of this village, a conductor on a train running from Niagara to Rochester, when entering Rochester was thrown from his train by coming in contact with a telephone wire. Most of the Bonnets are Small, Toque Shapes, flat, and trimmed at the back with pretty little Forget-Me-Not Flowers, Jewelled Ribbon and Lace to match. Daily Examiner.

SATURDAY, APRIL 11, 1891.

SOME of the Tory papers are now declaring that the Government do not want reciprocity with the United States. This is probably true. But, remarks the Globe, they were so much afraid that the people of Canada wanted reciprocity that they made a pretence of seeking it, the ground for dissolving Parliament and going to the country a year before the expiration of the Parliamentary term.

IN a recent article a contemporary says:—"A preacher said that no newspaper that told the truth and the whole truth, could make a pecuniary success. We say by way of returning the compliment, that no minister who will at all times and under all circumstances, tell the whole truth about his members alive or dead will occupy the pulpit more than one Sunday, and then he will find it necessary to leave in a hurry. The press and the pulpit go hand in hand with the white wash brush, with pleasant words magnifying little virtues into big ones. The pulpit, pen, and grave stone are the great saint-making triumvirate."

AN enterprising firm is that of Messrs. John Lovell & Son, Montreal, and in striking contrast to the spirit of the community in which his firm operates. The firm has just issued a "historic report" of the census taken by themselves of Montreal and environs Messrs. Lovell & Son appealed for aid in the work to seventeen municipalities, this aid implied in taking fifty copies of the work, and he received responses from six. It is to be hoped that the country at large will make a much more liberal recognition of the other great enterprise contemplated by Messrs. Lovell & Sons. This is the publication "Lovell's Gazetteer and History of Canada," it is proposed that this work embrace eleven royal octavo volumes, at a cost of nine dollars per volume. The whole work will contain 8000 pages, comprising a history of over 15,000 counties, districts, cities, towns, villages, etc., and a description of over 5000 islands, lakes and rivers. This will be a most important work, and worthy of the encouragement of all those who wish to see our magnificent resources, beautiful scenery, etc., made known to the world in the completest and most elaborate form. The expense of issuing this work will be very great, and Messrs. Lovell & Son are organizing a company with a capital of $200,000. The work when completed, will be an era in the history of Canada.

FARM BOOK KEEPING.

IN a recent issue was a reference to a new account book for the use of farmers by Mr. G. A. Read. It is entitled "The Farmers' Friend and Account Book," and meets a want, that should, if it is not generally felt by the farmer. To show the importance of the farmer keeping a record of farm and dairy operations, the following incident related by a level-headed lecturer at a farmers' meeting may be given:

"Mind is more than muscle. A mule has four times the muscle of a man; use the muscle of a mule. I was in St. Joseph, Michigan, and saw asparagus for sale. One lot was roughly put up in boxes to be returned. Another in neat white boxes, which did not cost half of the other, was put up neatly in bunches, tied with red tape in neat bows, tied no doubt by a woman, and brought 40 per cent. more, cost less than the other." Curiosity led him to the home of the man and found him doing less hard work and showing more general prosperity than his average neighbors. I also knew a milk dealer who kept an account with his cows, each having a separate account, and the cow that did not show a profit was sold to the farmer who did not keep books." He asked all the farmers present who kept farm accounts or even a cash account to raise their hands. Not one hand was raised." Not a word is necessary to impress the lesson this little story teaches.

Used it Secretly for a Time.

It was supposed to be a profound secret, but owing to a very peculiar circumstance it leaked out. One of Montreal's most successful business men, and a strict church member, and one who was always looked upon as a total abstainer from alcoholic beverages, was compelled by medical law to use a certain quantity of brandy three times a day as a stimulant and invigorator. This merchant, from morn to nights, had the cares and trials of an immense business on his shoulders; and some time ago became so weary, thin, worn out looking, and withal, so nervous and irritable, that his condition excited dread and alarm amongst his friends. For weeks the brandy diet was strictly adhered to in secret, when suddenly coming to a consciousness of his folly and his physician's stupidity, he resolved with great determination to give up the brandy and try a remedy which had been recommended by a well known corn exchange man. This remedy proved to be Paine's Celery Compound, and its use was at once commenced by the merchant. His surprise and pleasure was great after using the compound for a week. He found his appetite returning, his nervous system in better condition, and strength taking the place of lassitude and weariness. In less than a month his bodily strength was greatly increased, his sleep was healthful and refreshing, and his capacity for work as great as ever before.

This is not an uncommon case; scores of such could be pointed out if necessary, showing the useless, yea the evil effects of alcoholic stimulants, and the grand results of that great restorer and tonic, Paine's Celery Compound.

BRITISH AND FOREIGN.

The Opium Traffic in India Under Consideration.

LONDON, April 10.—In the House of Commons to-night the annual motion against allowing opium traffic in India was made by Mr. Pease. The motion was carried by a vote of 160 to 120. The Government was thus defeated, and the members of the Opposition greeted the result with loud cheers.

THE FIGHTING IN MANIPUR.

The British Loss was 14 Killed and 27 Wounded.

LONDON, April 10.—A despatch from the Viceroy of India confirms the news that Lt. Grant on April 6 repulsed 4000 Manipuris natives armed with guns. Reinforcements are rapidly pushing forward. The Miranzais continue to resist the authorities and are erecting stone breastworks. In the Miranzai rising 14 of the British were killed and 27 wounded.

SIMLA, April 10.—It was the Senaputty, or commander-in-chief of the Manipuri forces, who was killed in the engagement between Lt. Grant's forces and a force of Manipuris referred to in yesterday's despatches, and not the usurping rajah. The latter, according to a letter received by the Viceroy of India, was executed by the loyalists after the massacre of the British forces at Manipur.

Troops Arriving From India.

PLYMOUTH, April 10.—The troopship Himalaya has arrived from India, having on board a large number of soldiers. There were 200 cases of influenza among the troops during the last fortnight, but none of them has a fatal termination.

A Hypnotist Expires After a Performance.

LONDON, April 10.—Prof. Lowell Young, who met with much success recently in giving public exhibitions of hypnotism, died at Portsmouth Wednesday night within a few hours after publicly operating upon a number of soldiers of the garrison at that place. The cause of his death was cerebral and nervous exhaustion. The symptoms and circumstances were similar to those which accompanied the death of Bishop, the mind reader, in New York.

The Secretary Suing for Libel.

CORK, April 10.—Henry Campbell, M.P. for South Fermanagh and private secretary to Mr. Parnell, has entered an action for libel against Mrs. Nagle, the proprietor of The Cork Herald, and Ald. John Hooper of this city, lately editor of that paper, charging them with imputing through the columns of The Cork Herald that he (Campbell) procured houses for the meeting of Parnell and Mrs. O'Shea.

Italy Evidently Means Business.

ROME, April 10.—It is reported that if the United States Government does not answer the Marquis Imperiali's note by to-morrow, Mr. Porter, the American Minister here, will be ordered to leave Italy, and the whole Italian legation at Washington will be recalled and the Italian interests left in charge of the British Minister.

Which of the Tenders Will be Accepted?

The ladies of Canada for the ensuing two or three months have some important and necessary work to perform in the home. This work they must do themselves, but the material required for the consummation of a perfect job, they must of necessity procure Several tenders are made for supplying this material, and strange to say all at the same price. The only thing now to consider, is the character of each tenderer. Many make certain promises, but alas! they have failed so often in quality, that public confidence has been shaken. One tenderer however, Diamond Dyes, shows a record of rare successes, and grand results in all its extensive operations wherever employed. Will the tender of Diamond Dyes be accepted, or will you trust one the many whose records are doubtful and unsatisfactory?

WHEN they find how rapidly health is restored by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The reason is that this preparation contains only the purest and most powerful alteratives and tonics. To thousands yearly it proves a veritable elixir of life.

Mrs. Jos. Lake, Brockway Centre, Mich., writes: "Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony. I was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an in my condition, my appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life, and I cannot thank you too much."

"We, the undersigned, citizens of Brockway Centre, Mich., hereby certify that the above statement, made by Mrs. Lake, is true in every particular and entitled to full credence."—O. P. Chamberlain, G. W. Waring, O. A. Wells, Druggist.

"My brother, in England, was, for a long time, unable to attend to his occupation, by reason of sores on his foot. I sent him Ayer's Almanac and the testimonials it contained induced him to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using it a little while, he was cured, and is now a well man, working in a sugar mill at Brisbane, Queensland, Australia."—A. Attewell, Sharbot Lake, Ontario.

My prices are as reasonable as those engaged in the same business in Toronto and Montreal.

My seed trade is increasing every year, but I want every man, woman and child that has a bit of garden to get a part of it at least planted with my seed.

I know they will grow and come up without the aid of a flock of chickens to bring them to the surface, provided, of course, that you do not put them too deep, and to avoid this look for instructions in my Seed and Plant Reporter. Get one at seed store, corner of Brock and Water streets.

Goughs' Grandest Go!

UNPARALLELED STROKE OF ENTERPRISE:—THEY CHARTER A SPECIAL SPRING POET.

During the past few months, GOUGH BROS. have been making Immense Improvements in their Shops, till now—in their Spring attire—they have the Nobbiest, Brightest, Neatest Establishment in the District.

Having laid in a Superb and Unrivalled Stock, they cast about for some special means to make it known to the public, and at enormous expense they captured a Genuine Genius in the Poetical line, whom they christened "Gough Bros. Special Spring Poet." They fitted up the office as a box-stall and turned the poet loose in it and he proceeded to let himself loose in the following manner:

O, beauteous, sloppy, balmy spring,
You are a bright and welcome thing;
You bring us sunshine—check the mumps,
And make the people stir their stumps.
(To "stir their stumps" they must have boots,—
And Goughs have just the stock that suits.)
You clothe the world in garments new—
Your bright example Goughs pursue;
They deck their shop with brightest hues,

And give the public chance to choose
From 'mongst the biggest stock on earth—
In no department is their dearth—
From head to foot, from top to toe,
The great Goughs' lines of great goods go.
They've nobby tiles for brainy heads,
They've dandy boots for dainty treads;
They—they—they—

At this point a loud groaning was heard in the poet's lair, and a visit showed him tearing his hair, the very picture of despondent despair. He was in a state of collapse. He was sent to the hospital, and a sane man employed to make the simple statement that GOUGH BROS.' Superb Spring Stock of HATS and CAPS, BOOTS and SHOES, and CHOICE SPRING CLOTHING

ANNOUNCEMENT.

For some time past we have thought a strictly cash business in Flour, Feed and Provisions could be successfully carried on in Peterborough, and to test this question, we have purchased the above business from Mr. C. N. Brown who will still continue as manager in Flavelle's old stand, Simcoe street.

In order to be successful we intend to make it the interest of everyone to pay cash with order by selling at wholesale prices.

We will positively give no credit and cash customers will not have to keep up the losses made by others on the credit system.

We will keep a full supply of the very best quality of Flour, Feed, Chop, etc., and our customers need not fear that the quality of the goods will be lowered to make up for the reduction in prices. We are simply giving them the benefit of the margin necessary to cover losses and interest charges incurred on the credit system.

MANUFACTURING CANADA.

Shepherd's Carpet Works, in Paris, Ont., are getting up a fine lot of patterns in carpets. They have first-class workmen and the whole is under the supervision of a superintendent who is an expert in that line of business.

Mr. W. Clarke has begun the manufacture of pearl buttons in Berlin, Ont. Mr. Clarke has had a large experience in this particular line in Great Britain. The works are large and will be fitted up with the newest and most improved machinery.

The Calvin Company, Kingston, Ont., are building a barge for the lake trade of the following dimensions: length, 200 feet; breadth of beam, 37 feet, depth of hold, 16 feet. She will have capacity to carry 1,650 tons of freight through the Welland Canal.

The British Columbia Sugar Refinery, Vancouver, B. C., turned out its first sugar on January 19th and has begun the manufacture of all grades of refined sugar with a daily output of 150 barrels. This concern is equipped with the most approved machinery with capacity to produce 250 barrels per day.

The ship Titan, of Boston, recently cleared from Vancouver, B. C., loaded with 782,000 feet of rough lumber from the Hastings saw mill at that place bound for Wilmington, Del. The lumber is for the U. S. Navy. This shows the superior value of British Columbia lumber for use in ship building.

Mr. Ira B. Folger, Kingston, Ont., has recently launched a fine new steamer for the St. Lawrence River excursion business. The engines and boilers of the steamers Islander, Maryland and St. Lawrence belonging to the Thousand Island Steamship Company, are receiving large repairs and alterations.

The Maritime Chemical Pulp Company's mill will have its capacity doubled when it resumes in a few weeks. Two new digesters, in which the pulp boiled in a chemical solution, are going in, and the old ones are relined with cement, lead lining having been discarded after a fair trial. Chatham, N.B., World.

Boring for oil was recently commenced on Lalonde's farm at Comber, near Windsor, Ont., and on January 15th a strong flow of natural gas was struck at a depth of only 140 feet. The flow is said to be nearly equal to that of the great gusher at Kingsville, Ont. The well belongs to Messrs. Samuel Rogers & Sons, Toronto.

We learn that the recently organized Kerr Vegetable Evaporating Company have received an order from the British admiralty office for the supply of nearly 10,000 lbs. of evaporated vegetables for the British navy. The company are at present receiving large orders from the United States and Upper Canada.—Kentville, N. S., Star.

The Kerr Engine Company have received instructions to make very extensive alterations in the machinery of the steamer Empire, of the North West Transportation Company, of Sarnia. The Empire is the sister ship of the Monarch of that line, whose engines were built by Kerr Brothers, in Walkerville, last year.—Walkerville, Ont., Mercury.

The Adams Bros., from Paisley, Scotland, have commenced the manufacture of woven coverlets in Paris, Ont. They are now supplying the trade through some of the leading wholesale houses in Toronto, and experts say that the spreads are far in advance of anything hitherto manufactured in Canada, both in design and workmanship. The dyeing is done by a Hamilton works and is first-class.

The old boilers are being removed from the steamer Corsican owned by the Richelieu Navigation Company, to be replaced by new boilers now being built at Toronto, by the John Doty Engine Company. The Kingston foundry Company have the contract for furnishing these boilers and compounding the engines of the steamers Corsican and Spartan. Both these boats are large side-wheel steamers and $25,000 will be spent on them this winter.

The Brooks Manufacturing Company, manufacturers of electric light carbons, Peterborough, Ont., have contracted to supply the Royal Electric Company, of Montreal, with their entire requirement for carbons. The contract will average $1,000 worth a month. Already one car load of 200,000 carbons has been shipped. These carbons are the equal in every respect of the best American goods. The output of the Brooks Company is over 10,000 carbons per day.

The mill of the Columbia Flouring Mill company, at Enderby, B. C., is 100 x 40 feet square and five stories high. It contains a full roller process of the most modern equipment, and was erected three years ago by the well-known firm of Goldie & McCullough, Galt, Ont., who also supplied the firm 75 h. p. Wheelock engine, by which the machinery is run. The boiler and engine are located a little distance from the mill in a brick building. The storage capacity inside the mill is 600 tons, and that of the warehouse adjacent 900 tons.

A Fable.

An elephant walking heedlessly in the depth of a forest was not a little surprised at falling to the bottom of a well. Reflecting that he could not get out without assistance, he addressed himself to the composition of verse, in which he was proficient. Having composed a madrigal, he proceeded to warble it in a baritone voice of unusual volume and compass. A dove, attracted by the melody, became enamored of the singer. The elephant readily promised her marriage in the event of his release, whereupon she fetched a pomegranate seed, which, when dropped into the well, sprang up. It grew rapidly, bearing the musical animal on its branches. At the mouth of the well he stepped off, and taking the dove tenderly in his trunk dropped her into the spanning jaws of a serpent and wandered off into the forest composing a dirge.

This shows that you can be musical and yet bad.

A Discovery Important to Ladies.

The political battle is over, but the battle with disease must be constantly and unceasingly waged else the grim reaper will come out victorious, and loved ones will be gathered to their long home. On all sides may be seen pale and listless girls who should be enjoying the health and glow of rosy youth. Everywhere we are met with women young in years, yet prematurely old, who suffer in silence almost untold agonies, the result of those ailments peculiar to the female system. To all such, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills come as a blessing. They restore wasted vitality, build up the nervous system, enrich the blood, and transform pale and sallow complexions into glowing, rosy cheeks that along follow perfect health. In a word they are a certain cure for all those distressing complaints to which women and girls are peculiarly liable. A trial of these pills will convince the most sceptical of their wonderful merit. For suffering men Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are equally efficacious. For overwork, mental strain, loss of sleep, nervous debility, and all those diseases that lead to broken-down manhood, they are a certain specific, stimulating the brain, reinforcing the exhausted system and restoring shattered vitality. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are nature's restorative and should be used by every weak and debilitated person. For sale by all dealers or sent, post paid, on receipt of price (50 cents a box), by addressing the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A Painful Accident.

This morning Mr. Joseph Phillips, bricklayer, Ashburnham, met with a painful accident while working on a building on Gilmour street. Some part of the scaffold on which he was working broke, and he was thrown violently to the ground, sustaining severe injuries, especially to the right side. After being picked up he did not seem much hurt, and started to walk home, but becoming faint after going a short distance he went into Mr. John Frazer's residence, Dowsle street, and a physician was at once sent for. It was found that Mr. Phillips had sustained some injury to the liver, and that it would be unwise to remove him at present. It is hoped that his injuries may not be more serious than now appear, and that in a few days he may be recovered.

Aunt Jack.

Opera House, Thursday, April 16th. The imperious, good-natured and susceptible spinster, whose breach of promise forms the principal theme of this amusing comedy, will instruct the barristers, wheedle the judge and captivate the jury, during the famous trial scene in the last act of Aunt Jack next Thursday evening. The New York World calls this one of the jolliest scenes witnessed on the stage of the Madison Square Theatre. From the time Aunt Jack enters the witness box she practically conducts her own case, and finally secures a triumphant verdict by singing the very song which was the ostensible cause of Col. Travenor's breaking off their engagement. The judge and jury have both been prepossessed in Aunt Jack's favor, and are so carried away by the spirit of the song that they unconsciously join in the chorus. The humour of the scene is infectious, and the audience themselves are often inclined to join the judge and jury, so that "His Lordship" is frequently obliged to warn everybody that he will commit them unless order is preserved. The company, under the auspices of H. M. Palmer and H. S. Taylor, is in every way fitted to present the comedy, and each member has been the recipient of highest praise from the press of the principal cities of the United States. Sale of seats open Saturday at Greatrex's drug store. 1d

The Busy Burglar.

A Big Haul of Norwood Hardware.

(Special by Telegram to the Examiner.)

NORWOOD, April 11th.—The hardware store of A. J. Fitzgerald, of this place, was broken into last night by burglars and goods to the value of $135 were carried off. The stolen goods consisted principally of jack knives, revolvers, watches and jewelry. Entrance was effected by removing a small pane of glass in a window at the rear of store. There is as yet no clue to the burglars.

Town Teachers Organize.

And Form an Association Among Themselves The Officers Elected.

A meeting of the secular school teachers of the town was held at the Collegiate Institute building this morning for the purpose of organizing a Town Teachers Association. There was a large attendance of teachers from the Collegiate Institute, the public and Separate schools and the Business College. Dr. Tilley, Inspector of Public Schools, acted as chairman and explained the objects of the association. It was proposed to establish. The association was especially for town teachers, though it might be well to leave the membership open to outside teachers as well. Furthermore, the association would not in any way interfere with the county association, but was intended rather to be a help to it.

The following officers were appointed:—

PRESIDENT—C Fessenden, M.A., Principal Collegiate Institute.

VICE-PRESIDENTS—Messrs. Wm. Smith and Wm. Brick, Principals of the Public and Separate schools.

SECRETARY—A. Blanchard, Peterborough Business College.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE—The above officers and Miss Nicholls, Miss Richardson, Miss Brand, Miss Beckett, Miss Lynch, Mr. Jeffers.

The committee was instructed to prepare a constitution and set of by-laws, and arrange the conditions of membership, etc., and report at the next meeting of the Association, which will be held the first Saturday in June.

After the business had been disposed of, a couple of papers were read and discussed. The meeting lasted till about noon.

Pedagogic Reciprocity.

Dr. Tilley Institutes Grade Conventions.

Dr. Tilley on Friday completed his periodical inspection of the town schools. He reports, generally, that the schools are in a flourishing condition, except in the matter of attendance, the sporadic crop of mumps and measles, producing a great diminution of attendance, but it may be very instructively pointed out, not to so great an extent in the North and South ward schools, where the Smead Dowd heating and ventilating system is in use. He also reports that the teachers are all working earnestly and that good results were noticeable in all the departments, and especially in writing, drawing, reading and arithmetic. In proportion for even more effective work, he has to this end introduced a new feature in pedagogic work, namely, grade conventions; that is the teachers in each grade from all the schools except the one selected for the grade convention, meeting in the room of the latter to witness the work, methods, and management of the teacher visited. Thus in turn each teacher has the opportunity of examining the working methods, and system of every other teacher, and each teacher appropriates and imparts to his own practice the lessons learned from the experience of the other teachers.

In accordance with this programme, on Wednesday afternoon the teachers of parts I and II of the first book, Miss Blackwell, Miss Peters and Miss Cameron, of the Central School, Miss McClelland and Miss McDonald, of the North Ward School, Miss Lock, Miss Martin and Miss Beaubien, of the South Ward, visited the rooms of Miss Aldridge and Miss Rutherford, of the West Ward School.

On Thursday afternoon the teachers of the II and III book classes, Mr McCreary and Miss Richardson, of the West ward, Mr. Walkie and Miss Beckett, of the North Ward, Miss Brand and Miss Sim, of the South Ward, visited the rooms of Miss Hall, Miss Davidson, Miss Jenkins, and Miss Perry, of the Central School.

On Friday afternoon the teachers of the IV book class, Mr. James Smith and Miss Nicholls of the Central visited Mr. Stirling's room in the South ward, Mr. Brick headmaster of the Separate school by invitation being also present. At the end each visit the teachers met and talked over the matter with the inspector who accompanied the visiting teachers.

It is proposed to make these reciprocal interchanges of experience two or three times during the year, and such a scholastic stock exchange cannot but be of reciprocal benefit to all concerned. The most successful teachers are those who are the apt learners, whether the lessons they appropriate are those learned from their own experience or those derived from the experience of others working in the same sphere of their callings.

Better Railway Connection.

The Link Between Peterborough and Bobcaygeon to be Built in the Near Future.

Wednesday evening a deputation comprising Mayor Stevenson, John Burnham, M.P., Messrs. E. H. D. Hall, R. S. Davidson, C. McGill and R. A. Morrow, and Mr. J. G. Macklin, chief engineer of the Midland Railway, went to Montreal, and the next day interviewed the General Manager of the Grand Trunk Railway, with the object of inducing the company to undertake the construction of a line between Peterborough and Bobcaygeon. The Witness of Thursday says:—

"This afternoon the party drove out to Point St. Charles, where they had a long interview with Mr. Seargeant on the subject. Upon enquiry there it was learned that nothing definite had been done, and that the talk was purely informal, with the object of leading up to a subsequent arrangement which would result in the building of the line. The distance between Peterborough and Bobcaygeon is about twenty miles. The district is well settled, and the people are very desirous of railway accommodation. Tentative efforts have already been made in this direction. It is understood that the Grand Trunk is favorable to the project, and that the line will be undertaken at no distant date."

In addition to this, it might be said that the deputation returned to Peterborough highly satisfied with the result of the negotiations. Mr Sargeant fell in with the views of the deputation, and instructed Mr. Mackin on the spot to begin surveys at once. It is intended to make surveys of three routes, from Lakefield and Chemong, and from a point near Fowler's Corners, the most feasible of which will be adopted. The building and management of the line was also discussed during the interview, which lasted over three hours, but the talk was purely informal. However, it is confidently hoped the line will be built in the near future. It would be of immense benefit to both Peterborough and Bobcaygeon. The country back of Bobcaygeon stands in need of just such a convenient market as Peterborough would become by the building of the line; and we want the business from the north to roll into the "hub."

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The Presbyterian church at Centreville has not got its permanent minister yet, but expect to in June.

What has happened your Billiieboro correspondent lately that we have not heard from him?

Miss Barrie and Miss Brundrette are visiting at Mr. John Deyell's, near Centreville. We wish them a pleasant visit.

Mr. James Lang, of Peterborough, is visiting his friends here.

Miss Crane has lately been visiting friends here, she is guest of Mrs. Ball, Cavan.

We learn that Mr. Robert Stewart, of Frazerville, is going to manage the celebrated stallion, "Young Parole," the property of Donaldson & Co., this season.

The monthly meeting of the Frazerville L.O.L No. 46, was held on Tuesday, the 7th inst. Quite a number of members were present.

The Centreville Sunday School was opened on Sunday, 12th of April.

Miss Hattie Laurie, of Port Hope, is visiting her friends here, and is the guest of Mrs. Andrew Goodfellow.

Miss Minnie Donaldson has arrived home after spending a pleasant time in Peterborough.

We notice in last week's edition that the Frazerville correspondent made some comments on my little item previously about the store. He must have misunderstood me. What I meant was the style and outside appearance of the building. The electric person must have meant lamp light or else the correspondent misunderstood him too, one or the other. The last remark "When Centreville grows as large as Frazerville it may then talk of improvements." Well I cannot see any difference only in buildings and situation. Centreville which is situated midway between Peterborough and Port Hope has a beautiful country around it; is not this a natural improvement good looking buildings, enterprising and industrious farmers on all sides of it. Is is not my intention to give Centreville more than is due or to say anything to injure Fraserville in the least, but I thought exaggerated statements were given and I could not help taking note of them.

SUDDENLY SUMMONED.

Sudden Deaths in Various Sections of Ontario.

ARTHUR, April 9.—Mrs. Hugh McTaggart of Arthur complained to her husband while working around the house of a pain in her heart, then a chill in her back. She sat down by the stove to warm herself, when her head fell forward on her breast, and before a doctor could be secured for her she was dead.

Drowned in a Railway Ditch.

SARNIA, April 9.—Daniel Carter, a resident of Point Edward, was last seen alive Monday evening, and was then considerably under the influence of liquor. It is supposed that he wandered out along the railway track by mistake for the way to his home, and that he stumbled off the track into the ditch and was unable, in his helpless condition, to extricate himself. Mr Leckie next morning found the dead body of Carter lying face downward in the ditch between the two tracks of the Y, the water at the spot being only two feet deep. Deceased was a man of about 65 years of age, an Englishman and a pensioner of the British army.

Death at the Journey's End.

BROCKVILLE, April 9.—Yesterday afternoon an old man named John Goodin, aged 82 years, was found dead in a boat at Jones Creek by some men who were fishing in that vicinity. After drawing the boat up on land he had taken off his coat and used it for a pillow. Monday afternoon he procured a boat at Lechapelle's boat works to row up the river and probably died on the way.

Burned to Death.

BARRIE, April 9.—Mrs. Feigner, living on the 11th con. West Gwillimbury, was standing near the stove when by some means her clothes caught fire, and when her son John Stephen, who had been from the house only a few minutes, came in he found her lying on the floor, apparently suffocated and badly burned. Dr. Stevenson was called in and did all he could to relieve the sufferer, who died next day.

Died in a Drug Store.

HAMILTON, April 9.—Harvey Crosthwaite, a well-known Barton villa farmer, walked into A. Rutherford's drug store yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock looking as well as usual, made a purchase and 15 minutes later his body was carried out in a coffin. Death resulted from heart disease.

Only Two Hours' Warning.

MINTO, April 9.—William, son of Robert Scott, town of Minto, attended school as usual, came home at night, assisted his father in feeding the stock and took his tea all right. Just before retiring for the night he complained of a pain in the bowels. Two hours later he was dead.

Dropped Dead While Preparing Tea.

WOOLER ISLAND, April 9.—Mrs. John Laughlin was busy preparing the tea when she suddenly grasped her left to the floor. A doctor was immediately summoned, but before he arrived she was a corpse. Her mother died of the same disease a week ago.

The Accommodating Stranger Again.

SMITH'S FALLS, April 10.—John Hughes of Dacre, Renfrew county, bailiff of the fifth division court, when on his way to Springtown passed a stranger walking on the road. Mr. Hughes spoke to him and the stranger said he would ride with him a piece and got into the rig. After a short time Hughes asked the stranger to hold the lines while he filled his pipe. While Hughes was engaged in filling his pipe the stranger gave him a sudden shove, upsetting him out of the sleigh and drove rapidly away. Horse and man are still missing.

Chinamen Sent Back.

DETROIT, April 10.—Long Ginn and Long Goon who a few days ago crossed from Windsor to Detroit were sent across the river with admonition not to return. They took the train this afternoon for Toronto. There is a suspicion that one of these men is engaged in the business of smuggling. Eight Chinamen have attempted to cross from Windsor during the past three days but have been prevented by the federal authorities.

Still in the Land of the Living.

FORT WAYNE, Mich., April 10.—The report telegraphed to Berlin, Ont., that the man Dunbrook, wanted for burglarizing a store at Berlin, had committed suicide at the Infantry barracks here by hanging himself in his cell is without foundation, as Dunbrook is still alive and as well and happy as his quarters in the guardhouse will allow.

The Imperial Authorities Consulted.

HALIFAX, April 10.—Hon. C. H. Tupper, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, telegraphs that the refusal of the Newfoundland Government to suspend the operation of the Bait Act against Canadian fishermen has been placed before the Imperial authorities.

Thousands of Lives Lost.

Poets and novelists go into ecstasies over what they romantically call "beautiful spring," and "gentle spring," and while, no doubt, everyone is glad to see winter release its icy grasp, "beautiful spring" is after all one of the most deadly seasons of the year. Sudden transitions from warmth to extreme cold, with piercing chilling winds; from dry to slippy, "muggy" weather, all combine to make the season a most trying one, even to the hardiest constitutions, while to those with weak constitutions the season is one of positive danger. Undoubtedly the greatest danger at this season of the year is from cold in the head, which very few escape, and which if not properly and thoroughly treated, develops into catarrh, with all its disagreeable and loathesome effects. Catarrh, neglected, almost as certainly developes into consumption, annually destroying thousands of lives. At this trying season no household should be without a bottle of Nasal Balm. In cases of cold in the head it gives almost instant relief and effects a speedy cure, thus preventing the development of catarrh. When the latter disease has already secured a hold it is equally efficacious, and with a persistent use will cure the worst case. From the outset it sweetens the breath, stops the nauseous droppings into the throat and lungs, dispels those dull headaches that afflict the sufferer from Catarrh. Nasal Balm is not advertised as a cure-all—it is an honest remedy, which never fails to cure cold in the head or catarrh when the directions are faithfully followed, and thousands throughout the country have reason to bless its discovery. Nasal Balm may be had from all dealers, or will be sent on receipt of price, (50 cents small, or $1 large size bottle) by addressing Fulford & Co., Brockville, Ont.

Personal.

Miss Nellie Nolan left on the C.P.R. train last evening for an extended visit to her parents in Grand Rapids, Michigan.

Messrs. E. H. D. Hall, R. S. Davidson, and C. McGill were in exile to-day. They missed their train connection at Port Hope this morning, on their way home from Montreal, and had to spend the day there until late in the afternoon.

The EXAMINER learns with regret that Mr. James Chalmers met with a painful accident last week. He fell down the stairs of his residence, and was severely bruised and shaken up, but fortunately no bones were broken. He was confined to his bed for several days, but is now able to move about the house. Mr. Chalmers' advanced age, 72—he being born in the same year as the Queen—made his accident the more serious.

"Every Spring,"

Says one of the best housewives in New England, "We feel the necessity of taking a good medicine to purify the blood, and we all take Hood's Sarsaparilla. It keeps the children free from humors, my husband says it gives him a good appetite, and for myself I am sure that I could not do all my work if it were not for this splendid medicine. It makes me feel strong and cheerful, and I am never troubled with headache or that tired feeling as I used to be."

Purity of the blood is the importance of having the blood in a pure condition is universally known, and yet there are very few people who have perfectly pure blood. The taint of scrofula, salt rheum, or other foul humor is hereditary and transmitted for generations, causing untold suffering, and we also accumulate poison and germs of disease from the air we breathe, the food we eat, or the water we drink. There is nothing more conclusively proven than the positive power of Hood's Sarsaparilla over all diseases of the blood. This medicine, when fairly tried, does expel every trace of scrofula or salt rheum, removes the taint which causes catarrh, neutralizes the acidity and cures rheumatism, drives out the germs of malaria, blood poisoning, etc. It also vitalizes and enriches the blood, thus overcoming that tired feeling, and building up the whole system. Thousands testify to the superiority of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier. Full information and statements of cures sent free.

A BAD HUMOR CURED.

$5,000 Expended on Testimonials and Medicine with small. Cures Almost Up to date.

Good Will Suggests Cuticura Remedies. Uses them 7 months, and is entirely Cured.

I was in the war during 1863-5, and took a heavy cold at Gettysburg, from which I never fully recovered. In 1875 I broke out in sores all over my body and limbs, which baffled description to cure. I tried all the famed doctors I could find, and to no avail. I expended some five thousand dollars trying to find a cure but could not, and finally giving myself up to die, my good wife suggested to me, one day, to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES, which were so extensively advertised and used. I followed her suggestion, and am happy to say that by diligent application of your CUTICURA REMEDIES for seven months I was entirely cured, after spending five years of time and money without avail, and am a sound and well man to-day. You may refer to me if you wish, as I will tell any one who may call on me my experience. C. L. PEARSALL,

CASH HARDWARE STORE.

On and after 1st April we shall do business on a Cash Basis.

To cover the inevitable losses attendant upon a credit business, which accrue from amount of time spent in keeping accounts, collecting, bad debts, interest account, and in numerous other ways, larger margins of profit must be asked.

In these times cash buyers ask, expect, and are entitled to close prices. A careful consideration of the subject convinces us that the time has come for a cash business done on smaller profits.

The only customers who may possibly be put to inconvenience are those who have had long credit. In more ways than one it will be to their advantage to pay cash.

For convenience of our old customers who consider their accounts due when presented, we will call 30 days cash and render all accounts the first of each month, and we wish to say that will be happy to do business with them on these terms.

As the new departure is something of an experiment, what would be considered a close cash price will be made all through the stock. Not a few leaders only, but a general reduction in everything from the fourth flat to the cellar.

Our idea is to perform more than promised rather than promise more than can be fulfilled.

Our stock is large and varied, consisting of Builders', Contractors', Household, Mechanics' Painters', Shoemakers', Farm, Mill, Factory, Lumbermen's, Sporting, Threshers', Cabinet-makers', and other lines of Hardware.

PASTOR AND PEOPLE.

REV. MR MUNRO OF ST. THOMAS SAYS FAREWELL.

An Immense Congregation Assemble Expecting Some Racy Developments, But They Are Disappointed—The Very Appropriate Text Which the Preacher Took

ST. THOMAS, April 12.—The interest in the Munro scandal, which had comparatively died out, was owing to two reasons suddenly awakened afresh yesterday, first by the publication of the whole affair in the newspapers; secondly, from the fact that the long-strained relations between pastor and people were to be finally severed by a farewell sermon this evening. It formed the only subject of gossip in all circles and amongst all classes to-day, and long before the hour of service this evening the church was packed with an eager and inquisitive congregation gathered from all churches in the city anxious and ready for any denouement that might take place. The text was selected from the concluding portion of the 13th chapter of II. Corinthians and its application to the whole situation was most apt.

These words, said the speaker, were the last words of the Apostle Paul to the Church at Corinth, that church at which he gained his greatest popularity and where he received the most cruel and trying treatment. He preached an able and an earnest sermon, concluding as follows: "In concluding not only this sermon, but my work in this building, though my silence may disappoint some, I refrain from speaking of much which has been hard to bear and will be sad to remember. I gladly turn from it to speak of my gratitude to the large number of the members of this church who have been so just and kind to me and who in spite of the sacrifices which it has compelled them to make and influences which they have had to resist have stood by me and sympathized with me in my great and sore affliction. May God bless and reward them as He alone can and as He surely will. I wish also to thank the many members of the congregation whose sense of right and justice has caused them to show me regard and kindness, which have done much to enable me to sustain what I have had to endure. Nor can I abstain from making mention of the many ladies and gentlemen of other denominations who by their personal visits and their communications have shown their steadfast confidence and deep sympathy. If some have compelled me to see human nature in its very worst others have exhibited it in its very best aspects, fulfilling the golden rule and illustrating the charity which rejoiceth not in iniquity, but rejoiceth in the truth. To you and to them from the very heart I say, in the words of my text: 'May the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.'" At the close a great many friends and admirers went forward and warmly shook hands with their departing pastor.

CHICAGO'S BIG FIRE.

The Haymarket Theatre and Other Buildings Destroyed The Loss Will Reach Fully One Million Dollars.

CHICAGO, April 12.—Chicago this evening suffered one of the most destructive conflagrations that has occurred here since the big fire of 1871. The loss is fully $1,000,000. John M. Smyth's house furnishing establishment in West Madison street, and Kohl & Middleton's dime museum were burned and the fire crossed the street and destroyed the building of the People's Clothing Co. Despite all efforts the buildings between Union-street and Haymarket block shared the fate of those across the street and were wiped out completely. In the Haymarket the fire was confined to the upper story, but the whole building was damaged.

It took 40 fire engines and nearly 300 firemen to bring the fire under subjection. Francis Gamble, who was struck by flying debris during the fire, died at the hospital to-night.

Gave Up Its Dead.

The proposal of the Hudson Bay Railway for a grant of $1,300,000, to be paid on completion of road within five years has been accepted by the Local Government.

Traded a Wife for Town Lots.

CAMBRIDGE CITY, Ind., April 12.—Miller and Cora Sherry, residents of Dublin, Ind., have dissolved their marriage relations, the husband accepting two unimproved town lots in that village in lieu of his wife's affections. The conditions in the deed are that he relinquish his entire interest in her and an agreement that she may have a divorce.

SHAMEIKIN CONFESSES.

THAT HE INTENDED TO KILL THE CZAR AND HIMSELF.

A Persuader in the Shape of a Galvanic Battery Has a Powerful Influence—Many Arrests Followed His Disclosures The Czarina Seriously Affected.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 12.—Shameikin, who was arrested for attempting to assassinate the Czar at a review, belongs to the Scaevoli Club of Kharkoff, the members of which are bound by oath to make continual efforts to murder the Czar. Most of the members have been arrested.

The Czarina is seriously affected by the news of the conspiracy against the life of the Czar, which has just been made known to her. She has been suffering great anxiety on account of her second son, the Grand Duke George, who was wrestling with his cousin, Prince George of Greece, and received serious injury to the spine. He is suffering from attacks of fever. He is at present on board the Russian war vessel Admiral Nakhimoff, in Algerian waters. On the advice of the doctors sent thither by the Czar, the intended removal of the Grand Duke to Corfu has been abandoned, and he will for the present remain where he is.

Shameikin, the would-be assassin of the Czar, has been induced to make a full confession to the police after, it is reported, two or three applications of a powerful battery, strong enough to inflict pain but not to destroy life. He will not be sentenced to death, or probably tried. The Czar exercises the authority, in special instances, of dispensing with the forms of trial for political crimes, and Shameikin will nominally be sent to Siberia. Russian exiles in London, however, smile in a ghastly way at the suggestion of any punishment as mild as Siberia for anyone who came so close to the actual murder of the Czar. They say that if he is kept alive now, it is probably only because he has not confessed enough, and that, if he survives the horrors of the prison, he will die under the knout. A Russian refugee named Sassanow has even gone so far as to suggest that Shameikin is probably being utilized for vivisection purposes in the new surgical institution recently opened with great display in St. Petersburg and in which vivisection is a specialty.

The police have succeeded in arresting a large number of Shameikin's fellow-conspirators, but two of the leaders are said to have made their escape into Roumania as soon as the capture of their principal leader was known. The incident of Shameikin's arrest was given to the public somewhat prematurely by the police, who were so proud of their achievement that they could not keep it quiet. It is thought improbable by those best informed as to Russian methods and affairs that any of the conspirators captured will again be heard of. It is stated that the Czar is determined to strike terror into those who are engaged in plots against his life, and that he is convinced that the fear of death itself is no deterrent. The police have ascertained that the globule found on Shamsikin contained a deadly poison sufficient to have killed him instantly after he had killed the Czar. The nature of the poison has not yet been developed, but its effect has been tested.

Bulgarian Assassins Caught.

SOFIA, April 12.—The Bulgarian authorities have paid a reward of 20,000 florins to a Bulgarian, whose name is carefully concealed from the public, for his services in detecting the murderers of M. Beltcheff, the Bulgarian Minister of Finance. It is believed that the assassins are now in the power of M. Stambouloff, the Prime Minister, whose life it is supposed the murderers were endeavoring to take when Beltcheff was shot and killed.

A Hand-Mirror Stops a Sermon.

BANGOR, Me., April 12.—While the Rev. F. E. Whitham of the First Methodist Church was delivering his sermon on Sunday morning a sudden flash of light athwart his eyes caused him to start. A moment later the phenomenon was repeated and then it became apparent that some mischievous person was amusing himself with a hand mirror. The interruption continued at short intervals, until finally the service had to be abandoned. Investigation traced the cause to a neighboring house and it was not long before a young man, member of a prominent family, was under arrest as the perpetrator. He was arraigned in court and sentenced to a short term of imprisonment and to pay a fine.

Dust Storm at Sea.

PHILADELPHIA, April 12.—The bark Payson Tucker, which put into the Delaware breakwater while bound from Cienfuegos to New York, had her decks covered with yellow powder in a storm on April 2 when off Body's Island, Virginia. At the time there was a light rain falling. A moderate breeze from the west covered the decks and rigging to a depth of a seventeenth of an inch. It is supposed to have been the pulverized soil of a southern state taken up by a whirlwind and carried aloft until landed on the Payson Tucker.

The Death List Was 515.

LONDON, April 11.—Up to date there have been recovered the bodies of 451 passengers of the steamer Utopia, which had 700 Italian immigrants and which on March 17 ran into the bow of the British ironclad Rodney in Gibraltar Bay and sank. There are still 64 victims to be accounted for.

NEW YORK, April 13.—The Anchor Line steamship Angela arrived here yesterday from Gibraltar, having on board 153 steerage and two saloon passengers of the steamship Utopia, which was lost off Gibraltar.

Cut His Throat in a Dream.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., April 12.—A man named Rexford, aged 33, eloped with a 13-year-old girl from the interior of Lewis county yesterday. The couple came to Parkersburg and passed the night. Rexford was discovered in bed this morning with his throat cut. It is claimed he dreamed he was in a fight and cut his adversary's throat. The couple were arrested.

Fire at Gananoque.

GANANOQUE, Ont., April 13.—Saturday the office of the custom house was discovered to be on fire. Contents of office totally destroyed. Loss on property small and covered by insurance.

An Illustration.

"What's reciprocity!" asked she,
He paused in thought as if to seek
A good reply, then gallantly
He bent and kissed her rosy cheek.

Starting like some poor frightened deer,
Her cheek aflame with sunset red,
She soundly boxed him on the ear—
"That's reciprocity," he said.

FED THEM TO DOGS.

HORRIBLE FATE OF BRITISH OFFICERS IN INDIA.

The Natives Hack Them to Pieces and Throw Them Over the Walls—Another Battle of Blackthorns—The Italian Embroglio. General Foreign News.

LONDON, April 13.—The latest advices from India concerning the massacre at Manipur are that Commissioner Quinton was decapitated and his body horribly hacked, the limbs being afterward thrown outside the city walls, where they were devoured by dogs. Two officers whose names are not given and a bugler were speared by the Kukis and Mr. Grimwood, the British political agent at Manipur, and two other officers were shot. The bodies of all the victims were brutally mutilated and afterwards thrown over the walls of the city, as in the case of the unfortunate commissioner. The remains of two officers who were killed during the fighting were treated in a similar manner. A large reward has been offered for the capture of the regent of Manipur.

The Natives Not Ill-used.

LONDON, April 12.—Capt. Boil, sr., a survivor of the massacre at Manipur, denies the stories in regard to British ill-usage of the natives. He asserts that the Manipuris fired first on the British.

To Save the Priests.

DUBLIN, April 11.—At the trial to-day of the Parnellites, charged with having disturbed a McCarthyite meeting, three priests, who were among the large number of persons arrested at Carrick-on-Shannon yesterday for refusing to appear as crown witnesses, were compelled to go on the witness stand. Two of the prisoners affirmed their innocence, but pleaded guilty in order to free the priests and were bound over to keep the peace for one year. The other prisoners were discharged.

John Daly's Courage May Set Him Free

DUBLIN, April 12.—John Daly, one of the Mayo dynamite conspirators, who is serving a life sentence in Mountjoy Prison, is in a fair way to obtain his freedom through saving to-day the life of Warder Fitzmaurice, whom a convict felled to the ground with a crowbar. Ere the Warder's assailant could finish his murderous task, he was, after a terrific struggle, reduced to submission by Daly.

A Seven Years' Struggle Ended.

DUBLIN, April 12.—The plan of campaign has collapsed on the Tower Hill estates in Limerick and Glensharold, the former purchasing the holdings under the Ashbourne Act, while the latter has reinstated evicted tenants on the payment of a single year's rent less 30 per centage. Thus a seven years' struggle is ended.

The tour of Lady Z-tland and party on Friday took them out of reach of telegraph. Starting from Deradia they traversed a bleak country to Cashel and Carna. At both places the party received a warm welcome, and addresses were presented to them.

DUBLIN, April 13.—Messrs. Tanner and Deasy (Nationalist members of parliament) spoke at Macroom to-day. A lively scene occurred at the meeting, the hootings of opponents of the speakers being drowned by the cheers of friends. Both factions fought fiercely. Blackthorns were used right and left and blood flowed freely. Many persons were seriously hurt. So great was the uproar that the speakers for the most part were unheard, even by those nearest the platform.

Foreign Money Markets.

LONDON, April 13.—Money was easy early in the week, but tightened on successive withdrawals of gold for Germany amounting to £450,000, together with £200,000 going on Monday. The last Bank of England returns of diminished reserve combined with the efflux of bullion abroad, renders an early advance of the bank rate exceedingly probable. Discount hardened during the week and was quoted at 2½ for 3 months and 2 for short. On the stock exchange business was more active and there was a higher range of prices in every department. The scarcity of stocks shown in the settlement just closed assisted in strengthening quotations and good advices from other bourses and the decided symptoms of a revival in New York helped to give a sense of general buoyancy.

France's Ambassador to Germany.

PARIS, April 12.—M. Herbette, the French Ambassador to Germany, has sent to M. Robert, French Minister of Foreign Affairs, a despatch full of misgivings as to the nature of the Ambassador's relations with the Berlin Foreign Office. M. Herbette says that Chancellor Von Caprivi treats him with formal politeness, while the German Emperor, who was formerly invariably affable in his manner, now speaks curtly and has shown positive ill-humor towards Freschmen whom M. Herbette has introduced at receptions. The news causes increased anxiety in Government circles here.

Murder Revealed After Forty Years.

LONDON, April 12.—An aged woman named Mary Ann Walsh, for several years an inmate of the workhouse at Ashton-Under-Lyne in Lancashire, died in that institution yesterday. Just before her death she confessed to having murdered her nephew in September, 1849, because she hated the child's mother, her sister. The records confirm the woman's story, so far as the violent death of the child is concerned.

Foreign Brevities.

The first consignment of samples of Chinese tobacco have been received by London brokers. China is desirous of competing in European markets.

Joseph Kukowski, director of the State Bank of Kulm, Prussia, has been sentenced to two years' imprisonment for misappropriating 60,000 marks of the bank's funds.

A syndicate of capitalists in Yokohama and Shanghai are purchasing iron mines in Japan, the development of which is said to promise great profits.

The coming contest for White Haven will be a sharp one. The borough is naturally a Liberal one, but has been kept in the Conservative camp by the popularity of Cavendish-Bentinck, just deceased.

A series of experiments with quick-fire guns has been made at Canet's great factory at Havre in the presence of French officers, a Russian commission headed by Col. Sanatsky and the Danish General Linnemann.

A tradesman named Beunswein, in Bernberg, Prussia, shot and killed his son and daughter last night, and killed his wife with a hatchet, mangling her body in a frightful manner. When the police arrived at the house they found Beunswein sleeping soundly surrounded by the corpses of his family. The tragedy is attributed to a sudden attack of insanity.

To be Given Every Possible Facility to Express Their Views.

LONDON, April 12.—At a Cabinet Council Saturday, after a long debate on the Newfoundland fisheries question, it was decided to give the delegates every possible facility to express their views before proceeding with Lord Knutsford's bill.

Australian Federation.

SYDNEY, N.S.W., April 12.—The Australian Federation Convention has resolved that the draft of the constitution which it has been considering be submitted to a popularly-elected convention in each Australian colony, and that if three of these colonial conventions approve the constitution the Imperial Government shall be asked to take steps for its establishment.

A Stable Boy Heir to An Earldom.

LIVERPOOL, April 12.—An heir to the Earldom of Millitown, whose claims are admittedly superior to those of the present holder of the title, has been discovered in the person of Robert Lesson, an ex-soldier and now employed as a laborer in a stable at Birkenhead. Lesson's case has been investigated by an eminent barrister, who has expressed his conviction that the stableman is the true earl.

THE ITALIAN QUESTION.

Report That Unless an Answer From Harrison is Forthcoming To-morrow, Italy Will Take Action.

ROME, April 12.—The principal topic of conversation to-day in political and official circles has been the report that unless the American Government made a very speedy reply to Premier Rudini's last note Minister Porter would be requested to leave Rome and the Italian Legation would be recalled from Washington.

Many of the newspapers gave it conspicuous prominence in their columns and asserted their belief that it was substantially correct. They say America is to be allowed until next Tuesday, April 14, to reply to the last Italian note. If by Tuesday no reply is forthcoming from Secretary Blaine, then, the papers declare, diplomatic communication between the two countries is to be wholly suspended. Many, therefore, who at first scouted the report are now inclined to think it may have some basis, while the believers in Italian self-assertion and a vigorous foreign policy are related.

The Opinione says: "The news from Washington is the subject of much comment. If Mr. Blaine is unable to make a categorical reply to Italy's simple and straightforward request, we can await the conclusion of such a silence serenely and without lamentations or threats. Public opinion, however, on both sides of the Atlantic, will hardly consider dignified such a painful admission of impotence."

WASHINGTON, April 12.—It is now a matter of positive knowledge that the Italian Government has not sent to this Government or any of its representatives a notification that a reply is expected to Marquis Rudini's note within any specified time. It is not customary in diplomacy for any nation to undertake to dictate the date of correspondence coming from another nation, and had Italy adopted this course it would certainly be regarded with umbrage by our own Government and would excite great surprise among the diplomats of other nations whose customs are regulated by unwritten but almost immutable law.

In high official circles here there has been no change in the opinion that the New Orleans matter is being manipulated in Italy to influence Italian politics. It is surmised that a brave show of indignant national feeling is being made, while there is in Rome a knowledge that Secretary Blaine's reply is near at hand, so that when it is made public the impression would be conveyed to the Italian popular mind that the United States had been overawed.

Justice Stephen's Successor.

LONDON, April 12.—Judge Collins has been appointed to succeed Justice Stephen in the High Court of Justice. There were several candidates. Judge Collins has the advantage of being an Irishman, though he belongs neither to the Parnellite nor to the anti-Parnellite faction, a circumstance which reminds forgetful persons that there is a third Ireland, entirely outside those two divisions. He is a Queen's Counsel, a bencher of his Inn, a member of the Bar Committee, a favorite with attorneys who have given him for years past large and lucrative business; and passes with both branches of the legal profession for being an able and sound lawyer, with none of that genius of which the public and the profession alike have a secret fear.

Water in Sahara.

PARIS, April 12.—A despatch from Oran says that an enormous reservoir of water, 120 feet below the surface, has been discovered at El-Golea, a small caravan station in the midst of the Sahara desert. The reservoir was discovered while a number of workmen were engaged in sinking a well at El-Golea. The shaft sunk already gives 40 gallons of good clear water per minute, and it is expected that this amount can readily be increased should it be found that a larger quantity is necessary. The discovery is of the highest importance and will undoubtedly tend to develop the caravan trade of El-Golea, which is one of the stopping places in the Sahara desert of caravans which travel across that region. This is the first time that water has been found at so slight a depth in the Sahara.

Bismarck Has a Sure Thing.

BERLIN, April 12.—The electoral contest at Geestemunde, where Prince Bismarck's candidacy for the Reichstag is opposed by candidates belonging to the Socialist and Progressist parties, has assumed the proportions of a great political event. The entire interest of the country centres in the result of next Wednesday, on which day the polling will take place. Prince Bismarck has definitely accepted the candidature on the assurance that he will receive a triumphant majority. The peasant vote will be given solidly to Prince Bismarck, as the champion of agricultural interests, besides his being the greatest living German, and he may be said to have a sure thing.

BERLIN, April 12.—Emperor William in a speech at the Marine Academy at Kiel said that the navy would have to assume the chief offensive role in the next war, and must endeavor to annihilate the enemy by a grand coup. The duties of the navy would resemble those of cavalry on shore. The next German military manœuvres, he said, would be conducted on the strategic principles of the English system, which alone resembles warfare.

Stranded on the Rocks.

LONDON, April 12.—The British steamer European, which sailed from London yesterday for New Orleans, is stranded on the rocks at Margate. She is in a precarious condition, lying with her broadside to the sea. A lifeboat and tugs have gone to her assistance. It is doubtful if she can be floated.

Death of a Toronto Alderman.

TORONTO, April 13.—Information reached the city yesterday of the very sudden death of Ald. George E. Gillespie in California. The deceased alderman left Toronto on March 19 last to join his wife, who had been wintering at Pasadena for her health, intending to return with her as soon as the weather moderated. He was stricken with grip and died in a few days. He was senior partner of the well-known wholesale firm of Gillespie, Ansley & Martin.

Sheriff Scarfe Dead.

BRANTFORD, April 13.—Sheriff Scarfe of Brant died last evening. He was stricken with an attack of grip about a year ago, from which he never fully recovered.

The Dissenters and the Queen.

LONDON, April 12.—Dissenters in all parts of the country are writing indignant protests to the newspapers against the refusal of Rev. Mr. Davis to offer the toast of the Queen. The substance of the letters is that nonconformists are not surpassed in loyalty by churchmen or any other religious denomination and that Mr. Davis represented only himself in his demonstration against the royal family.

Two Vacant Seats.

LONDON, April 12.—The death of two members of Parliament was announced to-day. One of them is Mr. Thomas Keay Tapling, a Conservative, who represented South Leicestershire. He was head of the firm of Tapling & Co., wholesale carpet and Manchester warehousemen. The other deceased member is Col. Charles Joseph Theophilus Hambro, also a Conservative, who sat for South Dorset. He was a magistrate and was prominent in Free Masonry.

To Be Prohibited.

VIENNA, April 11.—The Government has issued an order prohibiting the proposed manifestations on May day. The Government also refuses to grant a holiday on the first of May to the persons employed in the state factories.

AT

TURNBULL'S.

The styles this season are such a decided change, and unusually pretty, we want all to see them to the best advantage, and naturally to leave the impression that for decidedly new and cheap goods, Turnbull's is the right place to go for a large selection, since our store has been thoroughly renovated.

While passing through the store, even when not intending to buy, you are compelled to stop and price some of the articles on display.

Pretty print blouses from 50c. each, up to those of figured wool delaine at $1.75. Neat patterns in light prints, narrow, but warranted to wash, at 5c. a yard. Novelties in pearl bead frillings, at 5c. a frill. White embroidered apron lawns at 20c. a yard. Cream and white curtain nets, taped edge, at from 15 to 25c. a yard.

Fine Navy Serges for boys' wear, at 35 40 and 50c. a yard. Handsome patterns in Tweed at 50c. a yard. Nice Cream Damask Table Linen at 30c. a yard. Black and Red Brocade Flannelette just suitable for baby, at 15c. a yard. You pass the Dress Goods counter, but have to ask what that shimmering, shining material is that is hard to describe. Everybody falls in love with it, and no wonder. Manufacturers call it Glorosia.

On reaching the archway leading into the Simcoe street store, you are struck with amazement, and almost think you have got into midsummer, and begin to look around for the bumble bees and humming birds among the flowers. Some of the leading colors are the new Shades in Heliotrope and Lavender, French Gray, Buttercups and Black Combined. Most of the Bonnets are Small, Toque Shapes, flat, and trimmed at the back with pretty little Forget-Me-Not Flowers, Jewelled Ribbon and Lace to match. There is something very pretty for children in Leghorn Hats, trimmed with ruchings of silk and lace.

We have just received a choice lot of very pretty shapes in Hats and Bonnets; also the latest in Flowers from Glasgow. These styles will not be shown elsewhere.

MONDAY, APRIL 13, 1891.

THE Globe has the following to say in reference to the law respecting high school trustees: "Complaints have been made that the law disqualifying High School trustees from being members of Municipal Councils is practically evaded and its intention subverted by Public School trustees who are members of a Board of Education. The latter is a united High and Public School Board, and its members have all the powers of both Public and High School trustees. The law in question is founded on a well known principle, and it restrains members of the Councils from voting in favor of their own appointment to the school boards. It is equally mischievous as well as against the public interests that a member of the Council who is also elected to the Board of Education should have a voice as well as a vote in the appointment of the members of the High School section, and who will sit as his colleagues on the School Board. It could hardly be expected that a member thus appointed would act independently of the councillor to whom he owed his appointment. No one, therefore, who occupies a seat at the school board should be empowered to appoint his own friends to seats at that board, and thus be enabled to exercise an undue influence, and the members of Municipal Councils having been prevented from sitting on High School Boards directly, they should also be prohibited from being elected to the boards indirectly. This evasion of the Municipal Act is one of the evils pointed out by the Hon. Mr. Ross during the debate on the second reading of his High School Bill, and which it is intended to remedy. He explained also that the amendment he proposed was intended to more fully carry out the present law, which he said was being evaded, and as it is in the public interest we do not doubt it will be passed."

The Government and Reciprocity.

On February 2nd the Governor-General, on the advice of Sir John Macdonald and his colleagues, dissolved Parliament. The reason for dissolution was declared in the Government press after this manner:—"It is understood that the Dominion Government have, through Her Majesty's Government, made certain proposals to the United States for negotiations looking to an extension of our commerce with that country. These proposals have been submitted to the President for his consideration, and the Canadian Government is of the opinion that if the negotiations are to result in a treaty which must be ratified by the Parliament of Canada it is expedient that the Government should be able to deal with a Parliament fresh from the people rather than with a moribund House." On February 4th the Government again published an amplified version of this statement, in which it was said that the "Government sought a renewal of the reciprocity treaty of 1854 with modifications and extensions." These declarations were made in the face of the explicit statement made by Mr. Blaine on January 29th:—

"There are no negotiations whatever on foot for a reciprocity treaty with Canada: and you may be assured no such scheme for reciprocity with the Dominion confined to natural products will be entertained by this Government." The treaty of 1854 was a natural-products treaty; and the "modifications and extensions" referred to in the official explanation clearly did not refer to manufacturers, for the protected manufacturers, who stand most in dread of reciprocity, were the right wing and the left wing of the Tory forces in the campaign, and must have been assured that their monopoly was safe. The case therefore stood thus: the Government alleged as a reason for dissolution that they were trying to negotiate such a treaty as Mr. Blaine had expressly stated that he would not consent to, and such a treaty as Sir John Macdonald himself, in 1883, had declared to be an impossibility.

During the elections the Tory speakers in the coal regions of Nova Scotia as I thus coal would not be included in a reciprocity treaty; while from day to day the columns of the Empire and other Government organs were filled with articles depreciating the value of the American market for our agricultural products; in other words, pointing out that such a treaty as the Government had promised to obtain would be of no value. Still more marked was the manifesto issued by the Premier on April 7th, which from beginning to end contained no reference to the alleged reciprocity negotiations, but, on the contrary, laid great stress on the importance of maintaining the National Policy in its integrity. In the elections the Government, though sustained, suffered reverses which were unquestionably due to the strength of popular feeling in favor of reciprocity; and it was probably in recognition of this feeling, and for fear of further reverses, that nearly a month after the promised time commissioners started for Washington with the avowed object of negotiating a treaty. The history of this attempt is fresh in the minds of our readers. It shows, even accepting the explanations of the Government press, that there were no negotiations pending when Parliament was dissolved; that there was not a date fixed for negotiating; that there was so complete a lack of understanding between the two Governments that three commissioners and a statistician went to Washington with all the documents necessary for the presentation of the Canadian case and—immediately came home again, having accomplished nothing, and having found Mr Blaine quite unprepared to do business. The Government organs now say that the negotiations will begin in six months. For three commissioners (one high and two medium) and a statistician with statistics to travel to Washington and accomplish nothing more than "making a date" as the theatrical people say, is something new in the history of diplomacy. The fact is that not a single step has been taken in the direction of obtaining a reciprocity treaty; the Government organs do not claim that Mr. Blaine has done anything more than consent to listen to our commissioners, a courtesy which one Government would hardly refuse to another; and the conversation is not to begin until October 12th. In the meantime the obstacles to the negotiation of a treaty by the Conservative Government remain unmoved. On the one hand, the Government is bound by its connection with the protected manufacturers, not to do anything which may hurt their vested interests—one of them has gone so far as to call them "vested rights." On the other hand, we have Mr. Blaine's positive assurance that the Americans will not consent to a treaty which does not include manufactures, besides Sir John Macdonald's own declaration to the same effect, made in the session of 1888.

These facts should be studied in connection with the reasons alleged for the premature dissolution in February. That dissolution was a very serious matter. It involved the disfranchisement of a great body of electors, and the holding of the election just before instead of after the decennial redistribution of the constituencies. It could be justified only for very weighty reasons, and the reason alleged has been shown to be utterly insufficient. The Government might easily have ascertained from Mr. Blaine whether and at what time the American Government were prepared to begin negotiations. Had the date, October 12th, been then fixed the session of Parliament might have been held, the redistribution of seats might have taken place, fresh lists might have been made up and the elections held, and the Government might have set about their negotiations with a far more satisfactory "mandate of the people," as they styled it, than they now have. There was no occasion whatever for haste, and the Government stand convicted of forcing a premature dissolution for purely party reasons. What is of more present and practical importance is the fact that the whole course of the Government shows a disposition to trifle with the question, which is ominous of anything but the successful issue of their negotiations. They have talked reciprocity one day and talked restriction the next, as political exigencies dictated; and whether restriction or reciprocity shall finally prevail in their councils will depend on the question whether they most fear the stern vigilance of the protected manufacturers or the growing revolt among the farmers.

He Very Wisely Decided.

Two farms are offered for sale in a hay growing district, and a purchaser comes along and finds that both farms are of equal size, and the owners each ask the same price. The intending buyer learns, however, that A's farm farm yields from one to one and a half tons more to the acre than B's, and without further hesitation buys A's farm. Diamond Dyes, so justly celebrated, and so thoroughly tested, do double the work of any of the crude makes offered by some dealers, and are sold at the same price as the common goods. Can there be a doubt regarding the choice that the ladies will make when buying package dyes?

Fruit and Happiness.

We are apt to consider fruit as specially conducive to happiness, when we recall the Biblical account of Adam and Eve and their unfortunate experience with the apple. Nevertheless, fruit does promote happiness by acting as a laxative to the bowels, thus bringing about that healthy action of the stomach which drives away all symptoms of the blues and makes a person feel as though life were worth living after all. But what will do just as well are Beecham's Pills. They are a certain remedy for disordered liver, will tone up the weak stomach, stimulate the digestion, and drive away the sick-headache. w16 1d

A Pleasant Herb Drink—A Spring Medicine.

The druggists tell us that people call daily for the new cure for constipation and sick headache discovered by Dr. Silas Lane. It is said to be Oregon grape root (a great remedy in the far west for those complaints) combined with simple herbs, and is made for use by pouring on boiling water to draw out the strength. It sells for 50c. and $1 a package, and is called Lane's Family Medicine. dw

It Does Its Work.

Important and True.

No better evidence of the fact that Burdock Blood Bitters is certain remedy for all blood disorders can be asked than that of Mr. Geo. V. Thomas, druggist, of Hull, P. Q., whose wife was cured of cancer by B.B.B. The family doctor is certain that the disease was cancer and that it is now cured. 2w151

People Wonder

WHEN they find how rapidly health is restored by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The reason is that this preparation contains only the purest and most powerful alteratives and tonics. To thousands yearly it proves a veritable elixir of life.

Mrs. Jos. Lake, Brockway Centre, Mich., writes: "Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony. I was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an in my condition, my appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life, and I cannot thank you too much."

"We, the undersigned, citizens of Brockway Centre, Mich., hereby certify that the above statement, made by Mrs. Lake, is true in every particular and entitled to full credence."—O. P. Chamberlain, G. W. Waring, O. A. Wells, Druggist.

"My brother, in England, was, for a long time, unable to attend to his occupation, by reason of sores on his foot. I sent him Ayer's Almanac and the testimonials it contained induced him to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using it a little while, he was cured, and is now a well man, working in a sugar mill at Brisbane, Queensland, Australia."—A. Astewell, Sharbot Lake, Ontario.

Goughs' Grandest Go!

UNPARALLELED STROKE OF ENTERPRISE:—THEY CHARTER A SPECIAL SPRING POET.

During the past few months, GOUGH BROS. have been making Immense Improvements in their Shops, till now—in their Spring attire—they have the Nobbiest, Brightest, Neatest Establishment in the District.

Having laid in a Superb and Unrivalled Stock, they cast about for some special means to make it known to the public, and at enormous expense they captured a Genuine Genius in the Poetical line, whom they christened "Gough Bros. Special Spring Poet." They fitted up the office as a box-stall and turned the poet loose in it, and he proceeded to let himself loose in the following manner:

O, beauteous, sloppy, balmy spring,
You are a bright and welcome thing;
You bring us sunshine—check the mumps,
And make the people stir their stumps.
(To "stir their stumps" they must have boots,—
And Goughs have just the stock that suits.)
You clothe the world in garments new—
Your bright example Goughs pursue;
They deck their shop with brightest hues,

And give the public chance to choose
From 'mongst the biggest stock on earth—
In no department is their dearth—
From head to foot, from top to toe,
The great Goughs' lines of great goods go.
They've nobby tiles for brainy heads,
They've dandy boots for dainty treads;
They—they—they—

At this point a loud groaning was heard in the poet's lair, and a visit showed him tearing his hair, the very picture of despondent despair. He was in a state of collapse. He was sent to the hospital, and a sane man employed to make the simple statement that GOUGH BROS.' Superb Spring Stock of HATS and CAPS, BOOTS and SHOES, and CHOICE SPRING CLOTHING

ANNOUNCEMENT.

For some time past we have thought a strictly cash business in Flour, Feed and Provisions could be successfully carried on in Peterborough, and to test this question, we have purchased the above business from Mr. C. N. Brown who will still continue as manager in Flavelle's old stand, Simcoe street.

In order to be successful we intend to make it the interest of everyone to pay cash with order by selling at wholesale prices.

We will positively give no credit and cash customers will not have to keep up the losses made by others on the credit system.

We will keep a full supply of the very best quality of Flour, Feed, Chop, etc., and our customers need not fear that the quality of the goods will be lowered to make up for the reduction in price. We are simply giving them the benefit of the margin necessary to cover losses and interest charges incurred on the credit system.

THE HOP STEP AND JUMP

ONE OF THE PRETTIEST AND MOST DIFFICULT ATHLETIC FEATS.

Malcolm W. Ford Writes an Interesting Article on the Subject—The One Who Makes a Record Must Have Very Strong Leg Muscles.

The hop, step and jump is one of the prettiest as well as the hardest to perform of all jumping events practiced by the modern athlete. Its development in this country cannot be compared to the high standard it has reached in Great Britain. The main reason for this is on account of the poor quality of American turf, on which substance the game is best performed. Some of the grass in England and Ireland on which athletic games are held is centuries old. It is enduring, thick and springy. Its roots are interwoven to such an extent that the effect of jumping on it is similar to landing on a firm yet giving mesh of some kind. Forty-eight feet for a running hop, step and jump is more common in Ireland than forty-four feet is in America. The ground usually selected in this country for the game is ordinary dirt, for the grass is very little softer, and it is apt to be uneven. When the essential features of the game are considered, it will be seen how important soft and yet firm ground is to do a big performance. The event, whether done with a run or from a stand, consists in taking a hop, which means leaping and landing from and on the same foot. Then a step is taken, which necessitates the athlete landing on the foot opposite to the one with which he steps. The final part is a jump, which consists of leaping from the foot on which the athlete lands from the step, and eventually landing on both feet. To clear a distance of 48 feet, good divisions would be as follows: Hop, 16 feet; step, 13 feet; jump, 16 feet. The hop is the largest division, on account of having the benefit of all the momentum of the run. It can readily be imagined what a jar to the athlete it is to clear a distance of 16 feet and land on one foot on comparatively hard ground. In the running broad jump 23 feet has been cleared, but the athlete has dug up dirt in which to land. It is not so with the hop, step, and jump, and one who practices it must be in good condition, or his leg muscles will suffer.

A description of the hop, step and jump from a stand-still is first in order, for beginners should practice in this way before trying the game with a run. There is a great difference in the records between standing and running, the former being 39 feet 11 inches, and the latter 48 feet 3 inches. The illustration "Hopping from a Stand-still" represents Robert K. Pritchard, of the Manhattan Athletic Club, in the act of giving the first motion. Pritchard's best record is 39 feet 8½ inches, made in the same competition when J. W. Rich made the best record. It will be seen that Pritchard is standing on his right foot, and is maneuvering his other leg and arms as best he can to acquire some momentum for the hop. This hop will be only about seven feet, measured from toe to heel. His step will measure from heel to heel about eleven feet, and his jump from heel to heel a little short of twelve feet. In the middle of the step he will resemble the illustration "Taking the Step," although he was photographed here while doing the game with a run. The step in the illustration was about thirteen feet long in place of eleven feet, but the motion is the same in a stand as with a run.

The running hop, step and jump is more popular than the "standing," on account of its being harder and also more showy. A smooth, level stretch of turf, 150 feet long, is necessary. This allows about 100 feet for a run and fifty feet for the jumping. The take off, or mark from which the athlete takes the hop, consists of a joist five or six inches wide and three or four inches thick, sunk flush with the ground. The athlete as he springs puts his foot on top of this. On the side of the block toward the direction of the jump is a small ditch, six inches wide and three or four inches deep. This is to prevent the athlete toeing over, for before ground can be touched on this side of the mark the foot must be put over the edge of the wood so far that it will slip down in the ditch, and thereby spoil the jump, for no spring can be taken when the foot is in such a position. After one has become accustomed to this device he will not mind the miniature precipice which threatens sprained tendon and wrenched ankles, for he will be able to gauge his strides while running so accurately that the foot he hops with will be put squarely on the board take-off. The take-off must not be over six inches wide, or just enough to cover the front part of the jumper's foot. If it is wider, the spikes in the heel of the jumper's shoe will strike the wood and interfere with the jump. The six spikes in the sole, not being so long nor so sharp as those in the heel, make a tolerable even base for the leap, and on account of their number there is no tendency to their holding fast to the wood.

All athletes who have been proficient at the running hop, step and jump have on the hop cleared between sixteen and nineteen feet. Before they can land successfully on one foot and show sufficient strength to enable them to step right out for the step, the muscles of the leg doing all this work must be equal to the task. These muscles must not only counteract the downward tendency in landing from the hop, which is unusually severe, but they must also propel the athlete forward for the step. Referring to the divisions previously mentioned of a forty-eight foot hop, step and jump, a further explanation of how an athlete after hopping nineteen feet can only step thirteen feet, is that the hopping leg, having so much to do to prevent the athlete from sinking in the ground after the hop, has little strength left to push him further for another leap. Any one being unused to the game will, after taking a comparatively big hop, fall right to the ground with the other foot, his one leg being unable to keep him up in position to give a step. There is little jar on landing from the step, for the distance cleared is comparatively small. The athlete is able to gather himself well and give a fair sized jump, which, in a total distance of forty-eight feet, will be in the neighborhood of seventeen feet. When it is remembered that all this hopping, stepping and jumping is generally done on hard ground, it can easily be imagined what strong leg muscles those who have made records in the game must have.

The running hop, step, and jump in America has attracted great attention during the past summer and there has been an unparalleled series of record-breaking performances at it. At Boston, August 5, J. H. Clausen, of the Boston Athletic Association, cleared 44 feet 5 inches, breaking the best American amateur record. 44 feet 1¾ inches, which had stood since May, 1884. Eleven days after Clausen made his record, Henry M. Jewett, of the Detroit Athletic Club, cleared, in Detroit, 44 feet 8¼ inches. On September 25 the record went back to Boston, J. B. Connolly, of the Boston Athletic Association, clearing 44 feet 10¾ inches. On October 28 the record, although still remaining in Boston was transferred from that city's premier athletic organization to Harvard University by E. B. Bloss, a student, who cleared 44 feet 11¼ inches, where it now is. These four men differ very much in build. Clausen is a small, slender, wiry athletic, weighing 128 pounds. His successor, Jewett, is 6 feet 1 inch tall, and weighs, in athletic clothes, 170 pounds. Connolly is a medium-sized, compact man, standing 5 feet 8½ inches tall, and weighing 148 pounds in jumping trim. Bloss is 5 feet 6 inches tall, and weighs 140 pounds.

Another False Alarm.

The Assessment.

The assessors have about finished their labors and expect to report on Friday. Some of the wards are already complete, but the final summing up will occupy a few days yet As soon as the returns are complete the EXAMINER will give a synopsis of the town's progress during the year.

Peterborough Post Office.

The annual report of the Post Master General gives some interesting statistics regarding the Peterborough post office. The gross postal revenue was $14 616.26; total amount of money orders issued, $50 262 90; orders paid, $48,413 19; salary, $3,650; forward allowance, $300.

Church Extension.

The officers of the Charlotte street Methodist church are grappling with the question of church extension. The present accomodation is inadequate to the requirements of both the congregation and Sunday school, and steps are being taken to build an addition. Mr. Blackwell, architect, was this morning engaged to make plans for the proposed extension, which will be built at once.

The Coming Twelfth.

Active preparations are being made by the Orange bodies in the town for the celebration of the Twelfth of July at Peterborough this year. The monster demonstration of 1887 will be repeated on a larger scale. Invitations have been issued to all Orange lodges in the several counties surrounding this, and as Peterborough is a central point there is no doubt that the celebration here will be the largest in the district.

Among the Segars.

Military men are on the qui vive in anticipation of the commencement of the drill season and the visit of the Governor-General's Foot Guards on the Queen's birthday. On Saturday the ice was chopped out of the drill shed, and as soon as the ground dries up, probably within a week, drill will be begun. Some of the companies are already receiving their clothing. The officers of the Rangers are in correspondence with the officers of the G. G. F. G., and preparations are going forward for the reception of the visiting regiment on May 24th.

The Diamond Dusters.

At a meeting of the P.A.A.A. baseball club Saturday evening these officers were elected:—

PRESIDENT—W. J. Green.
VICE-PRESIDENT—
SECRETARY—D. McCabe.
CAPTAIN—Dr. Brennan.
COMMITTEE—F. Mercer, J. Daly and R. A. W. Hay.
DIRECTORS—Dr. Brennan and F. D. Mackay.

Practice will be begun as soon as possible, and the club expects this year to give a better account of itself than ever.

There is talk of several baseball clubs in town this year, the juniors being particularly active. It has been suggested that a junior baseball league be organized for the smaller clubs.

Women's Work in the Church of England.

The first annual meeting of the Women's Auxiliary since the amalgamation of that society with the Women's Aid was held in St. John's School House on Monday last, the 6th inst. The report showed that the membership had more than doubled in the last year, and that much work had been done for parochial and missionary objects, also a good financial standing had been secured. Encouraging reports were presented from the South Ward Division, Girls' Guild and the Mission Band in connection with the Auxiliary. The officers elected for the ensuing year were:

PRESIDENT—MRS. G. A. Smith.
VICE-PRESIDENTS—Mrs. Weller and Mrs. J. Best.
SECRETARY—Miss Wallis.
PARISHIAL SECRETARY—Mrs. G. Rubidge.
TREASURER—Miss Kirkpatrick.
PARISHIAL TREASURER—Miss M. Rubidge.

The Event of the Season.

The approaching ball at the Edison works is the topic of general discussion, and great public interest is manifested in the coming social event, which promises to be the largest and most brilliant of the kind ever held in Peterborough. The same energy and elaborateness of design which has marked the operations of the firm here, has been infused into the ball arrangements. What the Edison Company do they never do by halves, and the ball will be given on a large and generous scale. Mr. Martin, the managing engineer for the company, is being assisted by a citizens' committee. It is intended to make the ball a representative one and bring the Edison Company directly in touch with all classes of citizens. Preparations are being made for the reception and entertainment of 300 guests. The invitations will be out in a few days. Of course, it cannot be expected that everybody in town will be invited, and, accordingly, there will be a limit to the invitations. All merchants and business men, foremen of departments, etc., and their ladies, are to be invited. The music will be furnished by an orchestra from Toronto. Local men will cater to the guests. One of the galleries will be reserved as a dining room, leaving the entire main floor for dancing purposes.

A Gay Time at the Green Bush.

The matinee at the police court this morning attracted a large audience, whose curiosity was however not gratified, for the expected entertainment did not place. The only cases calendered were those against eight or ten young men, who were accused of disorderly conduct at the "Green Bush" last Wednesday night. The "Green Bush" is the colloquial title of a hotel or boarding house on George street, otherwise known as the "Stone Front," over which Mr. and Mrs. Henry preside. Last Wednesday night a dance was given at the Green Bush, which was said to be an "Irish Jubilee" of the most approved pattern. There was a large gathering of young men and maidens, and the merry makers kept up the amusement till the sun was not far below the rim of the earth. "On with the dance, let joy be unconfined," was the watchword, and "all went merry as a marriage bell," except for a slight variation of the harmony in the shape of a free fight. It is said one or two young men were roughly handled. The affair came to the ears of the police, and the participants were summoned to appear before the magistrate. The hearing was set down for this morning, but neither of the police magistrates nor Mayor Stevenson was available, and Mr. Chas. Cameron, Justice of the Peace, being impressed into service, simply enlarged the case till to-morrow at the request of the prosecution.

The Building By-law.

Spring building operations will soon begin, and that the public may not commit any unwitting breach of the law, for which they might afterwards have to suffer, Inspector Pope wishes to call attention to the following clauses of the building by-law:

That all buildings hereafter to be erected within the said Fire Limits for shops or stores, whether belonging to the one owner or otherwise, substantial walls of the thickness and of the material required for external or party walls shall be erected to separate each double shop or store from an adjoining shop or store, and to separate each pair of single shops or stores from any adjoining shop or store. In the case of any building hereafter to be erected, no wall then existing whether the same shall have previously been a party wall or an internal or external wall, shall be used as a party wall in the construction of such new building, unless such existing wall shall be, or be made of the material, thickness, height and description required for a party wall under this by-law, having reference to the distance the same shall be from the street. All brick work in all party or external walls of any building, hereafter to be erected, within the said Fire Limits, shall be properly bonded in every third course. No lumber shall be allowed to pass through any wall to be used as a party or dividing wall in any building hereafter to be erected within said Fire Limits.

A New Hotel.

Peterborough is already well supplied with hotels, but there appears to be room for more. Mr. Robert White the well-known liveryman, feels that there is need of a comfortable, home-like, and not too large public house, and has begun the erection of an hotel on his property on Charlotte street. Ground was broken to-day and the work will be pushed by Contractor T. Rutherford as rapidly as possible. The new building will be attached to Mr. White's present residence, in front of the livery stables, and the residence will be made a part of the hotel and another storey annexed, so that the building will be a uniform three storeys in height. The entire space between the house and Parker's dye works will be built up, a covered gang-way allowing ingress to the yard and stables. The new hotel will probably be known as the White House, and its proprietor intends that its furnishing and maintenance shall be on a par with its famous namesake at the American Capital. Mr. White will no doubt be successful in his new line of business. He has the experience to enable him to manage profitably a first class house such as he intends building.

Church Chimes.

Rev. Jos. Looke preached a sermon specially to young men at the George street church Sunday night. The sanctuary was crowded. The choir gave three anthems with fine effect.

The revival services will be continued in the George street church this week, when the whole congregation is invited to take part.

Change of License District.

Ashburnham Annexed to Peterborough for License Purposes.

An order in council has been issued by the Lieut.-Governor in council, transferring Ashburnham to the license district of West Peterborough for inspection purposes. Those engaged in the liquor business in the village will receive their licenses from the commissioners of West Peterborough instead of from those of the East.

The only difference this change represents to Ashburnham is that dealings in license matters will be had with the West, instead of the East Riding Commissioners. This change has been made at the urgent instance and request of those anxious to prevent the evasion of the law, especially in cases where liquor dealers are forbidden, according to the provisions of the license law, to give liquor to minors and habitual drunkards. Heretofore in such cases, though every hotel in town observed to the letter the notices served upon them, the parties, whom it is sought to protect had only to step across the river and obtain unrestrained access to drink and thus defeat the intention of the law. Now, Ashburnham being within the inspectorate of West Peterborough, the inspector who lives in town, has the whole of the hotels in town and Ashburnham under his eye. The best of results are expected from this change, with which all in sympathy with the enforcement of the law, and the protection it gives to those wives and children who are unfortunately connected with husbands and fathers in whom the degrading drink habit has effaced all sense of their responsibility towards their families.

Lindsay's Little Railway Enterprise.

An influential deputation from Victoria County waited upon the Attorney-General and Commissioner of Crown Lands on Friday to present the claims of the railway from Lindsay to Bracebridge to a subsidy from the Ontario Government. The following composed the deputation:—John A. Barron, M.P., North Victoria; Mr. Fairbairn, M.P., South Victoria; John Fell, M.P.P., Dr. McKay, M.P.P., Moreom Boyd, Bobcaygeon; Thomas Walters, Mayor of Lindsay; Reeve Bolsom of Bobcaygeon, Reeve Lithgow of Verulam, I. Jenkins, clerk of Verulam, Col. Deacon, John Macdonald, Deputy Reeve John Kelly of Verulam, Wm. Macdonnell, and Councillor J. L. Winters of Lindsay.

[This is regarded by those who know, as practically asking a subvention from the Ontario Government to build a line from Pontypool on the C. P. R. to Lindsay, etc. Now a much shorter route by which the people of the North could get communication with the great trunk lines at this front is to extend the Chemong Valley railway to Bobcaygeon and thus give the people of Bobcaygeon access to a better town. It is immaterial to us which railway gives Bobcaygeon connection with the outer world, but it matters greatly to Bobcaygeon whether it gets railway connection with leisurely Lindsay or progressive Peterborough. ED. EXAMINER.]

Peterborough Deputations.

Various Interests Represented by Representative Citizens.

Peterborough is pushing her interests this year by proxy in a very vigorous manner. Already several deputations have visited Toronto from Peterborough. More are to follow, and Ottawa will by no means be neglected. On Friday a deputation which waited upon the Government was made up of Messrs. C. J. Pusey, the president of the Irondale and Bancroft railway, J. B. McWilliams, of Peterborough, John Burnham, M. P., of Peterborough, E. Pearse, county clerk of Peterborough, W. Hopkins, of Lindsay, J. Lockhart Gordon, C. M. Rose and William Ince, of Toronto, Mayor Walters, and Lieut.-Col. Deacon, of Lindsay. The deputation was introduced by Mr. McKay (Victoria), and Mr. Blezard. Its purpose was one which has already been explained in these columns—to procure a bonus from the Government. For several years this matter has been pending. It is urged that without the railroad the new and undeveloped district north of Hastings, with its iron and phosphate deposits, will remain undeveloped for a long time to come. Several gentlemen of the deputation addressed the Government and made a strong argument for aid. Mr. Mowat promised the matter the best attention of himself and colleagues, and said that the Government would decide what course to take about the matter before long.

PETERBOROUGH'S VIGILANT HORATIO.

Mr. Blezard introduced another deputation consisting of Messrs. F. Elmhirst, the warden of Peterborough; John Burnham, M. P., who is reeve of Ashburnham; John Moloney reeve of Douro; M. Sanderson reeve of Smith; E. Pearse and John Belcher, the county clerk and the county engineer of Peterborough; A. McCauley, reeve of Belmont; George Stewart, reeve of Otonabee; and James Moore, reeve of Asphodel. These gentlemen came to Toronto to oppose the bill of Dr. Willoughby before the House, which enacts that counties shall maintain all bridges of 100 feet or more in length, built in lieu of boundary bridges. This bill has its origin in the petition for the united counties of Northumberland and Durham to the Assembly, praying that the County of Peterborough be made to pay its share of the cost of construction and maintenance of the bridge over the narrows of the River Trent. Another deputation was present from the County of Victoria in support of Dr. Willoughby's bill. If the bill becomes law the bridges at Bobcaygeon, Kinmount, and Pigeon Creek will be regarded as bridges constructed in lieu of boundary bridges, and the cost of maintaining them thrown on the counties of Victoria and Peterborough jointly.

Mr. Mowat promised that the representations of both deputations would be borne in mind by the Government

FROM HERE TO HUNTSVILLE.

The Montreal correspondent of the Globe contains the following further reference to the delegates that waited upon the General Manager of the Grand Trunk Railway on Wednesday last:

The Peterborough delegation that waited on Mr. L. J. Seargeant, general manager of the Grand Trunk Railway in regard to a proposed line from Peterborough to Huntsville were very favorably received, and expressed themselves satisfied with the result of the interview. From Peterborough to Huntsville is 95 miles, and between these two towns they propose building a railway. It would first strike Bobcaygeon, running out for five miles on the Midland line. From the latter place it would proceed to Kinmount, and from there to Huntsville, a town which is developing a large lumber trade. The townships through which it would pass contain rich deposits of iron, mica and phosphates. In applying for their charter they will ask for a right of way to Sudbury and the Sault. This line, if constructed, would open up the Parry Sound district and give the Sault traffic another outlet through Central Ontario. Their plans are in a crude state yet, but Mr. Seargeant gave them a very favorable hearing. It is not unlikely that the Grand Trunk may co-operate with them in the projected line. They also propose extending the line from Cobourg that new terminates at Harwood, on the south side of Rice Lake. At one time the lake was bridged and the track laid north from Harwood to Peterborough, a distance of eighteen miles. A few years ago ice destroyed the bridge and it was never replaced. The restoration of that section and the building of the line northwest would connect Huntsville and that section with a lake port. The promoters of the scheme expect to obtain their charter at the next session of Parliament.

The Manufacture of Confectionery.

To be Begun in Peterborough on a Large Scale—A New Industry for the Town.

Our town councillors are never slow to grasp every opportunity to advance Peterborough's interests, and by bringing industries to town are constantly increasing our resources and prosperity. The latest addition to our manufacturing interests is the confectionery works of Reid, Gilmour & Co., now of Brockville. Mr. Reid, the practical man of the firm, is in town, and on Saturday night negotiations were closed with the manufacturer's committee for the removal of the works to Peterborough. Mr. Reid has been manufacturing in Brockville for a long time, and has succeeded. He will have associated with him in Peterborough Mr. Gilmour, a business man of Brockville. The firm will remove the business to Peterborough, and begin the manufacture of confectionery in the premises on Simcoe street near the Lock works, formerly occupied by Mr. W. J. Munro. These premises will not be sufficient for the firm however, and another building similar to the one now standing will be erected alongside it as soon as possible. The contract for the brick has already been given. It will of course be two or three months before this work is completed. When the premises are ready Reid, Gilmour & Co., will begin operations with a staff of 20 or 30 hands which they promise to double in a year. They will manufacture all kinds of candy and confectionery, and biscuits, etc., as well. There is considered to be good prospects ahead of this industry. There is room for a confectionery manufactory in this district, and Mr. Reid is spoken of as a capable and experienced man.

The Manufacturers' Committee of the town council met Saturday night. There were present Mayor Stevenson, councillors Cahill, Davidson, Kelly, R. H. D. Hall, Bradburn, Dawson, Meldrum, Langford and Dennistoun. Mr. Reid was present, and terms were readily come to. The firm gets exemption from taxes for a term of years. This is not a heavy bonus to give, and the councillors think they have got a good thing very reasonably. Reid, Gilmour & Co. will never regret moving to Peterborough. Our town offers what is better than a cash bonus—unrivalled facilities, a central situation and good market.

Peterborough Railway Extension.

The Visit of the Delegation to the Grand Trunk—The Montreal "Witness" Publishes an Interview.

The Montreal Witness of Saturday says: Messrs. McGill and Davidson, two members of the Peterborough delegation to the Grand Trunk yesterday, were interviewed to-day by a Witness representative in relation to the scheme which they laid before Mr. Seargeant, the general manager.

In the delegation were the federal and local members for Peterborough, and Mr. Burnham and Mr. Davidson—"the latter," said Mr. McGill, "wealthy enough to build the line themselves."

The delegation, then, is composed of capitalists who, though they have taken out a charter, do not want to run a railway. They want, Mr. Davidson said, to benefit Peterborough primarily by the construction of a line northward from that city to Huntsville, a distance of 95 miles. That satisfies the ambition of the delegation for the moment; but Sudbury is really their final objective point. The proposed line will strike Bobcaygeon and then go on to Kinmount. This is a distance of 43 miles. This country is rich in minerals. There is wealth in it, and the way to get it is to build a railway. Then the line will cross the Irondale track and the Victoria line, and reach Huntsville. The country to be traversed is exceedingly rich in phosphates, mica, lead and copper. 'There's millions in it,"—if that delegation had a railway. Subsidiary to this is the completion of the road from Harwood to Peterborough, but that is a matter with which the Cobourg people may be supposed to specially interest themselves. Peterborough having several outlets to the lake. Sir Joseph Hickson tackled this subject before he retired from the management of the Grand Trunk. There was no committal of the company, but there was a promise of considering the subject.

"What did Mr. Seargeant think of the matter?"

"He thought so favourably of it," said Mr. McGill, "that he has ordered the route to be surveyed. He spoke most encouragingly, and evidently regards the prospects as promising."

"Were you enabled to offer a subsidy?"

"No; we did not come immediately from the people. This is a private corporation."

"If one of your number is able to build the line himself, why do you come to the Grand Trunk?"

"Because the Grand Trunk has large interests in the district; because we don't want to run a line ourselves; because the prospect of development is such that the Grand Trunk would be recouped for its outlay."

"What about the Parry Sound district?" Mr. McGill was asked.

"The Parry Sound district is a splendid country, exceedingly rich in minerals, and just waits development. The Grand Trunk has already a charter to Sudbury. By the construction of the line we propose a hundred miles would be saved. There is no doubt but that a second line is needed, and that it will be built through this country."

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The Saturday night's meeting was well attended, and many of the young men took part in the praise and promise service, which was uplifting and strengthening. Oh! that more of our young men would be wise and attend this helpful service.

Notwithstanding the inclement weather the consecration service Sabbath morning was a time of blessing and profit to us all.

The personal purity meeting yesterday afternoon was fairly attended, but those present felt the power of the Holy Spirit, and resolved to live pure lives, because "Thou God seest me."

Foreign Yankees.

The analysis of the registration in Chicago, where voters are required to declare their place of birth when registering, is of interest at the present time. Out of 172 353 voters who registered last fall, 81,172 were native American whites and 3,141 native negroes. Of the 88,061 foreign born voters 32,964 were Germans. Add to these 1,410 Australians and 822 Swiss, and the total German-speaking element is represented by 34 996 voters out of 172 353, or about 20 per cent. of the whole. The Irish born voters number 19,334; the English, Welsh, and Scotch, 7,384, and the Canadians 4,345. The Scandinavians, Swedes, Norwegians, and Danes together were 9,706 strong. There were 3,444 Bohemians registered, and 2,773 Poles.

Makes the Weak Strong

The marked benefit which people in run down or weakened state of health derive from Hood's Sarsaparilla, conclusively proves the claim that this medicine "makes the weak strong." CASH HARDWARE STORE.

On and after 1st April we shall do business on a Cash Basis.

To cover the inevitable losses attendant upon a credit business, which accrue from amount of time spent in keeping accounts, collecting, bad debts, interest account, and an numerous other ways, larger margins of profit must be asked.

In these times cash buyers ask, expect, and are entitled to close prices. A careful consideration of the subject convinces us that the time has come for a cash business done on smaller profits.

The only customers who may possibly be put to inconvenience are those who have had long credit. In more ways than one it will be to their advantage to pay cash.

For convenience of our old customers who consider their accounts due when presented, we will call 30 days cash and render all accounts the first of each month, and we wish to say that will be happy to do business with them on those terms.

As the new departure is something of an experiment, what would be considered a close cash price will be made all through the stock. Not a few leaders only, but a general reduction in everything from the fourth fist to the cellar.

Our idea is to perform more than promised rather than promise more than can be fulfilled.

Our stock is large and varied, consisting of Builders', Contractors', Household, Mechanics', Painters', Shoemakers', Farm, Mill, Factory, Lumbermen's, Sporting, Threshers', Cabinet-makers', and other lines of Hardware.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

THE NEW MINING REGULATIONS DEFINED.

Nickel Lands Will Cost $5 an Acre and Mines Will Have to Pay 3 Per Cent. Royalty—Prospectors Given a Chance.

TORONTO, April 14.—Mr. Marter's motion in the Assembly yesterday for a return of particulars of the Parry Sound election brought out a fact which is not generally known regarding these unorganized districts. They have no voters' lists.

Mr. Mowat agreed that these unorganized districts should have a voters' list if it could be done without entailing greater evils than at present. As for the irregularities complained of, Mr. Mowat treated them lightly, remarking some irregularities were inevitable.

The bills respecting the new mining regulations, of which Mr. Hardy gave a general explanation a few days ago, have been printed. The bill to amend the General Mining Act provides that after the passing of the act the price of all Crown lands sold as mining lands in Algoma, Thunder Bay, Rainy River and that part of the district of Nipissing north of French River, Lake Nipissing and Mattawa River shall be $5 an acre. The price of other Crown lands sold as mining lands shall be $3 an acre. Any locality shown to be rich in minerals the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council may set apart and fix the price at any greater sum than that before mentioned or he may temporarily withdraw from sale. The grantee and owner of any mining location shall expend in actual mining operations $3 an acre during the first 10 years after the issue of the patent if the grant exceeds 160 acres, or $5 an acre during the first 10 years if the grant is 160 acres or less. In default of such expenditure the lands revert to the crown. All ores and minerals mined shall be subject to a royalty for the use of the Province of 3 per cent. on silver, nickel or nickel and copper and 2 per cent. on iron. All royalties shall be calculated upon the value of the ores at the pit's mouth. Ores taken for experimental purposes shall be free from royalty. Instead of granting any mining lands in fee simple they may be leased for a term of 10 years with the right of renewal. The rental for the first year shall be $1 an acre and thereafter 25 cents an acre per annum. The bill respecting mining claims is much the same as the one introduced last year. Any person having discovered a mineral deposit may obtain a mining claim for 80 or 40 acres by marking out the land and filing an affidavit before the local agent. The certificate of the agent shall authorize the claimant to enter into possession for 6 months, and during that term or within 30 days after to become possessor or lessee, provided that $150 or $300 worth of work has been done. If the work of development is not commenced within a month and continued the rights of the claimant shall cease. No person shall be entitled to hold more than one staked-off claim, or a joint stock company more than two staked-off claims.

ITALY AND THE DREIBUND.

How the Powers Will Stand in the Event of War.

ROME, April 13.—Premier di Rudini, in an interview to-day in regard to the Dreibund, held that the renewal of the triple alliance was of secondary importance as compared with a constant agreement with England. On many occasions he said the policy of the Dreibund harmonized perfectly with British ideas, yet Lord Salisbury, for special reasons, had never adhered to the Dreibund treaty. Italy's renewal of her contract with the alliance depended on the general situation in Europe, which was now changing every day. It was difficult to imagine that England and Italy would remain passive while war was being waged by Russia and France against Germany and Austria. Even if the Dreibund did not exist Italy might find it entirely to her interest to range herself on the side of Great Britain. Should Russia refrain from interfering in the affairs of the other powers, thus securing the absolute neutrality of Great Britain, Italy would not act except under the contingencies provided for in the Dreibund convention. If Austria attacked Russia or Germany declared war with France that action would not imply that Italy was to join in the movement. By the terms of the contract she was entitled to act as a neutral nation and to remain so. The case was different if any one of the contracting powers was made the object of the attack. Premier di Rudini declared he was convinced that France, despite her excessive armaments, would never alone wage a war of aggression while the Dreibund continued to act as the safeguard of Europe. In view of the prevailing temper in France it was perfectly idle to discuss the question of a dissolution of the Dreibund. Neither Austria nor Germany dreamed of making an attack.

Still Regarded as Absurd.

NEW YORK, April 13.—A Washington special to The Post says: "The letter from Secretary Elaine to Premier Rudini has not yet been sent, according to the best advices from the Department of State. The appearance of things at the Department is somewhat less tranquil than on Saturday, though the idea of hostilities is still poohpoohed as absurd."

The almost universal impression prevails in Germany that war is near at hand and no official assurances can remove the impression.

The manufacture of arms in France for the Russian army is being hastened and the Russian forces will soon be completely equipped.

RIOTING IN BRADFORD.

MINERS INJURED BY POLICE AND MILITARY

In a Fight in Which 10,000 Yorkshire Weavers Took Part—Many Seriously Wounded by Batons and Stones—Large Number of Arrests.

LONDON, April 13.—Ten thousand of the striking weavers at Bradford assembled there to-day for the purpose of protesting against the action of the municipal authorities in forbidding the meeting which the strikers had arranged for yesterday. The police tried to disperse the gathering, but their repeated charges on the crowd proved futile. Finally the authorities determined to take decisive action and after the strikers had for the last time been ordered to disperse and had refused, the riot act was read and the military were summoned. The soldiers joined the police and a combined charge was made upon the strikers. A fierce struggle ensued, but the strikers were compelled to retreat before the bayonets and batons. The police used their batons freely and many strikers were injured. Several of the police were also hurt. The authorities arrested seven ringleaders.

The streets of Bradford were in a ferment throughout the afternoon. At 6 o'clock the crowd grew rapidly despite the police efforts to disperse it. The police were met with showers of stones, which, however, inflicted only slight injuries. The constables' summoning of the military was the signal for a regular riot. Windows were smashed, lamps were extinguished and an organized rush was made to break the police ranks and capture the place of meeting. This effort, however, was ineffectual. The throwing of stones continued and the military provided with blank and ball cartridges appeared at 9 o'clock. A score of arrests were made. All the prisoners had gashes on their heads from stones or police batons and many police were injured, but no one had bayonet wounds. The rioters were dispersed with difficulty by incessant marching and counter marching on the roads converging at Town Hall-square. Detective Martindale received six cuts on the head and his horse was killed under him by a stab. Local opinion in regard to the dispute is divided. Citizens admit the square is a dangerous place for public meetings, but think the action of the authorities was injudicious and that the question ought to be tested in the courts.

Strike at Sheffield.

SHEFFIELD, April 13.—The employes of Wostenholm's cutlery works have struck against a reduction of 5 per cent. in wages. The reduction is due to the loss of American trade in consequence of the operation of the new American tariff law. This is regarded as a test case for the whole trade.

A ST. THOMAS SUICIDE.

The Assistant Trainmaster of the M.C.R. Blows out His Brains.

ST. THOMAS, April 13.—Chester J. Weir, assistant trainmaster on the Michigan Central, committed suicide this morning by shooting himself. He had been attending to his usual duties during the night, returned to his home in Wellington-street about 11 a.m., and committed the fatal act about half an hour later. He leaves a wife and one boy aged 10 years. Mr Weir has been suffering from an attack of quinsy lately, and it is supposed the disease left him weak and despondent.

ENDED HER LIFE.

A Crazy Girl Rises From Her Bed and Walks Into the Thames.

THAMESVILLE, April 13.—Miss Christie Symington, aged 30, of unsound mind, living with her aged mother about 5 miles from here, left her bed, dressed herself and unnoticed left the house about 2 o'clock Sunday morning. Her tracks were found leading into the River Thames. The river is being dragged for the body.

The Newfoundland Bait Question.

HALIFAX, April 13.—In the House of Assembly to-day a motion was passed embodying the hope that, pending a settlement of the questions in dispute between Newfoundland and the Mother Country, the Government of Newfoundland may be willing to relax its present regulations and permit the procuring of bait by the fishermen of this country on fair and reasonable terms.

Lost a Limb.

HAMILTON, April 13.—A train hand named Martin Foley, belonging to Hamilton, had his left leg badly mangled while working on the Grand Trunk Railway at Port Credit to-day. He was brought here and taken to the city hospital, where the injured limb was amputated.

Liquor Dealers' Vengeance.

BURLINGTON, Ia., April 13.—An open revolt against the prohibitory law occurred here to-day. Constable Green with three deputies began to search the place of one Herselberg. Before he had finished reading his warrant he was surrounded by 40 well-known liquor dealers, who gave him a terrible beating. Green's skull was fractured, his nose broken and one eye nearly destroyed.

Indians Murdering Settlers.

BLACKFOOT, Idaho, April 13.—Great excitement was caused here to-day by the discovery that Indians had killed two unknown white immigrants camped at a water tank one mile from here. Nothing could be learned as to the cause of the tragedy. The men were found dead and a number of Indians were seen taking to the hills. An uprising is feared.

On the High Road to Bankruptcy.

PARIS, April 13.—Apropos of the future increase of the effective of the French army and of the Minister of War's demand on the Budget Committee of the Chamber of Deputies for further appropriations, Senator Barthelemy St. Hilaire, Ex-Minister of Foreign Affairs, said to-day that if becomes more and more evident that France is on the high road to bankruptcy.

Drowned in a Pond.

HALIFAX, April 13.—A 7-year-old son of J. Moore, an employe of the Nova Scotia sugar refinery, was drowned in a pond in Mulgrave Park, Richmond, this evening. A companion with whom he had been playing picked up his hat near the pond and gave the alarm when his dead body was found in the water.

Loans on Favorable Terms.

Owners of central properties can obtain loans at lowest rates by applying to Mr. Troy at Ontario Mutual Life office, 28 Church-street.

COLLIERY EXPLOSION.

ALL BUT TWO OF THE MINERS WERE KILLED.

A Staffordshire Horror—The Man who was Responsible for the Disaster Found with a Coil of Fuse in His Hand—Particulars of the Disaster.

LONDON, April 13.—A terrible explosion took place about 9.45 o'clock last night at the Gladderhill Mine, belonging to the Midland Coal, Coke and Iron Company at Chesterton. The disastrous character of the explosion may be judged by the fact that out of twelve men in the workings at the time only two have escaped with their lives. The Gladderhill Pit is an old mine, one or two of the seams of which are worked out. The explosion itself occurred in the lowest seam, viz., the Bullhurst. This seam is of an exceedingly fiery nature, and most of the great explosions which have taken place in North Staffordshire have originated in this particular stratum. The mine is connected with the famous Burley Pit, where many serious explosions have taken place in years gone by. The mouth of the latter mine is only about 100 yards away and on the same embankment. Work at the Gladderhill Pit, as in many other pits throughout North Staffordshire, has been very slack. Had the disaster occurred when work was in full swing the death-roll would in all probability have been very heavy indeed. In ordinary times fully 250 men are engaged beneath the surface in coal getting and the necessary collateral labor. Very few men were about the colliery. It appears the scene of the explosion is in the top heading, and in a down thirling, which is about four yards down. This thirling was being driven down by a man named Sampson Knight, who, it appears, had done his cutting, and it is thought his shot must have caused the explosion. The shot had not got the coal, but it blew out the ramming. The fireman, Warburton, was found with a coil of fuse in his hand. All the persons killed would have been out of the pit in a very few minutes, as some had done, and were already dressed. The number killed is ten.

THEY WILL BE HEARD.

Newfoundland Delegates to Appeal in Person to Parliament.

LONDON, April 13.—The Times believes the Newfoundland delegates will be allowed to appeal at the bar in Parliament, but it is hardly likely they will be able to change the Government's intentions in regard to the alleged grievances in connection with the convention with the United States. The Times thinks it would be wise for Newfoundland to make friends with Canada and amalgamate the interests of the provinces. It says possibly a convention between Canada and the United States, for the conclusion of which there seems a fair chance next autumn, will contain clauses of sufficient value to Newfoundland to be a balm for all wounds.

A Wounded Man Eaten by Wolves.

DETROIT, April 13.—James Brophy, who arrived here to-day from Mullet Lake, Cheboygan County, tells a horrible story of a man being eaten by wolves. He says that James and John Gillespie were chopping wood about 3 miles from Mullet yesterday, when James, the older, cut a big gash in his leg. John attempted to carry him to the settlement, but could not on account of the deep snow. He made James as comfortable as he could and came to Mullet Lake alone to get him.

A party started out to bring James in, but on reaching the spot where he had been left, found a pack of wolves fighting over a lot of bones, all that remained of him. They chased the wolves away with axes and brought the few bones back to Mullet Lake.

A Postmaster's $400 Well Cooked.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 13.—Several months ago the postoffice at Seward, Oklahoma, was robbed. There being no safe convenient, the postmaster after that put his stamps and money in the oven of his cook stove. Yesterday he built a fire in a hurry and forgot to take the treasure out. When he thought of them the oven was red-hot and stamps and paper money were all gone. His loss was over $400.

Negotiated the Loan.

MONTREAL, April 13.—The news comes to-day by way of Quebec that Premier Mercier and Mr. Shehyn have succeeded in making the preliminary arrangements for the new provincial loan of $10,000,000. The bankers are said to be French, German and Dutch houses.

Ned Hanlan's Shell with the Long Nam

TORONTO, April 13. — It begins to appear that American scullers are uniformly afraid to meet Champion William O'Connor. His broad challenge has been left unanswered and several were hurled at him in return. These were scarcely serious documents. Now Gaudaur and McKay declare that they want to row O'Connor and his partner a double scull race. It is just likely that Hanlan will step in the boat and the ambitious pair will be accommodated.

Warm has just completed a new shell for Hanlan, which is warranted to be one of the fastest boats in Toronto. There is nothing unusual about its appearance except the name painted on its bow. Notwithstanding its ponderosity Ned decided on christening it "Woolloomooloo," after a Sydney bay, and does not expect a loss of speed.

Five Boys Drowned.

ST. LOUIS, April 13.—This afternoon a boat with 12 young men started from the Missouri side of the river to cross to East St. Louis. When about three-quarters of the way across the boat ran into an eddy and was capsized. Five of the boys were drowned.

Incendiary Fire at Strathroy.

STRATHROY, April 13.—This morning a destructive fire caused by an incendiary occurred here. The losses and insurances: Mrs. B. F. Stevens' fancy goods stock $8000, insured for $5000; F. W. Meek, druggist and stationer, stock considerably damaged, insured for $4500; W. C. Moore, owner of building, insured for $3000; B. A. Case, tailor, total loss, no insurance; Misses McCandless, dressmakers, total loss, no insurance; John Barry, grocer, damage by water, covered by insurance; J. G. Raymond, damage by water, covered by insurance.

Took the Church Funds With Him.

ST. CATHARINES, April 13.—Palmer Stevenson, the Caistor township councillor, who recently deserted his wife and family and eloped with the widow Merritt, owes $7000. Before leaving he mortgaged his farm for its full value—$7000—and quietly sold off as much of the stock and implements as possible. Palmer was treasurer of the Methodist Church of the township. The congregation now mourns the loss of $70 of the church funds, which went with the treasurer and the widow.

Preacher Balfour's Crime.

LONDON, April 13.—Frederick Balfour, the standard-bearer of the main body of the Salvation Army, and who has been regarded as one of the most persistent preachers and morbid moralists in the force, was on Saturday sentenced to two years' imprisonment for wronging the 15-year-old daughter of one of the privates in the same detachment.

The Trial Postponed.

CAYUGA, April 13.—Joseph Locis, the Italian who was taken from the Hamilton asylum to Cayuga to be tried for murder and arson, was remanded until next assizes, because several of the witnesses have gone to the States. The crown prosecutor did not wish to proceed without them, as the evidence against Locis is circumstantial.

Found Dead in Bed.

WROXETER, Ont., April 12.—Robert Montgomery, aged 68, one of the oldest settlers of this section, was found dead in bed yesterday.

SUING HER ABDUCTORS.

A Perfectly Sane Girl Forcibly Taken to an Asylum.

CHICAGO, April 13.—A sensational suit for $25,000 damages for false imprisonment was begun in the Superior Court this morning by Miss Anna D. Munson, a well-known South Side society girl, against George W. Little, his wife Jane, George W. Little jr., and Albert R. Little.

Miss Munson is 24 years old and of a highly-respected family, her father, Frank Munson, being an official in the Government Printing Office at Washington. Miss Munson has for several years been employed as secretary in one of the large wholesale houses and resides with her brother. A year or more ago she became engaged to George W. Little, one of the defendants. Little is engaged with the wholesale millinery house of B. B. Fisk & Co. They live at 3926 Lake-avenue.

About two months ago the engagement was broken off. On the evening of March 3 Miss Munson, feeling ill, sent her brother Frank for a physician, a mile away. At 8.30 or thereabouts she claimed the door bell was violently rung. Suspecting something, Miss Munson ran to her brother's room and secured his revolver. She then went to the door, and opening it, was confronted by George W. Little, jr., and his brother Albert. They attempted to force their way in, when the girl levelled her revolver at them and fired. The bullet failed to hit either and before Miss Munson could again pull the trigger the two had grabbed her and taken the pistol away.

What occurred afterwards Miss Munson could scarcely tell, but she soon found herself in the street, she says, between two men. It was raining hard and they dragged her through the mud to their father's home over a mile away. The next day she was taken to the detention hospital. Physicians say Miss Munston is not and never was insane.

MRS. JOHN L. SULLIVAN.

She Is a Salvation Army Lassie, and Will Be Baptised To-day.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 13.—To-morrow afternoon will see a great gathering of the Salvation Army of this State, with delegations from Massachusetts and Connecticut, to attend the public baptism of no less a personage than Mrs. John L. Sullivan, the slugger's deserted spouse. Mrs. Sullivan's maiden name was Anna Eliza Bates, and her home is at Centerville this State, where she has lived since the failure of her divorce suit against the champion for brutal treatment. For the past two years she has ceased prosecuting John L. and devoted herself to religion, becoming finally a zealous convert to the Salvation Army. She at once began to be a revivalist, and under the direction of Captain Howland, of the Salvation Army, soon became famous. She soon brought a multitude to the rail of conversion, and her powerful voice, fluent tongue (which is on a pivot) together with her frequent actions, made her a wonder in the ranks. She does not feel, however, that she is safe from the devil unless she is baptized like our Lord in a river, and to-morrow, attended by the doughty captain, she will brave pneumonia and the grip, and wade into Long Pond and be ducked, according to salvation regulations. Special trains will be run from here to the dipping to-morrow, and there promises to be a gay old time.

SHOT IN THE CELLS.

Two Convicted Murderers Riddled with Bullets By Forty Masked Avengers.

SEALAND, Wash., April 13.—Forty masked men broke into the jail here at 1 o'clock this morning and shot to death John Rose and John Edwards, who were convicted of the murder of Hans Fredericksen and his wife, about a year ago. The men were confined in jail awaiting a new trial. The murder was committed in cold blood and was for the purpose of obtaining possession of a piece of land on which Fredericksen was living. Edward Gibbon and George Rose were also charged with assisting in the murder. Gibbon was acquitted. George Rose was convicted of murder in the first degree, but afterwards escaped jail. The mob overpowered the jailor, and going to the cell where the prisoners were confined riddled their bodies with bullets. The mob then quietly dispersed.

Death of an Australian Statesman.

SYDNEY, N.S.W., April 13.—The Hon. John Murtagh Macrossan, M.E., formerly Colonial Secretary for Queensland, and one of the delegates for that colony at the Australasia Federation Convention, is dead. The deceased, who was born in 1832, was one of the many Australian statesmen who originally came from Ireland, his father having been a farmer in Donegal. Mr. Macrossan emigrated to Australia in 1858. He was chosen in 1878 by the miners of Charters Towers to represent the Kennedy electorate in that assembly. The new member at first linked his political fortunes with those of the Liberal party, but a few years later removed to the Conservative crossbenches, and co-operated heartily with Mr. McIlwraith, who, on forming his Ministry in 1879, gave Mr. Macrossan the office of Secretary for Public Works.

They Prefer Canada.

LONDON, April 13.—It is asserted that the best class of British emigrants show an increasing disposition to go to Canada in preference to the United States. The Australasian colonies' movement is due to the persistent propaganda carried on from the High Commissioner's office in London, and in connection therewith to the admirable plan of sending to Canada every year a delegation of tenant farmers to see the country and report upon its resources and capabilities. The various reports made by last year's delegates have been embodied in a pamphlet of which no fewer than 600,000 have been printed and are being circulated throughout the United Kingdom. It is thought the full effect of this missionary work will not be felt until next season, but every one concerned seems confident that 1892 will witness a great boom in Canadian emigration from this country.

WILMINGTON, Del., April 13.—Count Lewenhaupt, who was married to Miss Bayard on the 2nd inst., died to-day of malignant typhoid fever. He had been indisposed for the last two or three week.

Forgery and Murder Trials.

BELLEVILLE, April 13.—Chester W. Yourex, who was this afternoon placed on trial at the Assizes for forgery, pleaded guilty.

James Kane, the wife murderer, against whom a true bill was found, did not plead as his counsel was absent.

Judge Rose delivered a long argument against the proposal to abolish grand juries.

Husband and Wife Killed.

LANCASTER, Pa., April 13.—A terrible affair occurred in Cecil county, Md., near the Lancaster county line. Early this morning Granville Richards and wife were aroused by the presence of two men in their room. On Mrs. Richards arising she was shot in the neck and the husband going to her rescue was shot twice in the stomach. Both will die. The murderers escaped.

Stand Your Ground.

When you make up your mind to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, do not be induced to buy some other preparation instead. Clerks may claim that "ours is as good as Hood's" and all that, but the peculiar merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla cannot be equalled. Therefore have nothing to do with substitutes and insist upon having Hood's Sarsaparilla, the best blood purifier and building-up medicine.

J. C. Turnbull.

AT

TURNBULL'S.

The styles this season are such a decided change, and unusually pretty, we want all to see them, to the best advantage, and naturally to leave the impression that for decidedly new and cheap goods, Turnbull's is the right place to go for a large selection, since our store has been thoroughly renovated.

While passing through the store, even when not intending to buy, you are compelled to stop and price some of the articles on display.

Pretty print blouses from 50c. each, up to those of figured wool delaine at $1.75. Neat patterns in light prints, narrow, but warranted to wash, at 5c. a yard. Novelties in pearl bead frillings, at 5c. a frill. White embroidered apron lawns at 20c. a yard. Cream and white curtain nets, taped edge, at from 15 to 25c. a yard.

Fine Navy Serges for boys' wear, at 35 40 and 50c. a yard. Handsome patterns in Tweed at 50c. a yard. Nice Cream Damask Table Linen at 30c. a yard. Black and Red Brocade Flannelette just suitable for baby, at 15c. a yard. You pass the Dress Goods counter, but have to ask what that shimmering, shining material is that is hard to describe. Everybody falls in love with it, and no wonder. Manufacturers call it Glorosia.

On reaching the archway leading into the Simcoe street store, you are struck with amazement, and almost think you have got into midsummer, and begin to look around for the bumble bees and humming birds among the flowers. Some of the leading colors are the new Shades in Heliotrope and Lavender, French Gray, Buttercups and Black Combined. Most of the Bonnets are Small, Toque Shapes, flat, and trimmed at the back with pretty little Forget-Me-Not Flowers, Jewelled Ribbon and Lace to match. There is something very pretty for children in Leghorn Hats, trimmed with ruchings of silk and lace.

We have just received a choice lot of very pretty shapes in Hats and Bonnets; also the latest in Flowers from Glasgow. These styles will not be shown elsewhere.

TUESDAY, APRIL 14, 1891.

THERE is a great contrast between the treatment of the Indians by the United States and Canada, and the contrast is all the greater because even under the superior treatment of Canada, there has been, and still is, vast susceptibility of improvement. The following facts go to show that under just and humane treatment the Indians respond to efforts for their elevation in all respects, the disproving the cruel apothegam of a certain United States military despot that "the only good Indian is a dead one." The report of the Superintendent-General of Indian Affairs states that the Indians of the seven provinces of the Dominion, and of the District of Keewatin, are as a general rule self-supporting. The Indians of the North-west Territories, it is said are in a less satisfactory condition in this respect, but they are learning more and more to help themselves. The amount earned by members of the bands in these Territories last year was $34 075. The morality of the Indians in the Provinces will compare favorably with that of their white brethren, but some of them are are addicted to intoxicants, which are too easy to obtain. "The prostitution of Indian women in British Columbia and the North-West Territories is very prevalent." Strong representations have been made by some of the Indians that their wives and daughters have been enticed away from them, and there will probably be legislation to check the evil.

The License System.

It has become a tradition with the Opposition in the Ontario Legislature that an attack is to be made annually on the license system. But for the force of tradition and habit it would be difficult to understand why year after year they renew an assault in which they have been repulsed at every point. From the beginning the Crooks Act—which is the foundation of the present license law—has been regarded with favor by temperance workers. In 1882 the Methodist General Conference passed the following resolution:—"Although we cannot accept as righteous absolutely any license law, yet, if we must tolerate some one as the tentative regulator of an evil ill we can have it removed, we must regard the Crooks Act as the best instrument for this suppression the Province ever had. We would emphatically deprecate any legislation that would impair its efficacy, and we would respectfully recommend our people where this law obtains to use their voice and franchise to prevent the control of this license system reverting to the industrious ward politician and the interested liquor dealer, who so largely manipulate the elections." The reference to municipal control here is important, because a return to municipal control, either by the Township or County Councils, has been the basis of the various policies which the Opposition has from time to time proposed. On this point the Methodist Conference expressed the universal feeling of relief and satisfaction on the part of temperance people when the system of municipal control of licenses was brought to an end. Under that system it was in the interest of tavern-keepers that a council favourable to a lax administration of the law should be elected, and the result was that in every township election the liquor question was the issue that overshadowed all others; the hotel-keepers and their friends were an army of active canvassers against the interests of law and order. No temperance man who has any experience of the working of this system would dream of asking that it should be restored. Since the Methodist Conference expressed its approval of the Crooks Act it has been very materially improved. Important and salutary amendments were made in 1884 and in 1890; the amendments made in 1890 evoked a chorus of approval from such staunch friends of temperance as The Canada Citizen, The Christian Guardian, The Good Templar, and the Ontario branch of the Dominion Alliance. The efficacy of the legislation is further shown by the fact that the number of licenses has declined from 5,815 in 1875-6 to 2,609 in 1889 90. On this point the position of the government is unassailable. There are prohibitionists who do not believe in licensing holding that it countenances and palliates an evil; but, this view apart, the general opinion is that the system now in force in Ontario is nearly as good as human imperfection will allow of. The charge that the system is used for political purposes was answered by Mr. Hardy in 1889 and by Mr. Gibson in 1890, and the Opposition laid little stress upon it in the debate last week. The burden of their song now is that the municipalities receive too small a share of the proceeds of licenses. The fact is that the municipalities revenue from licenses has been increasing much more rapidly than the Provincial revenue from the same source, as the following table will show:—

	Provincial Revenue.	Municipal Revenue
1867-8	$201,542	$156 979
1889-9	252,511	190,297
1889-90	30 .241	207,353

Moreover, it is in the power of the municipalities, if they choose, greatly to increase their revenue from licenses; very few of them having imposed the maximum license fee allowed by the law. There is no principle by which the share of revenue which ought to go to the provinces and the share which ought to go to the municipalities can be exactly ascertained. It has always been conceded that fees from liquor licenses were a proper source of Provincial revenue. That principle was recognized in the Municipal Institution Act of 1866, in the Confederation Act and in all the legislation on the subject since Confederation. When we come to the question of the share which the Province ought fairly to receive, we must consider the whole subject of the relations of the Province to the municipalities; and we must recollect that the Province every year makes expenditures which relieve the municipalities of heavy burdens. The legislative grants to schools are alone equal to the amount received by the Government for licenses; and the total expenditure on education is double that amount. The Government assumes the whole expense of the maintenance of lunatic asylums, and its expenditure on these and other public institutions last year was $833,624, while the expenditure on public buildings, a large proportion of which was for asylums, was nearly half a million dollars. On hospitals and charities the expenditure was $132 557, on the administration of justice nearly $400.000, and on agriculture $145 688. In nineteen years the Government has returned to the people, under the heads of education, agriculture, hospitals and charities, asylums, etc., administration of justice, colonization roads and public buildings, nearly thirty five million dollars. It is safe to say that the amount they have received for licenses in that time is not more than one-twentieth of that sum. The charge, therefore, that the Government has dealt unfairly with the municipalities falls to the ground, as the other charges against the administration of the license system have fallen.—Globe.

British Columbia Gold.

"Gold, Gold Everywhere, but not a Dollar to Spend."

In the latest mining news from British Columbia is reported the discovery of a large bed of auriferous gravel in the Cariboo district. It runs parallel with the Canal river for about ten miles, and every linear foot has produced the value of $1. Several hydraulic mining companies are now working it, and the find is considered one of the most important made in many years. Quartz mining in Cariboo is greatly handicapped by the absence of railway facilities, and practical men say that a road through the Yellow Head pass is absolutely necessary for the development of the district, and could not help proving a paying investment to its promoters.

Two doctors of an Eastern town,
To learning much inclined,
Were called to see a gentleman,
Whose health was undermined.

The first one used his stethoscope
Upon the patient meek.
"I find," quoth he, "one lung is gone;
You cannot live a week."

To this the other wise M. D.
Vehemently objected.
"I see," quoth he, "as all may see,
Your kidneys are affected."

These wise men argued loud and long,
Yet the patient owes recovery
(Not to those doctors, but to—Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery).

There are some patent medicines that are more marvelous than a dozen doctors' prescriptions, but they're not those that profess to cure everything.

Everybody, now and then, feels "run-down," "played out." They've the will, but no power to generate vitality. They're not sick enough to call a doctor, but just too sick to be well. That's where the right kind of a patent medicine comes in, and does for dollar what the doctor wouldn't do for less than five or ten.

We put in our claim for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

We claim it to be an unequaled remedy to purify the blood and invigorate the liver. We claim it to be lasting in its effects, creating an appetite, purifying the blood, and preventing Bilious, Typhoid and Malarial Fevers, if taken in time. The time to take it is when you first feel the signs of weariness and weakness. The time to take it, on general principles, is NOW.

It's the cheapest blood-purifier, sold through druggists, no matter how many doses are offered for a dollar.

Why? Because it's sold on a peculiar plan, and you only pay for the good you get.

Can you ask more?

A Pleasant Herb Drink—A Spring Medicine.

The druggists tell us that people call daily for the new cure for constipation and sick headache discovered by Dr. Silas Lane. It is said to be Oregon grape root (a great remedy in the far west for those complaints) combined with simple herbs, and is made for use by pouring on boiling water to draw out the strength. It sells for 50c. and $1 a package, and is called Lane's Family Medicine. dw

It Does Its Work.

WHEN they find how rapidly health is restored by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The reason is that this preparation contains only the purest and most powerful alteratives and tonics. To thousands yearly it proves a veritable elixir of life.

Mrs. Jos. Lake, Brockway Centre, Mich., writes: "Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony. I was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an in my condition, my appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life, and I cannot thank you too much."

"We, the undersigned, citizens of Brockway Centre, Mich., hereby certify that the above statement, made by Mrs. Lake, is true in every particular and entitled to full credence."—O. P. Chamberlain, G. W. Waring, C. A. Wells, Druggist.

"My brother, in England, was, for a long time, unable to attend to his occupation, by reason of sores on his foot. I sent him Ayer's Almanac and the testimonials it contained induced him to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using it a little while, he was cured, and is now a well man, working in a sugar mill at Brisbane, Queensland, Australia."—A. Attewell, Sharbot Lake, Ontario.

Goughs' Grandest Go!

UNPARALLELED STROKE OF ENTERPRISE:—THEY CHARTER A SPECIAL SPRING POET.

During the past few months, GOUGH BROS. have been making Immense Improvements in their Shops, till now—in their Spring attire—they have the Nobbiest, Brightest, Neatest Establishment in the District.

Having laid in a Superb and Unrivalled Stock, they cast about for some special means to make it known to the public, and at enormous expense they captured a Genuine Genius in the Poetical line, whom they christened "Gough Bros. Special Spring Poet." They fitted up the office as a box-stall and turned the poet loose in it and he proceeded to let himself loose in the following manner:

O, beauteous, sloppy, balmy spring,
You are a bright and welcome thing;
You bring us sunshine—check the mumps,
And make the people stir their stumps.
(To "stir their stumps" they must have boots,—
And Goughs have just the stock that suits.)
You clothe the world in garments new—
Your bright example Goughs pursue;
They deck their shop with brightest hues,

And give the public chance to choose
From 'mongst the biggest stock on earth—
In no department is their dearth—
From head to foot, from top to toe,
The great Goughs' lines of great goods go.
They've nobby tiles for brainy heads,
They've dandy boots for dainty treads;
They—they—they—

At this point a loud groaning was heard in the poet's lair, and a visit showed him tearing his hair, the very picture of despondent despair. He was in a state of collapse. He was sent to the hospital, and a sane man employed to make the simple statement that GOUGH BROS.'

CHANGE IN BUSINESS.

I beg to announce to my late customers that I have sold out my business to Messrs. Hilliard & Peplow, and I would bespeak for them the same support as has been accorded me.

C. N. BROWN.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

For some time past we have thought a strictly cash business in Flour, Feed and Provisions could be successfully carried on in Peterborough, and to test this question, we have purchased the above business from Mr C. N. Brown who will still continue as manager in Flavelle's old stand, Simcoe street.

In order to be successful we intend to make it the interest of everyone to pay cash with order by selling at wholesale prices.

We will positively give no credit and cash customers will not have to keep up the losses made by others on the credit system.

We will keep a full supply of the very best quality of Flour, Feed, Chop, etc., and our customers need not fear that the quality of the goods will be lowered to make up for the reduction in price. We are simply giving them the benefit of the margin necessary to cover losses and interest charges incurred on the credit system.

A STICK OF CHARCOAL.

How a Deft-Handed Practical Person May Handle It.

A stick of charcoal in the hands of one who knows how to use it is capable of producing wonderful effects—crispness, transparency, atmosphere and all the variety and delicacy of textures which make a drawing attractive. With it a broad tint or a fine line may be drawn with equal ease; it offers a wide range of values, and, above all, its markings may be readily obliterated, thus admitting of endless alterations and corrections. These qualities are equally useful to both student and artist, but in a different way. The artist will dash off a charcoal sketch upon the instant. He is master of form, and need not sacrifice anything of brilliancy or transparency by repeated erasures.

The student, on the contrary, must continue to brush out and rub out unsatisfactory work long after the charcoal shall have been ground into the paper and worn away its "tooth" so that it is actually woolly. But if in the end he attains to something like correct form he may be content, and console himself with the reflection that artists have gone through it all in order to reach their present degree of accomplishment.

As for the mystery of effect is a delightful study, which may be followed indefinitely after the mastery of form shall have been attained.

WORKING ON BROWN PAPER.

A practice followed in our best art schools and one strongly recommended to students working without a teacher is that of drawing on a large scale—life-size. In this work are employed common brown wrapping paper, the softest charcoal and a bit of chamois skin, the latter to be used mainly in making corrections. There is a reason for using the brown paper aside from its cheapness. White paper must be nearly or quite covered to bring it down in harmony with the strong blacks of the charcoal, but the tint of the wrapping paper may be allowed to stand for the high-lights and the middle tints of the subject, and the study thus be confined to the deeper tones, which greatly simplifies and expedites the work.

QUICK, BOLD, THOUGHTFUL WORK

The more drawing one makes the more one will learn, the eye and hand becoming trained in proportion to the work done. In this broad, quick work the lines are carefully but boldly drawn, the masses of shade are rubbed in, using the entire length of the charcoal, and are afterward modified with the fingers, palm of the hand or a soft cotton cloth.

The quality of the charcoal depends in great measure upon the kind of paper used. For rocks, foliage and other coarse-grained textures, a coarse-grained paper with a good tooth will be required; for flesh, sky and smooth water a smoother surface and beeches; absolutely smooth paper will not do at all, as it will not catch nor hold the particles of charcoal. Artists, however, often wish to combine the two extremes—rough and smooth textures—when they are obliged to resort to different modes of treatment on the same paper to produce the desired effect.

AN ACCEPTED METHOD.

The method most used is to choose a rather fine-grained paper and work over the smoother surfaces with small chamois stumps, the fingers or bits of soft bread, giving the final modeling by careful stippling. The roughest parts are done with charcoal only, using the full length for flat surfaces, and modified only slightly for medium textures. In the most spirited parts the broad point of a soft charcoal stick is used in vigorous cross-hatching, by which means admirably suggestive work can be done.

CONCERNING WHITE AND TINTED PAPERS.

For anything more than a sketch or very simple study white paper should be used, the brilliancy and transparency of charcoal drawing depending on the specks of white paper showing through the black or gray and tinted paper, of course, lessens such an effect in degree as the tint deepens. In simple studies and sketches this tint is useful, taking the place as it does of high lights and half tones. The practice of indicating the lights with Chinese white is destructive of harmony and only allowable in special cases.

ONE OF THE TRICKS.

A little trick, especially useful in landscapes, and which even artists of repute do not disdain to make use of, is that of burnishing down certain parts of the paper—the portions reserved for the surfaces—before beginning to work on them. To do this well requires much practice. Properly done it is a great assistance, giving atmosphere to the distance and relief to the foreground.

THE FIXATIVE.

The fixative, which it is absolutely necessary to use with all charcoal work, is made of gum shellac, dissolved in spirits of wine. The color should not be darker than that of pale sherry. Too much of it should not be applied as in that case the transparency of the work would be lost. A moderate application of the fixative will prevent the charcoal falling off and preserve it until it can be put under glass. In case any part of it should be rubbed it may be retouched vigorously.

WHAT CAN BE DONE WITH CHARCOAL.

To sum up the capabilities of charcoal. Nothing renders flesh like unto it; and for stuffs, glass, porcelaines, landscape, and, indeed, everything one sees about him it is equally responsive to the artist's demands.

A touch modifies its texture, a breath will lighten any part, or the whole drawing at once.

When it is right, fix it with the atomizer; if all wrong the whole drawing may be wiped out at once.

Bear in mind that one must work and work hard, in order to make anything of charcoal, as in any other branch of art.

Above all, he must learn when and where to stop.

This is the great secret in charcoal drawing.

A Remarkable Dog Story.

John Templeton is a blacksmith who owns a fine specimen of the English mastiff. Recently Mr. Templeton was working at his forge, putting a new steel in a pick. The new steel was slightly burned in the heating, and, instead of welding, flew in half a dozen pieces.

One piece struck the blacksmith just above the right eye with such force as to fasten itself firmly. The blacksmith staggered and fell backward.

How long he was unconscious he does not know, but when he revived the dog lay almost in the middle of the shop crying almost like a human being, and rubbing his jaws in the dust of the floor.

The piece of steel that had struck Mr. Templeton lay a short distance from the dog. The faithful brute had seized the hot steel with his teeth and drawn it from the frontal bone of Mr. Templeton's head. The dog's mouth was found to be badly burned.

Horrid Sarcasm.

"Hurry up, Mary," cried John.

"I'm coding as fast as I can. I'm changing my shoes."

"Oh, are you. I thought from the time you were taking you were changing your mind."

IN AN OPEN GRAVE.

Members of an Italian Society Must Put a Foot in It.

ROME, April 12.—Mala Vita, the name borne by the secret society the members of whom are on trial at Bari, is the title of a once popular novel. The trial was continued at Bari yesterday and during the proceedings the witnesses disclosed the curious initiation orders of the society in the dialect peculiar to members of the society. The applicants for membership must first satisfy the officers of the Mala Vita that they have never been policemen, gendarmes or excisemen. When the oath is administered to the novices they are required to stand with one foot in an open grave. They are sworn in the most solemn manner to abandon all ties of kindred for the interests of the order, and neophytes are informed that the most fearful penalties will be imposed on them for any betrayal of the societies' secrets or for any disobedience of its degrees, especially when they visited judgment on an intended victim. The booty which the society secured through brigandage and ransoms was to be divided among the members according to rank. Fantastic and obscene tattooings mark the members of the grade "Camorrista," the chief of which still contrives to correspond with the prisoners.

JOSEPH TALKS OF PEACE.

Emperor Francis Joseph Talks of Peace to the Reichsrath.

VIENNA, April 12.—Emperor Francis Joseph opened the session of the Reichsrath. His Majesty in his speech dwelt upon the desire for peace manifested throughout Europe. He said that all European governments had given him assurances which denoted that peace was the most essential object of their endeavors. This, he added, combined with the friendly relations now existing between the powers of Europe, justifies the hope that peace will prevail for many years to come, thus, the Emperor added, enabling the members of the Reichsrath to continue their labors undisturbed by war or other serious complications.

The Salvation Army band yesterday afternoon, after the funeral, spent some time in serenading a number of prominent citizens. The adjourned vestry meeting was held in St. John's school house on Monday evening, the rector presiding. The report of the auditors, Messrs. F. L. Somerville and A. V. R. The meeting was brief and harmonious, a happy omen of the harmony of the current ecclesiastical year.

The Sanitary By Law.

It is not amiss at the present time to call public attention to by-law No. 621, introduced by Councillor Moore and passed by the town council last October, which comes in force the first of May. After that date all closets and cesspools which are not watertight and properly covered and ventilated, must be closed or filled up, and earth closets substituted. Any person violating the law is subject to fine or imprisonment. Copies of the by-law may be had from the town clerk. This is an important matter regarding the public health, and it is intended to strictly enforce the by-law.

To Hard on the Old Maids.

A Canadian paper gives the following information: "Mercury being the morning star wane VIRGO is on deck presages that old maids will be very skittish and flittery this year." We firmly believe the true indications are, that not only maids, but every wife and mother in Canada will this year use more Diamond Dyes than ever before, as I have discovered their great superiority over all imitations now on the market. Diamond Dyes always become the favorites wherever introduced.

A Case that was Settled.

A case of house-breaking was put in Police Magistrate Ellerton's hands yesterday afternoon, and trial was set down for to-day, but the case has been settled. It appears that yesterday, shortly after the adjournment of the police court case in town, some of the young men implicated in the dancing scrape loaded themselves up with beer and invaded Ashburnham. There is a house of ill repute near the railway diamond, and thither marched the group on mischief bent. Not being granted admission the young vandals stormed the house, broke in the doors, smashed the windows, tore up the walk, and committed other depredations. The women of the house laid a complaint before the police magistrate, but the case was settled by the culprits making good the damage done.

The West Ward School.

The attendance at the West Ward School the past few days has been discouraging on account of the diphtheria scare. The house of Mr. Clinkscale, adjacent to the school grounds, is placarded for diphtheria, and parents are so frightened that a great many children have been kept at home. Yesterday there were not over 35 in the school out of an average 200. One room had only 6 pupils, another 7. The School Board have discussed the advisability of closing the school for the present, but after consulting a couple of physicians it has been thought unnecessary, as there is no real danger. The children are warned to keep away from the premises, and there need be no fear of contagion if they obey commands. The school will be continued, and it is hoped parents will not allow needless alarm to interfere with their children's studies.

A Very Young Confidence Man.

Monday night a little boy, blubbering piteously, called at a gentleman's residence on Brock street. He said that he had been sent by his father with 10 cents to buy tobacco; he had lost the money and if he went home "without the bacey, father'd wollup me awful." Ten cents were given the lad, and he departed with such suspicious glee that the charity that in this case was "kind" was not a bit blind. The child was watched. When he got outside the gate he was joined by a larger lad. The two proceeded to the next house, the larger concealing himself, while the youngster went in and played again successfully the "bacey" and lost money "racket." Peterborough has half a dozen churches and about a dozen ministers all faithful, earnest men, yet it seems that their earnest efforts to stem the current of sin, are, in some cases as futile as attempting to stop an ebb tide with a feather fan.

Yesterday's EXAMINER contained an extended reference to the extensive biscuit and confectionary works to be established in Peterborough by Reid, Gilmour & Co. Oddfellows will be particularly interested in knowing that the head of the firm, Mr. J. R. Reid is a prominent member of the Order. He fills the chair of the Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Ontario, having been elected to that position during the session of the Grand Lodge in Peterborough, Aug. 17, 1887. Mr. Reid has been a prominent figure in Oddfellows circles for the past dozen years, and will be a most important addition to an Order, which in Peterborough numbers in its ranks many of the most prominent citizens of Peterborough. The EXAMINER joins with the brethren in assuring Mr. Reid a most cordial welcome in his several capacities of business man, citizen and Oddfellow.

They Want Free Sugar.

Retail Grocers With Petition the Government.

The monthly meeting of the Retail Grocers' Association was held at Toronto, Monday evening. Mr. Robt. Barron, the president, occupied the chair. The meeting discussed the manner of putting up sugars, teas and syrups in packages, and passed a resolution condemning the practice of manufacturers putting prizes on their packages. A resolution was passed pledging the members of the association to purchase granulated sugars from the Montreal refineries only. There was some discussion on the proposition to ask the Dominion to place raw sugar on the free list and to reduce the duty on refined sugars to two cents per pound. The latter part of the proposition was considered would be foolish, and finally it was agreed to circulate petitions for the abolition of duty on raw sugar. It was decided to call a convention of retail grocers of Canada in Toronto during the summer and a strong committee was appointed to make the preliminary arrangements.

Straining at Gnats and Swallowing Camels.

Our American cousins are wonderful compounds of prudery and moral laxity. Most moral Minnesota has passed a law forbidding society shoulder-shows—no lady can wear a decolette bodice under pain of pecuniary penalty, and the same law forbids hose reels on the stage, that is dances by short-skirted sylphs, known to the profane as the ballet. And yet if a wife offend her husband by putting a grain too much or too little sugar in his tea she can be divorced with the most shameful facility. And now a bill requiring owners of dogs to keep them shut up or chained after dark has been introduced in the New York Assembly. The Buffalo Express cites the case of Binghampton, which has an ordinance providing that the owner of any dog that is permitted to bark after nightfall shall be fined five dollars. Both of these provisions are good, and worthy of imitation here, especially the latter. A dog that is kept for the protection of property should be confined in the house or barn he is appointed to watch. But the night-barking dog is one of the worst nuisances known to society. A man who will turn the beast at large to keep the whole community awake when it is trying to sleep has no claim to respectful treatment from his neighbours. Yet the desecration of Sunday is as common as commerce. The jewel, consistency, which our neighbours wear is decidedly paste.

The Dance at the Green Bush.

A Brilliant Social Event Discussed in the Police Court.

The now notorious dance at the Green Bush Wednesday night occupied the attention of Police Magistrate Dumble and a full court this morning. The proceedings were very amusing. One by one the witnesses told their stories, no two of them exactly alike, and the magistrate and town solicitor, in despair of securing a conviction, had to treat the whole matter lightly. There were about ten young men involved in the case, all being charged with disorderly conduct, Mr. Edwards represented the town, and Messrs. W. H. Moore and W. A. Stratton looked after the interests of certain of the defendants. As no convictions were made and it appears none of them were guilty of malicious conduct, names are suppressed in the hope that the young men will take the lesson to heart and remember the magistrate's advice to behave themselves better the next time they go to a party.

From the evidence it would seem that the party was gotten up by two or three of the boys, who secured Mr. Henry's house for the purpose of having a dance, arranging with the proprietor to supply the supper at so much a head, each "gent" to pay for himself and lady as they passed through the dining room door. A collection was also to be taken up for the fiddler. Owing to a combination of circumstances, however, both the landlord and the fiddler were fooled out of their fees; neither received pay for his labor. About twelve o'clock the festivities were moving along swimmingly among the gay dancers. Then a "bit of a scrap" arose. One of the young men noticed some of the girls going home, and on enquiring their reasons for such hasty action, he was informed that there were some young women present whom they objected to, and their virtuous indignation could only be appeased by the prompt withdrawal of the objectionable characters. The young man undertook to inform one of the aforesaid objectionables ladies that she was the cause of the trouble, and she promptly showed her appreciation of the insult by going into a mild form of hysterics. Her gallant cavalier on ascertaining the cause of her tears, went up to the gentleman who had "insulted his partner," and demanded redress. A variety of opinion was expressed as to what followed. Hard words passed between them, and if all the evidence was to be believed, one was struck and the other objected. Friends separated the combatants, and both left the house. Then others became involved in fights, and in a few minutes there was a large-sized rumpus on. When the proprietor of the house came into the ball room he was "slugged" from behind. Finally the party was broken up, and the giddy pleasure-seekers went home, in their excitement forgetting to pay the fiddler, or drop a quarter in the slot for the benefit of the landlord, who had gone to the expense of preparing a sumptuous supper.

It was extremely difficult to say who had started the fight, but as no damage had been done, and no one in particular appeared to be responsible, the defendants were dismissed. Mr. Edwards held that, as they had not passed around the hat for the benefit of the fiddler, they ought to be assessed anyway for the benefit of the town, and as a protection to Mr. Henry, who holds an eating house license.

OBITUARY.—It is our sad and painful duty to chronicle the early and melancholy death of Miss Mary Jameson, only and beloved daughter of the late George Jameson. Miss Jameson had been confined to the house, almost entirely, for the last four or five years, and bore her seemingly hard cross with Christian submission and fortitude till death relieved her sufferings on the morning of the 6th of April, and her soul was wafted into the presence of Him whom she had served from infancy. A large cortege of friends and relatives followed her remains to the Presbyterian cemetery on the 8th inst. In life she had always been a warm and earnest follower of the meek and lowly Jesus. She was a universal favorite, and died fully trusting in the precious promise of Christ, to those who live and labor in his vineyard on earth. Her mother and three brothers have the heartfelt sympathy of the entire village and community in their sad bereavement.

"Around her bright with endless spring, perpetual roses bloom,
Warm balsams gratefully exude luxurious perfume.
And crocuses and lilies white shine dazzling in the sun,
Green meadows yield the harvest green, and streams with honey run.
Unbroken droop the laden boughs with heavy fruitage bent—
Of incense and of odours strange the air is redolent.
And neither sun, nor moon, no stars, dispense their chequeful light,
But the Lamb's eternal glory makes the happy city bright."

Mr. John Blezard, of Warkworth, delivered a lecture to the Patrons of Industry in our school house on Wednesday last.

We have a machine agent down here on the boundary who seems to do quite a business. Besides selling machinery he is sub-editor for the Hastings "Star," as he collects gossip and acts as general correspondent for Birdsall's, Villiers, Johnstown, Westwood and this place. If he would confine his attention more to selling machinery than to collecting gossip for the "Star" it would be better for the interests of his employer. Everyone is surprised that a man in his position should waste his time in such a way.

Port Hopes Musical Maid.

The EXAMINER has pleasure in helping to recognise the decidedly unusual musical talent of the young pianiste, whose present is so full of precocious performance, and her future of ripened excellence, the child pianiste—Miss Louise Singleton, of Port Hope, who has been winning golden opinions by her performance in Woodstock, as the following from the Sentinel Review indicates: There was a good house in the Dundas st. Methodist church last night to hear the child pianiste, Annie Louise Singleton, daughter of Prof. Singleton, of Port Hope. It seems almost incredible that a child of her years could execute the selections on the programme with such marvellous skill and ability. The people were surprised and delighted as she attacked the most difficult parts of her pieces and carried them through without a break, doing them all from memory. By the time she reached the third selection, everyone in the house seemed to awaken to the wonderful feat that the child was accomplishing, and on finishing the "Rhapsodie Hongroise" the people gave vent to their feelings in prolonged enthusiasm and loud calls of "encore" to which the young lady responded in a most gracious and pleasing manner. It is safe to say that the child will yet play before the kings and princes of the world. The Dundas street Methodist church is to be congratulated on having the honor of being the place where the gifted young musician makes her debut. For while she has played before the musical critics, last night was her first appearance before the public."

A Final, Fond Farewell.

A minister concluded his farewell sermon thus:—"My brethren, I part from you without sorrow and without regret. You have not loved me, you have not loved one another, and the Lord has not loved you. If you had loved me you would not have allowed my small stipend to have remained sixteen months in arrears. If you had loved one another there would have been some marriages amongst you, and I would have had fees. If the Lord had loved you He would have taken some of you to Himself, and again I would have had fees. I part from you without sorrow and without regret. Farewell."—Lindsay Watchman. The Port Hope Times adds:—"We have frequently heard that Lindsay was a pretty tough, slow, wicked kind of place, but never thought it so bad as this poor minister found it."

A Victorious Party.

The tide of Liberal victory rolls on. There have been says the Globe, nine contests, eight Local and one Federal, in the different Provinces since the general election and in every case a Liberal has been elected. In Huntingdon Mr. Scriver was returned by a splendid majority, in spite of the most desperate and the most unscrupulous efforts of the Ottawa Administration. In South Grey, a doubtful if not a Tory constituency, Mr. McKechnie was elected to the Ontario Legislature without a contest. The Tory party did not to put up a candidate. Attorney-General Martin was re-elected to the Manitoba Legislature for Portage la Prairie. In Nova Scotia three Local by-elections resulted in the return of three Liberals. In Prince Edward Island four bye-elections have just been held, and the result is the overthrow of the Tory Government of the Island. Every Province of the Confederation will now be under Liberal rule in Local Affairs except British Columbia. The strength of the Tory party in the Commons was very greatly reduced in the recent election. The Government must soon face Parliament and some grave and difficult questions, and the exposure of at least one great scandal, with a small majority and a public opinion growing more hostile every day. Everywhere the outlook is hopeful for the Liberals, everywhere they are in splendid fighting humor.

Newspaper Advertising.

"Yes, sir, I know all about the advertising business and in experimenting with nearly every device in advertising that I have heard of, which by any combination I could apply to my business I have spent probably over $100,000." Thus spoke a gentleman who is a member of one of the largest retail establishments in Detroit. "And this money I have expended, probably, within the last twenty years. From such an experience my opinion now is that there is nothing equal to newspaper advertising. I dont believe in great space ads. so much as in regular space ads. I want my ad. in every day or week alway in the same place so that finally it becomes identified with that page of the paper. I advertise in dailies, tri-weeklies, semi-weeklies and weeklies.

A Good Law.

The Toronto "Telegram," entirely Tory in its sympathies, under the above heading thus remarks:—"In a country divided between two parties the administration of a license law must be partizan. Angels eligible to office under any government are not numerous in Canada, and therefore the Boards are manned by partizans. There are partizans and partizans. The manhood of an Alex. Wheeler was proof against temptations which made a public wreck of Mr. W.B. McMurrich. Apart from its ability to err, and the mistake of giving any one church a special representative on the commission, Ontario has a good license system well administered. Partizan administration of the license law is as good as the city's non-partizan management of police force and fire brigade, or the nation's non-partizan management of the Franchise Act or the elections. The license law is administered as well as it can be by a party government, and if it had better methods the country would be too good to have licenses."

One of Montreal's Belles Rescued.

It is sad to think of a young and beautiful girl, accomplished and intelligent, popular and beloved, the light of a father's heart and the idol of a fond and loving mother, being laid low with pain and suffering. Such was the sad fate that befel Miss ——, of Montreal, in the latter part of December of last year. This bright, vivacious girl began to complain of a generally miserable feeling which she could hardly describe. It was observed that these feelings were affecting her mentally as well as physically. She became low spirited, nervous, lifeless, and complained of dimness of vision. Her parents and relatives were surprised and alarmed, and sought medical aid without delay. After weeks of treatment the young lady was a shadow of her former self and her days seemed to be numbered. Her aunt, who had used Paine's Compound in her family, strongly recommended its use in her neice's case. The family physician tacitly consented, and the use of the great remedy commenced. The results were almost magical, and the family were overjoyed, at the end of the first week, to find an appetite returning, and a brighter and more natural light in the eyes. In a short time strength and greater vitality were observed, and a disposition to converse freely and joyously. Soon all traces of nervousness and wakefulness were banished, and the patient slept well and increased fast in weight, and to-day is almost as robust and bright looking as ever she was.

In this now happy home Paine's Celery Compound has made new friends who pin their faith to its mighty curative powers, and who are certain to recommend it, as it rescued their dear daughter from the dark grave.

What a Hotchkiss Gun Can Do.

There are many stories told of the three days' fighting about the Pine Ridge Agency. One of the heroes was a mere boy, who was commander of a Hotchkiss gun. All during the terrible battle at Wounded Knee his skill with the deadly machine which he handled was the admiration of the troops.

After the Sioux stampeded before the bullets of the Seventh Cavalry, this stripling of a cannoneer dragged his machine from the knoll where he had been stationed. Lieut. Hawthorne was at his side. The battle had now dwindled to heavy skirmishing on the crests of the ravines, where the survivors of Big Foot's band had sought refuge. Although the bullets were whizzing and singing in the air, the young cannoneer wheeled his machine to the mouth of the gulch, where the firing was heaviest.

The men attached to the Hotchkiss instantly became the target for the savages. Bullets splintered the back wheels of the gun and spattered the dirt right and left. Lieut. Hawthorne was struck by a bullet. The ball hit his watch and, glancing off, entered his groin. But the stripling of a cannoneer continued his advance. He pushed the muzzle of his awful contrivance up the gulch and shelled the pockets of the neighboring ravines.

Just as he was about to place one shell in the breech a bullet struck the index finger of his right hand and the long brass missile fell to the ground. Without faltering the young man seized another shell, placed it in his little cannon and fired. The shell burst in a sort of cave where eleven bucks were sheltered. The destruction was appalling. Not one of the savages escaped. Ten of them were instantly killed. The only survivor of the shell died two days laters.

Continuing his advance, the young cannoneer swept the ravine from side to side, leaving a score or more of dead and wounded in the bushes. When the last shot of the battle was over the grimy and bloody gunner was found leaning against a shattered wheel of his machine. He was exhausted and could not stand alone. Gen. Miles will ask Congress to grant a medal to this brave boy.—Chicago Herald.

One of Maurice Daly's Shots.

Maurice Daly, the billiardist, recently explained a cushion carrom gathering billiard shot as follows:

To make this shot strike the cue on the left hand side near the top. The cue ball strikes the upper cushion first, then the side cushion. The reverse English given will carry cue ball direct across and make the carrom, remaining with the second object ball. The first object ball is drawn against the end cushion, then rebounds down the table to the lower cushion and comes direct to the corner of the upper end cushion, remaining gathered with the other two balls.

King of Medicines

A Cure "Almost Miraculous."

"When I was 14 years of age I had a severe attack of rheumatism, and after I recovered had to go on crutches. A year later, scrofula, in the form of white swellings, appeared on various parts of my body, and for 11 years I was an invalid, being confined to my bed 6 years. In that time ten or eleven sores appeared and broke, causing me great pain and suffering. I feared I never should get well.

"Early in 1886 I went to Chicago to visit a sister, but was confined to my bed most of the time I was there. In July I read a book, 'A Day with a Circus,' in which were statements of cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla. I was so impressed with the success of this medicine that I decided to try it. To my great gratification the sores soon decreased, and I began to feel better and in a short time I was up and out of doors. I continued to take Hood's Sarsaparilla for about a year, when, having used six bottles, I had become so fully released from the disease that I went to work for the Flint & Walling Mfg. Co., and since then on account of sickness. I believe the disease is expelled from my system, I always feel well, am in good spirits and have a good appetite. I am now 27 years of age and can walk as well as any one, except that one limb is a little shorter than the other, owing to the loss of bone, and the sores formerly on my right leg. To my friends my recovery seems almost miraculous, and I think Hood's Sarsaparilla is the king of medicines." WILLIAM A. LEHR, 9 N. Railroad St., Kendallville, Ind.

HAVE NOT LOST A SINGLE DAY

I was in the war during 1863-4, and took a heavy cold at Gettysburg, from which I never fully recovered. In 1873 I broke out in sores all over my chest and shoulder, which seemed impossible to cure. I expended some five thousand dollars trying to find a cure but could not, and finally giving myself up to do die, my good wife suggested to me, one day, to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES, which were so extensively advertised and used. I followed her suggestion, and am happy to say I was by different applications of your CUTICURA REMEDIES for seven months I was entirely cured, after spending five years of time and money without avail, and am a sound and well man to-day. CASH HARDWARE STORE.

On and after 1st April we shall do business on a Cash Basis.

To cover the inevitable losses attendant upon a credit business, which accrue from amount of time spent in keeping accounts, collecting, bad debts, interest accounts, and an numerous other ways, larger margins of profit must be asked.

In these times cash buyers ask, expect, and are entitled to close prices. A careful consideration of the subject convinces us that the time has come for a cash business done on smaller profits.

The only customers who may possibly be put to inconvenience are those who have had long credit. In more ways than one it will be to their advantage to pay cash.

For convenience of our old customers who consider their accounts due when presented, we will call 30 days cash and render all accounts the first of each month, and we wish to say that will be happy to do business with them on these terms.

As the new departure is something of an experiment, what would be considered a close cash price will be made all through the stock. Not a few leaders only, but a general reduction in everything from the fourth flat to the cellar.

Our idea is to perform more than promised rather than promise more than can be fulfilled.

Our stock is large and varied, consisting of Builders', Contractors', Household, Mechanics', Painters', Shoemakers', Farm, Mill, Factory, Lumbermen's, Sporting, Threshers', Cabinet-makers', and other lines of Hardware.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

THE REMOVAL OF CENTRAL PRISON BURSAR WHELER.

Mr. Gibson Explains the Reason Why a Change Was Made—Dr. Casselden Was a Disappointed Man—The Central Prison Experiences.

TORONTO, April 15.—Mr. Tait's bill respecting undertaking, embalming and organic chemistry came before the Special Committee yesterday. J. B. McIntyre of St. Catharines, W. H. Hoyle of Cannington and others mentioned as the first council of the proposed college were in attendance and supported the bill. Albert Ogden, representing Humphreys and others who are opposed to the bill, urged that as the Undertakers' Association, which is to have charge of the college, was incorporated under the Benevolent and Provident Societies' Act it cannot engage in business that by its act of incorporation the association cannot hold property worth more than $5000 annual rental and that the bill was simply to increase its power of holding land; that the association sought to be erected into a "combine" to the injury of the public, that the association was really a secret society and it would be against the public interest to allow a secret society to control the college, examinations, granting of diplomas, etc., that the college should be under the control of the Undertakers' Association but of the Provincial Board of Health. Further discussion was postponed until to-day.

Among the items of the estimates passed by the House was that for the expenditure required in connection with the Central Prison. Mr. Meredith asked for an explanation of the resignation of the bursar. Mr. Gibson said that his resignation was asked because of irregularities in connection with his treatment of money received from outside jails which received supplies from the Central. The checks were cashed by him and afterwards set off against what was coming in. His course was irregular and improper and there was no excuse for using the money even temporarily. At the investigation which followed, although no fraudulent intent was established, the irregularities were shown to be such that they could not continue to allow him to occupy such an important position.

Mr. Meredith: "How long was this going on?"

Mr. Gibson: "For some years."

Mr. Meredith: "Was there any shortage?"

Mr. Gibson: "All the checks used in that way were accounted for. There was a small balance of $231, which was in dispute between the late bursar and his predecessor."

The estimated expenditure in connection with the Mimico branch asylum led Mr Wood (Hastings) to inquire into the resignation of Dr. Cascaden. Mr. Gibson explained that he found his duties were not as congenial as he had anticipated. He had expected that he would be independent and fill the position of an ordinary superintendent but he was disappointed. There were other reasons. His relations with the superintendent were not as agreeable as they ought to be. He resigned because there was no appearance of the improvement in his condition which he had anticipated.

Drank Twenty five Glasses of Beer

ALTOONA, Pa., April 14.—Alphonse Sitler, a middle-aged Frenchman, who came to this city from Philadelphia to work in the machine shops, drank 25 glasses of beer and several pints of whisky. He was taken sick and to-night died of hemorrhage of the stomach. The coroner's jury rendered a verdict of death from alcoholism.

TORONTO TOPICS.

A Child Drowned—Body Found in the Bay—Miners Protest.

TORONTO, April 15.—At a meeting of mining men held at the Rossin yesterday resolutions were passed protesting against the new mining act of the Legislature imposing royalties.

The 3-year-old son of Private Edwards of the School was playing on the embankment at the New Fort yesterday, and on a search being made his body was found in the lake near where he had been playing. The bank is high and steep at this point and it is supposed the child fell over unnoticed and was drowned.

The body of Michael Roch, an expressman, who has been missing since Feb. 9, was found yesterday floating in the Bay opposite the foot of Simcoe-street.

The annual general meeting of the members of the Ontario branch of the Royal Caledonian Curling Club was held yesterday afternoon in the Walker House, President Dr. Boucher of Peterboro in the chair.

A complete report of the Tankard competition was read by Secretary Russell, giving in detail the results in each of the 16 groups and the final victory of the Hamilton Thistles, Prospect Park being the last competing club.

The report of the match between the city of Toronto and all the rest of Ontario that never took place was read. Only 16 county clubs entered, and, coupled with the stringencies of the railways, the match was abandoned.

The champion Hamilton Thistles being entitled to represent the province for the Governor-General's prize were ready for the competition, but as Manitoba, the Maritime and Quebec branches fluked there was no contest, so the prize was withdrawn. In order to avoid subsequent postponements on account of distance and a difference in stones the Executive were instructed to investigate.

Mr. Badenach's motion, notice of which was given at the last meeting, that the allocation of district medals be discontinued and that a silver medal be awarded to the champion club of each group in the primary competition for the Ontario Tankard, was lost, chiefly owing to the vigorous opposition of Messrs. Vanzant, Paterson and Stephenson, and Mr. Pursell's motion to give medals to clubs that did not win them the past two seasons, instead of the past season as formerly, was carried.

The committee were instructed to carry out their plans for the first international match between Grand National and Ontario branch clubs, to take place in Toronto next January. The meeting declared that the Crusaders of Portage and Fraziers of Yonkers, who visited Toronto last season, were capital curlers and first-rate sportsmen. The motion of Messrs. Malcolm and Williamson, that the Executive Committee be instructed to revise the regulations and bylaws, was carried. After the handsome plush banner and gold medal had been presented to Delegate Simpson of the Thistles and silver medals to Delegate Carlyle of Prospect Park the meeting adjourned.

THREE ROMANTIC LOVE TRAGEDIES IN RUSSIA.

The Indian Opium Trade Again Discussed in the Imperial Parliament—Interesting Irish Items—Prompt Renewal of Assistance to Tenants.

LONDON, April 14.—In the House of Commons this evening William Henry Smith, the Government leader, announced that the Home Government would not advise the Indian Vice-Regal Government of the vote in the House on Friday, whereby a motion against allowing the opium traffic in India was defeated. Mr. Smith also stated that the Government would decline to appoint a commission to investigate and report upon the subject. The paucity of the vote which carried with it the motion referred to was such, he said, as not to carry with it the weight of a division of the full house.

The motion to suppress the East India trade in opium was made by Mr. Pease, Gladstone Liberal member of Parliament for the Cleveland division of Yorkshire, and was carried by a vote of 160 ayes to 130 nays out of a total membership in the House of Commons of 670.

TWO STRANGE TRAGEDIES.

In Both Cases Wounded Honor Seeks Relief in Death.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 14.—The Princess Olga Feodorowna, nee Princess Cecile of Baden, daughter of Leopold, Grand Duke of Baden, committed suicide, caused by chagrin at the Czar's refusal to restore her son, Grand Duke Michael, to the honors that he forfeited through his recent marriage with Countess de Merenberg.

A young officer named Amenkoff, belonging to the regiment of the Grand Duke Nicholas, the younger, now stationed at Gatschina, committed suicide under very mysterious circumstances. A note was found on his table explaining that no other course was open to him, as he had been grossly insulted by a personage of such exalted position that it was impossible for him to demand satisfaction. It is reported that the Grand Duke Nicholas, the younger, was the cause of the tragedy.

PARIS, April 13.—Drowned in the Seine, tied together by the hands, were found the bodies yesterday of aged Lieutenant Armigoff and Madame Katrina de Fisher. They were members of families in the Russian colony here and loved each other in youth, but could not wed owing to the opposition from Katrina's father. In old age the lovers were reunited and committed suicide because they were to be forced apart.

Italy's Diplomatic Troubles.

ROME, April 14.—There is a serious misunderstanding between Italy and Abyssinia regarding the interpretation of Article 17 of the treaty between the countries. Italy contends that it means all the diplomatic relations of Abyssinia should be made through Italy, thus virtually constituting Abyssinia a protectorate of Italy. The mission of Count Antonel to endeavor to reconcile the Abyssinians to this interpretation has been a failure.

In the Chamber of Deputies to-day Signor Marmuzzi gave notice of his intention to ask the Government what satisfaction had been asked for or obtained in the case of the Italians lynched in New Orleans.

No Tariff Changes This Session.

OTTAWA, April 14.—It is officially stated that the Government, broadly speaking, has decided not to amend the tariff at the coming session. Possibly something may be done with sugar duties, but the change, if any, cannot be determined until the Customs Department determines the working of the sugar clauses of the McKinley bill and their effect upon Canada.

The Commissioner of Customs informed a correspondent to-day that he discredits reports about American sugar being smuggled across the boundary.

Ald. Ryckman Resigns.

HAMILTON, April 14.—At the City Council meeting last night Ald. Ryckman, M.P., put in his resignation, which was accepted with many expressions of regret by the members of both shades of politics.

The Ossified Man Fractured.

NEW YORK, April 13.—The ossified man, Lucius Monroe, colored, whose bone body weighs 57 pounds, has a broken thigh bone or a broken left leg, all due to a fall down stairs, because the man who carried him on a cot let it tip so that he rolled off at the top of a flight of stairs.

G.T.R. ANNUAL MEETING.

SIR HENRY TYLER REPLIES TO SIR CHARLES TUPPER.

Considerable Excitement Occasioned by the Interruptions of Shareholders Opposed to the Present Board of Directors—The Position of the G.T.R.

LONDON, April 14.—The recent discussion in the press between Sir Henry Tyler, president of the Grand Trunk Railway of Canada, and Sir Charles Tupper, Canadian High Commissioner, was probably one of the causes of the exceptionally large attendance at the meeting of shareholders of the company this afternoon. The room was crowded. Sir Henry Tyler delivered a lengthy speech, the chief characteristic of which was its hopeful tone.

He believed, he said, that the United States Congress would again legalize the old divisions of traffic, a matter of great importance. He had also good reason to hope that the Canadian Government will remove the duty on coal, thus saving the Grand Trunk £100,000 sterling annually. Regarding Sir Charles Tupper's charges against the company, Sir Henry remarked: "Before the elections we were deserving of every favor from the Government of Canada. Since the elections no language is too bad, no misrepresentation is too monstrous, to be hurled at us by the High Commissioner." Sir Henry Tyler then proceeded to read to the meeting the private report of Mr. Seargent, the general manager of the company, of the interview he held with Sir Charles Tupper.

Several shareholders, however, promptly interrupted the reading of the report and some confusion ensued. "This is a private affair," said one. "Sir Charles Tupper is not here to reply," said another. "It is a one-sided statement," said a third, amid cheers. However, Sir Henry persevered and declared that the board entirely believed Mr. Seargeant as an honorable man. The report declared that Sir Charles Tupper plainly bid for the Grand Trunk vote. Mr. Seargeant, however, declined to swerve from the position of complete independence. At this point Sir Henry was interrupted by a shareholder calling out, "This is all ancient history."

Sir Henry having requested silence said that Sir Charles Tupper had sent a late Grand Trunk stationmaster to Chicago as a special detective to endeavor to discover damaging facts against the Grand Trunk management. That gentlemen was now in jail for debt. The laughter which greeted this statement having subsided Sir Henry proceeded to review Sir Charles Tupper's charges. He remarked that in details they were very strong but absurd. As to the manager of the Chicago and Grand Trunk, whose openly expressed annexationist sentiments had been drawn attention to by Sir Charles Tupper, Sir Henry said that Mr. Reeves was a very valuable officer, but the company regretted his statements as to the necessity to Canada of annexation to the United States and apologized to the Government for them. It was untrue, Sir Henry said, that a single pass had been given over the whole system to enable an elector to cast his vote for the Liberals. Sir Charles Tupper had said that the Grand Trunk had never forgiven the Dominion Government for building the Canadian Pacific Railway. "True," Sir Henry remarked, "the Canadian Pacific received six times as much subsidy as the Grand Trunk, but this company only complains at the subsidies to lines uselessly competing with the Grand Trunk. [Cheers.] Sir Charles Tupper then charged the board of this company with extravagance, corruption and jobbery. It is hardly necessary to reply seriously to such general charges, but that came from the High Commissioner. Those who knew Sir Charles Tupper better than most of the gentlemen present thought the charge recalled the spectacle of 'Satan Reproving Sin.'"

After considerable laughter and cheering Sir Henry continued. He said: "If the Grand Trunk was so guilty, why was I, as Sir Charles Tupper wrongly alleged, offered facilities by the Canadian Government to build the Canadian Pacific? Why was our late general manager, Sir Joseph Hickson, knighted? Why was the Grand Trunk before the elections such an excellent body, so well deserving of Government favor?

"Sir Charles Tupper having made charges now means to find something to prove them. Let him do so. I challenge the High Commissioner to bring any single charge of corruption or jobbery against us or Sir Joseph Hickson. I will meet him face to face, because I maintain that no line is more honestly worked than the Grand Trunk. No officials tried more than ours to do their best for the company." [Loud cheers.]

A noisy debate followed, during which hot words were used both by the friends of the management and their opponents. The report was finally adopted, with only five dissenting votes.

Mr. Hill moved and Mr. Cain seconded a motion that these gentlemen be not re-elected. The amendment was put amid breathless excitement and was carried by a vote of 58 to 50.

After the excitement had been somewhat allayed Sir Henry Tyler demanded a poll and it will take place to-morrow.

Amid much excitement a motion was carried to adjourn for a fortnight.

Deer Butchers Convicted.

BELLEVILLE, April 14.—Thomas Stayner, John Stayner, Christopher Lake, William Lake and Norman Lake were charged before Police Magistrate Cleak at Bancroft with violation of the game law in killing deer out of season. The charges against Thomas and John Stayner were dismissed, but the offence was fully proved against the three Lakes, and a fine of $16.30 was imposed in each case. It is stated that about 15 deer, forming a drove, or as it is termed a "yard," associating together for the winter, were all destroyed, the majority being does and heavy with young.

The Gray Mare's Final Kick.

BRANTFORD, April 14.—Last night a young lad named Willie DeMill was at the G. T. R. station assisting to load Dr. Smith's gray mare Maysin the train to take to Michigan. The boy was putting the mare and endeavoring to urge her forward when she kicked him in the face, cutting it severely and knocking him down. He was drawn home and the wound dressed.

Killed at Indian Head

INDIAN HEAD, Assa., April 14.—An Englishman named Fox, while driving on a trail near the railroad two miles east of here this afternoon, was killed by his horses becoming scared at a passing train and springing for ward, suddenly throwing him from the back of the wagon on his head. Fox had only arrived Saturday from England with a large family of small children.

BRIDGETON, N.J., April 14.—The advertisement of the marriage of Leonard R. Jones to Maggie M. Husted by Rev. A. S. Flock of Cedarville caught the eyes of Jones' first wife Emma, and she had him arrested. The constable found him living with his new wife. He was brought over to Justice Wells' court, in this city, and sent to jail in default of bail.

Penitentiary Guards' Pay.

KINGSTON, April 14.—A large and representative number of penitentiary guards waited on Warden Lavell to have the warden's sanction for the guards to apply to Parliament for an increase of salaries. The men claim that the money now paid is not sufficient to keep them in a respectable way. The warden received the deputation courteously, and promised to do what he could to get the guards the increase asked for.

WOOED BY MAIL.

The Novel Love Affair of a New Jersey Damsel.

BRIDGETON, N.J., April 14.—Every girl within a dozen miles of Bridgeton is eager to learn all the details of the courtship by mail and the ultimate marriage of Miss Lizzie Edwards of this city and Lewis Arno, a weaver in moderate circumstances in Clinton, Mass., who came here to see his bride for the first time two days before the wedding. Though the bride and groom had never met until then, they had been courting through the postoffice for nearly two years.

It was two years ago that Miss Edwards, an attractive girl of 24, scanning the columns of one of those matrimonial papers, stopped on the tempting lines which Lewis Arno had cast into the stream in the hope of catching a wife. She wrote Arno. He replied. She wrote more. So did he. The missives came to be regular and full of ardor. The sequence was natural enough—marriage was suggested by Arno, who was readily accepted and yesterday the knot was tied.

A Photo Catches Millions.

NEWPORT, Ky., April 14.—Introduced only by photographs shown by a mutual friend a year ago, Miss Anna Coleman, a prominent Newport teacher, and Mr. John V. Nye of Livingston, Mont., will be married at Minneapolis to-morrow. They have never seen each other. The friend's advice led to a correspondence after the exchange of portraits, and Miss Coleman merely supposed Mr. Nye to be a well-to-do Western gentleman. Now, since a year of distant love has drawn the two so near to marriage, Miss Coleman has been shown documents proving Mr. Nye to be a millionaire copper miner.

A Husband Sells His Wife for $50.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., April 14.—Henry W. Miller, a prominent young man of this city, married Miss Annie Stall three years ago. The marriage was a failure. Three months ago Miller sold his wife to a friend, John Roberts. Roberts and Miller were rivals before the latter's marriage. Roberts paid $50 down and the balance he was to pay in monthly instalments. Miller left for the west and Roberts took up his residence in the Miller home. Roberts defaulted, however, in his monthly payments. Miller threatened to return and reclaim his wife. Roberts then left for parts unknown. Mrs. Miller, being deserted by both men, laid her case before Justice Donohue, who issued a warrant for Miller.

La Grippe Causes the Greatest Mortality Ever Known in Brooklyn.

NEW YORK, April 14.—The number of deaths from the grip last week and its indirect influence in producing fatal results with other diseases swelled the number of funerals in Brooklyn to-day far beyond the usual average, and there was a greater demand for hearses than could be supplied. Few could be secured from this city owing to the demand here from the same causes, and those owned in the Long Island towns were sent for. Even then some funerals had to be postponed until to-morrow. The streets of Brooklyn were filled with processions passing to the various cemeteries, and so many coaches were hired that in some cases the prices were increased. Extra forces of men were employed at grave digging in the cemeteries in spite of the storm, and many bodies had to be placed in receiving vaults on account of the lack of time to make graves ready. The number of deaths last week in Brooklyn was 630 and the largest number in one day was 114 on Friday. The number of deaths last week, which was 138 more than in the week before was the largest ever known in Brooklyn.

The Lane Murder Case.

BELLEVILLE, April 14.—This morning Kane was arraigned on the charge of murder and pleaded not guilty. His counsel applied to the judge to have the case laid over until the fall assizes, as witnesses were wanted. The crown objected and the judge refused the application. The trial will take place to-morrow, commencing at 10 a.m.

BELLEVILLE, April 14.—At the assizes to-day, the crim con suit of Thompson v. Johnson resulted in a verdict of $1000 for Thompson, who is a laborer at Fenelon Falls and succeeded in inducing the wife of the plaintiff, a Haldimand miller, to elope with him. In the alimony suit of Johnston v. Johnston, a decree was made allowing plaintiff $2 per week.

Will Not Reduce the Licenses.

HAMILTON, April 14.—The license commissioners met this morning at 11 o'clock. Large deputations from the Ministerial Association and the temperance people came before the board and urged strongly that the number of licenses be reduced, the law more strictly enforced, etc. After they were through, Chairman Proctor stated that he could hold out little hope that the number of licenses would be reduced. Rev. J. S. Ross stated that in Toronto there is only one license to 1033 of the population on a census of 170,000, whereas in Hamilton there is one to every 436 of population. If Hamilton had the same pro rata number as Toronto the number would be 44 instead of 91.

The Brant Shrievalty.

BRANTFORD, April 14.—The name of W. S. Campbell, county treasurer, has been added to the list of applicants for the vacant shrievalty. The appointment is the nomination of the member for the south riding and Hon. A. S. Hardy is supposed to be favorable to his name, although he lives in the north riding. Mr. Campbell and Mr. William Watt, jr., will make a close race.

The funeral of the late Sheriff Scarfe took place here to-day and was attended by a large number of mourners from all parts of the county.

Nearly Asphyxiated.

BRANTFORD, April 14.—Last night John Hunter, who boards at the Commercial Hotel, retired to bed about 10 o'clock. This morning about 11 o'clock the chambermaid noticed a strong smell of gas. It was found that the occupant of the room was nearly suffocated. Dr. Henwood was summoned and did all he could to relieve the sufferer, who was unconscious. He is a man of exceedingly strong constitution, and it is thought he will pull through.

A Love-sick Widow's Suicide.

LANSING, Mich., April 14.—The infatuation of Mrs. Ruth McCready for a man 16 years her junior led to her death by morphine yesterday. Mrs. McCready was a widow with four children and was 40 years of age. Last fall she became acquainted with George Ford of Sanilac, a fascinating fruit tree agent. Their wedding was fixed for April 20, but recently the love of the fruit tree knight has cooled, and last week he went away. Mrs. McCready at once sent her young daughter for morphine and with this drug she ended her life.

Making a Face for a Woman.

ELTAM, Ga., April 14.—Dr. A. S. J. Stovell is making a false face to cover a defect in a colored woman's face, which was horribly disfigured by a gunshot. The novel experiment is expected to be a success.

He Wasn't Poisoned.

LONDON, April 14.—An investigation into the cause of the death of Herbert Lake, who was believed to have either poisoned himself or been the victim of foul play, was held at the residence of his brother, William, 130 Egerton-street, East London, yesterday. The evidence showed that the deceased was leading a life which an iron constitution could not withstand, having been drinking heavily of late and sleeping in an old C.P.R. shanty at night. The post mortem showed that death had been caused by congestion of the lungs, and a verdict was rendered accordingly.

The Spring Medicine.

The popularity which Hood's Sarsaparilla has gained as a spring medicine is wonderful. It possesses just those elements of health-giving, blood-purifying and appetite-restoring which everybody seems to need at this season. Do not continue in a dull, tired, unsatisfactory condition when you may be so much benefitted by Hood's Sarsaparilla. It purifies the blood and makes the weak strong.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 15 1891.

THE meanest man in Canada says the Mail lives in St. John, where the wealthy director of a building society unloaded on a servant girl who had been in his employment for fifteen years $1,600 of stock in the dying institution together with the double liability. For the sum of $5 the girl came into possession of a debt of $1,600.

THE Grocers' Journal, of London, Eng., in an article last week on the position of cheese, refers to the rapid strides Canadian cheese is making in the estimation of the English buyers, and congratulates the Canadians on the appreciation shown their products in the English markets, and also the fact that they "have established their produce so firmly on our markets." Only the grocers' statement should be amended. The Canadians have not so much "established their cheese" as the cheese, by being the best made, has "established" itself.

AN omnipotent authority has guaranteed mankind a free Gospel. But the policy of protection has risen superior to this circumstance. We have long been familiar with the fact of the U. S. government placing a tax on preachers. The Secretary of the United States cabinet has asserted that certain sermons imported from England and printed in periodicals are not considered as entitled to free entry as periodicals, but are properly dutiable at the rate of 25 per cent. ad valorem as printed matter under the Act of October last; and our own paternal N. P. Government levies a tax of 5 per cent. on all Bibles, Prayer Books, Psalm Books Hymn Books.

To borrow a slang phrase that fits the case exactly—"there are no flies" on the Toronto Globe. In the matter of enterprise it is several laps ahead of all competitors, and not only stays there, but is increasing its lead continually. The flight of its "flyer" has been extended. The Globe Printing Company has made arrangements by which the morning edition of the Globe reaches Winnipeg twenty-four hours in advance of its so-called competitors. The Globe is a wonderful paper; its pages as full of news, and its management is full of energy and enterprise; always ready with a swinging blow at evil or wrong, whether its raise its head in society, state or church; always leading the van of improvement or progress, was the poet referring to the Globe "flyer," when he sang, "Come bright Improvement, on the car of time."

The Sugar Combine.

Signs that the End is Near at Hand—Grocers Getting Restive—The Essential Clauses of the Agreement—The Penalty for Standing Out—Profits of Refiners—The Root in the N.P.

MONTREAL, April 11.—Though the sugar refiners, the Wholesale Grocers' Association and the Grocers' Guild have joined hand in hand for nearly five years, from information that has come to hand it would appear that the end is near, and that the combination is falling apart. Last week a deputation of western wholesale grocers came down to Montreal to interview the St. Lawrence Sugar Refinery Company. What the nature of the business was could not be learned at the time, but it has since transpired that the object was to ascertain in how far that company was prepared to endorse the action of the combined grocers. The Redpath refinery, it was known, would go to any length, but the St. Lawrence could not be depended on to sanction extreme measures, and it is stated the deputation went home not altogether pleased with the result of the conference. The feeling even amongst the grocers who were forced into the combine is very bitter, and now they are becoming restive since they see a chance of escape, and many of them are prepared to go any length even to the extent of starting a refinery of their own. With all these disturbing factors there is sure to be an upheaval that will release the consumers and the wholesalers who were forced to adopt methods they do not approve. The Montreal end of the combine had its origin in 1887, under an agreement as to prices of granulated and refined white sugars. The two firms which withstood the combine were J. A. Matheweon & Co., and Lightbound, Ralston & Co., but the latter firm at last succumbed, and now J. A. Matheweon & Co. alone remain without the fold.

THE AGREEMENT.

In the agreement the three last clauses are:—

(1) Parties to this agreement bind themselves not in any case or instance to sell, or allow their travellers to sell or offer, other kinds of sugar or other goods in connection with sugars covered by this agreement at lower prices as an inducement for parties to purchase those sugars.

(2) And we each of us hereby pledge our honor as merchants, that we will ourselves carry out this agreement faithfully in spirit as well as in letter, and insist upon its being strictly adhered to by every person in our employ.

(3) Should we desire to withdraw from this agreement we pledge ourselves not to do so without giving two months written notice of our attention, addressed to the secretary of the Board of Trade of Toronto.

The penalty to those who would not enter the association was an advance of from one-quarter to three-quarters of a cent per pound on sugar, ammounting at the present time to 80 cents per barrel. These two firms had to look elsewhere, and, though they had to pay a duty of $2.89 per 100 lbs., they were able to lay down Scotch granulated sugar for their customers. The duty now amounts to 107 per cent., which is an object lesson of what the consumer pays into the hands of the refiners. Or, to put it another way, on every 100 lbs. of Scotch sugar imported and sold at the same price as domestic the consumer paid $2 89, while on Canadian sugar he would pay $1.15, and the other $1 74 would go into the hands of the refiners. The price of granulated sugar to the members of the guild was 6¾ cents per pound, and they in turn might sell to retailers in Montreal in quantities of not less than fifteen barrels at 6¾ cents. To grocers at all places north of the St. Lawrence, except Quebec, the price was 1-8 cent higher than at Montreal, but grocers in the Eastern Townships might buy at the lower rate. The Grocers' Association demanded, and the refiners agreed, that grocers not members of the guild must pay 7 1-8 cents per pound, or half a cent a pound more than the price paid by members of the guild.

Why the people of Ontario should pay more for their sugar than those of the Townships and Quebec City is hard to make out. The terms of the original agreement are substantially those in effect at the present time.

THE ROOT IN THE N.P.

The theory of those who affect to believe in the N.P. is that manufacturing combines cure themselves. The argument is that the tariff would encourage manufacturers who would make money. If they combined to extort huge profits they could not live long, as outside capital would flow in, envious of their gains. A struggle would ensue, prices would drop to the bottom and gradually work up to the normal condition. The sugar combine, after five years of life, disproves the theory that combines cannot long endure. At the time the association protested against the strictures made in the press they did not explain their alliance with the refiners, and they were silent about the pains and penalties to be inflicted for an infringement of the rules. In the United States the trust merely regulates the price at which sugar is to be sold. In Canada it does more; it decides to whom alone the commodity is to be sold, in addition to specifying what they shall pay. I called on Messrs. Matheweon & Co. to-day to ascertain how the case stood. Mr. Matheweon said they had resisted the combine for five years by all legitimate means, and if ever they succumbed it would only be as the traveller to the highwayman, whose pistol is at his head. They had sought redress at the hands of the Government, they had even petitioned the Governor-General. The Anti-Combines Bill was introduced, but it was rendered as useless as if the Ten Commandments were amended so as to specify, "Thou Shalt not Kill Unduly, Thou Shalt not Steal Unreasonably." Mr. Matheweon considers that in the whole commercial history of the empire no such outrage has been perpetrated, and aided and abetted by a Government, which presumably to intended to safeguard the rights of the people. The cure that was advocated for the evil was for consumers to boycott in turn the members of the combine.

Jamaica Exhibition.

The Jamaica exhibition closes on May 1. A well informed correspondent in Kingston, Jamaica, writing under date of the 24th ult., furnishes the following information to the Minister of Agriculture:—"We have solved the problem as to our flour keeping, and everyone is asking for Canadian flour except the bakers, who work with the Americans in a great many articles of manufacture. We have also captured the carriage trade. I will not weary you now with details, but simply say that in every way the effort which Canada has made has proved a success."

People Wonder

WHEN they find how rapidly health is restored by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The reason is that this preparation contains only the purest and most powerful alteratives and tonics. To thousands yearly it proves a veritable elixir of life.

Mrs. Jos. Lake, Brockway Centre, Mich., writes: "Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony. I was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an

Goughs' Grandest Go!

UNPARALLELED STROKE OF ENTERPRISE:—THEY CHARTER A SPECIAL SPRING POET.

During the past few months, GOUGH BROS. have been making Immense Improvements in their Shops, till now—in their Spring attire—they have the Nobbiest, Brightest, Neatest Establishment in the District.

Having laid in a Superb and Unrivalled Stock, they cast about for some special means to make it known to the public, and at enormous expense they captured a Genuine Genius in the Poetical line, whom they christened "Gough Bros. Special Spring Poet." They fitted up the office as a box-stall and turned the poet loose in it and he proceeded to let himself loose in the following manner:

O, beauteous, sloppy, balmy spring,
You are a bright and welcome thing;
You bring us sunshine—check the mumps,
And make the people stir their stumps.
(To "stir their stumps" they must have boots,—
And Goughs have just the stock that suits)
You clothe the world in garments new—
Your bright example Goughs pursue;
They deck their shop with brightest hues,

And give the public chance to choose
From 'mongst the biggest stock on earth—
In no department is their dearth—
From head to foot, from top to toe,
The great Goughs' lines of great goods go.
They've nobby tiles for brainy heads,
They've dandy boots for dainty treads;
They—they—they—

At this point a loud groaning was heard in the poet's lair, and a visit showed him tearing his hair, the very picture of despondent despair. He was in a state of collapse. He was sent to the hospital, and a sane man employed to make the simple statement that GOUGH BROS.' Superb Spring Stock of HATS and CAPS, BOOTS and SHOES, and CHOICE SPRING CLOTHING

I beg to announce to my late customers that I have sold out my business to Messrs. Hilliard & Peplow, and I would bespeak for them the same support as has been accorded me.

C. N. BROWN.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

For some time past we have thought a strictly cash business in Flour, Feed and Provisions could be successfully carried on in Peterborough, and to test this question, we have purchased the above business from Mr. C. N. Brown who will still continue as manager in Flavelle's old stand, Simcoe street.

In order to be successful we intend to make it the interest of everyone to pay cash with order by selling at wholesale prices.

We will positively give no credit and cash customers will not have to keep up the losses made by others on the credit system.

We will keep a full supply of the very best quality of Flour, Feed, Chop, etc., and our customers need not fear that the quality of the goods will be lowered to make up for the reduction in prices. We are simply giving them the benefit of the margin necessary to cover losses and interest charges incurred on the credit system.

NINETY MILES AN HOUR

N. Y. C. PRESIDENT DEPEW PREDICTS THIS SPEED ON RAILWAYS.

Changes That Must be Made in Road-beds and Rolling Stock Before This Rate is Possible—Inventive Genius Trying to Achieve the Desired Results.

THERE will soon be a revolution in the speed of railroad trains in America. The tendency of the times is toward more rapid transit in travel, and the great railroad corporations are going to keep "in the swim." Chauncey M Depew president of the New York Central whose bargain with Mr. Van Horne of the C. P. R. the other day makes his words of interest here, while not a believer in fast trains owing to the excessive danger in fast running, says that in ten years express trains on American roads will, in all probability, be making an average of sixty-five miles an hour between the big cities. This prediction is made with the expectation of new inventions, a number of which are now under consideration.

"The railroad of the future will be a truly marvelous institution if we keep on improving for the next ten years as we have for ten years past," said President Depew. "It will be an outgrowth of the best conditions now existing among the various railroads of the world. To make the model railroad we must first look after the roadbed. The iron tie will come in the course of time it is more than probable, and the bed on which it is laid will be made of stone to hold the earth filling. Wherever there is liability of a washout it will be constructed of solid masonry. By getting the roadbed first of all in a perfect condition, using stone and iron in place of timber and rail, we lay the first foundation for greater speed and greater safety. Curves and grades will be done away with to a great extent wherever it is possible in the railroad of the future. To accomplish this, existing routes between stations will be changed, and if necessary, tunnels cut.

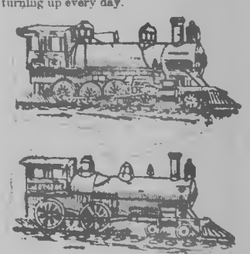
"Next to getting our perfect roadbed, with tracks straight and level, the grade crossing is of vital importance. It will have to be abolished, and on the great roads probably will be in the course of a few years more. When the grade crossings go you raise the percentage of safety to life fully 25 per cent. Tracks will have to be depressed through corporate limits, and this will do away not only with the crossings but with restrictions now laid by the municipal corporations on the speed of railroad trains.

"Bridges and culverts must be improved on to help along greater speed. There should be no wooden culverts in the railroad of the future and bridges should be made of iron and stone. This will do away with destruction of life and property by fire and greatly increase the safety of travel. Now, with stone and masonry for roadbeds, iron and stone for culverts and bridges, and with a track straight as existing stations will permit, running through cities in viaducts with no grade, we can talk about running our engines at a greater rate of speed and with greater evenness of motion.

"Yes, improvements will be made in rolling stock, although to look at some of the great limited trains to the west with their magnificent cars one can hardly imagine anything more commodious or comfortable. The only improvement in cars that I anticipate will be in the heating apparatus, and by reducing the weight at the same time retain the strength. It can hardly be predicted that there will be no change over the present system of heating by steam. While steam heating was a great advance over the car stove yet it is likely to be bettered. It is useless to speculate on what device will bring about the change. Something new is turning up every day.



MODELS OF ENGINES THAT WILL RUN AT THE RATE OF NINETY MILES AN HOUR.

"About electricity. While it would not surprise me to see electricity rushing our railroad trains along at the rate of fifty or sixty miles an hour I recognize there must be more secrets of the mystic power revealed before we accept it. When we get electricity so cheap that we can produce it at the same cost as we now generate steam we can talk about electricity as a motive power. Many railroad men are of the opinion that the steam locomotive, as a means of propelling cars, is doomed. They say its use involves too great a waste, and that electricity is already successfully employed for the propulsion of street and suburban cars. That is all well enough, and I glory in the inventiveness of our Americans, but electricity will need to be juggled a great deal more before we can run a through express train to Chicago with it.

I have been on our trains where the rate of speed was eighty miles an hour. For instance, in 1885 I made the run from Buffalo to Rochester at the rate of eighty miles an hour. On November 16, 1888, a special train carried Cornelius Vanderbilt on the Canada Southern from St. Clair Junction to Windsor, a distance of 107 miles, in 1 hour and 38 minutes. The average rate of speed was sixty-nine miles per hour, although at some points it was seventy-eight miles per hour. There were but two cars in the train. Another fast train was run on the West Shore road from Buffalo to Weehawken on July 9, 1885, a distance of 422.6 miles, in 9 hours and 23 minutes. The average rate of speed of that train was 71.4 miles per hour.

"Mr. Buchanan has under consideration a new device for increasing the speed of our latest engine, which can already make eighty miles an hour if forced. This new idea I have not yet examined very carefully, but it strikes me as being practicable. It is no more nor less than a steel-plate covering for the engine, reaching to the tender with openings for oiling the machine. The covering could be raised and lowered at will. In fact it is shaped like a ship's bow and retreats in a like manner. It would, Mr. Buchanan says, cut through the atmosphere at the rate of ninety miles an hour if it had the proper backing of steam. He believes by this device at least ten miles an hour can be saved. The currents of air would be thrown off instead of eddying around the machinery and cab and thus retarding progress. A series of pipes might be utilized for oiling the machine at stopping points. There is one thing about this device—it will set people to thinking, and if this scheme does not prove of use something else will soon replace it.

"The brakes are very satisfactory, and I see little chance for improvement in that direction, but what I have already stated applies to the brake. Everything in this progressive country is constantly advancing and new ideas are coming to the front every day. I am satisfied that the best automatic signals are very safe as they stand to-day. They have been thoroughly tested and not found wanting.

"The train of the future will travel at a much greater rate of speed if conditions I have named prevail in detail. But to get fast trains for the country the municipal corporations will have to lend a helping hand in aiding to abolish grade crossings and permitting roadbeds either under or over the highway."

A Discovery Important to Ladies.

The political battle is over, but the battle with disease must be constantly and unceasingly waged, else the grim reaper will come out victorious, and loved ones will be gathered to their long home. On all sides may be seen pale and listless girls who should be enjoying the health and glow of ruddy youth. Everywhere we are met with women young in years, yet prematurely old, who suffer in silence almost untold agonies, the result of these ailments peculiar to the female system. To all such, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills come as a blessing. They restore wasted vitality, build up the nervous system, enrich the blood, and transform pale and sallow complexions into glowing rosy cheeks that alone follow perfect health. In a word they are a certain cure for all those distressing complaints to which women and girls are peculiarly liable. A trial of these pills will convince the most sceptical of their wonderful merit. For suffering men Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are equally efficacious. For overwork, mental strain, loss of sleep, nervous debility, and all those diseases that lead to broken-down manhood, they are a certain specific, stimulating the brain, reinforcing the exhausted system and restoring shattered vitality. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are nature's restorative and should be used by every weak and debilitated person. For sale by all dealers or sent, post paid, on receipt of price (50 cents a box), by addressing the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
